10 Candidates Vying For ASB Offices

Peace Corps Test Is April 23

The Peace Corps Placement Test will be administered on the campus of Austin Peay State College April 23, at 8:30 a.m. in room one of the Browning Building.

The most critical skills in demand are in the fields of agriculture, health, engineering, construction and education—particularly math and science teaching.

Volunteers with experience in physical education, home economics, architecture, geology, social work and other skill categories are needed in countries where the Peace Corps is now working.

To take the test, the applicant must secure a Peace Corps questionnaire from the post office or from Dean Tom K. Savage; complete the questionnaire and bring it to the test session. For an application and further information, interested individuals should contact Dean Savage.

APSC Coed

Appointed

To State Office

Miss Mary Chris Conroy, president of the Chapter of Student National Education Association, has been selected as Tennessee SNEA President.

Miss Conroy, a junior history major from Clarksville, was selected on the basis of leadership potential by Mrs. Charlene Collier, SNEA consultant.

Fourteen members of the Chapter attended the convention at Middle Tennessee State College in Murfreesboro, last week. Mary Chris served as moderator for a panel discussion on "Teacher Education and Its Relationship to SNEA."

A spokesman for Tennessee TEPS said that Mary Chris "was outstanding in bringing the questions and presenting the summary." She was highly recommended for the presidency by the APSC faculty, administration and education department.

A member of Kappa Delta Pi, educational honor society, Mary Chris plans to teach after graduation.

Susan Price

Receives

Scholarship

What is it like to study in a Canadian University?

Each year a scholarship will be awarded by the modern language department for specialized study in French language and literature during the summer at Laval University in Quebec, Canada. This year the award went to Miss Susan Price, a junior majoring in French.

During the summer Miss Price will live, work and study in an environment which is entirely French by its atmosphere, language, educational methods and subject matter.

Next fall she will return to Austin Peay State College where she will complete requirements for a B. A. degree with a major in French language and literature.

Open House This Saturday

The Austin Peay State College Industrial Arts Department will hold an open house this Saturday, April 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The open house is an annual event of the department and is being sponsored and conducted under the direction of the Industrial Arts Club.

"One of the main purposes of the open house," Jerry Pryor, president of the club said, "is to acquaint the public with the importance of industrial arts. 'Too many people think of the courses in industrial arts as trade school courses.'"

Another reason for having the open house is to inform the faculty and students at APSC just where the department is located. "We sometimes feel like many of the faculty don't know where we are stationed," Jerry said.

Everyone is invited to attend the open house this Saturday and acquaint themselves with one of the up-and-coming departments on campus.

Freshman English Exam

All freshmen who are required to take the freshman English exam 103 should check the Freshman English bulletin board on the second floor of the Clement building this week.

The assigned rooms for each student will be posted on the bulletin board by the English Department.

The test will be given at 5:20 p.m. rather than 4:30 p.m., as was previously posted on the calendar.

2 Independent Candidates; 2 Tickets Seeking Offices

Shaking hands, smiling and speaking to strangers, making promises and bargains, and trying to prove value of candidates greeted the student body of Austin Peay State College this morning.

Yes, campaigning for the Associated Student Body offices for the academic year 1964-65 officially got underway at midnight, April 13, on the APSC campus.

RICHARDSON

LADD

A total of ten students saw fit to throw their hats into the campaign world; eight are running on two tickets and two are campaigning as independent candidates.

The two independent candidates are Bob Mitchell, candidate for vice-president of the ASB; and Jean O. Sarver, Jr., candidate for treasurer.

The two tickets have four candidates each and are made up of the following students.

The first ticket has Larry Richardson, presidential candidate; David Satterfield, vice-president hopeful; Mary Smith, seeking the office of secretary; and Seldon Sledd, running for treasurer.

The second ticket is composed of Don Ladd, candidate for president; Jerry Weatherpoon, vice-presidential nominee; Jean Hudson, campaigning for secretary; and Pat Adams, seeking the office of treasurer.

Mitchell is a junior at APSC and hails from Fonthill, Ontario, Canada. He is a pre-dental major and has been a member of the golf team for two years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell.

Sarver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sarver of McEwen, Tenn. He is a sophomore, majoring in business administration. Among his activities at the college are the AP Playhouse and the Wesley Foundation.

Richardson is a sophomore also and is from Crofton, Ky. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richardson. A biology major and health minor, Richardson is serving this year as vice-president of the Baptist Student Union and the Student National Education Association.

Satterfield is from Nashville, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Satterfield. A junior health and P. E. major and geography minor, Satterfield is a member of the football and track teams, holds membership in the PEM Club, the A Club and the ASB Senate.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Tullahoma, Tenn. She is an elementary education major and holds membership in the APSC Marching Band; is captain of the Majorette corps; is a member of the SNEA, Aqua Belles and the Christian Presbyterian Fellowship.

Sledd is a junior P. E. major and business minor from Mayfield, Ky. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Sledd, has been a member of the basketball team for the past two seasons and is a member of the A Club, the PEM Club and the BSU.

Ladd is from Clarksville, Tenn., and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ladd of Henderson, Ky. He is a chemistry major and a science minor.

Weatherpoon is a sophomore, majoring in accounting. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Weatherpoon of Centerville, Tenn. He is a member of the business club.

Miss Hudson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hudson of Nashville, and is a sophomore at APSC. She is majoring in speech and minoring in business and holds membership in the AP Playhouse.

Adams is also a sophomore and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac P. Adams of Clarksville. He is majoring in pre-medicine and is a member of the Baptist Student Union.

For the next eight days these ten students will be trying to meet all of the students enrolled (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Campaign Tactics Should Be Kept Above The Board

During the next week the entire student body will be exposed to many and varied types of promises, threats and compromises as the candidates for next year's Associated Student Body offices seek your vote.

These candidates have spent many hours during the past few weeks preparing for this one week. It is our responsibility to see that all of their work does not go in vain.

We can avoid this waste of their time in several ways: the most important of these being the registering of our vote on election day, April 22.

Again this year, voting machines will be in the Student Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The use of the voting machine will enable the students to know who has been elected to the four offices within a very few minutes after the polls have closed.

Another way we can help the candidates feel that they have not wasted their time in preparing for their campaign is to resist and refrain from destroying any of the material which the candidates place around campus during this week.

Last year hard feelings developed between the candidates because some idiot, unknown to any of the candidates, took it upon himself to maliciously destroy the campaign material of each of the candidates.

This destruction was totally uncalled for and the tempers which were lost as a result of this act caused enemies to be made for a short period of time. However, after things had cooled off and the past forgotten, these enemies became friends again.

But, the individual who had taken it upon himself to be "Public Enemy No. 1" remained anonymous. It is the hope of those connected with this year's campaign that this will not recur.

However, if material is destroyed in any way, every effort will be made to determine who caused the destruction and necessary steps will be taken to see that the individual is not given the opportunity to perform such deeds again.

Each student should take it upon himself to see that this campaign is as successful as last year's. Many have remarked that last year's campaign was the most active and spirited that this campus has ever seen. This in itself should serve as a challenge to this year's student body.

Even though the actual campaigning will last for only one week, it would only take a few minutes to destroy what took many weeks to prepare. Let us keep everything above the board. Who knows, you may run for office one day.

Ramblings Of A Fool

Politics And My Beginning

By RONALD ARVIN

This is where I came in. From time to time, I like to look back to see where I was a year ago. Most of the times, I have travelled a long way in distance, attitude and maturity. There have been also a lot of fine memories to go with my travels.

About this time last year, I became involved in the student elections. Most students remember the harassment Henry, Larry and Judy received from my writings which then appeared in the Student Forum. Henry and I have compared notes about those times to see what the other was thinking at the time. From the cutting remarks I made about the McCain ticket and the constitution change, some people thought that I was their bitter enemy. Actually, I held no animosity toward them; I was just at odds with some of the things they did last spring, and I had a rather pointed way of saying so.

The ASB officers and I have gone along fine this year, and I must say that they have done an excellent job considering the conditions. They have worked hard all year long trying to do the most for the student body. The hours have been long and the efforts have been frustrating in many instances.

Some students may complain that they have not done enough or that we have not done their best. Anyone who has worked close with the ASB officers cannot but come away religiously convinced that he has seen the best and most conscientious efforts of a most dedicated group of student leaders.

Although Judy Dias states otherwise, I feel that many of the senators have failed to support the ASB officers either through failures to attend the meetings or to join in a collective effort to bring about reforms and actions which would have benefited the students. If the senators had ignored individual differences, the ASB would have made more remarkable strides in student government than they did.

There remains a great deal to be settled in the governmental changeover initiated by the McCain Administration. It will take at least another two years to get things running smoothly again. Henry, Larry and Judy have done what they could in making the changeover; it remains for the new officers to carry it on to completion.

There were no Brooklyn Bridges in this administration. The only criteria for judging the new candidates will be their program for stabilizing the government and their ability to carry it out. Let's vote for the team which can best carry on the job at hand.

Well, as I said, this is where I came in.

Youth Orchestra To Perform Thursday

The Nashville Symphony Youth Orchestra, conducted by Don Cassel, will present a concert at Austin Peay State College on Thursday, April 16, at 8 p.m. Works by Handel, Grieg, Beethoven, Wagner, Dvorak and Vivaldi. Perisichetti will be on the program.

The Youth Orchestra is made up of 55 musicians from junior and senior high schools and colleges in Middle Tennessee. Many of its members have become members of the Nashville Symphony and several are now playing in both orchestras.

Cassel, conductor of the orchestra, is Associate Professor of Music at George Peabody College for Teachers. He is also principal oboe for the Nashville Symphony.

The orchestra, now in its seventeenth season, was founded in 1947. It has presented many concerts in Middle Tennessee, and has made a tour to Miami, Fla.

Monday night, April 20, a debate will be held in the Student Center and will be open to the entire student body.

Tuesday morning in assembly, the candidates will present themselves and their platforms to the entire school as they deliver their formal campaign speeches.

Wednesday, April 22, voting will take place in the TV lounge of the Student Center. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Again this year, voting machines will be used.

The Self-Righteous Generation Is On Trial

Adults tend to identify each succeeding generation with a particular adjective which reflects to a large extent its basic characteristic. There have been the Lost Generation, the Silent Generation and the Beat Generation. Perhaps the best description of our generation will be the Self-Righteous Generation.

Holden Caulfield, the youthful hero of The Catcher in the Rye, summed up this generation's appraisal of its parents and adults in general. His classic evaluation was that they were all "phonies."

Our generation takes pride in itself for standing upon a pedestal and pointing an accusing finger at each and every adult and yelling, "Phony!" We decry our parents' dishonesty, infidelity and pretentiousness. We, the Self-Righteous Generation, blame adults for our own lack of morals, our own lack of responsibility. And now, it is high time that we, the accusers, stand trial.

Let's face reality. The Self-Righteous Generation is as phony as its parent generation. We come to college but not for an education. We come for that sheepskin which signifies that we have that knowledge which we didn't get. But that doesn't matter. It's good for an extra thousand or two a year.

We affect an air of cool detachment in our social image. The thing is to walk right, to ignore the right people, to pretend to be an authority on all subjects and to espouse the right imbecilities about responsibility and moral behavior. We berate our parents for coddling to influential people whom they do not like, but are we any different? We despise Mr. Hot Air, but are we any different? We decry the double standard morality of our progenitors, but are we our single standard morality a more righteous one?

The fact that we can make correct value judgments about right and wrong concerning the behavior of the preceding generation testifies to the fact that we know the proper standard of moral behavior. Because we know the difference, we are responsible for our actions.

Our parents' generation cannot be saddled with the greater blame or responsibility for our behavior. Each generation is the free agent of its own way of life. The responsibility for being truthful, for being non-pretentious, for being moral rests with the individual. We, who can make moral judgments about the adult world, become moral agents. Consequently, we become what we are because that is what we want to become. We are not forced into accepting or rejecting honesty, responsibility and morality.

We, the Self-Righteous Generation, stand accused. We cannot cheat and lie today and expect to become honest and truthful tomorrow. We are setting the pattern today that few of us will break tomorrow. The liberties which we take today will be used as evidence against us by our children. They will stalemate us into inaction and go merrily on their way "doing what you did when you were my age." We, too, shall know the cruel sting of the cry "Phony!"

Right is right, and wrong is wrong. A wrong does not become a right because our parents did it. Certain basic morals have been accepted throughout the ages. Truthness in character, the acceptance of responsibility and good moral behavior have always been accepted as the basis of social behavior. Though these basics may be flaunted by movie stars and community leaders, they are still the only acceptable form of behavior. We will not change that fact by our own misbehavior either.

If we are to continue to imitate Holden Caulfield, the Self-Righteous Generation is going to have to accept those standards by which we judge our elders. If we repudiate that standard of judgment by our actions, we will also be rightly judged as "phonies." R.P.A.

"Cool" Coeds Are "Sultry"

It has become common practice for the student body to write caustic letters concerning their pet peeves with the administration. Being kind-hearted, considerate creatures by nature, the administration has not sought revenge by complaining of the myriad shortcomings of the students.

In the heat of rage, a few have composed retaliatory letters only to discard them when they think about the measures the Humane Society will take against them for being cruel to poor dumb animals. Below is a letter-to-the-editor which was rescued from Circular File 13.

Dear Editor,

It is a fact that we, the professors of dear old Austin Peay State College, would not be winners in any beauty contest but neither would the cosmetic queens who look like naughty little girls who have gotten into Mommy's make-up.

If those "cool" coeds were to wash their faces and use cosmetics sparingly, they would have difficulty recognizing themselves. When asked why they disfigure themselves so, they reply, "I'm trying to find myself." In part, I can sympathize with them. Under all that gook, I would be hopelessly lost too.

If they intend to find themselves by adding another layer of cosmetics, they will be better off if they don't succeed. If they do, they will doubtlessly go into a state of utter shock.

A Mandrill with its blue, red and green face is a nice creature to visit at the zoo. However, when one enters a college class, it is quite depressing to see 15 coeds who amateurishly try to imitate the noble animal. Either they have failed Art 200 or they are enrolled in a new course called Abstract Cosmetics. Either way, it doesn't do the Mandrill justice.

There is an advertisement which claims that "only her hair dresser knows." One look at all the Bleach Bottle Blondes and it is easy to understand why even he wants to keep it a secret. This bleaching madness has reached the point of pointlessness in that even the blondes are trying to become blondes.

Waking about with an attitude of detachment and boredom resulting from having to associate with the rest of the human race, they think of themselves as being "cool coeds." This is a gross misnomer. A more precise term would be "sultry children."

Sincerely
Dr. Isa Fack

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all persons who have given their support and time to the 1963-1964 Associated Student Body undertakings. I can sincerely say that I have never witnessed such superior cooperation between students and administration, between students and faculty, and between students and students.

It has been a real delight to work under such conditions. I believe we, as a student body, have made great strides toward the actualization of an effective student government.

In the days to come, we will be given the opportunity to elect our student leaders for the coming year. Our choice is an important one and is one which merits much consideration on our part.

I ask all of you to give serious thought to your personal selection of the candidates. Most importantly, I ask you to choose the candidate you feel will serve you best, the one you would like to be your school's representative, the one you want to work with. With these offices go much responsibility. It's not all fun and games. Your officers need and will need your support and cooperation throughout the year, not just election time.

Last year I was on the other end of the political spectrum and I was asking for the chance to serve our student body. I was given that chance and I have found it a very worthwhile experience. Now I'm again a voter. I'm going to carefully weigh each candidate's attributions, and I will cast my votes for the persons who I feel will do the best job toward strengthening our student government. Won't you do the same?

I wish to extend a special thanks to The All State, the faculty, administration and students for the cooperation and assistance you have given me throughout my term of office. It's been a good year ... I'll be here again in 1964-65.

Sincerely,

Judy Diaz, Secretary
Associated Student Body

TONY'S TIDBITS

By TONY BOEHMS

Governor

Profile

The 1964 spring sports outlook is a far distant cry from 18 years ago when Dave Aaron arrived on the campus as director of athletics and coach.

Aaron was employed in 1946 as football and basketball coach. Shortly after, he organized the first track and golf teams in the school's history and reorganized tennis as an intercollegiate sport at the college.

In 1963 he relinquished all coaching duties to devote more time to his dual post here as AD and Chairman of the Health and Physical Education Department. Aaron's 321-227-6 combined coaching record at APSC speaks for itself, an admirable record which many coaches would be glad to have pointed.

Presently, for the first time, the spring sports program is directed by six coaches in the four participating sports.

Serving as head baseball coach is Leon Sandifer whose diamond dusters are attempting to give him his 100th APSC victory this week. Sandifer's clubs have posted a 94-78 record, better than .500 for the likeable coach.

AARON

Many of Sandifer's stars have gone to greater acclaim in the sport of baseball. Just last week one of his best performers, Jim Stewart, was chosen outstanding rookie of spring camp for the Chicago Cubs and will be starting second baseman for the major league club on opening day.

Assisting capably is coach Jim Lane, defensive coach for APSC's football fortunes. Lane has an excellent baseball background and produced many fine teams while at Franklin County High School.

Another valuable member of the Gov coaching staff is Gordon Schultz, head track coach. Schultz has the difficult task of building a track program that can compete in the OVC, but his clubs in future years could threaten the league's top track and field teams.

Jerry Platt is serving his second year as assistant track coach and is helping Schultz with the runners and weightmen.

CLIFT

Tennis is headed by Marion Carr, a graduate of past rival Carson-Newman where he was a four-sport performer.

Last year coach Carr's team earned a 1-7 mark but continued improvement indicates some hopeful surprises for this year's opponents.

SCHULTZ

Directing the golf squad is Sherwin Clift who is in his fourth year at the helm of the linksmen. His clubs have posted a 27-14 won-lost mark thus far.

The strikers captured two Volunteer State Athletic Conference championships before APSC left the Tennessee league to join the rugged OVC.

Elliott Leads Way

Baseballers Host Lipscomb This Afternoon; Break 2 Records In Win Over Belmont

A double-leader which gets underway at 1 p.m. today at the campus diamond highlights the spring sports day as Austin Peay State entertains David Lipscomb. The long-time rivals have met 42 times with APSC holding a slim 23-19 series margin.

Strong pitching, lusty hitting and clever base-stealing highlighted last Thursday's 15-1 victory by the Governors over Belmont.

Junior righthander Dwight Norris gained the victory for Coach Leon Sandifer's side as he toiled 6 2/3 innings before giving way to Dwight Work and Ewing Schmittou. Norris is now 1-1, while APSC's mark stands at 2-3.

In the hitting department, catcher Tommy Elliott slammed out three hits to lead the APSC stickmen. Shortstop Rodney Rogers had a homer and a single while Doug Stamper and Mel Van Hooser clouted round-trippers.

Base-stealing was the order of the day as the Gavs stole 12. The Clarkvillian walked in the eighth inning and promptly stole second, third and home. He was a little late in overjoying the Gavs fans as Dwight Gregory had just accomplished the feat before him. Don Climer and Stamper stole two bases each to complete the day's thievery.

Left fielder Climer opened the Gavs' first scoring opportunity when Belmont starter Jimmy Dale issued him a base on balls. Stamper, senior third baseman and star basketball, started the fireworks as he lofted his homer to score the Gavs' initial runs.

In the second inning Elliott doubled and came home on Climer's triple. With the Sandifermen leading 3-0, the Johnny Rebs scored their lone run in the fourth on a double by center fielder Billy Moore and an error by Stamper.

APSC countered with lone runs in the fifth and sixth innings and led 5-1 before erupting for 10 runs in their last two times at bat.

Six Gavs crossed the plate in the wild seventh frame to give the locals a comfortable 11-1 margin. Not satisfied, Van Hooser and Rogers rapped back-to-back homers in the bottom of the eighth to give the Gavs a 13-1 lead. Enter Messrs. Gregory and Elliott via walks and the base-stealing antics following giving APSC their 15-1 triumph. David Lipscomb will visit the APSC diamond Tuesday for a double-header.

Committee To Screen Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders will be screened by a committee before officially becoming candidates for election by the student body this year. This provision was passed overwhelmingly by the Associated Student Body Senate in a call meeting last Thursday morning.

The screening committee will consist of Dean Tom Savage as a permanent member, one male and one female physical education professor, an active athletic supporter from the faculty at large, the four ASB officers and one male and one coed senator.

Dean Savage, George Fisher, Miss Mildred Deason, Dr. George Ackley, Henry McCaslin, Larry Haley, Miss Judy Dias, Dale Kinch, Jim McKinley and Miss Susan Price will serve on the committee this year.

The committee will judge the prospective candidates on the criteria drawn up this week by a senate committee. The conclusions of that committee will be published next week.

Local Cage Star Inks OVC Grant

Marty Darnell, 6-3 cage star from Clarksville High School, inked an Ohio Valley Conference basketball grant to Austin Peay State College last week.

The likeable guard on the TSSAA runners-up squad signed in the presence of APSC head coach George Fisher, Clarksville mentor Ben Fendley and CHS principal Howard Thompson.

A NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN All-Midstate selection, Darnell was named to the all-state tournament squad after leading the Gavs to the finals before losing to Donelson. During the season he also received all-district honors, outstanding player in the 17th District and was named to the Circle K Invitational all-tournament squad.

Darnell scored 44 points for a 14.1 average as Clarksville ran up a 29-4 seasonal record.

"I've always wanted to play college basketball," Darnell said. "And I'm happy that coach Fisher saw fit to want me."

The change in the cheerleader election procedures came at the request of Mrs. Patty Hancock, their sponsor, who asked that a system be established to set a standard of excellence in performance and to verify it before the candidates appeared before the student body for election.

Austin Peay State Golfers Stretch Win Streak To 7

Austin Peay State's winning golf team will host mighty Murray State in a dual match Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the Ft. Campbell, Ky., golf course.

The Gova will be meeting their stiffest test of the season as the Racers are laden with talented golfers from last year's team along with two transfers.

Joe Young, freshman APSC linkster, was as hot as the first round Masters' leader as he fired a two-under-par 69 last Thursday to lead the Gova to two more victories.

Young, a graduate of Isaac Linne High in Nashville, sophomore A. B. Sisco (71) and senior Steve Miller (72) paved the way for wins No. 6 and 7 as the Gova smashed Belmont 25-1/2 to 1-1/2 and pulverized David Lipscomb 27-1/2 to 2-1/2.

Shooting almost equally well were Jimmy Barber (73), Bob Mitchell (76), Mike Jenkins (77) and Don Wood (78). Danny Clinch was Lipscomb's medalist with a 76, while Johnny Singleton was low for Belmont with a 78 at the Old Hickory Country Club near Nashville.

Riding a perfect 7-0 record, the Gova linksmen met their first Ohio Valley Conference competition Monday when they hosted Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky at the Ft. Campbell, Ky., layout.

Young fashioned a 36-33-69 over the par-71 course and finished strong as he birdied No. 17 and 18. He had six birdies for the day, including four on the back nine. The frosh stroker went two-over on the front side but finished four-under on the final nine.

Sisco carded a 33-38 for his even par round while Miller bogied No. 16 to slide one stroke over par. Except for an out-of-bounds and two three-puts, Barber ber's 73 could have been an even par effort.

David Lipscomb picked up enough strength in his third two-some of Lynn Wilson and Will Hutchinson to score an 18-1/2 to 8-1/2 victory over Belmont.

Track And Field Break 5 Records

With a convincing 99-30 victory behind them, Austin Peay State's track squad hosts David Lipscomb today at 3 p.m. in Municipal Stadium.

The Gova will be seeking their second triumph of the young season against a lone defeat.

Saturday the thinclads shelved U-T Martin by the already-mentioned 99-30 score and broke five school records in the process.

Individual record-shatters were James Lamberson (880), Tom Hinkle (mile and two mile) Riley Holliday (javelin) and Bob Embery, Ron Thomson, Lester Aultman and Ron Freund (440 yard relay).

Holliday, varsity basketball performer, heaved the javelin an amazing 200 yards, 4 1/4 inches as compared to the 202-5 standard in the Ohio Valley Conference meet only. Holliday's heave cracked Cobb Parker's record of 176-10 by a wide margin.

Lamberson's time was 2:00.4 while Hinkle snared the century in 4:26.8 and the two mile in 10:16.7. The 440 relay time was :45.7.

RECORD-SETTING TOSS - Unleashing a record toss in the javelin is Riley Holliday against U-T Martin. Holliday threw the spear 200 feet, 4 1/4 inches to eclipse the old mark of 176-10 held by Cobb Parker. Holliday's performance was one of five record smashers as the Gova walked by the Vols, 99-30.

Sociology Department

By JAN LEFTWICH

Did you know that there is a baby in the Austin Peay State College departmental family?

The Sociology Department is still in the early stages of development. It is not a full grown department yet.

Dr. Paul Hyatt, professor of sociology, is the only member of the sociology staff. There is no designated chairman and no separate budget. Dr. Hyatt explains that "sociology is what we call a service course, it is a service to other departments, a supplementary thing."

One course elected by many students is Crime and Delinquency. "No samples are used," Dr. Hyatt says. "Westly alcoholism during the process. No samples of that either. But in the Race Relations and Minority Groups course we have plenty of examples!"

Sociology minors do not get a degree and a job in sociology in a package deal. They usually do graduate work and go into social welfare.

There are several fields requiring sociology backgrounds. The service organizations such as the Red Cross, Salvation Army and Mental Health associations all need and want people with a knowledge of sociology.

Most of the 90-100 students taking a course in sociology this quarter are interested in its value as part of a general education. It helps people get to know themselves and how to get along well with others.

Noted Guitarist To Perform Tomorrow Night

Rey de la Torre, celebrated classic guitarist, will be heard in recital tomorrow night at 8 in the Clement Fine Arts Auditorium.

Born in Havana, Cuba, de la Torre was a delightful pianist at five and an accomplished guitarist at ten. His parents sent him to Spain when he was 14 for academic studies and guitar studies with famous Maestro Miguel Llobet.

Students of APSC will be admitted to the concert free if they present their ID card at the door.

Dottisue Stone Chosen 1964 Miss Hat And Cane

Combined beauty and an aria from "Madame Butterfly" brought the title of Miss Hat and Cane for 1964 to Dottisue Stone, freshman coed from Knoxville at the sixth annual pageant staged Thursday and Friday evenings. By virtue of her crowning she will represent Austin Peay State College in the Miss Tennessee pageant to be held at Jackson in July.

The blue-eyed, ash blond from Knoxville Central is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stone. Dottisue, 19, stands 5-3 1/2 and weighs 109 pounds. Her vital statistics are 35 1/2-22-35 1/2.

Majoring in music and minor-ing in speech, Miss Stone was sponsored by Fil Ma Alpha, national honorary music fraternity.

First runner-up went to Miss Joyce Davenport, sophomore from Clarksville. She was followed by Miss Ruth Young of Hopkinsville, Ky., who took second runner-up honors.

In addition to the three finalists, the semi-finalists were Misses Ramona Lumpkin, freshman, Clarksville; Marsha Mardock, freshman, Clarksville; and Pam Thomas, freshman, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Miss Stone was chosen from 15 contestants and was crowned by Miss Barbara Smith, sophomore from Clarksville and the 1963 Miss Hat and Cane.

A soprano, Dottisue plans to teach piano and voice privately following graduation and she hopes to use her singing and acting talents professionally on Broadway. The newly-crowned beauty queen has had training in piano, voice, drama, and dancing.

First runner-up Miss Davenport gave her interpretation of the popular jazz arrangement of "Walk on the Wild Side" through modern dance.

Miss Young, second runner-up, played the piano selection, "Value in E-Minor" by Fredrick Chopin.

The two-day contest was under the direction of Linda Dotson Hawkins and Trudy Rice Brotherman. The former was first runner-up in last year's pageant while Trudy was Miss Hat and Cane of 1962.

Dr. Tom Cooper, local dentist, served the occasion as master of ceremonies. Judges were Miss Margaret Ann Petty, Miss Tennessee 1962; Boyce Hawkins, WSM-TV personality; and Mrs. Sarah Arnold of Hopkinsville, Ky.

Highlighting Thursday evening was the appearance of Miss Martha Ellen Truett, reigning Miss Tennessee.

Other contestants were Joan Hudson, Suzanne Mitchell, Betty Jo Pope, Linda Russell, Nettie Shurtz, Lela June Wade, Clay Williams, Gale McClain and Gayle Smith.

ASB Seeking Stationery Style

Have you often wanted some type stationery that is just a little different from the regular plain paper or that which you can purchase in any drugstore?

The Associated Student Body is attempting to establish a style of stationery. Anyone who is interested in submitting what they would like to see as the letterhead for the stationery from APSC should submit their idea on or before April 20, to the ASB office in the Student Center.

The following information should be contained in the letterhead submitted by the student: name of the college; A.S.B.; a motto or slogan; Clarksville, Tenn.; Phone No. - 647-1662. In addition, the letterhead should contain an emblem such as the college seal, the state seal, the tower or the little governor.

An example of one type letterhead may be seen on the bulletin board in the Student Center.

The Associated Student Body senate will decide on the letterhead and establish it permanently. Any interested students are urged to submit their ideas as soon as possible.

Coed Of Week

COED OF THE WEEK—This week's selection for coed of the week is Miss Faye Russell, a 5-0 100-pound coed from Clarksville, Faye, who measures 33-21-34, is a sophomore majoring in elementary education. She lists sewing, cooking, swimming and knitting as her hobbies. The hazel-eyed, brown-haired lassie holds a work scholarship at the college and is a member of the Gownettes.
