College Sends Delegates To Conference

The Physics Department of Austin Peay State College was well represented at last week's symposium and meeting of the Southeastern section of the American Physical Society at the University of Tennessee.

Attending from AFSC were Melburn Mayfield, physics department head; Miss Sara Wood, assistant professor of physics; and student visitors Miss Pat Cooper and Allen Reeves.

Mayfield indicated that some of the outstanding men in the field of physics spoke during the symposium which began Tuesday and closed in this select group were Dr. William V. Houston, president of the American Physical Society, and Dr. Maurice Goldhaber, director of Brookhaven National Laboratory.

Following the symposium, members of the Southeastern section gathered for demonstrations concerning teaching techniques and talks relevant to current developments in the field.

English Teachers Represent Tenn.

Miss Catherine Beard, Dr. Edward E. Irwin and Miss Nan Rawlins, English teachers representing the Austin Peay State College English Department and the Clarksville City Schools, attended the first meeting of the recently organized Conference on English Education of the National Council of Teachers of English. The local teachers were the only representatives from the state of Tennessee.

The meeting, composed of methods teachers of English, critic teachers that work with college practice teachers of English and those interested in graduate research in English, met March 27 through March 30 in the Memorial Union Building, the student center, on the campus of the University of Indiana at Bloomington.

Under the able leadership of nationally known leaders of the National Council of Teachers of English, the newly organized English Education Conference promises to become one of the strongest professional organizations for English teachers engaged in teaching students to become English teachers.

Only 250 attended the Indiana meeting from the entire United States. It is the desire to hold the membership to a minimum so active participation can benefit those that attend and belong.

The Clarksville group was privileged to discuss their own problems with nationally known

The Lettermen To Appear Here May 1

"The Lettermen," popular Capitol recording group, will present a concert at Austin Peay State College on Wednesday, May 1.

The talented trio will appear in the gymnasium at 8 p.m. for a two hour show sponsored by the Student Council.

Tickets are on sale in the Student Center for 2 dollars per person. That night at the door they will be sold for $2.50.

"The Lettermen" boast one of the freshest, most magnificent vocal blends of any group in the entertainment field, and the sound has brought them almost instantaneous success.

Individually, Tony Butala, Jim Pike and Bob Engemann had been group vocalists for some time. Tony singing in a quartet and Jim and Bob in trios. Tony and Jim met during a shift in one of the vocal groups that brought Jim to audition for Tony's group. It was at this time that Jim told Tony he had only once previously run into someone with whose voice he blended so well. His name was Bob Engemann. They had met at Brigham Young University. When the group disbanded, Tony and Jim decided to go to California to find Bob. Thus, was born "The Lettermen."

The boys try to fill the current entertainment gap by giving the public, adults, as well as the youngsters, what they want to hear. "The Lettermen" blend their voices on the old, standard ballads in combination with today's new instrumentation. They sing folk songs, old songs, new songs, but always in their style.

Tony, Jim and Bob, whose Capitol Records have sold in the millions, love their work to the point where it is not just work at all. When they're not singing on stage, they're more than likely off in a corner singing for pure enjoyment. They rehearse no matter where they are and usually end up singing for a group of fascinated fellow travelers. Often they'll travel second class in the air so they can sit three abreast as they fly. They get a kick out of it as they start to sing softly to dirty looks, but once they get going, it usually ends up with, "Do you know—"

Contrary to most vocal groups, the boys all have the same range and interchange their parts, sing-

THE LETTERMEN TO APPEAR AT AFSC -- "The Lettermen" whose recording "The Way You Look Tonight" brought them national success on the record charts, will be here for a two hour concert on Wednesday night, May 1. Tickets are on sale in the Student Center.

Pool Closed—Why?

The sun is shining brightly on the Austin Peay State College campus, the temperature is in the upper eighties and the tennis courts are doing a thriving business. Yet, many students look longingly at the section of the gym housing the swimming pool for it is closed.

Why is one of the most popular spring activities closed to APSC students, except for swimming classes and on Tuesday nights? There is no obvious reason for this rule.

During the spring quarter there is especially a great demand for the use of the pool. Student opinion is that there is no feasible excuse for a source of recreation to be present on campus and yet not be available.

The pool would certainly be frequented on Saturday and Sunday afternoons as well as on other nights during the week. Last Tuesday night there were approximately 100 people enjoying the facilities of the pool area.

It is becoming more apparent that the APSC students have been making a conscientious effort to remain on campus during the week-ends. This being so, and one more area of recreation provided for them would very likely increase their number and enthusiasm.

Students are hoping that steps will be taken in the very near future to open the pool and make it available for the enjoyment of the student body. F. B.

Givens Attends Library Meeting

Miss Johnnie Givens, head librarian at Austin Peay State College, has recently returned from a workshop of the Southeastern Library Association in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Givens is a member of the Development Committee for the Association, a committee which serves as a clearing house for all projects placed before the association.

The workshop is held in years when the biennial conference does not meet to allow the Executive Board, chairman of various sections of the association, committee chairmen, and the Development Committee to meet and plan activities for the association.

Miss Givens also serves as chairman of the Membership Committee for SELA in Tennessee, and during the workshop was elected by the Executive for Tennessee. This vacancy occurred when the representative to the Board moved from Tennessee to accept a position in another state.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As representative of those aggrieved individuals who were slandered quite unjustly in the article of March 26, I will point out the facts.

1. Any student may attend a Student Council meeting unless it is a closed session. This can be confirmed by the President of the Student Council.

2. So-called "friends" are not infiltrators, but fairly elected representatives, or appointed individuals by the presidents of their organizations.

3. Every Council member can freely express his or her ideas on how the Council can be bettered by certain reforms. This is a Democracy. Those who deny this are anti-Democratic. This can also be endorsed by the President of the Student Council.

4. A Student Government must be a step further than a Student Council. Therefore, reforms in a New Constitution will be needed in order to make the Student Government more efficient than the present Student Council. Yet Mr. McMin denies the right of reform to elected Student Government with more power, or does he want to merely retain the present Student Council which is looked upon as being quite powerless?

5. The Student Council should function efficiently not just in the Spring Quarter, but all year long, (the summer being an exception, of course). What does the student body think of this?

Respectfully submitted,
EDWARD C. GARMODY

Student Forum

By RONALD ARVIN

Each year with the spring there comes electioneering time. The rusty wheels begin to creak and grind as they once again start their mad race to be the first across the finish line at the polls.

Policiting is serious business. For Austin Peay State College, it MUST be doubly so. The next president must be a man who will bring about in an orderly manner the necessary reforms which we must have if the student body is to keep in step with APSC's rapid progress. We cannot afford to elect another "Personality" to this office. The student should constantly remember that these elections are not popularity contests. Campus politics are as important as city politics. What we do and what we don't do next year rests upon the wise use of each individual's vote.

The student voter must be guided by two factors; the platform and the integrity of the man behind that platform. Last year one of the candidates stated that he would get the college administration to pave the walkway between the Glen and Browning buildings. This was a rotten plank for any candidate to stand on. The paving of the walk was completely out of the hands of the candidate since the completion was dependent upon fair weather and government appropriations. There is a definite need for a candidate with a platform based upon the good of the college and the student body and within his ability to bring his program into effect.

Fellow students, keep your eyes open and do not buy the Brooklyn Bridge. We did that last year and paid a dear price for it. Let the candidates know that you expect a sensible program and a sensible man who can and will carry it out.

Just off the cuff APSC's spring sports program has taken a full stride ahead and is now in the midst of competition.

Coach Leon Sandifer's baseball team, lacking the taste of competition, took on Murray State at Murray, Ky., on April 2, and fell by the impressive showing of 2-1 and 2-0. Murray State had played seven previous games and were well in the groove for meeting the Goyvs.

Hitting was the primary factor that held the Goyvs back in both contests. However, Ken "The Ripper" Connelly in his first debut this season turned in a two-hit pitching performance in the opening game of the twin bill.

Rupert Baker, the team's captain and steady third baseman commented on the game by stating, "We will probably never turn into a better pitcher than Hank Schwler the rest of the year, in fact he has already been charged by numerous big league teams."

Triple-threat Henny Murray, who lettered in three sports last year, has been informed he will have to make a choice between baseball or tennis this spring. I hope our coaches see eye to eye on his choice. However, Henny could always fall back on his diving. It has been said he is a star performer in coach Dave Aaron's aquatics class.

NEW THEORY EVERYONE WORKS — This is the word head football coach Bill Dupes has publicly announced. If you aren't fortunate to be talented in two sports, coach Dupes has devised a program he and his staff are confident will continue to keep his next year gridiron glauks in shape. Commonly referred to as the "dirty dozen" in the previous years, these men were so-called caretakers of the track and the field. However, this group has taken a turn in another direction and they are now on a rigid training program consisting of running and a newly added weight program. The weightlifting program has added a great deal to the off-season footballer here and will undoubtedly prove a vital factor to the athlete. The weight program in turn is being utilized by all sports. I understand coach George Fisher's roundballers and coach Gordon Schultz's thinslads are likewise training with the weights.

Cosch Sherwin Clift has finished tabulating his golf teams qualifying scores for his starting team of the 1963 season. Heading the list is Walton Smith, the No. 2 man and team captain Dan Wood, Mike Jenkins, J. W. Turnbow, A. B. Sisco and Jimmy Barber. Ironically the team has three boys from Hohenwald, Tenn., in Sisco, Turnbow and Barber.

Top track performances so far this season you might be interested in are not only locally great, but have been nationally recognized. Western Kentucky has the sole honor of placing two in the limelight. Western's freshman relay team has registered the best time in the nation in the two mile relay of 7:51.7.

In the individual performance a young freshman from Western by the name of Gary Imel has cleared 14 feet in the pole vault to put him within six inches of the nation's No. 1 vaulter, a freshman from the University of Oklahoma.

Murray State's fine track team supports top performances in Bob Doty who has been officially clocked in the century at 9.6. In the field events Murray has the Bolling brothers who have registered throws of 47 feet and one of 48 feet 10 1/2 inches with the 16 pound shot. This last mark set a new school record.

APSC has a bright and shiny spot in Tom Hinkle, the former Washington, Ind., star, posted unofficially a 26.8 in practice a few days ago, in the very colorful and tiring mile run.

Connelly Is Top Pitcher

When the Austin Peay State College baseball team took the field Tuesday, April 2 against Murray State, senior right-hander Ken Connelly was on the mound.

A mainstay for coach Leon Sandifer for the past three seasons, Connelly posted a 7-1 mark last season for the NCAA regional champions and owns an overall 12-5 record for his three years' work.

Facing Murray State in APSC's opening game was nothing new to Connelly. As a sophomore in 1960 he drew the starting assignment against powerful Notre Dame and walked from the mound nine innings later with a 6-4 decision.

Although Ken did not win the game against Murray State his pitching performance left very little to be desired, Murray State managed only two hits and two runs (one unearned) in the game and won by the scant margin of 2-1.

A graduate of Chattanooga Central, Connelly appeared in 10 games last season. Starter of seven tilts, Connelly went the route in four games and compiled a very respectable 2.22 earned run average for the season. A master of control, he allowed only 16 bases on balls in 56 2/3 innings.

Not a big man in stature Connelly stands 5-10 and tips the scales at 172 pounds. Named to the All-Volunteer State Athletic Conference team a year ago, he is a "big" man because of his hustle, desire and determination to play college baseball.

3 Footballers Sign Grants

Two prep stars and one high school footballer have inked grants-in-aid at Austin Peay State College, according to head mentor Bill Dupes.

The trio includes Gerry Fox, a 6-2, 195 pound guard from Greenville, Tenn.; Eddie Buck, 6-5, 235 pound tackle from Harman, Tenn.; and Steve Jones, 6-1, 185 pound halfback. Jones' parents now reside in Orleans, France.

Fox was named All Mid-State at Tennessee Military Institute last year, while Jones toiled for Castle Heights.
