

The All STATE

Volume 56 No. 11 Wednesday, January 8, 1986

The official student newspaper of
Austin Peay State University
Clarksville, Tennessee

APSU EDUCATOR HONORED BY GOVERNOR—Dr. Rebecca McMahan, a professor of education at Austin Peay State University, displays a Tennessee certificate for Outstanding Achievement which she received from Gov. Lamar Alexander Dec. 2. Dr. McMahan developed the elementary science education curriculum plan used by the state of Tennessee which recently won national recognition from the National Science Teachers Association.

A MESSAGE FROM THE TOP—Governor Lamar Alexander speaks to the Austin Peay SGA delegation and the delegations from other institutions across Tennessee as part of the annual Tennessee Intercollegiate State Legislature held last November in the Tennessee state capital.

By Joel Wilborn

Austin Peay visits TISL in Nashville

By JOEL WILBORN

One of the Student Government Association's major events of 1985 was participating in the Tennessee Intercollegiate State Legislature (TISL) held Nov. 21 through 24 in Nashville.

TISL was founded by the Student Government Associations of the colleges and universities of Tennessee as a way to give students experience in government activities.

Students participating meet annually in the state capital, taking on the roles of senators, members of the House of Representatives and other such offices.

The House and Senate consider bills and resolutions proposed by students with topics ranging from requiring firefighters to wear seatbelts to instigation of pari-mutual wagering.

Drew Wright, UT-Chattanooga, said of TISL, "I enjoy it very much, especially meeting people."

He went on to say that "meeting people is the cornerstone" of TISL. He said that through debating issues a person can get to know people better.

Leigh Ann Brown, Vanderbilt University, said she liked the TISL Supreme Court. "I like the way the briefs are prepared."

Brown added that if anyone is interested in government, TISL is "run like the real thing."

Herbert Dixon III, Maryville College, said TISL was "a great learning experience."

He also said it was "a good opportunity to see how people from a lot of different regions view state government. Next to the real legislature, it may be the closest thing."

Karen Moss, Austin Peay, said that students who were interested in law or government could use TISL "to see how laws are made."

She described TISL as being "full of ups and downs and hard work connected with real life."

Commenting on the Austin Peay delegation Moss said, "Austin Peay has made a remarkable showing compared to the amount of first-year delegates."

"Austin Peay should be proud of its representatives; it's better than it has been in all my four years of TISL."

She stated that it was TISL legislation that encouraged Tennessee to pass a law allowing motorists to turn right during a red light after a complete stop.

David Mason, APSU alumnus and former TISL governor, said TISL is "an overwhelming source of what government is all about. It is an underrated source of future influence."

He also stated that TISL is a "developing route for future leaders working with people who will become influential."

Nathan Poss, Cumberland University and 1985 TISL governor, said TISL is the "greatest experience a junior politician can have." He stated that Frank Clement and Bart Gordon were both former TISL participants.

TISL participants were treated to speeches from public figures such as Governor Lamar Alexander, John Seigenthaler, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean, and Ned Ray McWhorter, speaker of the House of Representatives.

Center of Excellence II receives approval

Austin Peay gained approval for a second Center of Excellence during a meeting of Tennessee's State Board of Regents.

Meeting Dec. 13 at Volunteer State Community College in Gallatin, the Regents ranked fifth on its list of funding for Centers of Excellence Austin Peay's proposal for a center in biology.

The proposal, forwarded to the Tennessee Higher Education Commission and state legislature for funding, acknowledges Austin Peay's long-standing reputation for field research in the biological sciences, according to President Robert Riggs.

Funding, if approved by the legislature for 1986-87, will be $250,000 with Austin Peay providing $125,000 for the Center's operation.

The THEC has recommended funding of all existing Centers of Excellence, including APSU's Center for the Creative Arts. The new recommendation eliminates competition between the University of Tennessee and SBR systems.

Austin Peay's new Center will involve the study of flora and non-game fauna of nearby Land Between the Lakes. The LBL, developed by the Tennessee Valley Authority, has been designated by the National Science Foundation as an experimental ecological reserve.

Riggs said APSU's biology department "has long been known for its research in field biology."

"In the past 20 years, this department has published more than 100 scholarly works concerning the ecosystems of the Middle Tennessee region."

Those publications include five LBL field guides on plant and animal life.

"Creation of this new Center of Excellence will allow Austin Peay to serve as the primary resource for biotic information on the Land Between the Lakes, which is one of the largest natural areas in the United States," Riggs added.

Dr. Benjamin Stone, chairman of APSU's biology department, will direct the Center which will provide unique field research opportunities for undergraduate students and faculty.

Faculty involved with the Center of Excellence will be Stone, Dr. Wayne Chester, Dr. Charles Boehms, Dr. David Snyder, Dr. Floyd Scott and Dr. William Ellis.

Four visiting scientists will come to APSU during 1986-87 to study and present findings in cooperation with university faculty and students.

"Undergraduate students will have the opportunity to take part in the field research under the mentorship of senior faculty members," Stone added.

"This is very significant for the faculty who, in addition to teaching classes, will devote 50 percent of the time to research in field biology."

First-year goals for the new Center of Excellence include establishing an ecological data base for LBL, publication of a new field guide on birds of the LBL region and creation of a computer program to access all data on flora and non-game fauna specimens for use by scientists studying LBL.

Other goals include cataloging of more than 25,000 LBL plant and animal specimens already collected by the APSU faculty and establishment of an annual symposium for faculty, students and scientists to present research findings.

Ford receives Big Apple

By JENNY MELTON

Dr. Floyd Ford is the Favorite Teacher of the Year, according to Austin Peay students who nominated and elected him in the Big Apple Awards held in November.

Ford has been a professor at Austin Peay for 34 years and plans to retire the summer of 1986.

With a doctorate in zoology from Vanderbilt University, Ford teaches general biology, embryology, and invertebrate zoology, entomology and parasitology here at Austin Peay.

The Big Apple Award is sponsored by the Student Teachers Education Association to recognize "outstanding teaching," stated Dr. Ron Groseclose, professor of education.

This is the second year Ford has received this award. He was the Favorite Teacher of the Year in 1969.

Ford stated, "My style or method of teaching has been developed over the past 36 years. It is the result of an honest effort to present the subject matter in an accurate and concise way. I try to encourage students to learn for the sake of gaining understanding and knowledge about the world in which they live, instead of simply cramming in order to make a good letter grade."

"I have tried to develop a meaningful relationship with every student I have taught, not simply to elicit their admiration and commendation, but to gain confidence in me, and especially, the subject matter I teach," Ford continued.

"I trust their vote for the Apple award is an accurate evaluation of both my personal characteristics and my teaching methods," Ford said.

THEC ranks Austin Peay number one in quality

A Tennessee Higher Education Commission study ranked Austin Peay number one in quality among state universities not offering Ph.Ds.

APSU ranked third when compared to all University of Tennessee and State Board of Regents universities.

University of Tennessee-Knoxville and Tennessee Technological University were rated first and second, respectively.

"We are, of course, thrilled with the rating," President Robert Riggs said. "Austin Peay has offered quality education to students for years and THEC's ratings recognize that."

Five percent of a college's academic funding is based on its quality rating; enrollment and other factors determine the remainder of the state appropriation.

THEC's ratings were based on percentage of accredited programs, performance of graduates and how well the school does when compared to other similar schools.

On the 100-point scale, UT-K scored 99, Tennessee Tech 98 and APSU 95.

Other scores: UT-Chattanooga and UT-Martin, 94; Memphis State, 80; Middle Tennessee, 78; Tennessee State, 72; and East Tennessee State, 63.

AP funds memorial scholarship

A memorial scholarship has been established and funded by Austin Peay in memory of the 248 men and women who lost their lives in the Dec. 12 airplane crash in Candler, Newfoundland.

The university service scholarship will be awarded annually to a dependent of active duty military personnel assigned to Fort Campbell.

Austin Peay graduates, students and spouses and children of APSU students were included among those killed in the tragic accident.

In addition to the scholarship, President Robert Riggs contacted Maj. Gen. Burton Patrick, Commanding

General, 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, to offer condolences and the use of university facilities. Riggs also has made available university counseling services.

"We want to support our neighboring community at Fort Campbell, during this time of grief and sorrow," Riggs said.

"We at the University feel a memorial scholarship is an appropriate way to honor the heroic deaths of those soldiers returning from the peacekeeping mission in the Sinai," he added.

The university also will dedicate a plaque on campus in honor of those soldiers who were Austin Peay Students.

CAMP
BRIEFS
CAMP
BRIEFS
USBRI
CAMI
USBRI
CAMI

Eskind to speak

Public Service Commission Chairman Jane Eskind, gubernatorial candidate, will speak at Austin Peay on Jan. 15, 1 p.m. in Archwood.

Evening of fun planned

The Newman Club will host an evening of pizza, cold cuts, and soda along with the presentation of a video movie.

The event will take place Jan. 12 at 6 p.m. in St. Joseph Center located across from the Immaculate Conception Church at 716 Franklin Street. For more information contact Jennifer Burch at 648-7531.

Beta Beta Beta sets seminar

Dr. Michael Kimberly, director, Division of Laboratory Services, Tennessee Department of Public Health will present a seminar on "AIDS: Techniques and Updates" tomorrow at noon in Room 215 of the McCord building.

Letter to Editor

Childish senate actions disappoint Cochran

To the editor:

Recently you ran a column by Allan Daniels about minority views being expressed within the SGA senate meetings. I would like to address several points about Daniels' column and some points about the make-up of the SGA in general.

First I would like to point out that of the current membership of the senate, I have the most seniority of any other sitting senator.

I have been an SGA senator since the fall of 1983, so I have seen many other SGA senators and officials come and go.

Also, I have had the pleasure to be involved in many different issues that have come before the SGA.

Some of the time I have been on the majority side but basically I have been of the minority view on most issues. So when it comes to talking about freedom of speech within the SGA senate, some could refer to myself as being an expert.

But to the heart of this letter, although I have been of the minority view on many occasions, I have never before felt that my rights were being abused.

But now I know that certain SGA officials have made great efforts to abuse and silence the voices of SGA senators that don't agree completely with them.

This comes as a great shock to myself, that such actions could be happening on a college campus and within a so-called democratic body, with a constitution that recognizes and advocates free speech.

It hurts to know of such a development—not so much because it was used against me, but because it shows infinite disrespect to all other current and former SGA members, the whole of the university community and to this great nation we live in and all the men and women who have worked and died so that we may have the right of free speech.

These few SGA members know who they are and it would serve no point for me to call names, or to go into the details of the incident. The sorry fact of the matter is that it happened.

Also, so that no one may claim that I am just shouting wolf, I was told of this fact by three different SGA members, (one who happens to be an executive member) and this fact was stated to me in the presence of three other SGA senators. So I am on solid ground about this crime.

I am not looking for an apology from anyone, I really don't need one. I have learned who to trust and not to trust anymore. But I still feel great anguish and will always feel it—because how can these few childish SGA members apologize to all the others that they have disgraced?

The sad fact of the matter is that basically Daniels is right when he writes that the SGA squashes minority views. The childish actions of a few SGA members makes the whole SGA look childish in nature.

Richard Cochran
Senior Senator

Other collegiate senates face issue problems

"I THINK THERE'S A REAL PRIORITY PROBLEM in this senate," says the student government president at Missouri Western State College. The senate held its longest debate of the year—deciding what color jackets the senators should buy to identify themselves.

A NUCLEAR FREE ZONE was recently declared on the campus of North Adams State College. The ban on producing, researching, transporting, storing, processing, disposing or using nuclear weapons on campus won approval from 98 percent in a student referendum. The administration, faculty and staff joined the students in declaring the zone.

The All STATE

Wednesday, January 8, 1986 12 pages

The All State is the official student newspaper of Austin Peay State University. It is published every Wednesday of the academic year, except during final exams and holidays.

US postage is paid at Clarksville, Tennessee. Send address changes to The All State, Box 8334, Clarksville, Tenn., 37044.

The All State is a member of the Intercollegiate Press. It is also represented for national advertising by CASS, American Passage, College Media Placement Service and Denison. National news is supplied by the Intercollegiate

Joel Wilborn, Jr., News Editor
Constance Hambrick, Asst. News Editor
Katy Goddard, Photographic Editor
David Peters, Asst. Photographic Editor
Elaine McElhannon, Features Editor
Merci Chartrand, Asst. Features Editor

Vianne Kelly, Editor-in-Chief
Lori Martin, Executive Editor

Press and National On-Campus News.

The All State receives syndicated materials from the American College Syndicate and the Washington Post Writers' Group.

News information should be sent to The All State, Box 8334, Clarksville, Tenn., 37044; or brought to 300 Castle Heights by 6 p.m. Friday before the Wednesday printing.

All editorials are the official opinion of The All State, with the exception of letters to the editor and columns.

Letters which are to be considered for publication must be submitted to The All State, Box 8334, Clarksville, Tenn., 37044; or brought to 300 Castle Heights by 6 p.m. Friday before the Wednesday printing.

Dr. Ellen Kanervo, Academic Adviser
Debbie Burnette, Business Manager
Karen Blick, Advertising Manager
Carol Shrum, Asst. Advertising Manager
George K. Harris IV, Sports Editor
Robert O'Brien, Asst. Sports Editor

All letters should be less than 300 words, and have the full name, address, and phone number of the author. Names will be withheld upon request. The letters are subject to editing for brevity and clarity.

The All State reserves the right to reject letters which are considered to be offensive, abusive and libelous.

All materials published in The All State, with the exception of professional press release materials and syndicated materials, are the express property of The All State and may not be reproduced in any form without the written permission of the editor-in-chief until the end of the academic year, at which time all rights return to the creator.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL
APPRECIATES THESE OPPOSING POINTS OF VIEW AND THE
GENUINE CONCERNS OF OUR
CRITICS. NOW GET LOST!

© CREATIVE MEDIA SERVICES Box 5955 Berkeley, Ca. 94705

JOEL WILBORN

SGA bleeps up at TISL

It seems the senators of the APSU SGA are a little more devious than most people realize. Their actions during the Tennessee Intercollegiate State Legislature two months ago prove this.

For one thing, the trip was haunted by a lack of planning. Upon arriving in Nashville, many delegates and other members of the group did not know what rooms they were to stay in.

Once in the rooms and set to begin business, the delegates, senators and members of the House had to find out when and where they were to appear.

After the second day it was very hard to find people to take on their respective duties. The AP delegation soon turned into a group of only the most faithful members.

Another uncommon fact about the SGA delegation is the back-stabbing and scheming that went on behind the scenes.

Each institution sends a number of delegates based on the size of the student body. APSU and other smaller schools had very small delegations.

In order for smaller schools to get a candidate elected, supporters would have to convince a lot of other delegates to vote for the candidate.

The AP delegation decided to meet with delegates of the smaller schools and strike a deal with them. The deal was that AP would back the other schools' candidates (if any) or back the other schools' legislation if the other schools would vote for Austin Peay's candidates.

AP's candidates were Erik Chase and Mike Patrick, who ran for secretary of state and attorney general, respectively.

Close to the election day, Austin Peay's candidates looked like sure winners. Many schools pledged their support.

But in an ironic change of events, a candidate Austin Peay wanted to back—but who did not want to run—finally decided to run. This came after AP had pledged its support for another candidate running for the same office.

During the election, a candidate AP had supported suddenly withdrew. And to top it all off, the schools claiming to give their support to AP backed off, leaving poor Austin Peay in the dog house.

After talking to people from the other schools I found out that AP was dumped because of several radical members of its delegation and because some people just flat out hated the way AP conducted itself.

All in all, Austin Peay's delegation did not act in a manner much different from the other schools and since AP is small it is easy to step on. If you think AP was bad, you should have seen other schools. Ask your senator about it.

Movement cries bias in college lectures

By Darryl Brown ————— Syndicated Columnist

Across the nation, a sparse but ill-boding network of students is forming, eyeing the establishment, trying to stop the brainwashing, the bias, the bending of truths and young minds in America's classrooms. They fight for—and call themselves—Accuracy in Academia. At least, their version of it.

Start here: how did Socrates arrive at all those truths? With the Greek version of the McLaughlin Group: a few guys sitting around arguing politics.

They thought a little more closely and carefully in the old days, unconstrained by commercial breaks. The results were the Dialogues.

That is all Accuracy in Academia claims to want: a fair and open dialogue, balanced and thorough to cover all the bases. So they line up students to monitor college teachers, to make sure the reading list is balanced, the lectures not one-sided, all points of view heard.

Who could argue with that? Then, what's wrong with a little pressure on uncooperative professors?

The argument sounds familiar. It brings back memories of another coalition looking only for fairness—Fairness in Media. They were out to buy a television network, so Jesse Helms could replace Dan Rather and root out liberal bias.

Twinsister Accuracy in Media was started by Reed Irvine, who founded Accuracy in Academia, and both are out to rid us—save us—from mind-altering, knee-jerk liberalism adhered to by those unsavory fringes of society: journalists and college professors.

These movements arise mostly of their own cold fire and passion. Accuracy in Academia is overwhelmingly a vehicle of college Republican clubs, burning with the fever of conservatism as '60 kids with liberalism. They are out to stop liberal bias, but also to replace it with a conservative emphasis.

Their efforts are not likely, or I suspect even intended, to stimulate dialogue. With newsletters and publicity to pressure targeted teachers (and 10,000 Marxists teachers need targeting, says Irvine) into submission or retirement, such winning through intimidation will more likely stifle exchange of ideas and impose a debilitating caution among professors trying to avoid the hit list.

A few professors, no doubt, are guilty as charged; but far fewer than the group assumes. More of the blame can be attributed to the portion of the professorate who, if not trying to indoctrinate, are at least lacking intellectual vigor and clarity, having given up the effort to challenge their own assumptions as well as their students' with the debates that exist in any field of thought.

But this does not warrant the thought-police tactics of sophomores, or the McCarthyism of their organizers.

There is a secondary element. This is also a symptom of the state of our universities, where teachers are first-name acquaintances in rumpled corridorays, social equals that, in the minds of sophomores, easily become intellectual equals.

Student reverence for teachers is nearly gone, partly because fewer earn revering. Accuracy in Academia is a brazen intimidation of authority that many professors long ago abdicated.

I remember a story of a German intellectual who had immigrated to America to escape Hitler. He came from a tradition-bound European college where students still carried their teachers' books and opened doors for them.

He was abruptly awakened to American ways when a student barged into his office to ask, "Hey doc, got the time?" The old master's heart sank.

To burst in without knocking was offense enough, but address a teacher "doc" and bother him for such trivia as the time, that was unpardonable. But it is routine in a place of egalitarian etiquette. All men are equal, right? If you can call him doc, why not doctrinaire?

There ought to be a bit of constitutional monarchy in every classroom, but too many professors are unable to rule. Now the peasants are unruly, fancying themselves as Big Brother.

Accuracy in Academia is judgement by students who believe they know what to censor and to what to preach. Let's hope they permit the reading of Hamlet, who warned us, "There is more in heaven and earth, O Horatio, than is dreamt of in your philosophy."

The All State Inc. 8, 1980

News from the National On-Campus Report

OPUS THE PENGUIN came in second, with 778 votes, in a student election for "Colonel Rebel" at the University of Mississippi. The student government, however, disqualified Opus, and the students who finished first and third, with 822 and 600 votes respectively, will face each other in a run-off election.

SURPRISE: the homecoming queen is a woman! In recent years Rice University students have bestowed the honor on a snake, a dog—even a refrigerator—so it took athletic department officials by surprise when this year's winner was both human and female. The coaching staff had already picked a cheerleader to represent the school in the Cotton Bowl parade. Both women will ride in the parade.

AT LEAST 10% of 2,125 warning letters mailed to former Tennessee college students who owe money on government-backed school loans have been returned, most because the former students have moved without leaving a change of address. The state is trying to recover nearly $6 million before turning the accounts over to the Internal Revenue Service at the end of the year.

A SLIDE SHOW for a human-sexuality class at Arizona State University is under fire from one student who says the slides are pornographic, and is asking the Board of Regents to ban the slides. The student is not enrolled in the course, but says he attended the class to see if other students' descriptions were correct. The professor has been using the slides for 15 years and warns students at start of the semester that they will be viewing explicit sexual material.

CRIME IS FALLING on campuses around the country, according to the FBI's recently released Uniform Crime Report. The College Press Service reports that, while campus security directors say the FBI report is imprecise, the directors agree that the trend for campus crime is down.

FIRST AMENDMENT RIGHTS VIOLATIONS are being charged by a group of University of Pennsylvania students against the campus police. The students say campus police told them their cardboard protest signs presented a safety hazard, and thus denied them access to last May's commencement. White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan was giving the commencement address, and the students wished to protest. A complaint has been filed with the Open Expression Committee.

SUICIDE IS THE SECOND LEADING CAUSE OF DEATH for people between 15 and 24, according to Students for Suicide Prevention, a new group at the University of Connecticut. The students are working to increase suicide awareness by talking to students in University of Connecticut's residence halls. The group says University of Connecticut averages one suicide attempt per week, and one successful suicide per semester.

THE YOUNG DEMOCRATS are making a comeback at Western Kentucky University, where 100 students signed up in a single day. The professor who has been the group's adviser for 10 years says the group hit a peak in the late '70s but "didn't have enough members to count last year."

CIA RECRUITING EFFORTS at Arizona State U. prompted two students to pass out flyers urging students to ignore the recruiters. "We're not a student group," said one. "We're just... a couple of p'ssed-off students who got together to alert other students about the kind of atrocities the CIA has committed."

TIMES HAVE CHANGED: In 1940, 38 percent of Americans at least 29 years old had a high school diploma, and six percent had a college degree. Today, 86 percent have a high school diploma and 22 percent a college degree.

A DELINQUENT SCHOOL LOAN has a former Ohio State U. student singing the blues—literally. The former Buckeye has written and recorded "The OSU Blues," a song about the college life, in the hope of selling enough records to repay the $2,000 he still owes the school.

"FOOLISH AND UNREALISTIC," is how the U. of Wisconsin Graduate School dean describes a recent Pentagon report identifying UW as one of 60 US universities monitored by the Soviet Union.

"I don't think (the report) is worth the paper it's written on," he said.

REFUSING TO PAY for a $700 meal card will get a U. of Maryland sophomore booted out of her residence hall.

The student refuses to pay for the required meal card because she is a devout Buddhist and eats mostly tofu, soy milk and other food not offered on campus. UM has informed her it is cancelling her residence hall contract.

A BOYCOTT OF COCA-COLA may be the latest show of student support for anti-apartheid movements in South Africa.

The boycott was proposed at a recent National Student Conference on South Africa, but must be ratified by four upcoming regional conferences.

Bob the Cat

by Animal

Looking for help?

That's why we're here.

- Pregnancy testing
- Counseling
- Referral services

CRISIS PREGNANCY SUPPORT CENTER

(615) 321-0005

1915 Church Street
Nashville, Tennessee 37203
1 block from Baptist Hospital

Join Us For Lunch!

Only $1.75

Every Monday
From 11a.m. til 1p.m.

Wesley Foundation

SPORTS

Lady Gavs drop TSU by an even dozen, 88-76

By KERRY LANCASTER

The basketball team that plays the best fundamentally usually wins.

Austin Peay's Lady Governors proved that statement when they swept past Tennessee State U., 88-76, last Friday evening at the Clarksville Northwest High School gym.

The game was played at the prep school due to registration taking place in the Dunn Center.

Austin Peay allowed fewer turnovers than Tennessee State (22-25), shot the ball better from the field (44-40 percent) and won the battle of the boards, claiming 16 more rebounds than TSU.

However, the place the Lady Gavs are most fundamentally sound is at the charity stripe.

Austin Peay outshot TSU from the free-throw line 75 percent (18 of 24) to 60 percent (20 of 33), which is indicative of how AP has outshot their opponents from the line all year.

The Lady Gavs led by as many as nine points in the first half, but the margin was cut to two (39-37) at the half.

TSU took a 42-41 lead in the first few minutes of the second half on a pair of free throws by Cordelia Jarrett.

The Lady Gavs then went on a tear, led by Gloria Clifton and Dorothy Taylor, outscoring their opponents 19-4 to take a 60-46 led midway through the second half.

Clifton led the assault with six of 14 points for the game and Taylor added five of her game high 25 points during the spurt.

Austin Peay increased its lead to 17 points, 70-53, on a drive by point guard Kristal Holmes, who tallied 12 points and dealt out five assists for the game.

AP has a home enounter with Kentucky State tomorrow.

Their 17 point spread remained intact with just three minutes to play, but a late not-so-dramatic surge by TSU, cut it to 88-76 at the final horn.

Karen Grace and Cordelia Jarrett tossed in 24 and 23 points, respectively, for the visiting (3-6) Lady Tigers. Austin Peay's Dorothy Taylor and Louise Scott owned the boards as they snatched down 29 rebounds together.

The Lady Governors traveled to Cumberland Saturday to try to avenge a 76-75 homecourt loss that occurred earlier in the season, only their second in eight outings.

THE CROSS COUNTRY COACHES OF the OVC named Tony Brien of Austin Peay Coach of the Year yesterday.

Brien, in his second year at Austin Peay, led his team to victory in the OVC championships.

If everyone over 50 had colorectal cancer checkups, the cure rate could be 75%.
Call us.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Faulkner runs in finals

By ROBERT O'BRIEN

Shay Faulkner represented Austin Peay at the NCAA Cross Country Finals held in Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25. Faulkner finished 50th in a field of 200 with a time of 30:56.

The course was run on a track of snow and ice. After the start of the race, there was a pileup of runners that resulted in Faulkner tripping and being spiked.

Faulkner continued the race uninjured and missed All-American honors (the top 25) by 27 seconds. Tim Hacker of the University of Wisconsin won the individual competition in 29:27.

PICTURE YOURSELF ON A

CLASSIC

PICTURE YOURSELF ON A

SCHWINN

A name you can count on for exceptional craftsmanship, styling, durability & fun.

Visit us for all your cycling needs...

bicycle cancer

1450 Madison Street 647-5453

Welcome Home APSU

the BRARY

Buy one pitcher.
Get the second one FREE!
With this coupon.

Expires Jan. 31, 1990

Welcome Home APSU

Miller

MADE THE AMERICAN WAY

Three Cheers to a
Happy and Successful
New Year!

AJAX DISTRIBUTING COMPANY

Ajax Turner, Distributor
512 Cumberland Drive
648-0645

The All State Jan. 8, 1990

Intramural department announces activities

By GEORGE HARRIS

The intramural recreation department has announced activities planned for winter quarter. Although the Red Barn is closed this quarter, basketball will still be held. Rosters are available and may be picked up at the IM office in Ellington Hall.

Games will be played in the Dunn Center and in the armory. The games will be played cross-court in both buildings with the addition of four goals in the armory.

There will be a captain's meeting in the IM office Jan. 15. Captains are advised to bring their teams' rosters and the $10 forfeit fee.

There will be three leagues this quarter for basketball, as in the past: a women's league, a men's open league and a men's under-six league.

The department also stresses that a person can only play in one league.

Games will start at approximately 6:30 p.m. as the Dunn Center is not available for IM use until after 6:15 p.m.

The IM department also needs officials, scorers and timekeepers for this season's intramural action.

Experience is preferred but not necessary. Wage will be $3.35 per hour and students applying for each position should be present for basketball clinics.

The clinics will be held Jan. 13 and 14 at 6 p.m. at the IM office.

Those students who would like to apply for these positions must apply at the financial aid office.

Students can still check out basketballs as long as they are returned by 7 p.m. in order to get their ID back.

Aerobics will also be offered this quarter. Classes will meet at 4 and 5 p.m. in the armory. The first class will meet Jan. 13 at 4 p.m.

The IM department has announced additional plans for various events: waterbasketball, a three on three basketball tournament to be held at halftime of the Gobs' basketball games and a free-throw contest.

The hours of the weight room are from 3 to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. The pool will also be open for this quarter and pool hours will be announced next week in The All State.

OVC Basketball Men's Season Record

TEAM	WON	LOST	PCT.
Akron	7	3	.700
Murray State	8	4	.667
Middle Tennessee	7	5	.583
Morehead State	7	5	.583
Tennessee Tech	7	5	.583
Austin Peay	6	6	.500
Eastern Kentucky	3	6	.333
Youngstown State	4	9	.444

OVC Basketball Women's Season Record

TEAM	WON	LOST	PCT.
Akron	4	7	.363
Austin Peay	6	2	.750
Tennessee Tech	7	4	.636
Eastern Kentucky	7	4	.636
Morehead St.	5	4	.556
Murray State	6	6	.500
Middle Tennessee	4	7	.364
Youngstown St	4	9	.444

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The All State

Budweiser
KING OF BEERS.
ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

GENUINE

GENUINE

This week's Athlete of the Week is Darryl Bedford, who scored a total of 31 points when the Gobs split a pair of games in the Sooner Invitational.

this Bud's for you!

Coke is it!

FEATURES

Senior represents AP in Glamour's contest

By JENNY MELTON

An APSU senior has been chosen to represent Austin Peay in Glamour Magazine's 1986 Top Ten College Women Competition.

Julie Yeargan of Clarksville was chosen to participate in the contest because of her school activities and high grade point average. Yeargan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Yeargan. She is a graduate of Clarksville High and a chemistry and biology major.

Young women from colleges and universities throughout the country will compete in Glamour's search for ten outstanding students. A panel of Glamour editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and extracurricular activities on campus or in the community.

The winners will be featured in Glamour's August College Issue. They will also receive an all-expenses-paid trip to New York City in the early summer and will attend meetings with professionals in their area of interest.

Yeargan is president of Omicron Delta Kappa, executive secretary of the SGA, president of the Laurel Wreath Society and historian of Beta Beta Beta.

She is also reporter of Gamma Beta Phi, a senior adviser of Alpha Lambda Delta freshman honor society, a Governor's Ambassador, vice president of Chi Epsilon Mu and a member of Delta Psi.

University Assembly executive secretary and membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges complete Yeargan's activities for the 1985-86 academic year.

Yeargan is employed at a back care clinic and is a developmental studies math lab assistant.

With grade point averages ranging from 3.5 to 4.0, Yeargan has been on the dean's list since 1982-83. She also received the SGA Senator of the Year award in 1984.

Baptist Student Union

Lunch-encounter
Wednesdays

11 a.m. til 1 p.m.
$1.75

The
Penny Race
Begins...

WE'LL PAY YOU TO GET INTO SHAPE THIS SUMMER.

If you have at least two years of college left, you can spend six weeks at our Army ROTC Basic Camp this summer and earn approximately $600.

And if you qualify, you can enter the ROTC 2-Year Program this fall and receive up to $1,000 a year.

But the big payoff happens on graduation day. That's when you receive an officer's commission.

So get your body in shape (not to mention your bank account).

Enroll in Army ROTC. For more information, contact your Professor of Military Science.

For more information, contact MSG Roberts or MAJ Bell at 648-6185.

ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

10 Creative Arts Center sets winter concerts

Three concerts have been scheduled in January as part of Austin Peay's Center for the Creative Arts' visiting artist schedule.

Four APSU music graduates are returning to the Clement Auditorium Thursday for an alumni recital.

Sponsored by the Center for Creative Arts, the 8 p.m. recital features Lydia Davis and Lisa Conklin-Bishop of Clarksville, Delois Wiggins of Fort Campbell and Michael Meise of Dickson.

Davis, a 1982 graduate, is teaching music in the Fort Campbell school system and is organist at Clarksville's First Presbyterian Church. She received her master's degree in piano performance from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro in 1984.

For the alumni recital, Davis will play selections by Brahms and Villa-Lobos. A 1983 recipient of a Rotary International Fellowship to study voice in Austria, Conklin-Bishop graduated in 1980. She will perform songs and arias by Schumann and Bizet.

Wiggins is a 1983 graduate. She recently completed her master's degree in music education at the University of Georgia, where she held a graduate teaching assistantship.

Currently music director at Sumner Academy in Gallatin, Wiggins will play a piece for trumpet and piano by Maurice Whitney. Assistant professor of music Anne Glass will accompany her on piano.

A 1980 graduate, Meise has worked as band director at McEwen High School and currently is assistant band director at Dickson County Senior High School. He will play a Leonard Bernstein piece for clarinet and piano.

The public is invited to the recital and admission is free.

Metropolitan Opera bass vocalist James Morris will present a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Clement Auditorium. Tickets for Morris' concerts normally sell for $35, but admission is free to the APSU event.

James Martin, pianist, will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Jan. 14 in Clement Auditorium. Accompanying him will be Frank Testa, violinist. Their program features music from the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries.

Spanish studies in Mexico offered for undergrads

APSU offers three intensive undergraduate programs of Spanish studies in Mexico taught by qualified native instructors under the supervision of the university and the directors of the Center for Bilingual and Multicultural Studies.

Excursions to historic and culturally rich sites throughout Mexico add to the total program.

The Center for Bilingual and Multicultural Studies, considered one of the finest in Cuernavaca, houses the APSU program, now in its third year.

During their stay, students reside with selected Spanish families for around-the-clock language learning. Most homes have swimming pools and provide a family atmosphere.

Special features of the trip include excursions to Acapulco, Mexico City and the pyramids at Teotihuacan. Students will have the opportunity to attend concerts, visit museums and participate in recreational activities.

Program I runs from July 4 to Aug. 31. Program II runs from Aug. 1 to Aug. 31. Both programs carry 12 hours of upper-division academic credit under Spanish 304.

Prior to the trip, students will receive intensive preparation in the culture and civilization of Mexico.

Program III may carry three hours of academic credit. It is designed to offer participants the opportunity to learn or review basic skills in the language, to travel and to be exposed to the culture of Mexico.

Program III is a special program designed specially for each participant. Students should contact the director to have their programs prepared.

Prior knowledge of Spanish is not required. Upon arrival at the Center, an evaluation will be performed to place participants at their proper level. Each notice class has a maximum of five students.

Programs I and II cost $1495, which includes room and board, tuition in space is limited. To hold your Mexico, texts, excursions and transfers. Transportation to and from Mexico the balance payable June 1. City and APSU tuition are not included.

Every effort will be made to assist reservations, contact Dr. Ramon participants in obtaining the best Magrains, department of languages and possible rates, if requested with ample literature, Box 4487.

Deadline for enrollment is May 1.

Space reservation, send a $200 deposit with the balance payable June 1.

For more information, or to make reservations, contact Dr. Ramon participants in obtaining the best Magrains, department of languages and possible rates, if requested with ample literature, Box 4487.

Playhouse schedules 'Agnes'

"Agnes of God," a dramatic roles in "Agnes of God" while students production that became one of 1985's manage the technical and directing hit movies, will be produced on stage at aspects of the production.

Austin Peay in February.

The AP Playhouse presentation is New York, Sara Gotcher and Sally scheduled for Feb. 7 through 8 and 14 Welch, both of Clarksville, will perform the three lead roles.

Students and faculty will reverse roles in the production. Three p.m. each day except Feb. 16, when a professional actresses will play the lead p.m. matinee is scheduled.

Disney World Scouts begin search for professional performers

Talent scouts from Walt Disney World will be on the road in search of professional dancers, singers, musical theater performers and instrumentalists interested in participating in the 1986 Disney Entertainment Work Experience Program.

Beginning Jan. 18, talent scouts will be looking for interested students during a nine-city tour across the country.

A variety of entertainers will be sought for live shows in the Magic Kingdom, Epcot Center and in the Walt Disney World resorts located in Central Florida.

All positions except those for instrumentalists require dance movement ability. Most are full-time, one-year positions offering relocation assistance, life, health and dental benefits plus vacation and sick days. Weekly salaries for chorus and principal performers, depending on the role, start between $298 and $432.

Auditioners must be 18 years old by June 1 and should bring a current resume, photograph and dance attire.

They will be taught at least one dance movement combination.

Singers should memorize short vocal selections (ballads and up-tempo) and bring vocal sheet music in their best key.

Dancers also may be asked to sing. An

From early June to late August, selected musicians will perform in daily shows with the 20-member All-American College Marching Bands at both Disneyworld and Walt Disney World's Magic Kingdom or with the 43-member All-American College Orchestra at Epcot Center.

They will also polish their technical skills and learn about careers in entertainment during special daily workshops and clinics with nationally-known professional musicians.

Musicians should be 18 years old, full-time students and have completed their freshman year of college by June. They should bring resumes and instruments to the auditions and should be prepared to sight-read and perform selections of their own choosing.

A detailed audition brochure is available by writing Disney Audition Tour/86, P.O. Box 40, Lake Buena Vista, FL 32830. Musicians may call 305-828-1717; dancers and singers should call 305-828-1576 for more information.

Disney Audition Tour '86 Schedule

- |         |   |
|---------|---|
| Jan. 17 | Atlanta (Atlanta Civic Center)          |
| Jan. 25 | Chicago (Columbia College Theatre)      |
| Jan. 28 | Kansas City, Mo. (Municipal Auditorium) |
| Jan. 31 | Cincinnati (Univ. of Cincinnati)        |

Disney Entertainment Work Experience Program Auditions

- |         |                                   |
|---------|-----------------------------------|
| Jan. 23 | Atlanta (Peach Tree Plaza Hotel)  |
| Jan. 25 | Chicago (DePaul University)       |
| Jan. 28 | Kansas City, Mo. (Park College)   |
| Jan. 30 | Columbus, Ohio (Ohio State Univ.) |

Campus Paperback Bestsellers

1. Valley of the Fall Girls, by Gary Larson, (Andrews, $1.99) & Parker, $2.99. And 200 more paperback books from The Fall Girls.
2. John A Comedy of Justice, by Robert Herrick, (Doubleday, $3.95) Human flesh is pulled against human flesh.
3. So Long, and Thanks for All the Fish, by Douglas E. Young, (Pocket, $3.95) Fourth volume of the "Mystery" series.
4. Garfield Kicks Out, by Jim Davis, (Bantam, $3.95) Garfield's latest adventure.
5. The Road Less Traveled, by M. Scott Peck, (Touchstone, $4.95) Psychology and spiritual inspiration in a story of self.
6. The Hunt for Red October, by Tom Clancy, (Bantam, $4.95) A suspenseful story of a nuclear submarine.
7. In Search of Excellence, by P. Peters, (Warner, $3.95) A look at the secrets of successful business.
8. Hardcore Beauty, by John Jakes, (Doub, $4.95) A suspenseful story of a nuclear submarine.
9. Penguin Dreams and Stranger Things, by David Breashears, (Crown, $3.95) Collection of short stories about the world.
10. Love and War, by John Jakes, (Doub, $3.95) The second in "North and South".

Wordbits

By JOEL WILBORN

Wordbits are two-part puzzles with only the first letter of key words given. The first part is a title and the second part is initials of a person or group best associated with it; author, actor, etc.

To solve a wordbit, all one has to do is figure out which words are abbreviated within the wordbit.

Example: S. in T. N. of L. - T. S. Solution: Stop! In The Name of Love - The Supremes.

This week's theme is "Women Athletes."

1. W.W.B.C. - C.D.
2. S. - T.C.
3. G. - I.S.
4. T. - M.N.
5. B. - L.W.
6. T. - S.E.
7. T. - M.D.S.
8. W.F.S. - T.C.
9. W.M. - J.B.
10. V. - R.C.

Alaska show planned

A free Alaskan Travel Show, will be presented by Alaska's "Ambassador of Good Will," Larry Beck on Jan. 15 at 7 p.m. in the TPAC's Jackson Hall.

The evening will include Beck's performance of Robert Service poetry, which brings Alaska's early days alive and a slide presentation on America's 49th state.

Door prizes will be presented by Wetours, Inc., the sponsor of Alaskan tours for over 28 years.

Warren Sumners, managing director of the Tennessee Performing Arts Center, visited Alaska before the first sponsored Alaskan trip last year.

"I was so overwhelmed with the beauty and luxury of the Westours Alaskan cruise that I felt the Center was fortunate to be able to join with Nashville Express Travel in presenting these great tours to our patrons," Sumners said.

The travel show is a preview of this year's 12-day Alaskan cruise vacation scheduled for Aug. 15 through 27. The cruise will include visits to Vancouver's Expo '86, Ketchikan, Juneau, Mendenhall Glacier and Skagway on the cruise ship, the Nieuw Amsterdam.

Other stops include the hub city of Fairbanks, Denali Park and Anchorage. Then the flight home departs for Seattle.

The cost of the trip is $2,064 per person, based on double occupancy.

For reservations for the Alaskan Travel show, call TPAC at 741-7975. For more information on the Alaskan cruise, call 320-0028.

The Week at Wesley Winter 1986

(being the regular weekly schedule of activities at the APSU WESLEY FOUNDATION, 510 College Street—next door to "Big Burger")

SUNDAY	9:00 - 10:45 AM	Continental Breakfast and Sunday School Class/Share Group
	4:30 PM	Recreation and Fellowship
	6:00 PM	Love Feast (International "Love Feast" every first Sunday)
MONDAY	7:30 PM	Student Forum
	8:00 AM	Clarksville Area United Methodist Ministers' meeting/office
TUESDAY	11:00 AM - 1:00 PM	Lunch served by local church groups, $1.75/plate, starting Sept. 15
	4:00 PM	Student-organized supper, $1.75/plate
	8:00 PM	WESLEY SINGERS (choir) rehearsal
FRIDAY	9:00 PM	"TO A GIFTING GOD..." a mid-week service of prayer, song, and Holy Communion
	7:30 PM	"WESLEY CHORUS," a film/video program every other Friday night, beginning September 30

SATURDAY

Worshipdays are left open for special programs, informal get-togethers, or whatever happens to be going on.

OTHER SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Service... (the, fun-fests, dinners, class ministry, skills... college, special worship services, study breaks, Bible studies, share groups, and just plain "hikin' back"... They're all yours at Wesley. Check it out!

WATCH FOR A SCHEDULE of W.B.S.'s ("Wesley's Serious Bible Study"), and daily prayer services (the new chapel is open continuously during our Center's open hours.)

ALL STATE CLASSIFIED

CAREER QUEST '86

PLACEMENT

HELP WANTED

PLASMA DONORS Needed $79 monthly, $9-$10 all blood groups. Call 647-5555, 1174 Ft. Campbell Blvd. Corde, Tenn. Wed & Fri 9-4, Saturday 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

COLLEGE REP WANTED to work at this campus. Good income. For information and application write to: Allen Louwance, Director, 251 Glenwood Drive Mooreville, NC 28135.

CAMPUS JOBS

LIBRARY & GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS is in need of student worker to work 9 hrs. per week. Qualifications: filing skills, legible handwriting, 40 wpm typing. Duties include: labeling and shelving government publications; typing cards; filing, other clerical routines.

FOR SALE

Is It True You Can Buy Jeeps for $44 through the U.S. government? Get the facts today! Call 1-312-742-1142 Ext. 3012-A.

SERVICES

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES!! Scholarships, grants, student financial aid available. WRITE: Scholarship Research Service, 803 S. 34th Ave., Hattiesburg, MS 39401.

SENIORS, if you have not started your placement file, come by the Placement Office at Emerald 308 Alumni Center Mon-Fri, 8-4:30 to do so. Employers are contacting the Placement Office daily for resumes of 1986 seniors who want to work after graduation.

Students who have registered for part-time off-campus jobs need to come by the Placement Office and update their registration cards. If you need an off-campus job, come and register with us; then review the Job Directory for current openings.

ON-CAMPUS RECRUITING

Jan. 1986
Tues. Jan. 14 - UES recruiting in Placement Office for part-time, come sign up by a week.
Tues. Jan. 14 - Opreland recruiting in UC for seasonal workers, 10-3.
Wed. Jan. 15 - US Army recruiting in UC, 10-3.

Wed. Jan. 22 - Recruiters from Camp Winado, a resident camp in Pittsfield, Mass., will talk to students interested in summer work as staff and instructors in land and water sports, tennis, photography, computers, nature sign up IMMEDIATELY in the Placement Office.
Career Connections Week coming February 17-20, 1986!

The APSU Visiting Speakers and Artists Committee wants to know who you want to speak at APSU. Please select a first, second and third choice from the following list of possible speakers. Sign your name and send to Box 4446 APSU. The committee will make every effort to bring to APSU the top choices. This is your chance to be involved in selecting speakers for APSU, so let the committee hear from you.

Choose a first, second and third from this list:

Stephen King
Tom Wolfe
Howard K. Smith
Arthur Schlesinger
Hunter S. Thompson
Benjamin Bradlee
Douglas Edwards
George Plimpton
Dr. Joyce Brothers
Henry Aaron
Al McGuire
Jim Bouton
Billy Crystal

Sam Donaldson
Daniel Schorr
Dr. Timothy Leary
Ellen Goodman
Paul Harvey
Jane Pauley
Sen. William Proxmire
Maureen Reagan
Betty Ford
John K. Galbreath
James Baldwin
Ed Bradley
Ann Landers
Marlo Thomas
Kurt Vonnegut
Zbigniew Brezezinski
George McGovern
Sen. Daniel Moynihan
Jimmy Carter
Patrick Buchanan
Hyman Rickover
John Erlichman

Larry Linville
Steve Landesberg
Phyllis Diller
Robert O. Riggs
Paul Shaffer
Mark Russell
Martin Short
Kreskin
Abbie Hoffman
Jerry Rubin
F. Lee Bailey
Russell Means
Bobby Seale
Dr. Ralph Abernathy
Louis Rukyer

General William Westmoreland

1 _____
2 _____
3 _____

DO YOU HAVE A SPECIFIC REQUEST?

_____
_____
_____

Your Name: _____

Talk to Me!

Juice, Milk, and Doughnuts will be served beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Sunday School 9:30
Worship Service 10:40

Teacher: Coach Emory Hale

Fifth & Madison

Clarksville, TN

Grand Opening

Lee's Famous Recipe

701 North Riverside Drive

Come Visit Us
at Our
Grand Opening
January 31, 1986

WITH COUPON
Grand Opening Special!
Three Piece Dinner $7.99

Includes one entree, one side, one bread, one drink, one dessert. Tax and gratuity extra. Not valid with any other coupon or discount.

No Coupon Necessary

Lee's
Famous Recipe
COUNTRY CHICKEN

WITH COUPON
Feed 4 for Only

$5.99

NO SUBSTITUTIONS
PLEASE

8 pieces of Chicken, mixed, 1/2 pint mashed potatoes, 1/2 pint gravy and 4 buttermilk biscuits.

701 North Riverside Dr.

Open Hours 2/15/86

Not valid with any other coupon or discount.

WITH COUPON
Fifteen Piece Bucket

$7.99

Not valid with any other coupon or discount.
701 North Riverside Dr.

Open Hours 2/15/86

We Cater Any Size Group

We Cater Any Size Group