Run-Off Election For Treasurer Is Today

Pledge Class Sponsoring Car Wash

"Drive home in a spanking clean car" is the cry of the pledge class of Phi Mu Alpha, the honorary music fraternity of Austin Peay State College.

The pledges will sponsor a car wash today beside the gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The cost is only 75 cents per car.

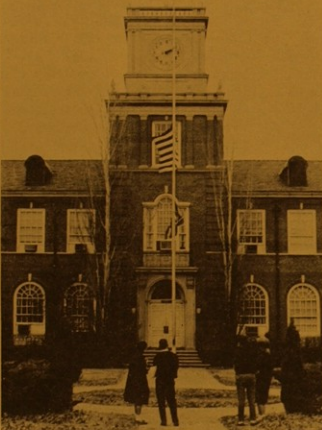

The pledges have guaranteed that each customer will be completely satisfied with the wash job or the car will be rewashed.

An added feature of this particular car wash will be the thorough job done on the inside of the car plus the fact that each car will be treated to a drying with a chammy.

If your car is dirty and you don't want to spend a great deal of money to have it cleaned, stop by the gym during the day and have a first class wash job done for a mere 75 cents.

NOTICE

The last assembly meeting of the Fall quarter will be held in the gymnasium on Thursday, December 5 at 10 a.m. There will be no assembly meeting on Tuesday, December 3, according to a notice from Dean Woodward's office.

Former Student Selected To Represent Tennessee

Miss Nancy English, a 1962 graduate of Austin Peay State College, has been selected to represent the state of Tennessee at the NEA-National Publishers Seminar in New York City on December 4.

Miss English, an English teacher at Clarksville High School, was nominated as the representative from APSC and recommended by Dr. Harold S. Pryor, director of teacher education at the college. Her nomination was submitted to the Tennessee Education Association and a TEA committee selected Miss English over nominees from other colleges and university representatives in the state.

The one-day seminar is sponsored by the joint committee of the National Education Association and the Magazine Publishers Association. The conference, entitled "What It Takes to Teach," will be held at the New York Hilton.

The theme of the conference is keyed to teacher education with particular reference to the criticisms made by Dr. James B. Conant in his recent book and the current ferment over accreditation. The conference, while giving exposure to the views of Dr. Conant and other responsible critics, has a further aim—to review some of the exciting innovations in teacher education taking place in institutions in all parts of this country and to spotlight some of the "products" of modern teacher education — the new teachers.

Miss English will be introduced to magazine writers and editors in attendance to give the news media a look at one of the young teachers now in her second year of teaching who is a graduate of an institution with a forward-looking program of teacher education.

Participating in the conference will be approximately 50 state representatives, 50 educators and a number of representatives from the Society of Magazine Writers. Some of the "name" people in attendance and on the formal program will be Robert Stein, editor of Redbook; Fred M. Hechinger, education editor, New York Times; Clay Blair, editor, Saturday Evening Post; Dr. Herbert Schuler, director of teacher education, Hunter College, City University of New York; and Warren Livingston, president of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Student Body To Vote For Butler Or Kincheloe

BUTLER

KINCHELOE

The students of Austin Peay State College will go to the polls again today in an effort to elect a treasurer for the Associated Student Body.

The students will be asked to vote for either Dale Kincheloe or Frances Ann Butler. In the election last Thursday, the student body failed to give a majority vote to any of the four candidates in the first attempt to elect a treasurer for the ASB.

According to the new constitution of the ASB, "The person receiving a majority of votes cast for an office during an election shall fill that office."

"In case no candidate receives a majority, a run-off election shall be held between the two candidates receiving the largest number of votes cast. The run-off election shall be held no later than a week following the previous election."

In the election last Thursday the candidates finished in the following order, highest number of votes: Dale Kincheloe, Frances Ann Butler, Jim McKinley and Ronald Arvin.

The polls will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will be located in the lounge of the Student Center.

Henry McCaslin, president of the ASB, stated that he was disappointed in the total number of votes cast in last Thursday's election. "I hope that more students will show they are interested in the students who will lead them during the year."

"Speaking for the other officers of the ASB, I can honestly say that we would like to see a far greater number of students come out and vote than the 489 who voted last Thursday," McCaslin concluded.

Following the election today, the candidate who is elected to the office of treasurer will assume his or her duties immediately.

In the voting on the "Little Governor" the students indicated that they favored "B" to represent them as a symbol for a Governor.

However, the alternate choice of having an open contest among the student body for representation of the "Little Governor" was a close second in the voting.

The administration has taken the voting of the student body into consideration and a decision is forthcoming.

Circle K Club Seeks Graduate For Scholarship

The Circle K Club is currently offering a graduate scholarship of $68.50 per quarter for the academic year of 1964-65 to a member of the graduating class of Austin Peay State College who has earned a bachelor's degree in teacher education and who is a candidate for the M.A. degree at APSC.

Tribute To One Of Our Greatest Presidents

The fact that the day was bleak and gray gave no indication of what it held in store for the United States and the world. At approximately 1:45 p.m., Friday, November 22, the news of the murder of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Texas, had engulfed the campus of Austin Peay State College.

The administration, faculty and students of the College became somber - faced and heartbroken at the news of the death of the President. The men's dorms became morgue - like as the men huddled around radios and televisions trying to grasp every word which was being broadcast concerning the assassination of President Kennedy.

The women's dorms were in much the same atmosphere as that of the men's. Only the occasional sound of crying broke the stillness of the halls.

Many students were seen leaving the campus in the directions of the churches which they attend to offer their prayers for the President, his family and the United States.

Although some classes continued to meet in the afternoon at APSC, the atmosphere of weekend activities and two days away from classes was forgotten. The students passed in the halls of the various classroom buildings, not really able to believe that the President had been assassinated.

Although most of the students at Austin Peay State College had never personally met Mr. Kennedy, the fact that he was a man who had dedicated his life to serving his fellow man made them respect the President for the man that he was.

The death of President John F. Kennedy reached the hearts of every student, faculty member and administrator at Austin Peay State College in a very special way. His loss to the country will be felt by each of them for many, many years.

Everyone may not have agreed with the decisions made by Mr. Kennedy, but the fact that he was the President of the United States caused everyone to respect him as a man. The campus of Austin Peay State College is no exception. The loss of any public official is hard to accept. The assassination of a public official is unpardonable. The outright murder of the President of the United States, whether he be Democrat or Republican, Catholic, Non - Catholic or Jew, is a blight on the United States which can never be removed. Only time will heal the scar which has been placed on the United States because of the assassination of President Kennedy. The shame of his murder can never be removed.

We at Austin Peay State College express the feelings of the world when we say that we are shocked and dismayed at the death of the President. We can only offer our expressions of grief and our deepest prayers for Mrs. Kennedy, the children of the President and the rest of his family.

Last Full Measure Of Devotion

It is a great tragedy that the flag of the United States of America should fly at half-mast. It signifies not only the death of a great President and world leader but also the death of a nation.

Why did President Kennedy die? He died because he believed in freedom for all Americans, and his assassin believed in the subjugation of the individual. He died because he believed that all American citizens should have the right to choose their leader at the polls, and his assassin believed that the only ballot worth casting is a 30-30 slug. He died because he believed in doing what was best for our country, and his assassin believed in doing what served his own designs.

We approach Thanksgiving Day with a heavy heart and little reason to be thankful. When we consider the deed, there is nothing for which to be thankful. However, when we consider the man - President John F. Kennedy, we of America have a great deal for which to be thankful.

We can be thankful that we had a man with outstanding ability as a statesman to step forward with great "vision" and decisiveness in this age of crisis. We can be thankful that we had a man who, through the force of his personality and intellect, directed an uncertain nation to a New Frontier of purpose and action. We can be thankful that we had a man, who despite this ever impending doom, set a straight course toward perfecting our democracy and insuring our individual freedom.

President John F. Kennedy now lies in his final resting place. He need not have died in vain. He will not have died in vain if each of us - you and I, dedicates himself to the high ideals for which this man so gallantly gave his life. If we can come to realize and to accept with deep dedication the America in which President Kennedy believed and toward which he worked, we will, indeed, have great reason for which to be thankful. This is the best tribute that we, the American public, can pay to this great American President - John Fitzgerald Kennedy. May he rest in peace.

Faculty And Students Of APSC Express Grief Over Death Of President Kennedy

The shocking news of the assassination of President Kennedy left the campus of Austin Peay State College, along with the rest of the world, in complete shock and disbelief. The following are comments made by some of the students and faculty members of the College.

Jim McLintock, junior, Boston, Mass. - "I find it too hard to believe. I met him before he was elected President, and I just find it hard to believe."

Billy Gilkey, senior, Hopkinsville, Ky. - "We lost a man as great as Churchill. He has done more for our country than anyone since Roosevelt."

Dick Anderson, sophomore, Merriden, Conn. - "I hope it will make the people in this country wake up."

Mike Hutton, junior, York, Pa. - "I thought people had a little sense and enough respect for a man in this position that they wouldn't conceive of doing this deed."

Barry Price, sophomore, San Diego, Calif. - "President Kennedy was more than a Commander - in - Chief. He was a great man with real ideas, principles and feelings."

Henry McCain, senior, Dickson, Tenn. - "It doesn't sound like the year 1963. Repressions will be both national and international, and very uncertain."
Deanne River, freshman, Hendersonville, Tenn. - "I think it just a disaster. We lost a diplomat whom I feel was dedicated to the betterment of the people."

Marlene Hoffman, freshman, Langsville, Ohio - "I can't believe it. I just don't see how any person's mind could be so warped as to kill the President. He was a wonderful President."

Joyce Davenport, sophomore, Clarksville, Tenn. - "I feel that a greater loss to the entire world couldn't have happened in any other way. The population should stop and think and pray."

Gale McClain, freshman, Hershey, Tenn. - "I don't quite know how I do feel. I'm just so shocked. I can't believe it. I've never seen so many people upset at any one time, especially here on campus. Everywhere I go, people are just walking in a daze, some crying, some just looking - girls and boys alike. I think it's just terrible."

Joe Morgan, President of APSC - "It is the most tragic thing that has happened in the United States in my lifetime."

Dr. George Ackley, education department - "It is a black day for us. We have destroyed the image for many years which we have been attempting to create. Perhaps in the eyes of the people throughout the world we are as bad as the worst Russian Czar."

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to think of Christmas shopping, for the Yuletide will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase? "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson?" Well sir, the original saying was French—"Plus vite que dit Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an Anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Al Capone.

(The reason people started saying "quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre"—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries like England, the U.S., and Cleveland—is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, also, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Warsaw." Naturally, Georges could not refuse such an urgent request.

all she had to do was call his name

(Well sir, off to Majorca went Georges, but before she left, she told her little daughter Walter that some bad men were coming to murder Daddy in his bath. She instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name the moment the bad men arrived. But Walter, alas, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home with a big bag of salt water taffy, and when the bad men arrived to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a wad of taffy and could not get her mouth unstuck in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries.

(There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca, she did succeed in helping Chopin find a rhyme for "Warsaw" as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

In the fair town of Warsaw

Which Napoleon's horse saw,

Singing cockles and muskels, alive alive ah!

But I digress.

We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all try to find at Christmas is, of course, unusual and distinctive gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes?

What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboro as unusual? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot nor tittle from year to year?

True. All true. But all the same, Marlboro are unusual because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never fails, the filter never gets backcaked, the soft pack is ever a new delight, and so is the Flip Top box. Each Marlboro is a fresh and pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and cry, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will see that their stockings are filled with Marlboro on Christmas morn.

Tony's Tidbits

By Tony Boehms

Basketball Opens Saturday

Saturday the basketball team will launch their 1963-64 season against Transylvania in Memorial Gymnasium at 7:30 p. m.

Following the Transylvania clash the Gavs will host U-T Martin and Union on Monday and Wednesday night respectively. The two games are non-conference contests.

Governor supporters will be looking for an improved squad to enter competition in the tough Ohio Valley Conference basketball race. This will be the first year for the Gavs to compete in the OVC, and they will be hoping to make this initial year quite impressive.

Preliminary practice sessions and a scrimmage victory have provided Gov head man George Fisher with quite a job to pick a starting line-up for the Saturday night contest. The addition of the daily "best effort" recognition for the varsity player showing the best hustle during a day's practice has added to team hustle and competition.

Turkey Game Thursday

The Governors will close out their 1963 football season Thursday against the Fort Campbell Screaming Eagles in the annual Charity Bowl game at 2 p. m. in Municipal Stadium.

The Gavs host the Screaming Eagles in the affair in a non-collegiate contest with all proceeds going to charity.

The Eagles boast a talented squad led by Tom Blanda at the quarterback slot. Blanda is a former star for the United States Military Academy at West Point.

With Blanda are two outstanding backs in Ernie Wheelwright, a 235 pound fullback and Jim Connors, a 185 pound halfback.

Back, Lineman Of Week

Chlicutt

for their play in the Gavs' victory over U-T Martin last Saturday.

Chlicutt scored two touchdowns, gained 75 yards in seven carries, returned one kickoff for 19 yards and helped the defense with three individual tackles and six assists.

Clements played another outstanding game for the Governors as he blocked almost to perfection on offense and turned in a sparkling game on defense. He made seven individual tackles and assisted on four more.

GOVS WIN 20-6

The Austin Peay State College Governors ended their 21 game losing streak by downing the U-T Martin Volunteers 20-6 last Saturday in Clarksville's Municipal Stadium.

Preceding the opening kick-off, the APSC band played the National Anthem and the crowd stood in silence for one minute in a tribute to the late John F. Kennedy, President of the United States.

U-T Martin won the toss of the coin and elected to receive the opening kick-off. The Volunteers were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt from their own 42 yard line.

APSC took the ball on their own 16 yard line but was unable to move and Sammy Platt punted 35 yards to the Volunteer 47 yard line.

The Governors' head coach Bill Dupes began to show that they wanted this game when they forced U-T Martin to give up the ball on their own 42 yard line. The Volunteers had gone into punt formation but a bad snap from center gave the Gavs the ball on the U-T 42.

It took the Governors just six plays to cover the 42 yards for the first touchdown of the game. Tim Chlicutt, sophomore halfback, skirted left end for 20 yards and the TD with 5:37 remaining in the first quarter.

Pete Bush split the goal posts with the first of his two extra point conversions. The first quarter ended with APSC leading 7-0.

The second quarter saw both squads threaten to score. U-T Martin drove to the Gov's 24 yard line where they were halted by APSC's defense. The Governors were halted by the Vols on the Volunteer 27 yard line late in the second quarter.

The two teams left the field at the half with APSC leading by seven points.

In the third quarter the Governor's defense was given its toughest assignment of the game when U-T Martin recovered a fumble by Tim Chlicutt on the APSC 21 yard line.

After four plays the Volunteers had gained a total of three yards. APSC took over the pigskin on their own 18 yard line and drove 82 yards in 11 plays for their second touchdown.

Chlicutt, fullback John Ogles and quarterback Carlton Flatt did the main damage to the Volunteers in the drive with Ogles going 82 yards through the middle of the line for the six points.

The third quarter ended with APSC leading 14-0.

In the fourth quarter, U-T Martin guard Billy Monk intercepted a pass thrown by quarterback Rodney Rogers on the Governor's 48 yard line. The Volunteers drove the 48 yards in eight plays for their only score of the night. The scoring play was a pass from quarterback Dan Bunn to end Scott Boehringer and covered 20 yards.

U-T Martin attempted a two point conversion but failed and APSC led 14-6 with 6:35 to go in the game.

The Governors took the ensuing kick-off and drove 63 yards in five plays for the final score of the game.
