President Halbert Harvill

Students of Austin Peay State College,

GREETINGS:

It is good to have you with us for the school year 1947 and 1948. This College exists for you and the many who are to follow in your footsteps. I am confident you will take advantage of the opportunities you have for growth and development. The Austin Peay State College is a growing College. Let us grow and develop to the best that is possible.

Farewell And Hail

The college annual, FAREWELL AND HAIL, strives to preserve, in picture and print, memories of campus activities as they have occurred through the year. In this our third year of publication, it has been the aim of the entire staff to present to you an annual that in future years will repicture for you a vivid recollection of this year's work and play at Austin Peay as you want to remember it.

All State

The ALL-STATE, student edited and sponsored by the English Department, serves as a periodic paper of student activities and as a permanent record of school events.

The Choir

Under the leadership of Professor Guy L. Hague, the Austin Peay State College Choir is one of the oldest and best organized groups on the campus. The choir offers for its members instruction in choral singing and an opportunity for a deeper appreciation of good music.

During the Spring, the choir travels throughout the surrounding districts presenting musical programs and entertaining locally, including broadcasts through the entire year.

The Band

The Austin Peay State College Band, directed by Professor Charles Gary, is a returnee to the campus from former days. The band furnishes an outlet for all musicians, beginners as well as advanced students.

Outfitted in new uniforms, the band appeared at all the home football games and added much color to the halftime activities. It has made several trips to surrounding districts, and has given inspirational music to our chapel programs and pep rallies.

On the Gridiron

Despite the loss of key men at mid-season, despite many injuries, the "Governors" of 1947 carried through valiantly and built the nucleus for great teams to come. Coaches Aaron and McKinney, the players, the band, and the cheering section have instilled a spirit at Austin Peay which will long endure.

Hobbs goes high for rebound.

At Austin Peay and on opponent's courts, this year's basketball combine, coached by Dave Aaron, supplied thrill after thrill to rabid fans who followed the Governors through as tough a schedule as could be arranged for a college team competing in the V.S.A.C. Conference. Outside the conference, games were played with "The House of David," N.A.T.T.C. (Naval Station), Florence, Alabama Teachers, Memphis State Teachers, University of Tennessee Junior College, Bethel College, and "The All-American Red-Heads girls' team."

To the Governors went the honor of defeating the strong Delta State five twice. Defeating the Delta boys on their court set a precedent unequaled by other college cagesters this season.

In the tournament held at Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee, the Governors were awarded the third-place trophy after amassing a total of 84 points against a strong David Lipscomb quintet. George Fisher and "Boxhead" Stone were chosen on the all-tournament squad. It was fate only that prevented a victory over T.P.I. in the semi-finals, which saw the Cookeville boys gain a 56-54 edge in the fading seconds of play. No doubt, it was this strenuous conflict that enabled Lincoln Memorial University to emerge champions over T.P.I.

Again, this season was a successful one in the win and loss column, 16 victories garnered by the Governors and only 9 by their opponents. Prospects for next year's hardwood combine are bright. Besides returning veterans James "Boxhead" Stone, "Jack" Butler, and Paul "Slick" Aaron, there will be such stellar performers as Ferrell Hobbs, "Abe" Lincoln, "Arms" Chandler, Louis Catignani, Bert Hardwick, Dick Hardwick, Richard Leavell, and Glenn Broome. The loss of George Fisher, a great competitor, to professional baseball will be keenly felt, but his fighting spirit will remain at Austin Peay.

Throughout the year, cheerleaders Trez Thompson, Martha Weatherford, Sarah Howser, Sara Cowan, and Fedd Wiley performed admirably.

A Reality . . .

This Bank considers Austin Peay State College a vital part of our community, not a separate entity. We believe our citizenship can better evaluate our college if we realize this is a reality.

As wholesome food becomes part of a living body and nourishes it, Austin Peay State College enters into and helps build the very life of each individual of this community.
As present plans also become a reality, we shall have an even greater and stronger citizenship because of AUSTIN PEAY STATE COLLEGE.
