Homecoming Is October 28

Coming Events

Oct. 18, Glenn Gentry speaker in assembly.
Oct. 19, 20, Mid. Term. Education Assoc. meeting, Nashville.
Oct. 21, E. Ky. there.
Oct. 25, Open assembly.
Oct. 28, Troy State (Homecoming) here.
Nov. 1, Faculty, class meetings.

Coppage Wins Dairy Honors

Betty Lou Coppage, APSC freshman from Trenton, Ky., was chosen "Dairy Princess" of her district October 8.
Another APSC freshman, Sandra Gilliland, Hopkinsville, Ky., was second in the district contest which included contests from a number of counties in Kentucky. About 20 district contests were held throughout the state.

Miss Coppage was "Miss Todd County" in the competition and Miss Gilliland was "Miss Christian County." The contest was held at Madisonville, Ky.

Need To Know Reds

On Wednesday, October 4 the campus was raised by the Student Courtesy as to whether Communism or Christianity would survive.

Dr. Courtney, the minister of the Southern Presbyterian Church of Nashville, stressed the fact that Communism would override Christianity as well as democracy if America as a whole didn't strengthen in the following areas:

- (1) America needs a thorough knowledge of what Communism really is and its effects.
- (2) America needs to make greater commitments in social, civic and religious areas.

Council Organized

Miss Patsy Dykes and Dr. Fred Branger were re-elected advisors of the Student Council at Austin Peay State College at the organizational meeting October 8.

The Council is making plans for the showing of several movies on campus this year. Plans are also being made to sponsor intramural bowling. The Council is to meet every first and third Monday at 7 p.m. Office hours are 9-11 Monday, 12-2 Tuesday and Thursday, and 9-12 Wednesday and Friday.

The state "Dairy Princess" contest is to be held in February at Clarksville.

Upped Fallout Cited

Mel Mayfield of the APSC physics faculty commented at the October 5 Clarksville City Council meeting that the initial radiation content of the local air has been increasing with the recent nuclear bomb tests.

He commented that the count is not likely to get dangerous during the next few years unless there is a nuclear war.

Mayfield and a group of interested persons at APSC have been conducting tests during the past year in the Harvill Nuclear Lab at the college; the nuclear lab is sponsored jointly by Clarksville and the college. It was pointed out that as the first real city attempt to do something in the way of civil defense.

The group has been working on tests of radioactivity in food, milk, water and air. So far, the actual testing has been mostly limited to air. Testing of milk and water is expected to begin soon.

Christians 'Salt'

Christians are the salt of the earth, said Dr. Clavis Chappell in the Austin Peay State College assembly October 11, as he compared the influence of Christians on the world to the influence of salt on food.

Chappell, a retired Methodist circuit rider, was the featured speaker in the college's regular day students and faculty members.

In his talk, he condemned the frequency of drinking today. He said that people need now, of all times, to be at their best. He pointed out that drinking is so acceptible in the "best" social circles that people now frequently apologize for not drinking, whereas people used to apologize if they did drink.

He commented that non-drinkers have as much right to their convictions as others have for their lack of convictions.

The "salt" of Christianity, he said, must come in contact with what is to be "salted" if it is to do any good. He pointed out that Christians should be positive in their living and in their giving; the Devil was killed, he said, by setting and not giving anything in return.

This is a dangerous world, Chappell commented. He declared that the part of the world in the struggle between the free world and the Iron Curtain countries is with the most "salt" or character will win.

He pointed out that a person can have something to live on and yet have nothing to live for. Life, he said, becomes impaired without some sort of religious faith in it. Living as a Christian, he pointed out, is an exciting life. Whatever the price one, Chappell said, He won't be him.

Frosh Elect Leaders

Buford Davis from Clarksville was selected to lead the 301, 62 freshman class at Austin Peay State College.

He and other freshman officers were elected at the freshman class meeting October 2. Tommy Kraft of Nashville was selected vice-president. Mary to the Student Council.

Dodson of Nashville was chosen as the freshman class representative at the class meeting October 2. Mary Sanford of Clarksville was elected class representative.

Miss Williams To Reign

Miss Jane Williams of Nashville will reign October 27 and 28 as Queen of Austin Peay State's Homecoming activities.

Campus Movie Will Be Shown

The Austin Peay State College English Club is now revising its plans for the showing of the film-ed-on-campus movie, Austin Peay Is Pious.

The movie, scheduled for showing at the end of the 1961 Spring Quarter, was delayed because of technical difficulties. During the summer and the beginning of the '61 Fall Quarter, additional footage was added to the film bringing it completely up-to-date.

The movie, a year in filming, encompasses the college life in its entirety. Shots of the clubs, the assemblies, the dorm life, the campus of students and teachers unable to hide from the candid camera may all be seen in this production.

In addition to serving as entertainment, the film will also serve to historically capture Austin Peay State College activity. The release of the film will be announced both in assembly and on the bulletin boards.

The first radiation tests showed a low count which dropped off within a few days, said Mayfield. There was, however, more radioactivity in the air after the recent nuclear tests began. A test was made October 4, presumably just after the recent nuclear test in Russia. The radiation count was high on that test; more time was needed to determine whether the Russian test caused the higher count. Mayfield commented that radioactivity can travel quite fast.

He said that improved testing equipment is presently being obtained to allow more accurate testing of low radiation content.

The Homecoming Parade through downtown Clarksville will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 28. Class and club floats will be among the entries, along with club cars, area bands, and the famous Austin Peay State band and Governees.

The following prizes will be awarded: Class floats — first, $25; second, $25; third, $15; Fourth, $7.50. Club floats — first, $35; second, $25; third, $15; Club (Continued on page 6)

Enrollment Announced

A total of 1979 students were enrolled in Austin Peay State College as of Friday, October 13. This included day, night and extension students.

Of the $45 full-time freshmen, 348 are men and 197 women. Part-time students bring the fresh tally to 964.

There are 1496 full-time students at the college. Of the total number of students, 1767 are on campus; 1167 of them are men and 600 are women.

Judy, Dave Share Oct. Spotlight

David Mason and Judy Eastridge share the spotlight in this issue, as they have been chosen "Stars of the Month" for October and "Miss October," respectively. This monthly selection of students who have made outstanding contributions to the college was initiated by The All State last year in order to (1) recognize those students doing as outstanding job at the college and (2) provide a better criteria of who should be the subject of feature articles.

The "This is the College, Here are the Students" column of previous years was a good and quite interesting column, but the featured persons had to be of high school selection except that they might have been chosen with the feature writer or they might just have been the first ones noticed as headline day drew near.

Recipients of the honor are chosen for service to the college (rated at 40 per cent), leadership and initiative (30 per cent), and scholarship (20 per cent). This, we feel, includes the most important characteristics of a student who would be best outstanding at this college.

The selections are made by myself, Roy Rogers Price, the editor; Nancy English, associate editor; Sherwin Clegg, faculty adviser; Dean Tom Savage, Dean of Students; Dean Mabel Meacham, Dean of Women; and Art Sexton, director of field services. We feel that these are the persons who come most into contact with the well-rounded life of students at the college.

As was brought out last year at the initiation of this monthly recognition, there are many, many outstanding students on this campus. Not all of them can possibly be recognized in this manner. Neither do we claim to be infallible in selecting those most outstanding ones. We do hope, however, by these selections to emphasize the value of adding something to the college instead of just trying to appear all we can out of it.

Open Up On Hazing

Last year there were a number of letters written to the editor for publication in The All State. We deeply hope that such may be true again this year.

For the benefit of those who are new students at this college, those who forget last year's circumstances, and for those who never bothered to find out, The All State offers a certain of cigarettes to the writer of a "Letter to the Editor."

These letters are important, we feel, not just because they fill up space but also because they help the editor, the college administration, and the other students know how the students feel on various subjects. It might have been pointed out that letters from faculty members could also be used, although few of those have been written.

This editor would especially like at this time to receive letters from students, faculty members or other interested persons concerned with the freshmen initiation. I realize that some students (especially upperclassmen) favor it while others oppose it. Some think that it helps make the students a part of campus social life and others think it does more harm than good.

This editor feels that, if kept within the proper bounds, initiations can be good. However, there were some instances in this year's initiations as well as in past ones where some of the upperclassmen used the initiation rites as an excuse to point their accumulated work off on someone else. Now, after all, students are coming here to get an education and not to join a social club. Joining a fraternity or club is a lot different from taking courses at a college.

Even more recent a charge which has been laid to initiations than that of having freshmen do one's work is that of using the rites as an excuse for personal revenge as one upperclass class seemed to do this year.

This editor agrees that initiations can be fun. But that can be overdone. When a person interferes greatly with another's personality and studies, the situation is certainly not funny to the person being initiated.

I realize that there are many different opinions on this one matter alone. The entire college would like to hear your opinions. Perhaps your opinions might help in formulating better, more mature and more humane initiation regulations for next year.

In Plain English

BY NANCY ENGLISH

You've heard of progressive education? Well, the second five girls at Havill Hall are undergoing the process of "progressive" education. All the elementary education majors gain practice teaching us as for their homework minus pigs.

In one night we fingerprinted a hundred lovely worms, learned to sing "Little Red Caboose" with a lisp, and played word games with flash cards.

Our august faculty adviser, Mr. Cliff, plans to hire a veterinarian to attend all on-campus dances. These "Hins" injuries get more serious every week.

Initiation is long since over and the freshmen seem none the worse for the wear. Kangaroo Court was a success and no fatalities were reported. There were, however, many sore throats running around the morning after the Freshman Boys' Glee Club so tenderly yodelled "Home On The Range."

Don't Mar Trophy

The English Club and Circle K Club tied for The All State award for the most outstanding club on campus last year. The trophy is on exhibit in the corridor leading into the library.

This year, let there be keener competition for this award. Keep accurate and complete records of club activities.

Please, when you look at the trophy or pass by, do not write your name or someone else's name on the gummed tape protecting the named pieces of metal. Please do not try to remove the tape—and do not scratch the metal. This trophy is on display in an attempt to improve the college's club spirit and no one individual has any right to mar what is placed for all to see.

Anyone taking English courses in the Clement Building may not recognize the subject of a sentence but he can tell you what key a rotary drill is played in. You can hear the "Serenade of the Saws" in said building any hour of the day, every day. But it's progress. It's progress.

Hal Boyce says that the average college male is much more mature-minded than the average college female. This was the funniest thing I'd heard all week. Modern scientific methods are wonderful. Thirty minutes in Dr. Ackley's statistics class will show you how to calculate, using one-fifth of a person.

Homecoming is practically upon us and the classes are for their annual scramble for the winning float. Here's hoping the Class of '62 comes through. It just wasn't "in the cards" for us last year. (Ha)

The student - faculty reception was a triumph to Miss Meacham and her committee. Now that it's several hundred handshakes and cases of laryngitis behind us, we can all truthfully say that we enjoyed it thoroughly. Thanks to many people for a great deal of hard work.

"For some reason I feel as tense as a game!"

Letter to the Editor

I attended the game Saturday night, October 7 between APSC and Western Kentucky.

Austin Peay State put up a valiant effort to win. And Western Kentucky played a skilled clean game.

I can readily see why we lost. The Austin Peay State student body didn't cheer enough to support a flea circus, let alone their team.

In front of me were a group of children from the ages 8 to 15 who were never quiet. They gave one cheer after another and made more noise than the rest of the APSC students that were there with the exception of the band.

Our team this year is doing a good job considering that a great many of the players are freshmen who have never played college football before. They will gain a great deal of experience this year and with some school spirit added they will be a threat to all comers next year. Let's get out there and put some faith, spirit and good cheering behind our team.

Let's correct this homecoming. Let's get out there and let people hear us cheering in Dickson. Let's give our team some spirit to fight with.

(Name Withheld on Request)

Dear Johnny, Teacher told us to write you in the hospital. I am sorry you got run over. I wasn't in a good fight ever since. Get better quick. Your best friend, Fred. P.S. I'll fight with one hand tied.

Drivers kill and cripple more children than any disease!

Pneumonia, cancer, polio—we're fighting them and winning. But what can you do to curb the killer on wheels? Drive safely! You can write your local enforcement officials and say:

"I Support Strict Law Enforcement!"

Let your police and courts know you're behind their efforts to protect your children. For where traffic laws are strictly enforced and obeyed, deaths go down! Hundreds of communities have proved it.

David Mason--'Man of Month' Judy Chosen--'Miss October'

David Mason, "Man of the Month" for October, is an active student. Here he does some work in the physics lab. (Staff Photo by Don Reese)

Thomas Paine in The Age of Reason: It is necessary to the happiness of man that he be mentally faithful to himself. Infidelity does not consist in believing or in disbelieving; it consists in professing to believe what he does not believe.

Benjamin Franklin: God grant that not only the love of liberty, but a thorough knowledge of the Rights of Man may pervade all the nations of the earth, so that a philosopher may set his foot upon where on its surface and say, "This is my country."

BY TRUDY RICE

If first impressions are really lasting ones, David Mason has no excuses to make for the impressions he has made during his past two years at APSC.

This is clearly reflected in his most appearance, his friendly ways and his attitude toward the importance of a higher education for self-improvement. He would say to the freshmen, "Maintain a good relationship between studies and social life without crowding either."

David feels that his first year of college was very unsatisfactory because he neglected his academic responsibilities; therefore he was speaking from experience when he stated, "On the whole, the freshman class seems less inclined to study."

David, who is a junior from Clarksville, decided to enter Austin Peay State College not only because it was near his home but also because of the good reputation it holds. However, he does feel that socially the college could be improved if more people would stay over the weekends.

On the other hand, he feels that a larger and better physical plant could improve APSC academically.

Although David appears serious-minded about his academic work, he also has his place on the social side. During his freshman and sophomore years he filled the position of vice-president of his class. This year he serves as president of the Circle K Club and is a member of Del Square Psi, honorary fraternity in physics.

Strike up the band and, without fail, there's Austin Peay State College's "Miss October." Judy Eastridge.

This is Judy's second year as field commander for APSC, judging from her previous performances, she's doing a splendid job of leading the band.

Judy is a cute, fun-loving girl whose two goals in life are to be a good wife and mother and the best possible dancing and hotel teacher. She believes that her college education will be a good foundation in the future and will assist her in the association with people she meets.

Austin Peay State means a great deal to Judy. She pointed this out by saying, "I like it here because it offers as much, if not more, than any other college." Her service to APSC is obvious in that she serves as secretary of the band, treasurer of the MENC (Music Educators National Conference) chapter, president of Harned Hall, a member of the Aqua Bellas, the Student Council and the Omega down club.

The most embarrassing situation that Judy has been confronted with goes back to her high school days. It was during this time that she was to perform as field director for the first time, but lack wasn't with her that night and she gave the band the wrong signal, which in turn brought on confusion and silence from the teacher on whom he would be most able to rely, he would choose Melburn Mayfield of the Physics Department. "Mr. Mayfield has with mutual interests, a good personality and a fairly intelligent mind.

Honesty is one characteristic that means a great deal to Judy. Accordingly this is the one trait she looks for in a husband, along taken an interest in my personal problems and aspirations," David said.

Mr. Mayfield said of David, "In the department we need as majors persons of considerable ability to whom learning is a serious concern and a distinct joy. We need persons with a strong sense of purpose tempered by a cheerful outlook and a lively interest in a variety of areas. Such a person is David Mason. It has been and continues to be a pleasure to work with him."

Summing up the impressions that David has given to others, he could definitely be said that an outstanding and very deserving person has been chosen "Man of the Month" for October.

(Editor's Note: The "Man of the Month" will be chosen each month by this editor, the associate editor, the faculty adviser, the dean of students, the dean of women, and Earl Sexton, director of field services.)

with mutual interests, a good personality and a fairly intelligent mind.

Two things that college has taught Judy is to manage money and also prepare her for the future when she must at times be on her own. Concerning the trouble some people get in at college, Judy said, "Some people go wild away from home."

Judy is a wonderful girl. She is hard to miss at half-time of any game, where she is always leading the band in another grand performance.

(Editor's Note: "Miss October" was chosen by the editor, the associate editor, the faculty adviser, the dean of students, the dean of women, and Earl Sexton, director of field services. Students who are to be made in the coming month.)

Read and Tell

by Valinda Hook

On the contemporary shelf of the APSC library can be found Senator John F. Kennedy's book, The Strategy of Peace.

In this book, written before the 1960 presidential election, Senator Kennedy expresses his views on disarmament, civil rights, the cold war and many other problems worthy of attention.

Indochina, Vietnam, Algeria, Quemoy, Matsu, the Middle East, Israel, Latin America, India and China are given careful consideration by Senator Kennedy. The United States is faced with pressing situations in these areas of the world. The volume should arouse the people of the United States to a more strenuous and idealistic strategy for peace.

SPORTRAITS Govs Fall To Hilltoppers

By Buddy Norton

Where to now? That is a question that faces the Governors football squad. With just one victory under their belts before the Jacksonville State game, the picture might appear a little doubtful. That victory was a 16-7 last-minute win over the Carson-Newman squad.

So, are the Governors down and out? Well, we are down but definitely are not out! Five games now remain on the schedule and all of them are figured to be tough games. You might wonder how can we possibly come back and bring home a winning season after suffering three defeats in the first four games. I think that I have the answer to that question.

First of all, we figure that we have made our share of mistakes and had more than our share of bad breaks. So if and when we overcome these factors, the tide should begin to change for us. Secondly we just haven't been able to put together a complete good game. But the most important factor involved is very much in our favor. That is that the members of the team know that we are not down and out and that we are going to come back.

Captain Bud Coley and alternate captain Cliff Sims have provided excellent leadership at all times. Both have played their hearts out in every game thus far. In my opinion, if every man had put forth as much effort, the record would be much different than it now reads.

So as everyone can see we face the problem; where to now? As I said before—and I am sincere when I say it—I predict that the Austin Peay State football team can and will come out ahead.

How does a win seven, lost three season sound? Wait and see what develops.

The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers struck early for a touch-down the first time they had possession of the ball. The TD came on a pass play which covered nearly 45 yards.

Battling the penalty flag and a stubborn Hilltopper defense, the Govs came roaring back to score. Ralph Grant piled into the end zone from inside the five-yard line. His attempt PAT was blocked by the middle of the line.

Again Western came back with a score to take a one-touchdown lead. Despite moving the ball good on offense and having a stingy defense, the Governors went into the dressing room behind.

The second half took up where the first one left off. Neither team was able to generate much of an offensive threat. Austin Peay State had the ball and advanced for a first down before having to punt on fourth down. Then lady luck went with Western; they returned the punt for a touchdown that was to be the actual winning margin.

Tommy Donnelly made a fine return of the ensuing kickoff and would have gone all the way if one more man had been blocked. Cobb Parker tried to get a start started but the Govs were unable to move the yard sticks enough because of bad breaks or untimely penalties.

Western ended the night's scoring with two more TDs which were just icing on the cake as far as APSC fans were concerned.

Cliff Sims played a fine game on defense as usual. Such good end play is getting to be a habit with Sims as he has probably been the most consistent defender of all.

Grant's Toe Tops

By Don Sargent

Whenever Austin Peay State scores or has a scoring drive halted deep in enemy territory, you can bet that coach Art Van Tass will call on number 20.

He is 19-year-old Ralph Grant, a 54, 175-pound sophomore kicking specialist from Gallatin. Grant is beginning his second year as a double duty halfback for the Governors. Last year

Ralph made good 12 of 13 extra point attempts and has booted two far three so far this season (as of the Western Kentucky contest). Both of his misses have been toward Western Kentucky, one at Bowling Green in 1960 and one this year at Municipal Stadium which was blocked.

Ralph averaged 42.2 on 27 Gov Kicks last season and is presently averaging 42.5 on eight booted this campaign. He heads all Governors in the scoring column, having scored two touchdowns and two PATs. He has split the uprights once for a three-pointer which enabled the Governors to register their only victory of the year against VSAC (vs Carson-Newman 10-7).

Leading the Govs in pass interceptions last year with three, Ralph now shares the Governor single season mark with Bob Monnet (1959). Grant has picked off one enemy aerial thus far and has his eye set on George Martin's career record of eight interceptions set during his 1946-47 tenure.

As of the Western Kentucky game, Ralph was third among Gov backs in individual rushing with 92 yards in 20 carries for an average of 4.6 yards per carry. He has grabbed two passes for 39 yards for an average of 19.5

yards per catch. Ralph made his debut in the Austin Peay State starting lineup Oct. 7 against Western Kentucky, after his brilliant appearance against the University of Tennessee Martin Branch in a losing cause.

Ralph is to be congratulated for his fine work as a Governor griddler. He has come a long way and has developed into an invaluable addition to the Austin Peay State College football squad.

The Jacksonville State Gamecocks dumped Austin Peay State by a 21-6 score in the 14th meeting of the two schools on Saturday, October 14.

The victory gave the Jaxmen a 6-5-3 series edge between the two schools and left the Alabamaans with a 2-4 seasonal record and a successful homecoming. The defeat was the third straight for the Governors and left their mid-season record at a dismal 1-4 mark.

Arland Carter, a 6-1, 170-pound junior tailback from Fort Payne, Ala., spelled down for the Governors as he rushed and passed the Gamecocks to 189 of their enormous 364 total offensive yards. The shifty back gained 117 yards in 22 carries and completed two of eight pass attempts for 63 yards and one touchdown.

Carter's replacement, sophomore Eugene Griep, did not add any attractiveness to the Governor situation as he picked up no yards in seven carries. Wingback Ray Gentles and blocking back Lamar Caldwell added 48 to 31 yards respectively to the brutal single-wing attack.

The Gamecocks moved out to a 15-0 halftime lead on a 23-yard pass play in the opening minutes of the contest and added their second TD with 6:39 remaining in the half on a five-yard plunge by Caldwell. The pass shocker came from the arm of Carter and sophomore end Rennie Harris was on the receiving end.

Carter added Jacksonville's final tally when he raced 20 yards through the Govs secondary with only 41 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Trailing 21-0, APSC rebounded to score their only marker of the night on a 7-yard pass play from Richard Moore to end Cliff Sims. Sure-footed Ralph Grant missed the conversion, his second miss in as many games.

Even in defeat, the Governors had their bright spots. Ralph Grant, soph from Gallatin, Tenn., intercepted two passes to run his seasonal total to three and tied the single season interception record held jointly by Grant and Bob Monnet (1959). His two interceptions in one game also tied the single game mark held jointly by Ted Potter (1954) and Bert Simpson (1959). With six interceptions to his credit in one and one half seasons, Grant has an excellent chance to crack the all-time Governor record of eight established by George Martin (1946-49).

Cobb Parker punted seven times for 290 yards and a 41.4 average. In the rushing department, freshman Ken Good picked up 30, Parker added 27, and soph Rennie Dollar gained 24 to pace the Govs.

Coach Art Van Tass's men hope to rebound this weekend when they travel to Richmond, Ky., to do battle with Eastern Kentucky State. Gametime is slated for 1 p.m. (CST).

The All State's All-VSAC Team

Although the football season is only half over, The All State sports staff would like to go on record as being the first to select the 1961 All-VSAC football squad.

Strictly unofficial, the all-star unit includes three gridlers from APSC, four representing the University of Tennessee at Martin and three from Carson-Newman.

The dream VSAC squad includes:

E Wally Hledewicz, UT Martin Branch

E Clifford Sims, APSC

T Ralph Rutland, UT Martin Branch

T Alex Bratcher, Carson-Newman

G John Blair, UT Martin Branch

G Kenneth Bailey, Carson-Newman

C Ken Newman, APSC

B Darrell Smith, UT Martin Branch

B Bob Baker, Carson-Newman

Circle K Elects Melton

John W. Melton II, University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, La., has been elected president of Circle K International, according to David Mason, president of the APSC Circle K Club.

Mason said that Melton is the seventh president of the organization which became an official part of Kiwanis International in 1956. In that short time Circle K has grown from a few scattered groups to 340 clubs with more than 6100 members on college campuses are in the United States and Canada.

Mason added that a major reason for this rapid growth has been the constant goal of Circle K International to serve the college campus in the same manner that its parent group, Kiwanis International, serves the community.

Circle K International's theme this year is "Develop Individual Excellence." It is supplemented by four definite objectives: develop excellence in scholarship, in moral and spiritual values, in club activities and relationships, and in citizenship.

Music Frat Starts Year

Phi Mu Alpha is a fraternity representing the music profession. The purposes of the fraternity are to advance the cause of music in America, to foster the mutual welfare and the brotherhood of students of music, to develop the true fraternal spirit among its members and to encourage loyalty to its Alma Mater.

In order to secure and retain membership in the fraternity, certain scholastic standards must be met. The requirement has recently been raised to a 3.00 average in a one's major field of study, and a 2.50 average as an overall academic standing.

Returning to the executive council of the fraternity this year are John Pickover from Nashville, repeating his duties as president; Lester M. Solomon from Clarksville, historian after previously serving as vice-president; B111 Murphy, also from Clarksville, returning as treasurer; and Terry Fulbright from Hickory, N.C., again serving as warden. New members on the executive council are: Doug Batson, vice-president; Nashville; George Foxworth, secretary, Sumter, S.C.; and Byron Hall, alumni secretary, Henderson, Ky.

Phi Mu Alpha takes part in many campus activities and sponsored a dance after the APSC Western ball game with members of the fraternity furnishing the music.

Gentry Speaks Today

Professor Glenn Gentry, head of the Business Department at Austin Peay State, has returned from Sudan after a two-year leave of absence. Under the AID Agency for International Development, an agency of the United States, Dr. Gentry was employed as an advisor to the Ministry of Education in the field of accounting.

The State Department had appropriated five and a half million dollars in the field of education and Dr. Gentry served on the planning board to help build a two and a half million dollar industrial school in Khartoum, Sudan, and various teacher training programs.

Asked about Sudan's education and government, Dr. Gentry replied, "The basis of the educational system is that of the British. For Sudan was known as Anglo-Egyptian Sudan at one time. Sudan and its independence in 1956 and set up a legislative government until 1958 when the government was overthrown and a military council took over."

And the people are "Friendly, dedicated, very proud of their history," he said. The educated

Awards To Be Given

Home economics majors graduating from the office of the head of home economics.

Deadline for submission of applications is November 15.

The winner of the top award, The Pillsbury Award for 1962, receives a unique on-the-job training fellowship. For one year, beginning July 1, 1962, she will be associate director of the Pillsbury Junior Home Service Center. This key executive position has been planned to give the award winner first-hand experience in all phases of home economics in business.

The winner also receives an award of $1000, in addition to her year's salary of $3000. At the end of her year as associate director, she will receive a $2500 scholarship for a year's graduate study in home economics. If, at the time, there is a suitable permanent position open with Pillsbury, she may have her choice between accepting the $2500 scholarship for the permanent position.

Six finalists for The Pillsbury Award will receive grants of $250 and enjoy a two-day expense-paid trip to Minneapolis.

All applicants for the awards who have been recommended by their home economics faculty will receive on honor citation.

Interested students may obtain an application blank and full information from the office.

College Mag Available

Ray Rogers Price, campus assistant for Campus, Unpublished, a national magazine for college students, has said that anyone wishing to see a copy of the magazine may check with him in The State office any afternoon.

Persons wishing subscriptions to the magazine have been urged to indicate their desire as soon as possible so speedy mailing will be possible.

Features throughout the year will include college sports, campus social activities, discussions of academic questions, fashion news for coeds, campus politics, information on careers after graduation, fiction contributions by students, campus humor, news from colleges in other countries, etc.

Single copies are also available. Students wishing to do so may contact him through distribution box 1210.

people have America. Some desire the illiterates) to have a socialist or communal government. At present, the government tries to maintain a neutral stance.

Before returning home, Dr. Gentry and family took a six-week tour through the Middle East and Europe visiting Naples, Rome, Venice, Vienna, Athens, Pompeii, Istanbul, Jerusalem, and Cairo.

Glenn Gentry of the Business Department is the assembly speaker for today, October 18. His talk includes such items as:

- (1) The educational system of the Sudan.
- (2) The geography and the people of the Sudan.
- (3) History and economic system of Sudan.
- (4) The living conditions of an underdeveloped country, the Sudan.

Dr. Gentry returned this year from two years' experience with the State Department in Sudan. His talk was expected to contain concise and first-hand information on the country and his stay there.

If time permitted, he was to

Poetry Contest Opens

The National Poetry Association announces its annual competition.

The closing date for the submission of manuscripts by college students is November 5.

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible to submit his verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred by the board of judges, because of space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as

Ackley Speech Is Scheduled

Dr. George E. Ackley Jr. will address the seventh annual conference of the Tennessee Association on Children under Six on November 2 at 3 p.m.

The theme of Dr. Ackley's speech is "Setting Limits for Children." The conference will be held in Springfield and will last for two days.

The main purpose is the discussion of mental health problems.

He will give a brief account of his trip in Europe as well.

Future assemblies include faculty and class meetings on November 1. A student program will be presented November 8 under the direction of Ray Stone, Student Council president.

Library Guide Is Available

Will Rebshtain, reference librarian, has compiled a two-page guide for freshmen and transfer students to help them find their way around the library and to help them learn the basic services of the library.

New students were given to all students enrolled in English 101.

These students not enrolled in these classes may ask for copies of the guide at the Reference Desk in the library.

The Governor's Guide made an error in the library hours. Library closes at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday instead of 5:30 p.m. as listed in the handbook.

Frith To Speak Again

Margaret Frith

Margaret Frith, Clarksville's Community Leadership in Brazil this past summer, will present the program for the International Relations Club's second meeting this fall.

The members of the club and all interested students are invited to the Audio-Visual Room of the McCord Science building to see slides of Brazil and hear of her exciting stay there.

Brazil, although it is a next-door neighbor, remains a nation of custom and mystery to the United States. The recent political turmoil of that country cast a dark shadow over its struggle for democracy. What kind of people are Brazilians? What do they think of Americans? These are some of the questions she will answer in her discussion on Brazil.

Conference Hears Swift

Miss Laura Swift sang for those attending the educational conference held on campus Saturday, October 7.

She also gave a recital for the Springfield Federation of Women's Clubs at their opening meeting September 27. Laura is a senior music major and president of the Governesses. She has also represented the school in beauty contests and was one of the runners-up in a recent "Miss Tennessee" contest.

To Visit EK

The Austin Peay State College Marching Band and Governesses of 1960-61, under the direction of Dr. Aaron Schmidt and Miss Judy Eastridge, field commander, will give their first out-of-town performance of the season as they travel to Eastern Kentucky State College in Richmond, Ky., on Saturday, October 21.

The band and Governesses have become distinguished through their precision work and the competent direction of Dr. Schmidt. They are now considered to be among the top bands and girls' drill teams of the central South.

Hackman Attends Music Meet

In September of this year, Willie Hackman, member of the APSC music faculty, attended the Fifth International Congress of the American Musicological Society in New York City.

The Congress, which is held every fifth year, is composed of music scholars from all over the world. The purpose of the society is to carry research and a scholarly study of music.

Mr. Hackman is continuing work on his dissertation.

Local Artists In Exhibit

The Davidson County Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring an art exhibit at the Cheek Gallery in the Parthenon, which includes two Clarksville artists, Lewis Burton and Charles Young.

Both Burton and Young, along with other Middle Tennessee Art Education Association members, will have their work displayed from October 1 through October 25.

Mr. Burton and Mr. Young are faculty members of the Department of Fine Arts, Austin Peay State College.

Math Meet Held

The Galois Math Club had its first meeting of the 1961-62 school year on September 25.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Ben Baskford. William Norfield, vice-president, and Jean Neighbors, secretary and treasurer, were also present to help conduct the meeting.

The club is open to anyone majoring or minoring in math and also to anyone taking math courses. The club is planning to be invited to come to the next meeting on October 13. There will be an announcement made concerning the time and place.

Membership in the club will help to create a deeper interest and fuller understanding of mathematical concepts. It will also provide discussions outside the classroom in which a student can learn new mathematical ideas. Being in the club also helps the students to work more closely with the teachers in the math department.

The club sponsors an annual math contest for the high schools in this area. Through this contest interest is created in math and in this campus.

You. Why the gold hairs?

Future You

You've needed... just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't...

You

All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?

Future You

The Air Force needs college-trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.

You

Say I was interested... how can I get to be an officer?

Future You

You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer College School... where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.

You

Starting salary is important. What about that?

Future You

Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an ace major to see it adds up to an attractive package.

I've been thinking about getting my Master's.

Circle K Plans Tourney

Plans are currently being made from the schools participating in the tourney.

The date for this year's tourney is expected to be December 23-24. C. B. Fletcher, sports editor of the Leaf Chronicle, is to be tournament director again.

Proceeds of the tournament are used for the several scholarships given yearly by the club for stu-

Yearbook Staff

Anyone wishing to be on the staff of the yearbook, the Farewell and Hall, is requested to place a note in distribution box 807. The yearbook editor, Judy Harter, said there are still some openings on the staff.

Newman Meets

The local Newman Club met October 2 for the first time this academic year.

Discussed were chiefly administrative problems. Rodger Bowman introduced this year's officers.

The forth-coming initiation of the Newman Club in Nashville was announced; the initiation will be followed by a dance. It will take place on October 29 and arrangements for transportation will be made by the club. The exact time of departure will be posted.

By Martha Jackson

"We're proud of Mom and Dad for going to school," say the pretty twin daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. George Sanford. "There is always a feeling of assurance that they have to have, and we try to give it to them, especially when it comes time for them to decide whether to sit with their daughters or pretend they don't know us, so as not to embarrass us."

Merry and Sherry, freshmen at Austin Peay State, majoring in elementary education and home economics, respectively, seem to think it's just great sharing notes and ideas with Mom and Dad. The only problem seems to be the great competition among the Sanfords students. This year the entire Sanford family is attending Austin Peay State College.

"Is there more strictness placed upon you so far as studying and dating?" the twins were asked.

"Well, not really," says Sherry, "but Merry and I try a little harder to better our grades, because Mom and Dad, having had about 20 previous years of learning through experience, are smarter than we. As far as dates are concerned, no strictness has been forced upon us. They have hinted around as to the desirability that we have to be done, though."

The Rev. Mr. Sanford, a Methodist minister and pastor of the Port Royal Church, has a full-time job playing the role of father, husband, minister and student. "Future plans," says he, "are made daily."

Mom (Alice) Sanford is enjoying school as a freshman this year. She and Merry are majoring in elementary education. Although she has a full-time job, Mrs. Sanford helps supplement the family income by working Saturdays in a Clarksville department store.

"The only difficulty in attending school with the family," says Mrs. Sanford, "is the fact that we all put in 1 try to do my housework while at home."

Woodward Heads MTEA

Dean F. G. Woodward

Dean Felix Woodward of Austin Peay State College, and president of the Middle Tennessee Education Association, will preside at the Association's meeting which will convene in Nashville October 19 and 20 for its annual convention.

"The Demands of Democracy" will be the topic of an address by Eugene J. Carthy, U. S. Senator from Minnesota. Dr. George K. Schwabert of the University of Tennessee will speak on the subject, "The Two-Edged Sword of Science."

Governor Buford Ellington, Commissioner of Education Joe Morgan; Dr. Ray Wallace, president of the Tennessee Education Association; and Mrs. J. E. Cornette, president of the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers, will bring greetings to the convention.

Thirty-one departmental groups will hold meetings throughout the convention.

For an entire family to attend school together, said Sanford, "Without God's grace and the help of others, this would not be possible."

Dozier, Hook Elected

Brenda Dozier was elected secretary of the English Club at APSC during the club's meeting October 18.

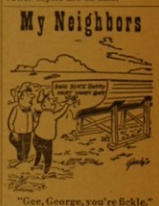

Valinda Hook was chosen reporter-bislatorian.

Plans were discussed for showing of the movie filmed on campus, for an entry in the Homecoming parade the last of October, and for club social activities and programs.

The club is scheduled to meet each third Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

Some of the club's anthologies of student writings were left over from the end of last year. The fewer copies are on sale.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"AND WITH OUR SOCIETY GIRLS, YOU WOULD HAVE ADEPT OF ONE OF THE FINEST SOCIAL DANCERS ON CAMPUS."

Religious Groups Start Well

Austin Peay State College has day nights and large meetings six active religious organizations, twice monthly.

They are the Christian Fellowship, the Newman Club, the Baptist Student Union, the Methodist Student Movement, Disciple Student Fellowship and the Westminster Fellowship.

The Methodists began the year with a bus ride to provide fun and help the freshmen get acquainted. During registration they presented an information booth for freshmen. The Methodists and Baptists united to supply refreshments during registration. The MSM has a guest speaker and a discussion group on Wednesday nights. Study groups on Thurs-

The Baptists also entered into the fall season with seasonal activities. A church progressive supper with a travel theme was a successful venture. They journeyed to various churches representing the South Sea Islands, France, Italy, Japan and a coffee house in America. On October 12, they had an annual round-up of Baptists at a chicken-wagon supper on the APSC farm. Prizes were presented to the best couple and cowgirl. The BSU invites all students to a short devotionals time every Monday and Thursday evenings at 6:15 in the chapel room.

The DSF, an organization for students who prefer the Christian Church, had its beginning of the quarter with a winter roast on October 11.

The Christian Fellowship is composed of all denominations. It meets every Wednesday at 12:30 in the chapel room for a short inspirational service.

The Westminster Fellowship, composed of Presbyterians, meets every second and fourth Tuesday of each month in the Student Center. They hope to make more progress this year, as does the Newman Club for Catholics.

Education Meet Held Here

Dr. John W. M. Rothney, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, and Wendell P. Butler, superintendent of public instruction, Frankfort, Ky., delivered major addresses to the fourteenth annual Austin Peay State College Educational Conference October 7 in the Memorial Health Building.

Dr. Rothney's address was entitled "Problems, Procedure and Results in the Guidance of Superior Children" and was heard by some 150 educators from approximately 20 counties in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Butler addressed the first general session on "You Have the Key."

Included on the program was Halbert Harvill, president of APSC, and Dr. George E. Ackley, professor of psychology at Austin Peay State.

Because of the importance of this conference, many special guests were on the scene. Among them was Honorable Joe Morgan, Tennessee's Commissioner of Education. Others from the State Department of Education were: Dr. Sam Ingram, the assistant director of the area of curriculum and supervision; Miss Florence Betts, consultant in curriculum and instruction; Vernon Johnson, director of special education; Ed Spilman, director of institutional research; higher education in special schools.

State Department of Education personnel at the conference also included two who are stationed in offices at Austin Peay State College. They are Leithum Keatts, area supervisor in curriculum and instruction, and Joe Minor, supervisor in science education.

The theme of the conference was "Education and the Need for Quality." The program was devoted to examination of public schools' educational materials.
