18 positions filled

Sixteen new faculty members and two administrative officers have been appointed to positions at Austin Peay State College according to President Joe Morgan.

New members who have begun work are:

Theodore N. Atsall, instructor in music, who holds the B.M. and M.M. degrees from Miami (Fla.) University.

Lawrence E. Baggett, instructor in business, who holds the B.S. degree from Austin Peay State College and the M.B.A. from the University of Alabama.

Charles N. Boehme, assistant professor of biology, who holds the B.S. and M.A. degrees from George Peabody College. He is returning to APCS as a candidate for the Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina.

James M. Brown, instructor in mathematics, who holds the B.A. degree from Austin Peay State College and the M.A. degree from George Peabody College.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Chambliss, instructor in physical education, who holds the B.S. degree from George Peabody College and has one quarter of work toward the M.A. degree at Peabody.

Norman Dungan, instructor in English, who received the B.S. degree from Pacific Bible Seminary and holds the M.A. from Fort Hays Kansas State College.

Roland L. East, associate professor of economics, who holds the B.B.A. and the M.B.A. degrees from the University of Mississippi. He has done additional graduate work at Ole Miss.

Delmar R. Frazier, associate professor of economics, who received the B.S., B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Florida.

Miss Doyce Ann Griffin, instructor in home economics, who holds the B.S. and M.A. degrees from Oklahoma State University.

Library boasts new hours

The administration of the college and Miss Johnnie Givens, head librarian, recently announced new hours of service for the library beginning this fall quarter. The library will be open:

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-10 p.m.
Saturday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
Sunday 4 p.m.-10 p.m.

An increase for staff in the 1965-66 budget has made this service possible. Students, faculty and administrative officers have been working to effect this service.

Miss Givens also announced new appointments to the staff. Mrs. Bette Stewart is library assistant in charge of circulation, with Miss Elmer Thurman as library assistant in circulation. Mrs. Betty Taylor is library assistant in cataloging and Mrs. Julia Wilcox, library assistant in reference.

They, with the regular staff (Will Rebertsch and Mrs. Brocksteite Boaz, reference librarians; Mrs. Rachel Chambers, cataloger; and Mrs. Janie Gentry, acquisitions librarian) will be on duty at various times during the hours of service.

The areas of public service, circulation and reference will be staffed at all times with regular staff in addition to student assistants.

For information about the library, new students are reminded by Miss Givens to take and read the "Library Guide," copies of which are available in the corridor of the Browning building leading to the library and at both the circulation and reference desks.

Other students will find the new edition, printed in September, valuable in informing them of minor changes which have been made in library routines.

Attendance in the library the first week of classes indicates that during most hours of the service day empty chairs will be difficult to find. An excess number of people crowded into a limited space also intensifies the noise level caused by necessary activity.

Miss Givens requests that all students be especially aware of helping to maintain in the library the best possible atmosphere for studying. Groups studying together, more than one person trying to sit in a chair, or social conversations will cause unnecessary infringement on the rights of other students who are depending on study time in the library.

During this year of super-crowded conditions, it is felt by the staff that students will need to be unusually responsive of the rights and needs of fellow students.

Future issues of The All State will carry information about each of the departments in the library. "This information," states Miss Givens, "should be of interest to each student, since such information can help the student to make more effective use of the library."

Young journalists staff key positions on weekly

The All State, weekly campus newspaper, begins its 36th year of publication with this issue and will be edited by Mildred Woods.

Advising the publication for the sixth consecutive year is Sherwin Clift, director of public information.

"We have an excellent staff this year," the editor explains. "Fortunately," she continues, "we have an adequate reporting staff and our coverage should be more widespread. We will strive for accuracy, meaningful editorials and timeliness in every issue."

Beauty election is assembly issue

Preliminary balloting for homecoming queen and court will take place at required assemblies today.

Freshmen assemble in the Clement auditorium, sophomores and juniors in the Memorial Health building and seniors in the student center. The meeting time is 10 a.m. for all four classes.

A second required assembly for fall quarter will take place at 9 a.m. Monday, October 18.

'Ghosts' tryouts scheduled today

The AP Playhouse has scheduled tryouts for Ibsen's "Ghosts" for tomorrow and Friday from 4:30 to 5 p.m. and from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

The production will be presented on November 10, 11 and 12. Written in 1881, "Ghosts" gives the audience a realistic picture of the small town life

Danforth offers fellowships

Inquiries about the Danforth Graduate Fellowships, to be awarded in March, 1966, are invited, according to Dr. Joe Sutfin (Clement 208A), the APCS campus representative. All such inquiries should be made prior to October 20.

The fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., are open to men and women who are seniors or recent graduates of accredited colleges in the United States, who have serious interest in college teaching as a career and plan to study for a Ph.D. in a field common to the undergraduate college.

Applicants may be single or married, must be less than thirty years of age at the time of application and may not have undertaken any graduate of professional study beyond the baccalaureate.

Approximately 120 fellowships will be awarded in March, 1966. Candidates must be nominated by liaison officers of their undergraduate institutions.

Registration . . .

A post-mortem

Now that the confusion and frustrations of September 23 and 24 are past, it is time to take an objective and penetrating look at this quarter—a version of that periodic phenomenon called registration.

Student registrations ranged from "a lot better" to "a dog fight." The answer depended mostly on when that student had registered.

Certainly there were shortcomings, but on the whole, registration this quarter was a very definite improvement over last year.

Last year pulling class cards was elementary compared to the maze that came after it. A labyrinth led the student over one quarter of the campus as he completed registration procedure. Not only was the route difficult to follow without a set of complicated instructions always in hand, but also the process varied from quarter to quarter. This policy of simplification ought to be continued.

Another improvement was the $2 fee charged for change of course. Not only does this policy reduce the volume of course changes, but it also conceivably keeps a student from signing up for a course he thinks he might later change, thereby leaving a space in that class for a student who needs it.

One of the shortcomings of registration was allowing freshmen to register before all upperclassmen. In a public college such as Austin Peay State College, it is impossible to know exactly how many freshmen will be registering in the fall. If there are more freshmen than are anticipated, it means that there will be more spaces taken up in classes that upperclassmen need, especially such required courses as American history or art appreciation. A freshman can afford to wait a year or two for these courses; many upperclassmen cannot. Seniors should be allowed to register first; remaining upperclassmen, next; and freshmen, last. If this policy is adopted, it should be rigidly adhered to. The freshmen, who registered last a year ago, did so again this year as upperclassmen. This only adds to the problem of obtaining courses necessary for graduation.

The effectiveness of registration can be measured only in relative terms. This quarter there were many hours of work involved in the several improvements. This registration was better than the last one, but there is another only three months away. There is still much work left to be done.

Changing scene

New face for our campus

Our campus used to provide a certain unique interest for the student in its ever-changing panorama.

The landscape certainly was never dull. Ditches wormed their way across the front campus and disappeared mysteriously into the subterranean depths beneath buildings. Ditches struck out across roads, sidewalks and grass. Ditches formed moats around Ellington Hall. The campus was reminiscent of trench warfare during World War I.

In keeping with the general atmosphere mounds of raw earth speckled the APC campus. They lent a touch of a patriotic spirit to the college, for they brought to mind the ramparts at Bunker Hill or Fort Donelson.

Now the steam lines have been laid down; the old buildings, demolished; and the roads, rerouted. The familiar martial look is gone. Our campus is covered with the monotony of green grass.

But isn't it beautiful?

"HONEST, DEAN BOWMAN, I DIDN'T MEAN TO MUTILATE MY IBM CARDS."

From the ASB president's desk . .

From the ASB President's Desk:

Like swallows returning to Capistrano, students all over the nation have been migrating to colleges these past weeks. Record enrollments have been set over the nation and Austin Peay State is no exception with its share of the flock. As the conditions become more crowded, the fledgling finds it harder to build his nest in the institutions of higher learning, stormy winds blow him off course and adversaries attack him. But this is all a part of the test that will determine success upon completion of his flight.

The Associated Student Body (ASB) stands ready to serve you, the students of Austin Peay State, as you make your flight throughout this year. The ASB is your government, spokesman and companion with which you should become acquainted. It can be a very valuable asset to the student when cooperation and participation are exercised.

In the past two years, we believe that your government has taken longer strides toward becoming more representative and by this democratic means has increased in stature. As the year unfolds, we hope to make the ASB a stronger organization through your willingness to work with us. If you are interested in taking part and voicing your opinion on the affairs of this governing body, do not be complacent. Every student has the right to attend Student Senate meetings which are held in the audio-visual room of the McCord building every first and third Monday night at 7 p.m.

We hope that you take an active part in your student government.

L.R.

Morgan welcomes students

To The Students of Austin Peay State College

I take this opportunity to welcome all students to the campus. The College year of 1965-66 is off to an excellent beginning. I hope that the year will be both profitable and enjoyable for you.

It is good to see the upperclassmen back on campus. We are especially glad to welcome freshmen and transfer students.

Sincerely yours,
Joe Morgan
President

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY, The Reflector, State College, Miss. — A $5 reward is being offered by the staff of The Reflector for an Ole Miss freshman who brings a Rebel beanie by the office will also have his picture in the paper.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, Brown and White, Bethlehem, Pa. — Lehigh University junior and senior honor students who have earned a 3-point average or better will be exempted from the rules regarding class attendance. The change provides for attendance for scheduled examinations or special exercises and any make up work following absences from such.

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY, The Reflector, State College, Miss. — Cresswell Hall coeds each donated one penny during room check to finance a telegram to the MSU Bulldogs in Houston. The cable read, "Down the Cougars for the Cresswell girls. All radios going."

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY, The Technician, Raleigh, N.C. — The Student Government here has organized a tutorial commission for Raleigh's high schools. Tutors help out for one hour per week on a one-to-one ratio, helping in the areas of academic subjects. An additional enrichment program for the teachers consisting of Friends of the College programs, other cultural events and various field trips will also be conducted by the commission.

HOWARD COLLEGE, Howard Crimmon, Birmingham, Ala. — Rat Week began this week with Sloppy Day. Upperclassmen selected the wardrobe for all freshmen to wear to classes. Wardrobes did an about-face on Tuesday in keeping with Backwards Day. The color for Wednesday, Doom's Day, is black. Thursday is Dress-up Day. School orders must be worn Friday to promote Spirit Day. Freshmen are obligated to sing the Alma Mater and light song whenever requested by upperclassmen.

Marching units await weekend

When the Austin Peay State College band and Governettes take field Saturday evening for their second performance of the fall season, the contingent will number 186.

The colorful unit, directed by Dr. Aaron Schmidt, consists of 110 playing pieces, 58 Governettes, nine twirlers, five flag-spirers, eight Ohio Valley Conference flag-bearers, two field commanders and two feature twirlers.

Gale McClain, junior from Hohenwald, and Judi Grammer, freshman from Chattanooga will provide dual leadership as field commanders, while high-stepping Norma Clark, sophomore from Clarksville, and Jodi Irvin, freshman from McLeansboro, Ill., are the co-featured baton twirlers.

Officers for the band are Dennis Noon, president, Mt. Vernon, Ind.; Frank Hatcher, vice-president, Guthrie, Ky.; Kathy Cummins, secretary, Ashland City, and Jeff Scaddix, treasurer, Madison, Ind.

'The Freedom of Speech' is topic at Wesley dinner

"Freedom of Speech" is the topic that Charles M. Waters will use as featured speaker before the Wesley Foundation on Sunday.

The associate professor of English will address the group following its regular Sunday supper from 5:50 to 6 p.m.

Prior to the AFSC-Western Kentucky game Saturday, the Foundation is hosting a supper at no cost on the lawn of the Wesley Foundation building at the corner of Marion and Castle Heights. The event is open to all Methodist students as well as the Wesley Foundation from Western.

The Governettes, a group of high-stepping lovelies who perform with the Austin Peay State College band, had their beginning 11 years ago this fall. The inspiration was that of a student, Bill Byrd.

According to Dot Latham Joiner, a member of the organization during its first two years of existence, Byrd posted a sign asking all girls interested in joining a drill team to meet at gymnasium. There were no try-outs (a far cry from today's rigorous selection) anyone who desired could join.

The girls numbered 24, with Byrd as head drill-master Mac Sands, an AFSC football player and Bobby Way were his assistants.

After long hours of practice in the gym, the Governettes held their first performance at the 1954 homecoming football game. Their uniforms were at that time white shorts, bows and blouses with red grosgrain ribbon ties. They performed independently of the band, executing military-type precision drills.

A great deal of the credit for the evolution of the early drill team to today's bat and carrying marchers may be given to Dr. Aaron Schmidt, who came to AFSC in 1955, Schmidt states that, when confronted with the leadership of the corps of performing young ladies his first words were "What do you do with girls - marching?"

He proceeded to do quite a bit with them, as can be evidenced during the halftime ceremony of AFSC football games.

One of Schmidt's first goals was to make the Governettes and marching band an integrated unit, performing and working together.

Today's Governettes perform a dance routine to music played by the band. Their familiar uniforms are red coats, white shorts all top hats and black canes.

Now, rather than learn a new routine for each show, they per-graduate institutions. The foundation does not accept direct applications for the fellowships.

Danforth Graduate Fellows are eligible for four years of financial assistance, with a maximum annual living stipend of $1800 for single fellows and $2200 for married fellows, plus tuition and fees. Dependency allowances are available. Financial need is not a condition for consideration.

Danforth Fellows may hold fellowships such as Ford, Fulbright, National Science, Rhodes or Woodrow Wilson, concurrently, and will be Danforth Fellows without stipend until the other awards lapse.

The Danforth Foundation, one of the nation's 10 largest educational foundations, was founded in 1927 by the late William H. Danforth, St. Louis businessman and philanthropist. The foundation's primary aim is to strengthen liberal education through grants to colleges, universities and other educational agencies.

Applications due now for seniors

An announcement from M. P. Bowman, registrar, has been made concerning seniors. "Applications for degrees" are now due.

Seniors are asked to call by the office of the registrar and fill these applications, if they have not already done so. If uncertain as to date of graduation, an application should be submitted anyway. (Dates and names may be changed without charge until April 1, 1966.)

Those finishing requirements for degrees at the end of fall quarter should have a final check-out.

Dates for these and other services performed by the registrar are:

Final checkouts Oct. 6-8
(finishing in December)
Comprehensive evaluation
(145-hour checkout) Oct. 11-29
Evaluation Nov. 1-12

Deadlines stressed

Yearbook plans progress

Deadlines . . . deadlines . . . deadlines . . . and, oh yes, deadlines.

This was the major topic of discussion at the initial staff meeting of the Farewell & Hail staff meeting held Thursday evening. The Farewell & Hail is the Austin Peay State College yearbook.

Editor Bob Hammer, a junior from Nashville, emphasized and re-emphasized the importance of section editors and staff members meeting the necessary deadlines set up by Bonson Printing Company, Nashville, and adviser Sherwin Clift.

"We are striving to publish the yearbook at an earlier date this year," Hammer stated. "The only way that this can be accomplished," he continued, "is for each individual to meet the appointed deadline."

The completion of events for the 1965-66 year will be included in a 272-page volume, 56 more pages than last year's book edited by Jim Phillips. "We have made some changes and promise a

Is the YF-12A the world's fastest manned aircraft?

It certainly is. On May 1 of this year the YF-12A (formerly known as the A-11) reclaimed the world absolute speed record from the USSR. It was clocked at 2,062 mph over Edwards Air Force Base.

How big is the YF-12A?

The exact dimensions of the YF-12A have not been released yet. But it's approximately 100 feet long, with about a 50-foot wingspan. That's half again as big as our present interceptors!

Is the Air Force training many men as pilots these days?

Yes, very definitely. In spite of all you hear about unmanned vehicles, the human pilot is still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, the Air Force pilot quota is on the increase.

What other kinds of jobs does the Air Force offer?

Since it's one of the world's foremost technological organizations, the Air Force has plenty of openings for scientists and engineers. There are also many challenging and varied administrative-managerial positions.

What do I have to do to become an Air Force officer?

Air Force ROTC is the best way to get started as an Air Force officer. The new two-year Air Force ROTC program makes this method available to men who have already completed a year or two of their college education. For college graduates, if you did not take advantage of ROTC, you can still get started through Air Force Officer Training School (OTS), a three-month course open to both men and women.

Can I keep up my studies while I'm in the Air Force?

The Air Force encourages its men and women to continue their educations. For instance, you may qualify to study for a graduate degree during off-duty hours, with the Air Force paying a substantial part of the tuition.

What kind of future do I have in the Air Force?

A bright one. As we move further into the Aerospace Age, the Air Force is going to grow even more important. And you can grow with it!

Talent poses no problem

MISS HAT AND CANE GETS BACK TO THE BOOKS — and after a summer of fun and excitement, the APSC campus seems pretty calm. However, Diane Willard, always looking her prettiest, never passes up an opportunity to perform. Singing is what she loves best. (Photo by Gene Washer)

Talent was the least of the worries for Diane Willard, 1965 Miss Hat and Cane, as she represented APSC in the "Miss Tennessee" competition this summer. "The outfit divisions did make me nervous, though," smiles Diane.

Being a voice major and loving to sing gave Miss Willard the confidence she needed for her talent as she sang "I Wish You Love." This combination of talent, poise and beauty was her a position among the top ten beauties.

All of the girls were kept on a strict schedule, but "the experience of getting to know the girls was really great," Diane explains. "I would really enjoy doing it again."

Along with her major in music, Diane has a second major in elementary education. Her true ambition, however, is to sing professionally after graduating from college. She especially enjoys singing blues numbers.

ASA provides foreign travel plan for profs

The American Students Abroad Program is at the present time filling positions for tour directors to chaperone exclusive student tours in Europe for the summer of 1966.

Any member of the APSC teaching staff interested in chaperoning 15 students through six countries of Europe with all expenses paid should contact American Students Abroad, P.O. Box 36087, Cincinnati, Ohio. All letters detailing background and experience will be considered.

Health director chosen

Dr. Alexander F. Russell has been appointed director of student health services at Austin Peay State College.

Dr. Tom K. Savage, dean of students at APSC, made the announcement.

Dr. Russell succeeds Dr. Edward P. Cutter, who resigned to pursue a master's degree in public health at John Hopkins University.

In this position Dr. Russell will be responsible for the supervision of all student health services, including the operation of the college infirmary. In addition, he will serve as team physician for all APSC athletic teams.

A native of Model, Tenn., in Stewart County, Dr. Russell received pre-medical training at Vanderbilt University, Murray State College and the University of Tennessee. He received the M.D. degree from UT in 1953.

He formerly had a private practice in Dover before coming to Clarksville in 1946. Dr.

Russell also served a five-year period as Lieutenant Colonel in the Medical Corps of the U.S. Army.

The new director holds membership in the Montgomery County Medical Society, the Tennessee State Medical Association, the American Medical Association, the American Society of Abdominal Surgeons, the Second Auxiliary Surgical Group and is a fellow in the American College of Surgeons, the International College of Surgeons and the Southeastern Surgical Congress.

Concerning his appointment, Dr. Russell stated "I'm happy to be associated with APSC in an official capacity and more closely than I have ever been since I've been in Clarksville."

Dean Savage, in making the announcement, stated "Although we regret losing the services of Dr. Cutter, we feel most fortunate in securing Dr. Russell to replace him. Dr. Russell needs no introduction to APSC."

Miss Camille Buck, a junior from Clarksville will serve as associate editor of the Farewell & Hall, while another Clarksville junior, Miss Linda English, is serving as advertising manager.

Although the entire staff has not been completed, some of the section editors are Linda Warren, organization, Nashville; Betty Jo Pope, campus life, Kingsport; Dorris Bryant, administration, Indian Mound; Ron Frey, athletic; Paris; and Ramona and Liola Lumpkin, beauty and personality, Clarksville.

Rogers, another Flatt?

With the football season only three weeks old it appears that many questions have been answered about this year's Governors. Before Austin Peay State met Eastern Kentucky, Murray State and Southeast Missouri, fans were wondering if Rodney Rogers could capably step into the departed Carlton Flatt's shoes and lead APSC to another successful season. Flatt, the diminutive quarterback of a year ago was named OVC Back of the Year for his gridiron exploits.

Before this campaign Rogers had very limited game experience. The 23-year-old native of Winchester, Tenn., played in the shadows of Richard Moore and Flatt during the first three years of his collegiate career. However, this fall, the senior field general was given the task of playing first string quarterback, as well as guiding the Red and White to another high finish in the rugged Ohio Valley Conference. Not only has Rogers executed his duties in an admirable fashion; he has also demonstrated the courage and leadership which could bring the Govs the coveted OVC crown.

Fine supporting cast

Rogers has a fine supporting cast to help him, which consist of 22 returning lettermen and nine athletes who were either squad members or red-shirted during the 1964 season. The lack of depth in the interior had APSC supporters somewhat upset before the campaign began; however, this group of strongmen has been impressive in blocking and pass protection on offense and tackling on defense.

Following the Eastern game, head coach Bill Dupes has employed the two-platoon advantage. Each time the ball switches hands, the coaching staff makes nine replacements so that a rested unit will be on the field. Consequently, the blocking was been sharper and the defensive line and secondary have been more effective.

File 13

Rogers broke APSC's total offense record for a single game as he rushed and passed for 229 yards against Murray State. The former record of 218 yards was set by Richard Moore against Jacksonville State in 1962. Two other records were broken against Murray. John Ogles toted the pigskin 27 times to erase Ted Trenton's record of 24 rushes against Delta State in 1952. In the game against Murray, Tim Chilcitt broke a season record for yardage on punt returns which was set by Ben Fendley in 1950. During the first two games, Chilcitt returned seven punts for a total of 205 yards, surpassing the old standard by four yards. Ronnie Parson, 6-5, 235-pound end, breaks his own career record every time he kicks a field goal. At last count the outstanding prospect had four to his credit. Included among these is a tremendous 42-yarder against Murray State this year.

Govs scalp SEMO 50-7

Southeast Missouri's Indians left Clarkeville Saturday night after having been literally scalped by a devastating Austin Peay State College attack.

After a reasonably close first half, which found APSC leading by a score of only 17-7, the Governors exploded for 33 points as they reached the half-century scoring mark. The last time the

BYRD CHILCUTT

Red and White scored more points in 1951 when coach David Arnold's charges gained their only victory of the season with a 56-0 conquest of Union University. Halfback Tim Chilcutt, Little All-American, led the second half fireworks as he raced 53 yards around right end for a touchdown on the second play from scrimmage.

A few moments later, Arnold Huskey, 5-9, 165-pound right halfback bulled into the end zone from the two yard line to add six more points to the already lopsided score.

With Austin Peay State 24 points ahead, head coach Bill Dupes began to shuffle reserves in and out of the game as he "cleaned the bench." These men responded with flying colors as quarterback Aubrey Flagg completed six of 12 passes for 81 yards. Two of his passes went to Mike Riddle and Pete Bush for touchdowns. Sandwiched in between Flagg's two TD passes was an 82-yard punt return by Chilcutt.

Junior fullback John Ogles opened the scoring parade in the first quarter as he plunged two yards to give the Govs the lead 6-0. Ronnie Parson kicked the first of his five extra points for the night. He also kicked a 41-yard field goal in the second quarter. The other touchdown in the first half came on an 18-

Will the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers be able to knock the Governors of Austin Peay State from their roosting position, high atop the Ohio Valley Conference standings? This question will be answered Saturday night as head coach Nick Dene's charges invade Municipal Stadium for a 7:30 p.m. contest.

In the 10-game series which dates back to 1940, the Govs have been defeated nine times and have tied one game, the deadlock coming last year when APSC finished second in the OVC.

Western brings a freshman-laden squad which contains four rookies who have shown their wares and abilities quite well to date. These four, quarterback Dick Egan, fullback Dickie Moore, offensive guard Rick Zuercher and safety Jim Garrett, along with the rest of the freshmen "have exceeded all expectations," according to head mentor Dene. The 1961 OVC

Coach of the Year also stated that "this group has a better start toward greatness than the Tangerine Bowl champions had when they were freshmen." In conclusion, he added that Western has fond hopes of a great football future, which would indicate that these freshmen are not to be taken lightly.

Leading Western's contingent, in addition to the freshmen previously mentioned are halfback John Bart, linebacker Kenny Frick and safety Joe Baird. Dene hopes to contain the Red and White's potent offense with the Hilltoppers' defense, which he rates as among the best he has ever coached.

Western was tied 6-6 in their opener against Akron of Ohio. In their second game against East Tennessee State they moved into the winner's column with a 15-14 decision over the Buccaneers. They played Middle Tennessee Saturday.

APSC leads OVC with loop record of 2-0-0

Using the combination of a devastating ground attack and a razor-sharp passing game, the Austin Peay State gridders pushed their Ohio Valley Conference record to 2-0-0 with a smashing 23-5 victory over Murray State on September 25.

The same day the story broke that APSC had been awarded a 1-0 forfeit over Eastern Kentucky, which opened the season with a 35-30 victory over the Govs. Eastern volunteered the forfeit when it discovered it had inadvertently used an ineligible player, 6-5, 230-pound Bill Allen, a transfer from the University of Detroit. Allen, a back tackle on the defensive unit, earned only 19 semester hours the previous school year, while the OVC minimum is 23 hours.

After the metropolitan news media broke the story of the forfeit, Art Guspe, commissioner of the OVC, reaffirmed the decision by stating, "Dr. Smith Park, chairman of the Eastern faculty athletic committee, made it known to me that Eastern Kentucky willingly accepts the penalty provided for in the OVC rules and recommends APSC accept the forfeit."

The contest will go into the record book as a 1-0 win for APSC and continues the Gov-winning streak which began at mid-season last year.

Back to the more pleasing Murray game, the Bill Ogles coached musclemen gained a scant 3-0 halftime lead on the game wide open by building up an insurmountable 23-0 lead before the Racers were able to register.

A stout defense led by ends Larry Black and Claude Clements, linebackers Bobby Byrd and George White, tackle Tommy Dillard and defensive secondarymen Mike Riddle and Andy Toombs allowed the Kentsuckians only four plays from scrimmage in the third stanza.

Meanwhile quarterback Rodney Rogers, John Ogles, Ronnie Parson and Co. were moving at will against the Don Shelton-coached Racers. Rogers, who apparently has passed the quarterback test with an "A" plus, threw scoring tosses to Parson (twice) and Peggie Bush and established a new school mark with 229 yards on total offense. He completed 11 of 20 serials for 178 yards and scampered for 51 more yards in 13 rushing carries.

TOMMY DILLARD

Ogles, a thorn in the sides of opponents, was called upon 27 times to carry the oval and responded with 126 yards to run his two-game total to 235. Parson personally accounted for 17 points on his two TD receptions, a 42-yard field goal and two successful conversions.

Dillard, the 6-5, 235-pound senior captain, earned "OVC Defensive Player of the Week" for his performance against the Racers to join Toombs, the 6-3 junior defensive specialist, who garnered similar honors for his play against Eastern.

The coaching staff tabbed Rogers as the best offensive performer against Eastern and chose Ogles for his workhorse effort against Murray.

In the unforgettable opener at Richmond, Ky., APSC held a supposedly comfortable 24-7 lead with 12 minutes and 39 seconds to play. However, lightning struck not once, but four times in a 10 minute and 23 second span to give Eastern their "win."

APSC accounted for its scoring on an 83-yard punt return by Little All-American Tim Chilcutt; a 38-yard Parson field goal; an 11-yard pass from Chilcutt to Bush; an 11-yarder from Rogers to Parson; and a 13-yard jaunt by Rogers.

Replaces Schultz

Mayes appointed head track and CC coach

Max Mayes, 25, has been appointed head track coach and cross-country coach at Austin Peay State College. He began his duties at the outset of the fall quarter.

A native of Pryorsburg, Ky., Mayes replaces Gordon Schultz, (1959-62) and ran the 100, relays and broad jump for the track squad in 1960 and 1961.

The amiable Mayes has both his cross-country and track boys working out as a group. Later he plans to map out specific training schedules for each individual in order that every boy's potential may be developed fully.

This year will be the first time in APSC history that the cross-country team has entered any competition other than the conference championship. Last year Tom Hinkle led the Govs to a sixth place finish as he set a school record for the four mile run with a time of 21:32. However, Hinkle has graduated and only two upperclassmen will return. Nevertheless, Mayes has high hopes for his freshmen, who now number 22.

MAX MAYES

who resigned to accept a position at Central Michigan University.

Employed as assistant professor of health and physical education, Mayes holds the B.S. degree from David Lipscomb College. He is also engaged in the doctorate program at Peabody.

A graduate of Wingo High School, Wingo, Ky., Mayes was both a basketball and track performer at Lipscomb. He was a guard on Blson cage teams yard pass play from Rodney Rogers to Bush.

Leading ground gainers for the Governors were Chilcutt with 102 yards in 10 attempts and Ogles, who rushed 17 times for 74 yards.

Linebacker - deluxe Bobby Byrd topped the Gov defense with nine individual stops and 11 assists.

Kentucky led the Southeastern Conference in passing last season, completing 114 in 230 attempts. The Wildcats averaged 160.9 yards passing per game.

Club corner

The All State staff has been called to an important meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in the newspaper office. It is imperative that all members be present.

If any staff member is unable to attend, he should notify Mildred Woods, editor-in-chief, or Sherwin Clift, newspaper adviser.

This column is for the use of each and every club on campus. Its purpose is to announce the time, place and any other pertinent information pertaining to club meetings at Austin Peay State.

To take advantage of this publicity, a club officer should take whatever information desired to be printed to The All State office on Thursday preceding the coming week's Wednesday edition of the paper.

The information should be typed, if possible, and concern a club event to take place on the following Wednesday of publication or during the week which follows.

UT professor to speak before AAUP group

Dr. Leroy P. Graf, professor of history at the University of Tennessee, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Austin Peay State chapter of the American Association of University Professors to be held tomorrow.

The meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. at the Vacation Motor Restaurant in New Providence.

Dr. Graf, who is a member of the national council of AAUP, will discuss the functions of local chapters and assist the local group in getting organized.

All members are urged by the chapter to attend, as are those who have recently submitted their membership forms to the national organization but who have not yet received notification of their membership.

Freshmen view college life at APSC

by VICKI KEITH

Once again the campus is thriving with activity. Forms of activity are varied, but the freshman class has voiced the opinion that most of their first week was spent in confusion.

Freshman orientation week provoked several responses. Marilyn Radem, a freshman from Jackson, stated, "The first week was terrible. I wanted to go home!" Fred Landiss, from Cumberland City, enjoyed freshman week, expressing that "it was a good time to get acquainted."

Confusion seems to stem from the newness of registration, Jarrell Long, from Hopkinsville, Ky., stated simply, "They ought to find a better way." A Nashville freshman, Don Layton, found registration "a state of mass confusion. Miss one call number and you're all over the place." One freshman seems to have weathered the storm without too much difficulty, Frank Murphy, from Charlotte, said, "Registration was easy! I was the first one through."

New faces and new acquaintances appear to be a concern to freshmen as well as transfers. Jeff Wolf, a junior transfer from Rhaca College, N.Y., stated that "Austin Peay State is an up-and-coming school." Compared to Rhaca College, he feels that "the students and campus life of APSC are very similar."

'friendly people'

Betty Jo Stack, a freshman from Ashland City, thinks the people are much friendlier than she had expected. Anita Perry, a Clarksville freshman, expressed a similar opinion and added, "The upperclassmen have been so helpful and sympathetic to the freshmen. Still another freshman, Ramona Spurlock, from Clarksville, summed up the general attitude of the freshmen when she said, "There is so much red tape and you have to do everything on your own. But I love it!"

The freshmen seem to dread

'a state of mass confusion'

the arrival of initiation week. Dwight Hart, from McComb, laughingly admitted that frankly, he was not anticipating the event.

The freshmen girls have generally agreed that they like dorm life, but several feel that there are too many restrictions. All, however, seem to enjoy their new freedom. Paulo Pedreira de Freitas, Burcity of Bahia, Brazil, has one major complaint; no soccer team!

Freshmen are seeking many things at college: knowledge, experience, achievement and scope.
