Commencement Plans Outlined

Commencement has been set at Austin Peay State College for May 30 and 31, according to President Joe Morgan.

The thirty-fourth annual commencement will get underway Thursday evening, May 30, at 7:30 p.m., when the traditional Farewell and Hall ceremony will be held in Clarksville's Municipal Stadium. This will be a "first" in APSC history since the candle lighting ceremony has always taken place in the natural bowl in front of the student center.

Following the Farewell and Hall ceremony, a reception will be held in the student center. Friday, May 31, President Morgan will have 240 graduating seniors, 23 Master's degree candidates and the administrative officers of the college as his guests at the annual President's Breakfast. The breakfast will be held at the college cafeteria at 7:45 a.m.

At 10 a.m. Friday, the class address will be given by E. Bruce Hellman, vice-president of Kentucky Southern College located at Louisville, Ky. The conferring of degrees will follow the address, which will be staged in the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building.

Officers Elected

The various girls' dorm clubs on campus have elected officers for the coming year.

For the Delta Club in Harvill Hall the officers are: Jackie Sabo, president; Marty Brown, vice-president; Farrell Beasley, secretary-treasurer; and Loreta Wheatley, Panhellenic Representative.

Sports Writer Moves Up

John Martin has been named editor-in-chief of "The All State" for next year.

John, an English major, will replace graduating senior Nancy Apple, who has served as editor of the APSC newspaper for the past two quarters.

Presently holding a position on the staff as sports writer, he is already making plans for the coming year.

"Since 'The All State' will be expanded to a eight-pages every other week next fall, we will be able to direct the contents of the paper toward greater variety and more student appeal, he said.

Everyone interested in Journalism, and who want to see their work in print, are urged to apply for a position on the staff.

The live recording made at the Second Annual Mid-South Jazz Festival held at APSC last quarter is off the press.

The records will be available to students sometime this week. Don't forget to pick up your copy.

The "Tower" an anthology of creative writing by Austin Peay State College students, is now on sale in the Student Center.

The Circle K Club has been chosen as winner of "The All State" Award for 1962-63.

The award is made annually by "The All State" to honor the outstanding club on campus. A special selection committee studied detailed reports on the work done by the various clubs who submitted entries.

The selection of the winner was based on school interest, service to the students, service to the community and service to the College.

This year, under the leadership of its president, Bobby Johnson, the Circle K Club has:

1. Provided seven scholarships for three quarters for a total of $1333.50.
2. Sold sweatshirts, using the proceeds to decrease admission charge at dances held.

3. Participated in a city-wide Salvation Army Drive.

4. Served as parade marshals in Clarksville's annual Christmas Parade.

5. Held three dances on campus.

6. Sponsored the "High Baby Hop."

7. Prepared procedure forms for the Dean of women's office to be used by other organizations when they wish to hold a dance.

8. Contributed, through its various activities for school and community, approximately 794 man-hours.

The Newman Club was in second place for the club award with the third place going to the Phi Mu Alpha.

Awards Day Honors Students

The annual Awards Day was held last Wednesday in assembly. Dean F. G. Woodward presided at the presentation of the awards.

Those who received awards were: Roger Bowman, graduating senior man distinguished for citizenship -- Clarksville Civilian Club Award; Ann Comperry, graduating senior girl distinguished for citizenship -- Harvill Award; Frances Bell Allen, graduating senior with the highest average in the major field of mathematics -- Clarksville Kiwanis Club Award.

Samuel Taftian, freshman mathematics achievement award -- Chemical Rubber of America Award; Lawrence Baggett, graduating senior with highest achievement in the major field of business administration -- "Wall Street Journal" Award.

Linda Cale Robinson, graduating senior with the highest achievement in the major field of business education -- "United Business Education" Award.

Joan Aldridge Buckley, graduating senior with the highest scholastic average in the major field of home economics -- American Home Economics Association Award; Sylvia Gregory, for outstanding leadership in the major field of home economics -- Home Economics Club Award; Robert Lee Stone, graduating senior with the highest achievement in the major field of industrial arts -- Industrial Arts Club Award.

$1000 For A Penny

Those dimes you save by putting pennies in pay telephones can really mount up, but if you are caught "cutting down on expenses," the fine could be as much as $1000.

College students are sometimes stereotyped as being low on income and low on intelligence. On the APSC campus it can be proven that both these preconceived characteristics actually exist in some cases. Subjects possessing these attributes can be found inserting pennies in the dormitory telephones.

This situation has existed for some time, but it has become steadily worse. A collection made by the telephone company in one of the dorms netted 817 pennies for a five month period. Sixty days later the collection was 339 pennies compared to $3.50 in dimes. Another collection seven days after this showed 89 pennies and nine dimes. These findings prompted the installation of devices in the telephones which led to an investigation in which three individuals guilty of this misdemeanor were identified.

If you still insist that pennies can take the place of dimes in a telephone, perhaps the following will serve to alter your values: "It shall be unlawful for any person to obtain or attempt to obtain, by the use of any fraudulent scheme, device, means or method, telephone or telegraph service or the transmission of a message, signal or other communication by telephone or telegraph, or over telephone or telegraph facilities with intent to avoid payment of the lawful price, charge or toll thereof. --- Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as provided under Tennessee Code Annotated 39-105." This is a portion of Senate Bill No. 185, classified under Fraudulent Credit Cards.

The penalty for infraction of this act may be a fine of $2 to $1000 and/or a jail sentence of 11 months and 29 days for each violation. When you are attempting to outwit the telephone company, you may find yourself paying more than the nine cents you tried to save.

So the next time you start, with penny in hand, to call that special girl, take a word of advice. If she isn't worth a dime -- forget it!

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

It has been brought to our attention that we as students of Austin Peay State College and future leaders of tomorrow have been, and are, neglecting the etiquettes of our American symbol of democracy, which is our beloved American Flag.

Our flag like our country, developed by gradual evolution and derived its inspiration from sources as varied as the strains of blood which have flowed into this land to make the melting pot of the world.

The flag of the United States is a thing that men die for and it is a sacred thing. Disrespect for the flag symbolizes disrespect of law and indifference and ill will toward our great national establishment of government and country.

We feel that throughout our campus there have been countless instances whereby the American flag has been disrespected. So through our small efforts we hope this letter will open the doors and help constitute a movement in the right direction, spread the word among students and faculty members, so as to increase the true loyalty, and proper respect we as learners and educators should be showing. One thing we feel would help this is to restore into each assembly program the Pledge of Allegiance. We also feel that the flag should be where everyone can see it instead of being put on the darkest wall of the gymnasium. The flag symbolizes freedom, equality, justice, and harmony for which our forefathers sacrificed their personal fortunes and their lives.

Respectfully submitted by the Advanced Public Speech Class of Austin Peay State College.

Student Forum

By RONALD ARVIN

Last Wednesday the student body was asked to vote on a new constitution. How informed was the voter? Many had never seen the constitution. One hundred copies were "distributed" approximately 10 waking-hours before the voting. The administration took four weeks to deliberate on it. A dutiful president would have delayed the voting even until next fall in order to have a well-informed public. This was not the case.

One question asked by the enlightened few was, "What is the constitution like?" There was no answer. At best only 52 students knew the answer; they are the members of the Student Council. IT IS A FACT THAT WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE REPRESENTATION CLAUSE, THE OLD CONSTITUTION WAS A STRONG CONSTITUTION. Yet, the students were asked to vote without chance to compare the two. The officers-acted, however, stated that only by changing the entire constitution could APSC have an effective student government. Alteration of the word order on a scrap of paper must not be a substitute for leadership.

It is hoped that this action will not be indicative of the consideration which the student body will receive in the future. The campus leaders should seek to truly represent the opinion of the student body rather than coddling the administration. Most assuredly, none of them believe that they can run the campus activities without student support.

Cancer Drive Nets $1300

The seventh annual cancer drive sponsored by the Student Council was held Monday, May 6. The efforts of 250 APSC students netted $1300 for the American Cancer Society (ACS).

Part of this amount will remain in Montgomery County to cover the medical expenses of indigent patients. The remainder goes to the national organization for redistribution in research grants and education.

Mr. Floyd Ford expressed hearty thanks for the time and efforts which the student put into this year's drive.

Twosome For May Are Bevill And Weatherwax

Russell Weatherwax, "Man of the Month," and Paula Bevill, "Miss May." (Staff photo by Billy Hutton.)

Paula Bevill, a junior from Nashville, has been selected "Miss May."

Paula, who is the older of two sisters, plans to enter summer school at Austin Peay State for the third time. She stated that crowding four years of college into three years did not actually hinder her education, but she continued, "Unless a three-year education is necessary, a person would have a lot more to gain by taking four years."

Paula, a member of the Delta Club, began last fall as a junior dorm counselor at Harned Hall. "One of my most interesting experiences in college has been to watch the change in the freshmen girls from September to May. Most of them have matured tremendously," she explained. Paula is an English and physical education and health major, and is a member of the English Club, P.E. Club and the Governmentes. Her plans following graduation include teaching P.E. in a school system, preferably in the west. "I was out west when I was much younger," she said, "and I would love to return."

The most important course for Paula has been her major, P.E. She explained, "I have learned more about people, and while working with them, I have gained insight on what motivates them." "Also," she added, "this course has helped me to set up my own values."

Russell Weatherwax, a sophomore from Hopkinsville, has been chosen "Man of the Month" for May.

Russell is the youngest of 15 brothers and sisters and is the first of his family to enter college. (His oldest brother is 42.) "With such a large family, you can imagine all the confusion we had at home," Russell stated.

Russell, who is a history major and math minor, lived in New York for 16 years before moving to Kentucky, but he stated that he preferred to remain in Kentucky and teach social studies, mathematics and science in secondary education.

Russell's plans for this summer are his most important interest now. "I have been selected as a summer missionary and from June 13 to August 12, I will be in Beersheeba Springs, Tenn., to help build a Baptist chapel and community building." He was chosen by representatives from the BSA at the state convention this year.

In addition to belonging to the BSA, SNEA, Circle K, Conservative Club, Student Council and the Phi Alpha Theta, Russell works in the student center and the cafeteria. "I feel that working my way through college will definitely help me realize the true value of my education and this education will have a sincere meaning," he continued, "because I will study sincerely to reach my goal to help someone else." Weatherwax added that he hoped someday to go on to seminary as a missionary teacher on church vocation.

Russell feels that his greatest achievement in his academic work has been in English. "I had a small, insufficient background in English in high school; and although my grades in college English don't show a great deal of improvement, my knowledge has improved through recognition of my mistakes," Russell also stated that the advice and counseling of several good teachers had been a great help.

It's too bad we can't print the "All State" in a day as it would give us a chance to print the fresh news and maybe we could beat the local newspaper to the punch. I am referring directly to the recent OVC playoffs which took place on the 17-18 of this month.

It takes about three days to print up your paper so you can see we miss a lot of the good news that you are usually looking for. Let me say this much, I am sure our school represented itself in the finest fashion in the playoffs, and they don't need the assistance of the press to help the cause of their performances.

I have heard some drifting words going around campus in the effect that the proposed spring scholarships are going to be done away with before they even come into effect. If there is any truth to this, I am afraid we are in a hot water. Any way it goes, this writer would like to make a comment or two concerning this matter.

If APSC doesn't offer spring sport assistance, we as a competing college in all minor sports, will be riding the cellar as the famed New York Mets did, before they woke up and spent a little money to land the so-called cream of the crop players. I say this literally, and I mean it.

We can't expect to compete in the OVC without building our sport program and staying in step with our competitors.

If our competitors move we must move. It is a proven fact that the school that does not move with the moving trend will be in the background holding the bag with last place honors.

Being the editor of the sport section of "The All State" has been an honor for me and it has always been my policy to spread the word where ever I go concerning our growing athletic program to people who are interested in the school's sport program.

I hope these rumors are just that and next year we can offer spring sport scholarships as they do in the major sports of basketball and football.

Through sports the school has built a lasting friendship with numerous colleges and universities and we can continue to do this only by being recognized as a winner. The only way to become a winner is to land the best in personnel. Through scholarships APSC will be able to stand with the best.

This is the last issue of "The All State" for this academic year and the last sports article I'll write. I would like to say, it has been a wonderful experience writing for you.

I wish to thank my fine colleagues, John Martin and Tony Boehms, for their loyal services and devoted time and efforts, also Nancy Apple, our fine editor, and Sherwin Clift, for his assistance and help throughout the year.

Sport's Staff Selects Most Valuable

BRADLEY

Blakey Bradley, a resident of Clarksville, Tenn., is a junior who is working toward a degree in Physical Education. Blakey has been a member of the track team for three years and is at the present time the leading point man on this year's team. He has earned two letters and will soon pick up his third. Blakey is considered one of the school's finest hurdlers in both the high and low hurdles. He is only a half inch off the present school high jump record which is 6-3. Blakey is active in many campus organizations and a leading student in the academic field. We wish to extend our congratulations to Blakey and wish him continued success.

BRIGGEMAN

John Briggeman, a 21 year old senior from Washington, Ind., has been mainstay on first base for the baseball team ever since he put on his first baseball uniform. John is a P.E. major and a history minor. He has earned a total of seven letters for APSC, splitting his duties between baseball and basketball. In baseball, he owns a .322 lifetime batting average for the Gove and is considered by coaches and friends alike as a determined and hustling competitor. We are proud to name John as the most valuable athlete on this year's baseball team and wish him the best of luck in the future as a graduating senior.

MOORE

We cite Richard Moore, a 21 year old senior from Covington, Ga., as the most valuable football player for the past season. Richard, considered by many as the greatest passer in the school's history, set six individual career records, two individual single season records and seven single game records in a span of four years as a letter winner at APSC. He has been an active member in many school clubs and functions and holds an overall 3.0 academic average, majoring in P.E. and minoring in English. He was awarded the highest honor given to a football player by being selected as a member of the Williamson Little All American team for the 1962 year.

SMITH

Walton Smith, a senior transfer from Furman, took charge of this year's golf team and played the most consistent golf of any of the members on the team. Constantly shooting in the low 70's, Walton won practically all of his individual matches and usually won low medalist honors in each match also. In the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament, Walton took third place honors in a field of 61 golfers. Following the TIAAC Tourney, the golf team journeyed to Athens, Ga., to compete in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament. Walton again led the team in this tournament, where the team finished ahead of other Tennessee teams such as Tennessee Tech, Chattanooga, and East Tennessee. Walton, whose home is in Clarksville, has no definite plans following graduation, but a bright gleam can be detected in his eye whenever golf is mentioned.

BELL

Bob Bell, although only a freshman, has been chosen the outstanding tennis player for this year. Bob, who lives in Clarksville, played tennis for Clarksville High School prior to coming to Austin Peay State College. He played the number two position on this year's team and, whether he won or lost his match he always gave a tremendous account of himself. With this year of experience behind him, Bob should develop into one of the finest tennis players ever to play at APSC. In the tennis team's only victory this year, Bob displayed the type tennis that won him the award as the best tennis player this year. He disposed of his man in two straight sets (6-1, 6-1) and led the team to their only victory. Next season should present better results from the tennis team and Bob is certain to be at or near the top again.

SUGG

James Sugg, 21 year old senior from Crofton, Ky., was small in stature but large in leadership and hustle for the basketball squad this year. Often described as one of the best defensive players every to play for APSC, Jim may have been the most underrated member of this year's team. Although he very seldom scored in double figures, he constantly harassed the opposition and, on numerous occasions, stole the ball and fed it to a teammate for an easy lay-up. After one game this past season, one referee remarked, "If it weren't for that little number 22 (Sugg) ApSC never would have won tonight." Jim never was a flashy, highlight player but he never quit and always gave everything he had while on the playing floor. Next year's team will miss the little "quarterback" and it may be a long time before another player with the determination and desire that Jim displayed comes along.
