27 Honor Students Recognized In Assembly

In assembly, 27 students from Austin Peay State College, will be recognized for outstanding scholastic ability. Each of these students has maintained a 3.65 over-all average on a 4.0 system.

The 27 students include two graduate students, six seniors, three juniors, six sophomores and 10 freshmen.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Beach of Clarksville and Mrs. Josephine H. McWilliams, also of Clarksville, are the two graduate students who have maintained a 3.65 over-all average or higher during their work on the graduate level.

Included among the six seniors are Mrs. Elva Helen Barnett of Crofton, Ky.; Mrs. Anna Olds Brewer of Clarksville; Karl Russell Harper of Allensville, Ky.; Mrs. Nell Clark Lile of Crofton; Mrs. Sarah Dozier Murdock of Clarksville; and Mrs. Joan Reynolds Overton of Crofton.

Miss Brenda Gayle Davis of Clarksville; Miss Judith Corinne Dias of Jackson; and Richard Phillips Warren of Linden are the three juniors who have maintained a 3.65 average.

The six sophomores who will be honored today for their scholastic ability include Miss Frances Ann Carpenter of Clarksville; Miss Mary Jo Fulton of Nashville; Joe Richard Kriesle of Springfield; Miss Arleen Joyce Osburn of Fort Campbell, Ky.; Jerry Watson Welch of Clarksville; and Miss Ruth Marie Young of Herndon Ky.

The freshman class is represented by Miss Norma Jean Brown of Dickson; Miss Janet Ellen Foster of Cumberland Furnace; Miss Joy Frances Gallardo and Miss Mary Kathryn Lander of Clarksville; Miss Carol Annit all for a while can get as Lankford of White Bluff; Miss much coffee as he wants, complimentary Patricia Ann Lawrence of Fort of Slaters Catering Service, Campbell, Ky.; Miss Janice Fayette, who are in charge of the Leftwich of Nashville; Miss Glee cafeteria.

Ann Long of Herndon, Ky.; Miss On the nights of May 25, 26, Edith Ramona Lumpkin of Oakland 27, coffee will be served in Grove, Ky.; and Miss Linda Gayle the cafeteria from 8 to 9:30 to Seay of Clarksville.

BSU, Agriculture Clubs Share Honors With Circle K

The Circle K Club has been selected as the outstanding club of the year for 1964 on the campus of Austin Peay State College.

Selected as the outstanding independent club, the Circle K Club was chosen over the Baptist Student Union, outstanding religious club on campus for 1964, and the Agriculture Club, the 1964 outstanding departmental club.

Winning the award as the outstanding club marks the sixth consecutive year that the Circle K Club has either won or shared the title. The English Club shared the award with the Circle K Club in 1961.

The award of outstanding club of the year is based primarily on the idea of services rendered to and for the college and not just the club itself.

During the past year the Circle K Club has provided seven scholarships for seven students at APSC. Each scholarship is valued at $63.50 per quarter. The total value of the scholarships is $1,335.50.

In addition to the seven undergraduate scholarships, the Circle K Club has also given a graduate scholarship this year in the name of Felix G. Woodward, dean of the faculty at APSC.

Other activities of the club during this year included selling sweatshirts, members serving as parade marshals in the annual homecoming parade and in the Clarksville Christmas parade, sponsoring of three dances, presenting a flag to the college for the gymnasium to be raised during the basketball season and holding a watermelon cutting for the football team and coaches.

The club also sent six delegates to the International Conventions in Norfolk, Va., and eight delegates to the Kentucky-Tennessee District Convention in Prestonsburg, Ky.

While at the Tennessee-Kentucky district meeting, one of the APSC members, Kenneth Fuswell, was elected as Lieutenant Governor of this district. This marked the second straight year that an APSC member has held this office.

The name of the Circle K Club and the year 1964 will be engraved on the permanent plaque in the hallway leading to the library.

Free Coffee

During Exams

During your studying for final examinations in the past how often have you wanted to take a short break and get a cup of coffee?

Well, during finals next week, every student who would like to take a break and get away from Clarksville; Miss Carol Annit all for a while can get as Lankford of White Bluff; Miss much coffee as he wants, complimentary Patricia Ann Lawrence of Fort of Slaters Catering Service, Campbell, Ky.; Miss Janice Fayette, who are in charge of the Leftwich of Nashville; Miss Glee cafeteria.

Ann Long of Herndon, Ky.; Miss On the nights of May 25, 26, Edith Ramona Lumpkin of Oakland 27, coffee will be served in Grove, Ky.; and Miss Linda Gayle the cafeteria from 8 to 9:30 to Seay of Clarksville.

NTE Deadline

Is June 9

The National Teachers Examination, required of all seniors who plan to graduate with a degree in education, will be given Saturday, June 27, on the campus of Austin Peay State College.

Dr. George Ackley will be in charge of administering the test. He stated that every student who is taking a dilemma either this spring or summer must take the examination.

"It is absolutely necessary that those students who have not taken the examination, register for the test as soon as possible," Ackley said.

The deadline for registering is noon, Tuesday, June 9. Applications for taking the test may be secured from Dr. Harold Peyer's office or from Dr. Ackley's office. Applications are now available and students are urged to pick them up as soon as possible.

The application is to be returned to Dr. Ackley ONLY. A check or money order should be made payable to The National Teacher Examination and turned in with the completed application.

The amount of the check will depend on the type and number of tests being taken.

The time and place of the examination will be announced later.

Coed of Week

COED OF THE WEEK — Miss Connie Eathery, a 5'7, 125 pound senior from Madison, Tenn., has been selected as the coed of the week. Connie, who has brown hair and brown eyes, is majoring in both music and psychology. Her ambition is to become a doctor of psychology after graduation from APSC. Listing dancing, music and swimming as her hobbies, Connie is a member of the band, captain of the flag team and is a member of the choir and the Madrigal singers. (Staff Photo by Billy Hutton)

Some Male Students Can't Take Criticism

With the arrival of spring and warmer weather, many varieties of clothing have appeared on the campus of Austin Peay State College. With those many and varied types of clothing have come protests from both the male and female members of the college and from both the faculty and student body.

The main complaint has been directed at the male students of the college because of their apparent lack of concern of the image they create in the minds of others.

In last week's edition of The All State a coed wrote a letter to the men of APSC asking what is wrong with their dress. In this issue of the paper there is an answer to the coed's letter. However, it is very apparent that the men who have written letters to the editor in response to the coed's letter have missed her point.

What the coed was objecting to was not the fact that the men of APSC are allowed to wear bermuda shorts, but the manner in which they dress when they wear bermuda shorts.

It would not take more than five minutes at the most to dress respectfully and decently. Sure, it is comfortable to walk around with your shirtflapping in the breeze and only one or two buttons buttoned. But, if you want to look and dress like a bum, why go to college to learn how? It takes no education to learn how to dress as some of the male students of APSC seem to take pride in doing.

The men who have written letters in response to the coed's letter must have had their toes stepped on. It just goes to prove that the old adage of "if the shoe fits wear it" must apply in this case.

Dr. George Rawlins

Austin Peay State College suffered a great loss with the untimely death of Dr. George M. Rawlins, chairman of the chemistry department since 1946.

Dr. Rawlins was the author of a number of chemistry texts and was listed in Who's Who of American Educators. He was a member of many science organizations and was past secretary of the Tennessee Academy of Science.

To the students who knew Dr. Rawlins personally, there is a feeling of tremendous loss right now. To those who only knew him from seeing him on campus there is also a great loss because of his kindness and warm and friendly smile.

The loss of Dr. Rawlins will be felt keenly at APSC but his loss will also be felt beyond the college because he was nationally known for his contribution to the teaching of chemistry.

Ramblings Of A Fool

The "Burden" Of Conformity

By Ronald Arvin

In past issues of The All State, various articles have been written about the dress and make-up of a small group of students on this campus. Their defensive outrage is, "Why must we conform? Doesn't a person have the right to do as he pleases?"

The answer is, "A person has the right to do as he pleases within the broad limitations of society." Only in rare instances is there true cause for nonconformity. The nonconformity of the majority is a defensive mechanism against obedience to their parents or against some social failure.

Society requires that each person be clean and dressed at least presentably. If a person is working on a farm, a dirty shirt and overalls are acceptable. If he is bumming around the house, a shirt with its bottom hanging out or a sweat-shirt with its sleeves ripped off and shower shoes are acceptable. However, if one is to appear in public, shirt tails should be tucked in, buttons should be fastened and shoes and socks should be worn.

The sloppy dresser's reply to all this is, "If they don't like it, they don't have to look." And, "I don't see where they should be bothered; I'm not hurting them." Quite to the contrary. The sloppy dresser both male and coed bears the image of the college and the personal image of each of the students going here.

Businessmen know that the slovenly dressed person is unreliable for anything beyond the bare minimum. If the college gets the reputation for having students who don't care about personal appearance, it also gets the reputation for having students who are liabilities to their employers.

If a person wants to live his own life without giving a second thought to those around him, then he should not be around other people. When a person is alone, he is free to do as he pleases. However, when he is joined by another person or that person's property, then their presence places certain restrictions on his behavior.

Conformity is not a great sin. In fact, it is not a sin at all. Being dressed properly is just a way of being respectful and decent toward other people. If a person is not willing to be at least this respectful and decent, he should not associate with others.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

This letter is in reply to the "disgusted" coed and those in agreement with her.

It seems that the wearing apparel of the male students at Austin Peay State is in some way threatening to the rigidly structured frames of reference of several coeds on campus. In the first place this is a college campus. It is not a high school campus or a country club. Supposedly, it is here that there is less pressure to conform to the various folkways with their questionable value.

If students are made to conform to the value judgements of a few as to what is in good taste or not, where should the conformity stop? The answer itself is a value judgement. If the logic holds, then the professors who do not dress to suit the fancy of a few should be dismissed since they are not setting a "good" example.

The "bedraggled spectacle" of students enrolled in the graduate school of the University of Tennessee would be a living purgatory for the "disgusted" coeds on this campus. The suggestion would probably be made that they all should be dismissed.

What is wrong with the old adage, "Live and let live"? Coeds, you don't have to associate with these "wearers" of atrocious apparel." Don't date them. It couldn't be they they haven't asked you out could it?

Sincerely,
Bill Vaughn

Circle K Club Holds Banquet

The annual Circle K Club Banquet was held last Thursday night at the Mark Twain restaurant in New Providence.

Fred Alsop, outgoing president welcomed everyone to the banquet and introduced Price Hopsen, vice-president of the club, who in turn introduced Bill Dupe, head football coach at Austin Peay State College, who was the guest speaker for the evening.

Following Coach Dupe's talk Alsop introduced the guests of honor who were present at the dinner.

The guests included President and Mrs. Joe Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. John Peay, Mrs. Felix Woodward, Mrs. Dave Aaron, Miss Mary Beascham and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fredette.

Nine seniors present at the banquet were presented drinking mugs with their name, year they graduated, name of the college and the Circle K emblem painted on them. This is the first year that this has been done but it has been decided to make it an annual event with the banquet each year.

The seniors who received their mugs included Fred Alsop, Jimmy Coleman, Ed Fredette, David Gleason, John Martin, Bill Meredith, Henry Marver, David Watson and James Wiseman.

After the seniors were recognized Alsop presented the award to the outstanding club member, chosen by the members of the club. This year's winner was John Foy.

Kenneth Fussell, recently elected Lieutenant Governor of the Kentucky Tennessee District, was installed in his office by David Watson, out-going Lieutenant Governor.

The last action of the evening was the installation of the new officers for the 1964-65 year. Fred Alsop turned the gavel over to John Foy, president elect for next year.

Before adjourning the banquet, Foy called on Watson who presented a plaque to Watson on behalf of the club for his job this past year.

Kenneth Fussell then was recognized by the president and he presented a plaque to Watson on behalf of the club for his work during the past year as Lieutenant Governor.

Bill Norman was called on to lead the club and guests in the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the banquet was over.

Placement Office

pointments, which are arranged by the Placement Office, are a great aid in helping graduating seniors to find their first jobs. (Staff Photo by Billy Hurton)

The Placement Office is the gateway between the graduating senior and the world of work. Its motto is "Service to the student—service to the employer—service to the institution." It is a crossroads where the students and employers meet—and a busy intersection for there are also faculty, administrative officers, and alumni there.

Many opportunities exist in the Placement Office for service to students if they will avail themselves of those opportunities. It is the job of the Placement Office to put students in contact with jobs—and whether it is the right job for the right person is primarily up to the student.

The Placement Office at Austin Peay State College is relatively new, as such, Dean Bowman was the first Placement Director, but with the press of work the job of Placement Director was assigned to Mrs. Wanda Pincley, also assistant registrar.

Mrs. M. P. Bowman, dean of registrar, said, "Mrs. Pincley does an outstanding job and is really a fine person to work with."

To do this job, the Placement Office must have certain specific information requested by employers when they inquire about graduates. The student is the only one who can provide that information; hence, placement service requires the cooperation of the students.

One of the last jobs Dr. Rawlins performed on campus was the screening of students proposed for certain awards, all the necessary information should have been in the file of each graduate—but a number of them had failed to return the personal data sheet requested during the fall quarter.

Dr. Rawlins made the statement at that time that a student who could not cooperate by furnishing requested information certainly was not a good school citizen.

Mrs. Pincley has been with APSC since July 1, 1946. She is from Knoxville, is a graduate of Knoxville Business College and has attended Austin Peay State College. Her hobbies are like her work—too many. She enjoys reading, music, travel, crises, and her daughter, Betty Ann.

Her husband, Charles Pincley, is a graduate of U. T. Horticulture Major, and is owner of Wandland Nursery. Occasionally the Pincleys find time to re-discover the backside of their 200-acre farm and ride herd on 30 head of cattle. Mrs. Pincley admits that she's leaving the riding part of the job to others in the future—at least until she recuperates from a recent fall.

Mrs. Pincley attended the Southern College Placement Workshop in Atlanta May 7 and 8 and was encouraged to learn that all the other colleges represented had problems similar to those in her own office. They all claimed to be overworked and understaffed, but the general idea was that they evidently were not too busy to do the job, inasmuch as they had been requested to do it.

She also learned that other colleges have seniors who turn in sloppy data sheets, or none at all, and fail to show for appointments; and that they have a lot of the same conscientious, co-operative students like so many at APSC.

Also like APSC, they even had a few who had never learned to write an acceptable letter of application. We think that problem will be whipped if we can get the students to use the Placement Annual for such information. It's full of good information for the job seeker. Freshmen and others are welcome to such information also.

Mrs. Pincley says that her office has tried reaching the seniors by mass communication in the past. Next fall a new approach may be tried—if they're not too swamped with other work. She says if they cry long and loud enough that they're overworked and understaffed perhaps someone will eventually hear them—by then, she means Mrs. Pincley and a part-time student worker!

The Placement Office has no closed seasons—it is an open hunting round for employers during all seasons of the year.

Superintendents hunting for elementary teachers are the most frequent visitors or callers—and the ones who leave most often with empty game bags. Their hue and cry is: "What's wrong with teaching youngsters?" We could wish that some of the social studies and coaching people would reconsider elementary teaching!

Careers

DOUG STAMPER

DON WOOD

STEVE MILLER

Last week terminated the college careers for six Governor athletes as the OVC tournament and playoffs were held. Doug Stamper, voted most valuable senior athlete at APSC, played his final game as third baseman in the split of the double-header with Tennessee Tech last Thursday. Stamper batted .291 for the baseball squad with one home run and five runs batted in and won the Russell Award for baseball this year.

Stamper was also an all-OVC standout for the 1963-64 version of the Governor basketball squad and was chosen the most valuable basketball player.

The flashy all-around athlete is majoring in health and physical education with a minor in geography.

Don Wood finished his four-year career as the senior captain of the golf squad.

Wood has won over half his regular season contests during his college career and proved to be a steady shooter for Coach Sherwin Cliff's linksmen.

Donnie is a native Clarksvillian, majoring in physics and mathematics.

Steve Miller also closed out his career in intercollegiate golf competition, playing in 13 of 15 regular season matches this spring.

Miller was also a standout in basketball at the center position. He scored 286 points and recovered 167 rebounds.

The lanky Louisville, Kentuckian, is graduating with a degree in industrial arts with a minor in business.

RALPH GRANT

FRED ALSOP

BLAKEY BRADLEY

Ralph Grant, chosen the most valuable tennis player for the 1964 season, ended his college career in the OVC meet last week-end.

Grant was chosen the outstanding back in the 1962 Chariot Bowl game during his three years on the football team.

He has a double major in biology and chemistry and has been chosen to study dentistry at the University of Tennessee next fall.

Fred Alsop, a native of Hawesville, Ky., ended his career in intercollegiate tennis last week-end also.

Alsop served as president of the senior class and Circle K Club and received the award for the graduating senior man showing distinguished citizenship while at APSC.

Fred will receive a degree in secondary education with a major in art and a minor in biology.

Blakey Bradley ends a brilliant track career with the running of the Fort Campbell Invitational this Saturday.

Bradley had scored 280 1/4 points in his college career up to the OVC meet. He was hampered by a leg injury all this season.

Blakey is a native Clarksvillian, receiving his degree in health and physical education and has been granted a graduate assistantship to Auburn University for next fall.

APSC Golfers Finish 4th In OVC Tourney Tennis And Track Teams Finish In Last Place

Last Friday and Saturday saw the close of spring sports in the Ohio Valley Conference. The OVC track meet was held at Murfreesboro, the baseball playoff was held at Murray, Ky., and the tennis and golf matches were held in Bowling Green, Ky.

Baseball

Murray State College won the baseball playoff, defeating Morehead State in two straight games for the conference title.

Murray State was the winner of the Western Division of the OVC while Morehead represented the Eastern Division of the conference.

The scores of the two games were 4-0 and 2-0.

Austin Peay State College wound up in fourth place in the Western Division with a 4-8 conference mark. They defeated Murray State three out of four games during the regular season but could not handle the other teams, losing to Middle Tennessee three times and to Western Kentucky four times.

Golf

Middle Tennessee State captured the OVC golf title for the fifth straight year. MTSC had a team total of 595 for the two day match, 15 strokes ahead of Murray State.

Other team scores were Western Kentucky 608, Austin Peay State College 610, Eastern Kentucky 621, Eastern Tennessee 625, Tennessee Tech 634 and Morehead 639.

Individual honors went to MTSC freshman George Copbill, who won the OVC individual title on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff with Carl Kettenacker of Eastern Kentucky after they wound up regular play tied at three-under-par 145.

APSC's Don Wood and Tom Van Briston of Western Kentucky tied for third place with scores of 148. Wood had the best round of the day on Saturday when he shot a two-under-par 72.

16 Coeds Named To Governettes

Sixteen Austin Peay State College coeds have been selected to be members of the Governettes for the 1964-65 academic year.

The Governettes, a nationally known dance and drill team, are under the direction of Dr. Aaron Schmidt.

Those selected include Rosemary McLaughlin, Pleasant View; Betty Sue Smith, Springfield; Judy Larkins, Dickson; Linda Hendley, Gail Godwin and Kaye Westbrook, Linden; Judy Keys and Jeanne Durham, Gallatin; Cecilia Stanfield, Chattanooga; Bernice Adair, Kingsport; Faye Sullivan, White Bluffs; Nancy Branson, Clarksville; Mary Ann Winicke, Owensboro, Ky.; Sandra Barnett, Pembroke, Ky.; Sue Jolly, Hopkinsville, Ky.; and Susan Lawrence, Guatemala City, Guatemala.

Other individual scores included Dan Lewis and Bob White of Middle Tennessee with 149; Fred Lancaster, Murray, and Jimmy Barber of APSC, 150; and Ted Hale and Lynn Newton, both of Murray, and Lee Campbell, East Tennessee, 151.

The fourth place finish by APSC marked one place improvement over last year. Since entering the OVC the golfers have finished sixth in 1962, fifth in 1963 and fourth this year.

Tennis

The OVC tennis crown also went to Murray State. They ousted defending champion Western Kentucky 35-33.

The victory for Murray marked the fifth time the school has won the crown in the 16 year history of the OVC tourney. Western Kentucky has won the title 10 times.

Larry Whitaker of Western was the only defending titlist to win his division.

The team champion was not actually determined until the first doubles finals were completed, the meet was so close.

Other participants, finishing in this order, were Eastern Kentucky 19, Middle Tennessee State College 14, East Tennessee State University 13, Morehead College 11, Tennessee Tech 10 and Austin Peay State College 9.

Track

The OVC track meet at Murfreesboro saw Western Kentucky hold the bid of Murray State for a seventh straight title by piling up 91 points to Murray's 76.

The number one and two teams almost completely dominated the tourney, collecting 167 points out of a possible 285.

East Tennessee can third with 27 points followed by Eastern Kentucky with 25, Middle Tennessee had 24, Tennessee Tech 17, Morehead 15 and Austin Peay State College had 10 points.

Every event in the meet except the 100 yard dash, the high jump and the javelin throw were either tied or broken in this year's meet.

The 10 points scored by APSC were won by Riley Holliday, who placed second in the javelin throw for four points; Tom Hinkle won four points with a second place finish in the mile run; Blakey Bradley scored one point with a fifth place finish in the high jump; and James Lamberson scored a single point with a fifth place finish in the 880 yard run.

Bradley established a new career point total in track with his point in the OVC meet, his total of 2911/4 broke Tom Phillips' record set during the year's of 1958-61.

Bradley will have one more attempt to add to his total as the Governor track squad will compete in the Fort Campbell Invitational this weekend.

The other APSC spring sports teams have completed their 1964 schedules. The golf team's record of 11-1 was the best won-loss record, percentage wise, in 15 years and the most total victories in the history of the school.

The 4-4 record of the track team was the best record by an APSC track team since 1955 and marked only the second time in the history of the school that a track team has had a .500 won-loss record for dual meets.

The baseball team closed with a 4-8 OVC mark and a 6-13 overall mark. The tennis team finished the season with a record of two wins and eight losses.

The New York Yankees took over American League lead on June 15, 1963, and held it until the end of the season.
