Morgan names problems about university finances

A veto by Governor Winfield Dunn has reduced the 1973-74 operating funds of Austin Peay State University by a quarter of a million dollars, eliminating entirely the additional appropriation recently approved by the Tennessee General Assembly.

According to Dr. Joe Morgan, president of APSU, "the Governor's action leaves the appropriated operating funds for next year at $3,796,000 just $4,000 more than last year's appropriation. Had we received the additional $250,000 voted by the legislature, we would still have been $100,000 short of continuation-budget needs," Dr. Morgan said, "and the simple truth is that the university will suffer losses in staff and in programs that could cripple the effectiveness of our attempts to serve the citizens of our region."

"An unexpected loss in enrollment last September and certain inequities in the funding system developed by the staff of the Tennessee Higher Education Commission are major contributors to our financial condition," Dr. Morgan continued.

"We have reason to be hopeful that next year will bring increased enrollment and we feel that the Higher Education Commission's continued efforts toward equity of distribution of funds for public higher education will work to the benefit of Austin Peay State University."

Detailed plans for operating the university during the 1973-74 year are being worked out with participation from all sectors of the university community.

Rally held Friday

There will be a rally Friday, at 11 a.m. in the bowl in front of the University Center. The administration has authorized faculty members to dismiss their classes if they so choose.

The purpose of this rally will be to unite faculty and students in a joint effort to help Austin Peay with its financial problems.

Members of the administration and faculty along with individual students will speak at the rally.

Everyone is urged to attend the rally and support this effort to better the university.

Sisters take national step in ceremony

Alpha Phi fraternity was installed nationally this weekend. The ceremonies began Friday night, May 18, at 8 p.m. in the University Center Conference Room with the Court of Ivy ceremony.

Formal initiation at 10 a.m. began Saturday's activities, followed by a luncheon.

An installation banquet was held at 7 p.m. Saturday at Rockland Hills. Dr. Joe Morgan, APSU president, gave the welcoming address. Other guests from the university included Mrs. Morgan, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Richman, and Miss Mildred Deason.

Attending the activities were Mrs. Louise Cruickshank, director of chapters, area east, and also toast mistress for the banquet; Mrs. Martha Mast, director of alumni associations; Mrs. Judy Mead, director of extension; Deborah Stutz, state alumni chairman; and Susan Ferrara, field secretary.

As a group, the fraternity attended services at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon, at 2 p.m. a reception was held for parents and members of the university to meet local fraternity officers and the national officers.

Staff distributes 1973 yearbook

Arrival of the Farewell & Hall, yearbook, is set for Tuesday, May 29. The book is free to any full-time student who has attended the fall, winter and spring quarters; others may pay at the rate of $1.50 per quarter they did not attend or were not a full-time student.

Signs will be posted regarding arrival and distribution location, according to Roslyn Reinisch, editor-in-chief.

NATIONAL PINNING - Linda Coghill, president of the Delta Lambda chapter at Memphis State, pins pledge ribbons on Nell Northington of newly installed Alpha Phi national fraternity.

WESLEY WELCOMES - Two APSU students sample refreshments served Tuesday night, May 15, for the open house of the new Wesley Foundation building located on College Street.

Letter to editor

Letter praises SGA

Dear Editor

I have read the editorial in the May 16 issue. I believe I have read a similar editorial each year I have been on the -library faculty here and each year I was on the library faculty at a previous institution.

As there was opposition in only one post this year, the wonder is that 521 students took the time to vote; not that more did not.

Rather than castigate the efforts of the SGA during the last year, I think they should be congratulated for a job well done. From what few actions I saw them accomplish I think they deserve your thanks. I am equally sure that many of their accomplishments went unseen—that is the roll and disadvantage of government—all their actions are not spectacular.

Just bcause EVERY act of SGA was not approved by the administration does not mean SGA was "not a part of the decision-making process" of the university. I am sure every act of SGA was considered by the administration. Are you willing to equally castigate our representative in state and federal government who tried to affect the decision - making process of the governor in regard to the APSU budget, but were not successful?

Here is one, hopefully not lonely, vote of a job well done to the outgoing members of SGA.

Unity of the people may save university

What lies ahead for Austin Peay State University?

This question has risen due to the recent veto by Governor Dunn which has reduced the 1973-74 funds of Austin Peay by a quarter of a million dollars. At present no one knows the total impact that this will have on the university but according to President Joe Morgan there will be a cut in staff and programs.

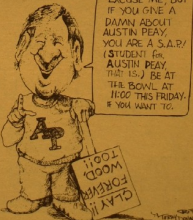

This recent action taken against Austin Peay should motivate the administration, the faculty and the students to come together for once and work towards saving the university.

After President Morgan's speech on the financial trouble several concerned administrators, faculty members and students stayed to discuss action that can be taken to improve the present situation. Several ideas were discussed, among them was the idea of raising money; another idea was a mass movement to recruit students to come to Austin Peay.

One person suggested that we start a letter campaign. He urged everyone to write to their legislator and to the governor so that when the General Assembly meets in January they may override Dunn's veto.

The present situation affects everyone. Some faculty members may lose their jobs. Staff personnel in some departments will be removed. Courses that students are looking forward to taking may no longer exist. Courses that are offered may be crowded and inconvenient.

It is up to all of us. We must band together and save the Peay. If you have any suggestions or energy to work towards this goal contact THE ALL STATE, SGA or any one in the administration. It is up to you to save your university.

NOEL WINS TITLE—Noel Phillips, the Australian-born Austin Peay tennis star, returns a hot shot from Western Kentucky's Byron Thomas during the OVC tennis championships in Morehead, Ky., last weekend. Phillips defeated Thomas, who was the defending OVC champ, 6-3, 6-4 to win the No. 1 singles championship.

It would be impossible to completely re-cap all the accomplishments the Austin Peay State University athletic teams have made during the 1972-73 seasons.

But it would be safe to say that this year has definitely been an over-all improvement as far as Governor sports teams are concerned.

This year will go down in APSU memoirs as "The Year of the Fly," not only because of one superstar named James Williams, but because of what fly, along with Howard Jackson, Eddie Childress, Danny Odums, Percy Howard, Jerry Wanstrath, Hook Turner, Lake Kelly, Leonard Hamilton, Colin Stewart, Larry Reed and the others did to kick life into a university and the community of Clarksville.

The APSU tennis team of Coach Bernie Marrero, again made a real run at the conference title but lost out to Western Kentucky in the end.

Coach Joe Ellenburg's baseball team started out slowly this spring but made up a lot of ground and almost finished with a .500 record.

For the football team, it was a year of frustration when nothing could go right. And as a result, it will be up to a new head football coach, Jack Bushofsky, to turn things around.

Walton Smith's golf team didn't have a bad season, but ran into disaster in the OVC championships by dipping into last.

Ken Gunter has the APSU track and cross-country fortunes headed in the right direction for the first time ever and if he hangs on to the reins he's signed this spring, could build a conference contender in the next few years.

Bob Neilson has added a new dimension to campus life by setting a firm foundation for an outstanding intramural program.

Lin Dunn and Beverly Berard have tutored the Austin Peay extramural women's teams to respectable seasons and continue to gather prestige.

New athletic director George Fisher has done wonders in his capacity adding new spark to the over-all picture of athletics at APSU.

And then, there are the students, faculty and staff who have continuously backed the Austin Peay athletic teams. They deserve a lot of credit for success, but most also bear blame for failure.

Of course this has been quite a year for basketball ace Eddie Childress and titan football star Bonnie Sloan.

However, Bonnie and Eddie will meet their real proving ground in the coming months when Sloan will try to make it in the pros as a St. Louis Cardinal and Childress as a pro with the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA.

Noel, Jorge equal threes APSU firsts

Austin Peay State's 1973 tennis team may not have won its first Ohio Valley Conference championship. But it did register three firsts during the OVC Spring Sports Championships in Morehead, Ky., last weekend.

Noel Phillips became the OVC tennis champion via his 6-3, 6-4 finals victory over defending champ Byron Thomas of Western Kentucky in No. 1 singles.

Jorge Jimenez captured the No. 4 championship with a 6-2, 7-5 win over Bjorn Odengren, also of Western.

For the final first, Phillips and Jimenez teamed to upset the top seeded doubles team of Pekka Petersen and Mikko Harasnu of Murray in No. 1 doubles by the score of 6-3, 6-4, 6-3 for the title.

The Governors fell short of the over-all tennis championship with 82 points, finishing second in Western Kentucky and its 88 total. It was Western's fourth straight net title, and 17th in the 25 year history of OVC tennis.

Murray placed third with 62 followed by Middle Tennessee (52), Tennessee Tech (38), Eastern Kentucky (28), East Tennessee (20) and Morehead (8).

No. 2 singles ace Pancho Sanchez advanced to the finals of his division before bowing to Murray's Horner 6-7, 6-4, 7-6.

Manuel Losada went all the way to the finals of No. 5 singles but was knocked off by Western's Hasse Ahman 6-2, 6-2.

Sanchez and Losada were picked to win the No. 2 doubles (Continued on Page 7, Col. 1)

Sloan signs pact with Cards

Bonnie Sloan, the big man who starred as an Austin Peay State University defensive tackle for four seasons, has become the first deaf player in history to sign a professional football contract. Sloan recently signed the contract with the St. Louis Cardinals who drafted Sloan in the tenth round of the pro football draft last winter.

Sloan, who played at Issac Litton in Nashville in his high school days, was a two-time All-Ohio Valley Conference selection. He would have more-than-likely made the glitter team his sophomore year also, but a knee injury caused him to miss six games of that season.

The exact amount of the contract was not released. However, it is a two-year contract and Sloan will have to make the team.

"Bonnie was pleased as far as getting a fair contract," said Bill Dupes, Sloan's head coach during his college career.

"He went to a rookie camp early this spring," added Dupes. "And the Cardinals invited Bonnie and several other rookies that they thought showed promise back to a veteran's camp."

Sloan's biggest problem, as far as making the Cardinal squad, is past him.

"Coach (Don) Coryell wasn't sure how much Bonnie's handicap affected his communication," said Dupes. "Now that they've worked with him some, they know it's not that big a problem. It's up to Bonnie to make it."

Morehead surprises all, Gov linksmen finish last

Austin Peay State University's golf squad finished a disappointing last in the Ohio Valley Conference which concluded at Morehead, Ky., Saturday.

Rain frequented the 4-hole, two-day affair held over the short 5,679-yard University Golf Course.

Host Morehead State won their first OVC golf crown over in record-breaking fashion with a five-man total of 1082 strokes, 27 better than defending champion East Tennessee.

Freshman Eddie Mudd, a graduate of Louisville Butler, won individual honors with a one-under-par 209 total. He returned rounds of 70, 68 and 71 over the par-70 layout.

Besides Morehead State's 1082 and East Tennessee's 1106, other team scores were Middle Tennessee 1115, Eastern Kentucky 1127, Tennessee Tech 1132, Western Kentucky 1143, Murray State 1144 and Austin Peay 1156.

Highlight for the Governors during the tournament was the play of veteran Mike Carn and freshman Jim Hodges Carn, the long hitter from Savannah, Ga., finished eighth with a 75-74-71-220 total. Hodges, who hails from Macon, Ga., carded 71-76-75-222.

Other APSU scores were Chuck Jones 79-77-75-231, Bob Cartwright 76-84-77-237, Bruce Wallace 81-80-79-246 and Henry Lane 80-84-82-252.

Baseballers end on a sour note at Southern Ill.

By RICHIE BENTLEY

The tune of "Take Me Out To The Ballgame" ended on a sour note for Austin Peay State University's baseball team when the Governors failed to end their 1972-73 season with a winning record.

The Gove fell prey to the sixth-ranked college division team in the nation, Southern Illinois at Edwardsville. The Cougars closed APSU's brief time during a four game series at Edwardsville Friday and Saturday which dropped the Gove's record to 22-24.

Carter to compete in NCAA

Tracksters claim 6th position

Austin Preay's track team finished sixth in the 25th annual Ohio Valley Conference meet in Morehead, Ky., last weekend. . . . The highest finish ever for an APSU cinder team.

But first year head coach Ken Gunter wasn't exactly all smiles after the two-day meet.

"We didn't get points where we should've gotten points," commented Gunter. "It was probably our worst meet of the year."

The Governors scored in only four of the 17 events and Gunter was hoping his team could get points in nine or ten events.

While the Governors weren't scoring where they should have, Western Kentucky was romping on the rest of the league as anticipated as the Hilltoppers rolled up their tenth straight league title scoring 90 points to easily outdistance second place Middle Tennessee's 58 points. Murray State captured third with 43 followed by Eastern Kentucky (40), East Tennessee State (34), APSU (11), Tennessee Tech (5) and Morehead (0).

Things started bad for the Gavs on Friday when freshman star Anthony Carter had what Gunter termed, "just a bad day."

Carter, who was favored to win the long jump, placed second to Middle Tennessee's Tommy Haynes. Carter had about his shortest jump of the year at 23-2 1/2, but was still leading going into the final jump. However, Haynes outdistanced him on his final attempt with a jump of 23-7 to win.

Carter also failed to qualify for the 100 and 220-yard dashes which was a surprise.

Gavs who did place in competition besides Carter were Carl Skinner, fifth place in the 400, Ken Guesetto, third in the pole vault, and Robert Elizer, Elton Pilot, Richbourg, and Carter, third in the mile relay.

Skinner set a new school record with a 48.4 clocking surpassing the old time of 48.5 set by Ronnie Bell in 1969.

The mile relay time of 3:15.4 broke a record set earlier this spring by three-tenths of a second.

Western Kentucky claimed eight first places, four of which were new OVC records.

All league winners are eligible to participate in the NCAA outdoor meet in Baton Rouge, La., June 7-9. In addition, Carter will make the trip representing Austin Preay in the long jump. Carter's jump of 25-7 1/2, he had earlier this year. Rankers in the nation's top five. Carter placed fifth in the NCAA indoor meet last winter.

Rackets and Pikettes cop intramural track crowns

Rusty Rackets and the Pikettes took top honors in the first annual Austin Preay intramural track meet held at Municipal Stadium last week.

Rusty Rackets, runner-up in the men's division for the All-Sports championship, took first place and finished first in each of the 11 events of the meet to tally 73 points. KAPO edged out the Ellington Yall Rookie's for second place with 22 points to Ellington's 20.

Chi Omega placed second behind the Pikettes' 61 points with a 32 point effort. Kappa Delta finished with 29 markers.

The first annual Bike Derby

Day is slated for tomorrow at Municipal Stadium. All rosters for the five-event affair are due into the EM office no later than 5 p.m. today.

EDITOR'S NOTE: There was an oversight in last week's THE ALL STATE that stated that KAPO, the winner of the men's All-Sports Trophy, was a combination of the APSU Circle K Club and the APSU campus police. However, KAPO is an organization which is a combination of Circle K and Alpha Phi Omega.

Baseballers end on sour note open 6-2 with SIUE. Dallas Cheesman lost his first decision of the year in the loss. Cheesman has won five games.

Never team could manage more than four hits in the second game, but unlike Southern Illinois, the Gavs could not get the key hit and the Cougars won 2-0. Gary Anders went the distance on the mound for APSU for the fourth straight time in the loss. He ended with a 4-6 record.

Senior Mike Ramsey, hurling in his last collegiate game, was tabbed with the 8-3 loss in the third game of the series. Even though Ramsey didn't beat SIUE, he ended a great career for the Gavs. The Fairborn, Ohio, native holds more pitching records than any other Gavs in history.

Mike Snapp, who has been plagued with bad luck all spring, finally got the big one with a 5-0 shutout of the Cougars. The stylish lefty finished with a 4-7 record.
