Foursome Attend Acclaimed Violinist Plays

Ky. OVC Meeting

Dr. Leon Bibb, chairman of the faculty athletic committee; R. C. Shastree, business manager; David B. Aaron, director of athletics; and Sherwin Clift, director of public information, attended the annual fall meeting of the Ohio Valley Conference Sunday, Nov. 18, at Louisville.

The foursome attended meetings and discussed with other OVC officials several topics concerning the Conference.

The 1962-63 year marks the first time that AFSC has been an official member of the OVC.

Plans Underway For Big Dance

The theme has been selected, committees have been appointed and work is underway for the annual Christmas Dance to be held Dec. 6.

The Delta Club in Harvill Hall, who is sponsoring the dance this year, chose "White Christmas" as the theme.

From 8-12 music by the College will add to the holiday atmosphere.

Dress will be semi-formal and flowers are optional.

"Time Magazine" described Christian Frerras as "the most devoutly acclaimed violinist to emerge from France since the late Gisele Neveu."

Last night he was the guest performer at the second community concert to be presented at Austin Peay State College this year. He was accompanied at the piano by George Robert.

Frerras was born in Tanquet, France, and began his musical studies at the Conservatory of Nice. Later he studied at the Paris Conservatory under Desdemptin. In 1946 he was awarded the Conservatory's first prize in violin and chamber music. Chamber music is instrumental music for a small group of instruments usually from three to eight pieces.

Frerras has performed with the Boston Symphony in Boston and New York, as well as in many other American and Canadian cities. He has toured Europe, South America, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

He is now in the United States for his fifth annual tour which includes a heavy schedule of recitals and orchestral performances. He will make four appearances as soloist for the San Francisco Symphony, re-engaging ments in St. Louis and Dallas Christian Frerras as "the most devoutly acclaimed violinist to emerge from France since the late Gisele Neveu."

Newspapers throughout the country have praised him highly. The New York Herald Tribune called him "one of the best young violinists to have come our way in many a moon."

'Washington Slept Here' Coming Feature

Billy St. John, Jackie Sabo, and Jim Sanford have the major roles in the first AFSC Playhouse production of the 1962-63 season, "George Washington Slept Here," a Kaufman - Hart comedy. Dates for the show are November 28, 29, 30. It will be presented in the auditorium of the Clement Fine Arts Building on the campus.

Billy St. John is a junior at Austin Peay and is majoring in English and minoring in speech. The treasurer of the Austin Peay Playhouse is a Clarksville citizen and was graduated from Clarksville High School in 1960. He works at the Leaf Chronicle in addition to attending college.

St. John has worked in local theatres for several years and is a charter member of the high school Thespian chapter. High school and college plays he has acted in include, "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," "Arms and the Man," "Moonlight Magic," "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" and "Dracula."

He is a board member of the Clarksville Civic Theatre and appeared in their productions of "You Can't Take It With You," "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Bus Stop," and others. Billy has worked on various crews for other shows, including stage-managing "Cops and Cops" (for director, "The Diary of Anne

Elected To State Office

Austin Peay State College student, John N. Foy, was elected state director of Newman Clubs in Tennessee at the annual Newman Club Convention in Nashville last weekend.

John, a sophomore business major and political science minor at AFSC, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Foy of 1025 Hibbler Circle, Chattanooga. He was graduated from Notre Dame High School in Chattanooga in 1961. At the convention John was nominated by Barbara Palazzo, president of the Newman Club at the University of Tennessee. He succeeded Leonidas Bell of Nashville, a student at Middle Tennessee State College who held the position last year. Gene Bruna, a junior at the University of Chattanooga, was elected assistant director of Newman Clubs in the state.

Other delegates to the convention from AFSC were Jimmy Wrenn of Chattanooga and Johnny Edwards of Clarksville.

Foy is president of the Newman Club at AFSC, and in addition he is active in other campus organizations. He is vice-president of the Young Democratic Club, a member of the Student Council, sophomore class editor of the "Farewell and Hall," the college annual and a member of the Blazing Stars, the pep club on campus.

College Conference Held

Acting President Earl Sexton and Dean Felix G. Woodward will attend the annual conference of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, November 28-29 at Dallas, Texas.

According to Dean Woodward the main business of the conference will be the adoption of new standards for accreditation of colleges.

for the visit the college carried on a self-study during 1961-62. Dean Woodward said that a report of the self-study has been published and distributed to the faculty. He said there will be copies available in the library for students to read.

Ellington To Speak

Governor Buford Ellington will address the Austin Peay State College student body tomorrow in assembly. He will be introduced by Commissioner of Education Joe Morgan, who will assume the presidency of AFSC January, 1963.

Gov. Ellington will speak on "The Place and Function of Austin Peay State College in Higher Education in Tennessee." He is also expected to discuss some of the industrial development in Tennessee.

While on campus, Gov. Ellington will see the newly completed Fine Arts Building and Blount Hall, dormitory for women. He will also have the opportunity to look through the largest men's dormitory, Ellington Hall, which is named in honor of the Governor.

While in Clarksville, Governor Ellington will also address the local Citizens Club.

Want Opinions Printed?

Have you ever wondered what it would be like if the Student Center were open every night until 10:30; girls could wear ber-mudas on campus; the sidewalks were covered when the infirmary was open 24 hours a day; couples could stand and talk in front of the dorms; there was a student taxi service; the boys' dorms had washing machines and dryers; APSC received an award for best school spirit; there was no waiting in line in the cafeteria; there were parking attendants on campus; the library was open until 10:30 every night; dancing was allowed in the Student Center.

These are all issues that have been kicked around in probably every ball session held on campus at one time or another, their degrees of importance are varying. Nevertheless, they are the things the students are talking about, and it is certain that there are many more. If you've got a gripe, and hasn't everybody, let us hear about it. This is your chance to voice your opinion and this is the place to do it. Earth shattering or microscopic, if anything can be done about it, now is the time to find out.

So you've got the world problems solved? Well, don't keep them to yourself. The people should know about it. Who knows, you may be holding the answers everyone has been looking for. Share with your fellowman. Send your gripes, opinions, and answers to "The All State." Be the first in your crowd to start a revolution.

two years, and served as secretary-treasurer of the organization. She is also a member of the Tri-Beta Club, Newman Club, Delta Club, Blazing Stars, and is vice-president of the Austin Peay Playhouse.

Jackie's only acting role to date was that of Ann Williams, the leading female part in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" which was the Playhouse production last fall.

James Sanford is a junior at APSC. The former Murray State College student transferred to A. P. in the spring of 1961. A citizen of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, Jim was graduated from Jo Bryan High School. He is a history major.

A natural country boy (and a brother to nine sisters!), Jim plays Mr. Kimber, the caretaker of a New England farmhouse. The dungareed, limber-jointed character was created on stage and in the movie by Percy Kilbride, who is more familiar to the public as Pa Kettle of the Ma and Pa Kettle movie series.

In "George Washington Slept Here" Billy and Jackie, who played opposite each other in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?", are paired again as Newton and Annabelle Fuller, the recent purchasers of a rustic New England cottage in which George Washington was rumored to have slept. Against Annabelle's better judgement, they proceeded to redecorate the place. Mr. Kimber, the custodian, supervises the project... to the best of his ability! The result is a madcap mixture of mistakes that makes for an evening of merriment for the audience.

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING RE-APPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me give an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles Lettres to discuss purchasing a new dorm for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafos, janitor of the students union, threatened flatly to quit unless a new dorm was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafos, once a jolly outgoing fellow, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafos is much better off without the wart hog, who tusked him viciously at least once a day, but a companionship of 22 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggly tail—but Mr. Sigafos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

He only turned his back and cried the harder

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the dorm for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the dorm again, but they reckoned without Invictus Milstone.

Invictus Milstone, chairman of the dorm committee, was a man of action—literate and lean and keen and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and women don't have time to brood and bumble about their cigarettes. They need to be certain. They must have perfect confidence that each time they light up they will get the same gratifying flavor, the same Selectate, filter, the same soft soft-pack, the same flip top flip-top box. In brief, dear friends, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—for if ever a snake was true and trusty, it's Marlboro. Get some soon. Get matches too, because true and trusty though Marlboros are, your pleasure will be somewhat limited unless you light them.

Well sir, Invictus Milstone chaired his dorm committee with such vigor and dispatch that when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulic engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and millinery.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $5000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a dorm for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

© 1962 Mike Whitlock

You don't need a committee to tell you how good Marlboros are. You just need yourself, a Marlboro, and a set of taste buds. Buy some Marlboros soon at your favorite tobacco counter.

Sideline Views

By ED FREDETTE

You know I heard a good one the other day, and the source of information I don't care to divulge, but still I thought you might like to hear it.

APSC, who will be facing the highly rated and talented "Screaming Eagles" of Fort Campbell on "Turkey Day," have quite a few past All-Americans on their squad. The commentator told me that APSC shouldn't be afraid of the All-Americans, it's the players who are playing in front of the All-Americans that will probably cause the team the most harm. Oh yes, I am afraid the traditional "Turkey Day" game is going to be somewhat a contest of the experienced against the inexperienced.

The P.E. Club has come up with a good idea which is open to anyone interested in good old square dancing. Every Friday from 12:00 to 1:00 you can kick up your heels and digest some of Miss Casey's food. So what do you say, if you are wanting to have a little fun and to meet people, go over to the recreation room in the gym. Chances are you might find it worth while.

Tom Donnelly, Claude Clemens and Rocky Cobb have turned in top offensive and defensive performances this year and have gained the respect of their opponents to be named to the All-Volunteer State Athletic Conference Team.

Also recognized on the Honorable Mention List was Steve Deever, Murray Friddle, Tom Jones, Wylie Vickery and Richard Moore.

Coach Overton and his "Baby Gova" won their second pre-season game against Clarksville High School, Nov. 2. From the sidelines it looked as if the Gova were to be strong all the way around in the round ball department.

Coach Fisher and his "SPLENDID SPILTERS" journeyed to Sevierville Saturday and held a successful scrimmage session with their team. Coach Fisher played all 12 Gova who made the trip and worked on their various offenses and defenses. Paced by Steve Miller with 12 and Henry Murray with 16. When the final buzzer sounded, the Gova were on top 62 to 52.

I am curious for basketball season to start as I'll never forget the superlatives characterizing Coach Aaron had. Can it be that Coach Fisher, a product of Coach Aaron in the late 40's and a true authority on basketball, will follow in his footsteps.

HOME GAMES IN CAPS

Charity Game

The Governors will take on the mighty Screaming Eagles of Fort Campbell, Ky., in the annual Charity Bowl game Thanksgiving Day, at 2 p. m. in Municipal Stadium.

The Eagles will bring one of the best service teams in the country to face the Gova. Last week the Eagles defeated Southern Illinois University, one of the top small colleges in the nation.

Bolstered by four former All-Americans, and quarterbacked by Tom Blanda, brother of All Pro quarterback George Blanda, the Eagles will present a tremendous task for the Gova.

Against the power laden machine the Gova will throw a team composed of four freshmen, four sophomore and three seniors.

The game will close the 1962 football season for APSC and will end the careers of seven Governor seniors.

Gov Cagers Debut Dec. 1

BY TONY BOEHMS

The APSC Gova will open the 1962-63 basketball season on their home floor against Transylvania College on December 1 at 7:30.

This year's cage team, under new head coach George Fisher, will be out to gain their seventh straight regular season VSAC crown and to better a 14-12 overall record posted by last year's team.

Fisher succeeds Athletic Director Dave Aaron who is the only other basketball coach in Governor history. The new head coach was an all-around performer for Aaron during each of his three years as a Governor cager.

The team captain, Henry Murray and Doug Stanger, are considered by the head man as an invaluable factor in building and keeping the morale needed for a winning ball club.

In addition to the junior co-captains the team will be composed of four seniors, Jackie Winders, Bobby Winters, John Briggeman and James Sugg; two juniors, Steve Miller and Blakey Bradley; and seven sophomores, Jimmy Darko, Jim DeForest, Riley Holiday, Richard Keller, Seldon Slied, Bob Turner and Joe Wheat.

According to Fisher, "An overall survey of the Governor squad shows a potential of good things to come. The shooting appears real good and the defense should be a plus factor. The team is lacking in depth and overall height, especially that big man found in the basketball world today."

"An early tough schedule means that many untired sophomores will be on the firing line early, and the lumps received from this experience should prove beneficial as the season progresses. These young cagers, otherwise not counted on for the heat of the action, must come through for us to be a factor in the VSAC," Fisher also added.

The Transy Pioneers will bring a strong contingent to the Memorial Gymnasium with seven returning lettermen from the 1962-63 squad. Following the opener the Gova will travel to East Tennessee State, Middle Tennessee State, and Belmont before hosting Pan American College for the last home engagement prior to the Christmas holidays. The Gova will then go to Florence, Ala. to meet the Florence State Lions.

Circle K Pairings

The annual Circle K Tournament has been slated for December 28 and 29 this year in Memorial Gymnasium.

The opening night will see Montgomery Central and Woodlawn high schools in the first game at 7 p.m.; Clarksville will meet Dover in the second game that night.

Tournament winner will be determined the second night when the previous night's winners meet each other and the losers meet. Admission price will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for students. Circle K Club members are planning the tournament; they will conduct the various parts of the annual event from which the club gets most of its scholarship funds.
