

Eighty-five Graduates Receive Diplomas To-day

Dr. Pennington Delivers Inspiring Sermon To Eighty-five Graduates

Theme: "The Program of Jesus"; Urges Graduates to Follow Leader ship of Christ; Chorus Club and Hambaugh Take Part

On Sunday evening, June 2, at the Madison Street Methodist Church, Dr. B. B. Pennington, pastor of the Belmont Methodist church of Nashville, formerly pastor in Clarksville, delivered the commencement sermon for the members of the 1935 Graduating Class of the Austin Peay Normal School. Supplementing Dr. Pennington's address were several musical numbers. The Chorus Club of APN sang "Largo" by Handel and "Hail, Holy Light" by Brahms. Billy Hambaugh a member of this year's graduating class sang "I am Thy God" by Roma. The invocation was offered by Dr. Lacy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Clarksville. Dr. Ricks pronounced the benediction.

As the theme for his sermon Dr. Pennington chose "The Program of Jesus," and from Luke 4:18 he read for his text the following verse: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised."

Jesus' preparation for his public ministry was climaxed by His experience of baptism and temptation in the wilderness. Dr. Pennington showed that this was for Jesus a commencement exercise, that He in the power of the Spirit returned unto Galilee and began His active ministry. Just as a plan for our own lives is often vividly revealed to us through some real and startling experience, so it was Christ's life purpose clarified by

Club Completes Year's Program

Randall Stewart Addresses College Women's Club; New Officers Announced.

Dr. Randall Stewart, professor of English at Vanderbilt University, gave a very scholarly and highly entertaining address to the members of the College Women's club and their guests at their banquet, Saturday night, June 1, which marked the close of the year's work. Dr. Stewart spoke on "The Function of Literary Scholarship." In his address Dr. Stewart cited examples of what scholars are doing to restore and to preserve for posterity the literature of the world, which otherwise, because of our changing vocabulary and customs, would soon lose much of its richness as well as its meaning.

Creative Scholarship
Using as his thesis the statement that the function of the scholar is the restoring or re-discovery of "a world bent on escaping." Dr. Stewart gave many illustrations of creative scholarship, such as the work of Masny and Rickett in Chaucer, Professor Dover Wilson in Shakespeare, Amy Lowell in Keats, and Legouis in Wordsworth. Rather incidentally Dr. Stewart spoke of his own work of reconstruction and restoration of the personality of Hawthorne, who suffered much by way of vigor and pungency, at

Farewell And Hail Features Commencement

A Beautifully Impressive Ceremony Held Thursday Evening in Central Bowl.

What is generally conceded the most beautiful and impressive feature of the commencement week, the Farewell and Hail ceremony, was presented Thursday evening, June 6, in the bowl in front of the cafeteria.

The program was opened with a band concert by the Clarksville High School Band. The graduates, other students, and visitors, accompanied by the band, then sang "America" and the lovely "Auld Lang Syne." As the band played "Love's Old Sweet Song" the graduates, lighted candles from a torch held by Miss Mary Matlock, the first student to enroll at Austin Peay Normal School.

Marching to the bowl, the graduating, with their candles gleaming like stars, formed the letters "A-P-N-S" on the north bank of the bowl and sang the state song, "Tennessee." The class president, Albert Grisard, followed with his class address. The address was followed by "Alma Oe," sung by the graduates.

On the Circle
The graduates then majestically

Shaw, New Editor All State Staff

Other Positions Left Open Until Fall Quarter; Work of Old Staff Is Praised.

Concluding the most successful year in its history, the All State, official student publication, held its last meeting June 2, when Wyatt Shaw, able and popular Freshman, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1935-36 staff. Shaw has been, with Miss Mary E. Huff, assistant editor of the paper for the last six months and was largely responsible for the successful Freshman issue of this year. All other positions on the staff, including those of assistant editors and business managers, were left open until the fall quarter, when the full staff will be selected for three months.

Mr. Woodward interviewed Mr. Woodward of the English Department, one of the sponsors of the paper, said, when interviewed about the year's work and the prospects for next year, that he had nothing but praise to say of the work of the staff, which under the direction of its able editors had set a record high in All State performance.

"Never before, in its history has the All State functioned so smoothly," Mr. Woodward further stated. "Never have we had such high standard of excellence in both content and make-up, as has prevailed under the co-editorship of Albert Grisard and Margaret Anderson. Never have the services of the sponsor been needed so little. I cannot speak too highly in praise of the good

The sixth annual commencement program of the Austin Peay Normal School came to a close Friday morning, June 7, at 10 o'clock in the assembly hall, when the eighty-five graduates were presented their diplomas.

Following the processional and the invocation, offered by Reverend Arthur E. Whittle, the entire audience sang "America, The Beautiful." The Girls Glee Club sang the old English tune, "There Are Fairies Dancing on the Leaves."

Dr. Claxton presented his annual report on the condition of the college and its record. William Hambaugh of the graduating class sang "The Jolly Roger" by Robertson.

The main feature of the program was the commencement address delivered by Dr. Carter Helm Jones, Pastor of First Baptist church of Murfreesboro.

Following the address, the Girls Glee club sang "Araham's Cradle Song" (Walls in A flat). Dr. Claxton, assisted by Dean Harvill, then presented the graduates with the coveted diplomas. The Reverend J. Wayne Drash pronounced the benediction and with the audience standing, the graduates filed out.

The commencement address marked the last feature of the 1935 commencement program.

Graduates Attend Faculty Reception

Held in President's Home Monday Afternoon.

The 1935 graduating class of the Normal was honored by the faculty at a reception given Monday, June 3, from 3:30 until 5, at the President's home.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Claxton were Misses Martha Buchanan, Hazel Smith, Mary K. Tanner, Margaret Lacy, Annie Laurie Huff, Mattie Smith, Margaret Anderson; Mesdames Halbert Harvill, Elizabeth Bell, W. B. Nicholson, V. C. Moffitt, J. B. Bond; Messrs. W. B. Nicholson, V. C. Moffitt, F. G. Woodward and Albert Grisard; Misses Eufaula Harvill and Margaret Osteen assisted with the serving.

Punch was served from laced-covered table placed on the side porch. Attractive arrangements of flowers added color to the setting.

COLLEGE PRESS MEET CALLED

The second annual meeting of the Tennessee College Press Association has been announced for September and will meet at Cumberland University, T. C. Fausch, director, announced recently.

The association, organized in January, has a membership of twelve papers representing colleges and universities throughout the South. The All State is a charter member.

The selection of Cumberland as a meeting place was made by the members of the association last month. Papers bidding for the meet were The University Echo of the University of Chattanooga and the Cumberland Collegian of Cumberland.

THE PARTING OF
THE WAYS

Untrammelled Giant of the West,
With all of Nature's gifts
endowed,
With all of Heaven's mercies
blest,
Nor of thy power unduly proud—Peerless in courage, force and skill,
And godlike in thy strength of will,

Before thy feet the ways divide:
One path leads up to heights
sublime;
Downward the other slopes,
where bide
The refuse and the wrecks
of Time.

Choose then, the height, nor faller at the start, O choose the nobler path and part!

Be thou the guardian of the weak;
Of the unfriended, thou the friend;

No guardian for thy valor seek,
No end beyond the avowed end,

Would'st thou thy godlike
power preserve,
Be godlike in the will to serve!

Interesting Notes

Enrolment during present year: Fall Quarter 211, Winter Quarter 209, Spring Quarter 321.

Total enrolment in the six years, excluding duplicates, 1874, from 41 counties of Tennessee and from four other states.

Total number of graduates 414.

More than 1,900 students of the school are teaching or have taught in public schools in Tennessee, nearly all in rural elementary schools.

When the school began its work in 1929 there were only 19 teachers in the elementary schools of Montgomery County who had had two or more years in college; there are now 92. Other counties have been affected in the same way, if not to the same degree.

there," said the flapper to her

Miss APN

MISS JEANETTA SCHNUPP

Miss Jeanetta Schnupp was elected "Miss A. P. N." by a school-wide vote. Jeanetta comes from Joliton, Tennessee, and is a sister of Stella Schnupp, who in 1934 received the title "Miss A. P. N." During her two years at A. P. N. Jeanetta has been outstanding in all the school activities. In 1934 she was secretary and treasurer of the Freshman Class; in 1935, secretary of the Sophomore Class; and has played on the basketball squad for two years.

B. of U.

CHARLES GEARHISER

Charles Joseph Gearhiser
was selected "Bachelor of Ugliness" at Austin Peay Normal School in 1935, for the second consecutive year. Charley comes from Faxon, Tennessee, and has been outstanding in athletics at A. P. N., especially baseball. In the recent popularity contest for the Sophomores, Gearhiser was chosen most handsome boy and most popular boy. Charley is good-natured and jolly and is a favorite on the campus with both boys and girls.

Farewell and Hall

Dr. P. P. Claxton.

You who wear the cap and gown tonight have completed your work at the Austin Peay Normal School or will complete it soon, at the end of the six weeks summer term. You came here seeking opportunity for preparation for better and richer living and for more effective service. You and the faculty of the school have co-operated to that end. The school has done or will do have done what it can for you.
You go from us to take up your life work or to continue elsewhere your preparation for still fuller life and greater service. Whichever it may be, you will remember that in our dynamic and changing civilization, preparation must be continuous. Growth and culture must be continuous also.

If here we have helped you to make a beginning in the art of learning and of independent thinking, if we have helped you to see and hear more accurately and judge more justly, if we have helped you toward an appreciation of the finer and better things of life, if we have helped you toward the formation of worthy purposes and the cultivation of strong good will, if we have helped you to a better understanding of the sacredness of the calling that most of you accept as yours and to some skill in it, if we have caused you to comprehend something of the fundamental importance of education in our democracy and to see its close and necessary relation to life and work in rural Tennessee — if we have done these things well, we have done all that could rightly be expected of us. Our success must be measured by your life and work. We examine you on your attainments here; through you the state and the world will examine us. If you succeed, we have succeeded. If you fail, we have failed. For your own sake, for ours, and for the sake of those whose futures you hold in your hands, God grant you may not fail. May He give you abundant success.

We work in a great cause in a time of great need and therefore of great opportunity.
Our profession calls for high ability and unselfish devotion.
Therefore through the ages the gauge of teaching has held many of the noblest and most constructive minds and most prophetic souls; among them

Men Win One Match Out of Six—Attend Tournament—Co-Eds Lose Two.

The Tennis season of the A. P. N. men's net team closed Friday, May 31, with a loss to Murfreesboro. During the year the men played six matches, winning only one. Teams met were David Lipscomb, Murfreesboro, State Teachers, and Western Kentucky.

The co ed team played only two matches, both with Lipscomb, and lost both. Both teams were newly organized. This is the first year of tennis match play at A. P. N. and this will justify the record of losses somewhat.

The co-ed team was composed of Marie Morris, playing No. 1 singles; Margaret Anderson, No. 2; Frances Kirkland, No. 3, and Christine Crick, No. 4. Morris and Anderson formed the No. 1 doubles team and Crick and Kirkland the No. 2.

The men's team included Russell Cooley, No. 1; Clifton Hagewood, No. 2; Albert Grisard, No. 3; Edwin Bates, No. 4; Billy Hambaugh, No. 5. The No. 1 doubles team was composed of Cooley and Grisard and the No. 2 of Hagewood and Hambaugh.

The debate teams probably traveled more and spread more A. P. N. S. propaganda than any other team. The affirmative, composed of Albert Grisard and Russell Cooley, and the negative, Lute Wootten and Arthur Murphy, engaged in an extensive season on the Pi Kappa Delta topic: Resolved, That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms and Munitions. Wesley Wallace acted as alternate.

APN Loses Two Case Games To Bethel

Both Crockett and Pegram In Excellent Form; But Lose

Summarizing The Sports

(By ALBERT GRISARD)

First Game Lost on Expensive Error by Atkins; Crockett Allows Four Hits; Gearhiser Leads Normal Batters

The A. P. N. baseballers dropped their fourth and fifth games of the season, Saturday afternoon, June 1, to the Bethel Corporals on the Bethel field at McKenzie.

The first game was tied up at one apiece until the seventh when Atkins, Normal right fielder, dropped Fields' blow to allow Smartt to run across with the winning run. Crockett pitched close ball, allowing only four hits. Smartt allowed but three. Gearhiser hit two for three to lead Normal attack. Crockett and Smartt shared honors with two for three.

Second Game. The Normal team scored runs in the fifth inning of the second game while the Corporals were scoring one in the fourth and two in the sixth. Pegram allowed five hits while Smartt, doing the "iron-man" stunt, gave up six. Clement and Smith each got two for three to lead the Normal bats. Crowe led with two for three for the opposition.

Teachers Split With Florence

Loss First 2 to 0; Win Second With Six Innings of Shut-Out Ball 5 to 1.

After dropping the first by the three scores 2 to 0, the Teachers came back strong in the nightcap to even up the day with a 5 to 1 victory over the Florence, Alabama, Teachers College in an engagement there May 18. In the first game, the Teachers could only gather five hits, while Alabama took 7.

In the second game, Crockett, who pitched the first, returned to perform the iron-man stunt, allowed two hits and one run while he and his mates gathered 10 hits for 5 runs. Clement and Larkin each got 2 for 3.

FAREWELL AND HAIL CEREMONY IMPRESSIVE

Formed a semi-circle on the north of the bowl while the other students marched along the bowl, lit their candles from those of the graduates, and completed the circle. With President Claxton leading, the graduates and visitors engaged in a responsive reading. There followed the recitation of Dr. Claxton's address and the benediction. "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." Finally the benediction was pronounced, the graduates filed across the bowl, and as a bugle sounded its full notes through the night, the ceremony was concluded.

Now that the last baseball game has been played and the time to go to press approaches, must bring and compile a record of the athletic representatives of the A. P. N.'s for the school year, 1934-35.

The fairer basketball team (I mean the girls' team) closed their season with a record of 7 won and 5 lost in 12 battles. The Normal ladies registered 367 points in the opposition's 278 for an average per game in our favor of 30.6 to 23. Misses Crick, Harvill and Moon led the team in scoring. A great factor in their win, of the guarding department, consisted of Oatsen, Parker and Priest, was broken up in the last few days of play by injuries received by Oatsen and De Priest in the Martin game. These accidents also prevented the participation of the team in the M. V. C. tourney at Jackson.

Teachers
As for the men, a record of 8 games and playing together for the first time, did not compile any enviable record. The co-ed team played but two matches, both with David Lipscomb and lost those. The men's team played six matches, winning but one. They also entered the M. V. C. tournament and after a few round robins, came out third. It is quite obvious that A. P. N. tennis has a long way to go, generally speaking, before it reaches the standard of Western Kentucky's great team or that of Lambuth, until next year, goodbye.

work of Graham Wright and Maude Broster, the publication's business managers, nor of the dependable performance of Harold Pace and Frank Robertson, circulation managers. This nucleus of leadership was loyally supported by such experienced reporters as Jeannetta Schumacher, Margaret Ostens, Virginia Hinton, Billy Hamman and Frances Cooke. Ruth Allen, as literary editor, has contributed much to the high quality of the paper. Such freshman class as Wyatt Shaw, Mary E. Hutton, Ruby Tippit, Paul Turner, Christine Kirk, Louise Hensley, James Woodward, McKnight Fife, Leashur Allen Russell Cooke, Willard Ward, Edwin Clement, Nell Holland, James Corlew, Alice Trotter, Velje Jackson, Marie Hughes, Gladys Moon have contributed to the sprightliness of the paper and to the excellency of our front page articles. Christobel Raul, a member of the Freshman class, made a place for herself in the memory of the readers.

Next Year Uncertain
In concluding, Mr. Woodward said he could not tell who would staff the paper next year. Some of the Freshman members will not be back, he said, but there were prospects of new staff with training in high school publications. He said he thought that there might be some of the Freshman body of Freshman students who were discovered "finds," such as Grace Hyde, whose writing had recently come to his attention. He had great confidence in the ability and dependability of the newly-elected editorial chief, he said, and was looking forward to another good All State year.

Obviously determined to make up for any faults of the basketball teams, the baseball team came along and wins twelve out of seventeen games, a record for Normal baseball teams. Their average for the season therefore is 703. Not content with this, after the last doubleheader of the year, they proceeded to snatch a post-season game to run their win figure to thirteen. Smith and Gearhiser led the batting attack and Crockett was the pitching mainstay. Crockett pitched nine, winning seven and one loss. Paul entered the Baseball Hall of Fame by blanking the Cistle Heights team on May 18 with a possible no-run game. F.gram entered seven games, winning five, losing one, and giving up 3 to a relief pitcher in one. Loveless lost in his two starts.

Wright Gives Up One Hit; Loveless Six.
David Lipscomb took the second in a series of three games to the Teachers baseballers by the score of 3 to 1 on Friday, May 17. Wright proved unusually effective and gave up but one hit to the Normal batters, and that by Clement. Loveless went the route for APN and was hit for six safeties. Score by Innings:

Teachers Take "Rubber" Game

Loveless Provides Winning Margin with A Homer; Crockett Strikes Out Six

The Teachers reaped sweet revenge for the recent 3 to 1 setback from their old enemies, the David Lipscomb Blues, on Tuesday, May 28, when they won their second game from the Blues, 5 to 3, to clinch the series, two out of three. The Normal team had previously won the initial game, 17 to 3.

Crockett went the entire distance for the Teachers and allowed six hits in nine innings. Wright was hit for seven safeties but one of these, a homer by Loveless, with Clement on the bases in the sixth, provided the winning margin. Loveless got two for five to take the Normal lead. Wright and Roy led the David Lipscomb attack.

Castle Heights Furnishes Two

Pegram Pitches Eleven Innings; Crockett Nips Rally.

The Castle Heights Cadets dropped their third and fourth games to the Teachers in a doubleheader played on the Normal diamond on May 25. The Teachers took the first round easily by a 9 to 3 with Pegram hurling 5-kitts ball. Larkin, Clement, and Atkins each garnered two hits for three appearances at the platter.

Pegram continued to hurt in the second game until the fifth when bad fielding allowed the Cadets to gain a lead. Crockett pitched from there out, and with more support from his mates, the final score was 7 to 5.

M.S.U., B.S.U. SPONSOR PICNIC

Service Groups Host To Faculty and Students in Last Party of Year.

On Thursday evening, May 23 the B. S. U. and the M. S. U. organizations sponsored a picnic inviting all members of the faculty and students of other dominations.

The group assembled on the campus in front of the administration buildings and about 6:45 began the hike to Red River where the picnic was to take place. When all the hikers had arrived, the fun began—hunting wood, cutting stunts that would hold a sufficient supply of winners, etc. After a gay hour or so when all the food was gone and the pleasure-shoppers were tired, they turned their steps toward the campus. Those students not attending are to be assured that they missed one of the best outings of the year.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO PEABODY REMAIN OPEN

Applicants Will Be Considered by Dr. Claxton Two To Be Awarded.

As yet, no applications have been received for the two resident scholarships offered to this institution by the trustees of George Peabody College. Teachers, President Claxton stated recently.

One scholarship, as mentioned in the April 3 issue of the All State, is to be awarded to a member of the Austin Peay Normal School faculty and is valued at $225. The second, valued at $150, will be awarded to some graduate of this school. One third of each scholarship is available during each quarter of the school year, September 21, 1935 to June 8, 1936.

Anyone desiring to apply for these scholarships should hand in their application at once to President Claxton. Applicants must meet the requirements demanded by Peabody College for admission to and continuance in that college.

Dormitory Clubs Have Fine Record

Alpha, Beta and Omega Meet Regularly, Hear Fine Programs.

A great asset to the school has been the three clubs of the girls' dormitory—the Alpha, Beta, and Omega. Business meetings have been held most every week during the year and on some occasions programs were given both in joint and separate meetings. During the year poetry has been studied, books reviewed, etiquette discussed and helpful advice has been given by the sponsors and Mrs. Claxton.

An interesting event in April was the formal initiation of the new members taken into the clubs. On this event the club officers were carried out and club songs were sung.

Pins were selected with the same and colors of each club on the night. During the year various things were done to make money for entertainments and parties.

These groups were also fortunate enough to sponsor a flower show and several interesting entertainments.

To finish the year with loads of fun and plenty to eat a picnic was given at Dunbar. Cavalcades were invited and swimming, boat riding, and dancing were enjoyed before eating under the beautiful pavilion overlooking the lake.

Dr. Pennington Delivers Inspiring Sermon To Graduates

the temptation experience. In resisting the temptations offered Him, He fought for an won His life principles.

Three Points

In Dr. Pennington's sermon he emphasized three points. First, the forming of the basic principles of one's life. During the years of preparation Jesus had acquired a wonderful view of God as the loving Father, and has seen clearly the value and meaning of life and what it could be had a vision of a new social order, the Kingdom of God. How would He make His life count for God? He would be unselfish, putting self last, would not make a show by spectacular deeds, but rather would advance His cause by the slower process of teaching and living an example. He would not enter to the crowd nor compromise His principles.

Program For Living

Second, Dr. Pennington outlined Jesus' worthwhile program for living. Returning to His home in Nazareth, Jesus on an invitation to conduct the worship services read from Isaiah and spoke of the program for His life. He was come to show a new way of life and a solution of their problems to all people—to the poor, to the captives, the exploited, those bound by politics or society, those physically and mentally deficient, those in spiritual distress, those lost in sin and sorrow. He had come to herald the coming of the Kingdom. This was Jesus' life program—a program with service for others, for individuals and for mankind as a whole. He was to champion the meek, the lowly, the downtrodden, doing good and preaching the Kingdom of God were His keynote.

Jesus' program included both the salvation of individuals and the redemption of society. God's presence in His life was the motivating influence by which this program could be carried out.

Third, Dr. Pennington explained how the program of Jesus could be carried out. He was to deal with men as individuals, not as classes, or nationalities, or races. With His life in God's hands the mob had no power over Him.

Urges Graduates

Dr. Pennington then brought out the connection that the first part of his speech had with the present life situations and problems that the graduates must soon face, and pointed their way toward the higher, more abundant life, that they could attain by following the leadership of Christ.

termed Freshmen. We examined them with wonder. Could we have been like them only a short year ago? Education certainly does bring changes!

The school year began in a jolly way, with the Sophomore and Freshmen parties. New faces, new clubs, new officers gave our class a new aspect, and here and there we missed old friends who had been included in our class during our first year.

As sophomores, we had undoubtedly claim to first place in representing A. P. N. on the hardwood, on the diamond, and on the clay court. We had the privilege of initiating the freshmen into the intricacies of attic parties and other affairs that didn't reach the society column. Undoubtedly, sophomorehood had advantages!

And here we were ready to paste the last clipping on our memory book, and then to fold over covers with a sigh. How many funny little things there will be to recall in coming days! Remember Hagewood's dry-cleaning business? And Ooten's cheerful grin in spite of her temporary crippledness? And Jennetta and Charlie taking the honors, bless 'em! And those terrible graduation pictures. But that's enough. We all have our private picture-book, too special for public view, full of the happenings of the fun, the pleasures of being the 1935 class of the Austin Peay Normal school.
