Last Thursday 830 students went to the polls and elected Henry McCaslin, president; Larry Haley, vice-president; and Judy Dias, secretary-treasurer. A debate was held between the candidates with Carol Catalano as moderator on Tuesday night, April 23, in the Student Center. A large crowd was present to support and question those up for election.

The second ticket consisted of John Foy, for president; John Martin, for vice-president; and Judy Griffin, for secretary-treasurer.

Fred Alsop ran as an independent in the race for president. The voting of the 62.9 percent of the 1321 eligible students went like this:

PRESIDENT
McCaslin — 356
Alsop — 271
Foy — 201
VICE-PRESIDENT
Haley — 492
Martin — 330
SECRETARY-TREASURER
Dias — 511
Griffin — 315

This is the first time that three candidates running on the same ticket have been elected to office.

The two voting machines used this year were another first for the election at APSC.

Thursday's voting ended one of the most enthusiastic and controversial campaigns ever held on campus.

April 17 officially began the campaign when posters and banners were put up to influence votes.

In assembly, Wednesday, each of the candidates gave a campaign speech.

The campaign managers for the election were: David Watson for the McCaslin, Haley, J. Diasticket; Webb Cate for the Foy, Martin, Griffin Ticket; and Bobby Johnson for Fred Alsop, the independent.

Plans for the coming year are already being formulated by the new officers of the Student Council who will assume their duties in June. "We will be meeting and working all through the summer to complete plans for fall quarter," said Henry McCaslin, president-elect. He added that the main objective at the present is the ratification of the new constitution and the organization of a new and better student government.

The McCaslin, Haley, Dias campaign platform, which has the basis for the blueprints, will be the basis for the blueprints. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Lettermen In Concert At 8

The Lettermen, whose latest album "College Standards" is among the top 50 albums, will appear at Austin Peay State College in concert, May 1, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium.

The singing group has appeared on campuses of several colleges that are familiar to us in this area. At Tennessee Tech, they proved to be one of the best concert attractions to ever appear on that campus. The Lettermen have also appeared at Western Kentucky State College, Middle Tennessee State College, and other colleges and universities in the states of Tennessee and Kentucky.

The Lettermen will be remembered for such great hits as "The Way You Look Tonight," "When I Fall In Love" and "Come Back Sissy Girl." The Lettermen's version of "Valley High" also proved to be one of the nation's top hits.

On stage the Lettermen devote most of their show to singing.

but when they are not singing, they are joking with each other and playing instruments. The Lettermen sing a wide variety of songs ranging from folk and ballads to pop songs. They are enjoyed by both young and old.

Tickets are $2.00 in advance and $2.50 at the door. The tickets are available at New's Record Shop or may be secured from any member of Austin Peay State College's Student Council or students at Clarksville High School.

Big Brother Is Watching You

"Big Brother is watching you!" This now familiar line taken from the play "1984," adapted from the best-selling novel by George Orwell, which is being staged by the AP Playhouse May 2, 3, and 4.

This thought-provoking story deals with the theme of control over the mind. Set in Oceania, a nation of "human robots," the words, actions and very thoughts of the people are controlled by a power symbolized as "Big Brother."

The inhabitants are watched and heard every minute of their lives by members of the "Inner Party."

The main characters of the drama are Winston and Julia, two workers in the Ministry of Truth, whose jobs are to destroy all of the great literary works of the past and to re-write history to read as the Party desires. Winston and Julia commit one of the worst crimes possible in Oceania — They fall in love. The leading roles are played by Billy Vaughn and Jean Hudson. Doug Tidwell and Marty Arnold have strong supporting roles, along with Alvin Basm, Nancy Davis, Anita Needham, Ronald Cole, Jim Sanford, Jan Nevels, Aurora Jean Gibson and John Everett, as the announcer. John G. Griffin is director of the show, which is being produced by arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Watson Is Lt. Governor

David Watson, junior industrial arts major at Austin Peay State College, has been elected lieutenant-governor of Division 3 of the Kentucky-Tennessee district of Circle K International. Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Watson of 223 North Clearview Drive, Clarksville, was selected over a field of candidates at the Kentucky-Tennessee district convention held in Knoxville.

Watson is a former Key Club president at Clarksville High School. He served as freshman and sophomore class president at APSC; has been a member of the Student Council for three consecutive years; and has been instrumental in the past three homecomings at APSC.

Watson and Bobby Johnson, current president of Austin Peay State College's Circle K Club, were the official delegates from APSC at the convention that attracted 110 Circle K members from 15 colleges and universities.

Other officers elected for the 1963-64 academic year were: Herman J. Sealamp, governor; Carson-Newman Division 1 Lt. Governor, John S. Dade, Kentucky Wesleyan; Division 2 Lt. Governor, Bill Sone, Pikeville College; Division 4 Lt. Governor, Fred Humphreys, University of Tennessee; secretary, Dennis Edelman, Maryville College; and treasurer, Bob Martin, University of Tennessee.

Activity Fund

Each year the State Board of Education appropriates a certain amount of money for Austin Peay State College. When the budget is set up for the year, portions of this sum are designated as the Student Council Fund, the Dormitory Fund, the Homecoming Fund, etc.

For this 12 month period the Student Activity Fund holds $2500 to be spent on social functions for the students. The fund is supervised by Miss Mabel Meacham, Dean of Women, who is responsible for signing the bills which come in for the regular yearly activities and approving the small social functions that vary from year to year, the cost of which is taken out of this fund.

The activities covered by this money and the approximate amounts which can be spent are the Christmas Dance ($400), Valentine Dance ($400), Iris Ball ($400), and the remaining $1300 is allocated to the Freshman Orientation parties, Student-Faculty Reception and Dance, Homecoming, Aloha Ball, Summer Watermelon Feasts and various small social affairs which do not exceed $35-$50.

Since a limit is placed on each activity, the money spent on one function does not decrease the amount left to spend on another. However, if at the end of the year the fund is overdrawn, bills may be paid with the money that is left in another fund. The books are balanced and ready for a new year.

In reality, no money is ever circulated by the fund supervisor or sponsors of the affairs. The bills are signed and sent to the business office where the books are kept for the appropriation.

Discarded placecards—half-smoked cigarettes—tattered banners—defeating silence. Thus ends another campaign. Another Rubicon. Yet endings are only beginnings in disguise. The election has been won, but there awaits the job to be done. As in all elections, there can be only one winner and many losers. Having been defeated, some may continue to stress partisan politics. The continuance of such hostilities, no matter how cleverly concealed, is a detriment to efficient government. THE GOAL OF ALL FACTIONS MUST NOW BE THE WELFARE OF THE WELFARE OF APSC AND ITS STUDENTS. We can attain this goal only by giving sincere and enthusiastic support to our duly-elected officers. Anyone who seeks to carry out his grievances by defying their program is a double loser. He has not only lost the campaign, but also his respect for the democratic way of life.

A student government without the backing of all the students is worthless. Because the student body has put very little effort behind its government, it has gotten very little results. The voter must not feel that he has done his share and that all which remains to be done is the responsibility of the new officials. Better student government does not come by electing new leaders or by rewriting the constitution. It can only come through active student participation and support of the leaders and the constitution.

We have elected very capable officers for next year. If each of us will do his part, these officers can and will give us a year well worth remembering. Let's forget our petty differences and work for a greater Austin Peay State College.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

Now that I have finally struggled through my freshman and sophomore years at APSC I am preparing to attempt my final two years of engineering at UT.

In evaluating the past two years here, I have arrived at several conclusions that I hope will make life easier and even more prosperous in my final stage of the game. Maybe "The All State" readers will be interested in these five suggestions as I arrived at them through other students' experiences as well as my own:

1. Put more stress on learning how to get information than upon information itself. In the years to come the rules and formulas will be forgotten and our time at APSC will be wasted unless we know how and where to find this information.
2. Strive to develop concentration. Study harder, but not so long. In my experiences in studying for exams I have found that it is best to put up the books by at least 12 p.m. If I study later than this, my mind just becomes jammed with knowledge that cannot be assimilated the next day during the exam.
3. Develop our capacity for friendship. The only way to have a friend is to be a friend. One can accomplish this to a degree by being very active in one of the clubs on campus. I feel it would be to my advantage and the club's advantage if I limited my activities to working in only one club whose activities were such that I could appreciate them and render my services.
4. Learn to do one thing especially well. Mastery seems to be the forgotten objective of modern education.
5. Become better acquainted with the professors in addition to the subjects they teach. I shall take some courses with professors that have a reputation for being "hard," but I shall not again take a course under a professor who has a reputation for giving an extraordinary number of bad grades. It seems that some few professors have a phobia of giving grades above a D, as I experienced the fall and winter quarters of this semester. I took World Literature under Dr. Hodges. I shall take these two quarters over this summer, and never again shall I try to make a grade under a professor who has never given a decent grade.

There is no reason why we cannot start thinking right now on improving our present habits for a better education next school year, and I hope it will be a most prosperous and enjoyable year for all.

Sincerely,
Bill Hutton

To The Students of Austin Peay State College:

One of the most common statements heard on campus is, "I can't understand why everyone goes home every weekend." It is answered by, "There's nothing to do on campus. The place is dead." Yet, when there is some activity planned, how many students take part in it?

Here's the pitch — There is something happening at Austin Peay State this weekend. The Austin Peay Playhouse is presenting George Orwell's "1984." How large a student turnout can the Playhouse expect . . . 150, 200 at the most. It seems fruitless at times to spend roughly 80 hours rehearsing a show to present before about 300 people, including Clarksville and Ft. Campbell citizens.

How many of these people are your friends? — Billy Vaughn, Jean Hudson, Marty Arnold, Doug Tidwell, Alvin Baum, Nancy Davis, Anita Needham, Ronald Cole, Jim Sanford, Jan Newells, Aurora Jean Gibson, Sandy Davenport and John Everett. They compose the cast of "1984." Why not show them that their talents are appreciated?

This isn't a sob story — we're not begging people to come to the play. A great deal of the pleasure of working with a production comes from rehearsing and meeting new people. Yet, it means a great deal to have a group of people on the other side of the footlights supporting you.

Why not stay over this weekend and enjoy yourself on campus? I've watched rehearsals, and promise you a good show — that is if you like to be shocked, and most people do. Hope to see you there.

Sincerely,
Billy Se. John

Bell And Bradley Chosen For April

By Trudy Brotherton

Jimmie Lee Bell, a sophomore from Dickson, has been named "Miss April."

Jimmie Lee, who has an older sister who is a senior at Austin Peay State and a younger brother in high school, explains that she was named "Jimmie" because her parents were expecting a boy.

Jimmie Lee is a resident of the newly finished Blount Hall. She states that living conditions have improved greatly since the workmen left last fall. "I think the living conditions depend a lot on the dorm supervisor, and we are lucky to have Mom Smith who is as understanding as our own mothers," she explained.

Jimmie continued to say that she accomplishes more studying in the dormitory than at home over the weekends. She also added, "Of course, when you're living in a dorm, there is always

House Council Is Elected

The 1963-64 officers of the Harvill Hall House Council were elected last Tuesday night.

They are: Karen Gowen, president; Pat Cooper, vice-president; and Sylvia Gregory, secretary-treasurer, all seniors next year. There will also be three representatives from the junior class on the Council. They will be elected this spring from the third quarter sophomores in Blount Hall.

These girls will take over the duties of the present officers, who are: Ann Underwood, president; Katherine Wright and Nancy Apple, vice-presidents; and Nancy Burney, secretary-treasurer.

The new officers hope to have the support of the student body to make next year a success.

"Throughout the campaign we tried to emphasize teamwork and how important it is to us and to APSU," Haley said.

Big Brother

someone you can talk to instead of studying, so you do have to budget your time."

A math major and a physics minor, Jimmie Lee hopes to attend graduate school. "I will probably work in industry for a while, but I plan to make teaching my vocation," she said.

When she enrolled at Austin Peay State, she did not realize the responsibility a teacher has in guiding students in areas other than academic learning. She further stated, "I had always planned to teach in high school; however, I now believe I would enjoy teaching some on the college level."

Jimmie Lee's interests include sewing, water skiing, spectator sports, and music; and she plays a bass-clarinet during the concert band season and is a flutist with the marching band.

She is a member of the SNEA, Student Council, Del Square Psi, and president of the Wesley Foundation. Vice-president of the Episcopi Club, secretary-treasurer of the Galois Math Club, and secretary for the mathematics department.

By Trudy Brotherton

Blakey Bradley, a junior from Clarksville, has been chosen "Man of the Month" for April.

With a double major in health and physical education and history, Blakey is the last of three brothers to graduate from Austin Peay State College.

His plans following graduation include coaching and teaching school, preferably outside of Clarksville.

During the summer Blakey works for the City Recreation Department as park director. His main interest is athletics, and he is presently a member of the track team and has been on the basketball squad for three years.

Blakey stated that one of his two most important goals is to enter in basketball in college. "I was from Clarksville and never lettered in basketball at Austin Peay State before, and I would like to break that record," he explained.

Blakey, who is 6-5 and weighs 185, also hopes to break a track record at APSU. He has come within a half an inch of this second goal, which is a high jump of 6-2 1/2. He added, "The world's record high jump of 7-6 1/2 is held by a man who is 6-0."

In addition to sports, Blakey is a member of the Circle K Club, president of the Koinonia Club (the Church of Christ organization on campus) and the P. E. Majors Club.

He likes the student-teacher relations at Austin Peay State. All of my teachers are friendly, and since this is a small college, they know most of the students," he said.

Open House This Sunday

Open House will be held in the men's and boys' dorms Sunday, May 5, from 2-4. The girls' dormitories will be open from 2-3 and the boys' dorms will be open from 2-4. Refreshments will be served in the Student Center.

USAF Team On Campus

The United States Air Force selection team from the Clarksville Air Force recruiting office will visit the Austin Peay State College campus May 6.

Sergeant Eual D. Dean and Captain Abby of the USAF recruiting service will be in the Student Center next Monday and will be available to answer any questions the students may have.

Application for the Air Force Training School program will be available for those students who wish to fill one out.

Further information concerning the USAF programs may be obtained by contacting Sergeant Dean at 111 South Second Street, Clarksville, or phone 647-6586 (day); 645-2156 (night).

Mason Goes To U. Of Fla.

David L. Mason, senior at Austin Peay State College, has accepted an assistantship in physics at the University of Florida. The announcement was made by Melburn Mayfield, head of the Physics Department at Austin Peay State College.

Mason, who resides at 1733 Haynes Street, Clarksville, is a physics and mathematics major and was graduated from Clarksville High School in 1959.

During his undergraduate career at APSU, Mason has received many honors and awards for outstanding work in several fields. He is currently president of Del Square Psi, honorary physics society; co-holder of the Halbert Harvill Scholarship in nuclear physics; member of the varsity baseball team; and past president of the Circle K Club.

Despite the imposing list of accomplishments, he has completed a 3.6 scholastic average based on a 4.0 system.

The Florida assistantship, providing $2400 over a ten-month period, was chosen in preference to a health physics scholarship at Harvard University. Discussing his choice, Mason indicated the Harvard position was of a more highly specialized nature, and stated his preference for a more general background at the present.

Following a second summer's work at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and his wife, the former Miss Judy Lantryp, will reside in Gainesville, Fla.

The 3rd annual All Golden Goose Tournament, which was jokingly named by a group of Austin Peay State College alumni, has just been completed. The newly crowned champ is Johnny Crow who turned in a fine performance with a 72 on the par 49 course at Percy Warner Park Golf Course at Nashville, Tenn. Graham "THE SLAMMER" Sugg ran away with the Green Gander Trophy by posting a brilliant 13. Graham will have the good fortune to cherish and honor this symbol of mastery for one calendar year.

APSC was well represented as Don Kessinger, Don Alsup, Bill Cobb, Bud Scott, Bill Russell, Bill Frenley, Sherwin Cliff, Dave Duncan, Hodge Jordan, and Don Doty were among the participants.

BASEBALL

Good news is always worth relating, and Rupert Baker is the news. Big Rup has finally broken his batting slump as he got two hits against MTSC in their recent meeting. Now that he has found himself we are looking for big things.

John Briggeman, who is holding down the first base position, goes to all extremes in the hitting department. In the first game of the twin bill against MTSC he went 0-3 and turned right around and went 4-5 in the night cap. It has been said by close associates of John's that he always shines, later at night.

Ken "Ripper" Connelly is continuing to hold down the mound honors by posting his 3rd win in six starts to lead the APSC pitching staff.

Disappointment is as common as good news. Rodney "Squeaky" Rogers, APSC's speedy shortstop, isn't hitting like he was last season. Rogers is probably the best long ball hitter on Coach Satterfield's team but has only hit for an extra base once this year. You always have to have that good boy to carry the load for the slumping few and this chap is our fine center fielder Jackie Winders. Jackie is batting at a .400 clip and has two doubles one triple and two homers to his credit.

That ever so familiar 3rd base coach has acquired some new glasses. I am sure he will be more certain from now on on any close calls that don't meet with his approval.

GOLF

TRACK

All of the sporting events our wonderful country is blessed with I would have to say that track is by far the most underrated. This writer isn't commenting on APSC turn-outs only, but the whole country in general has been holding back with their support for one of the most dramatic, exciting, colorful and desirable spectator sports in our nation.

You can't consider track like football, basketball or other team sports; however, I do realize it takes everyone's effort in order to be a winner. Track is a true example of the finest individual quality of athletic ability. A true performer will display courage, determination, sweat, concentration and will want to win with the heart. The winning effort is creditable only to the individual who trains his body and mind to become a champion.

Coach Gordon Schultz has set up and used a most interesting training program for his trackmen and the boys that have remained with him are benefiting in many respects. The will to win, the proper respect for their coach, meaning believe in him, trust his judgement and honor his decisions these qualities him, true his judgement and honor his decisions these qualities him, true his judgement and honor his decisions these qualities him.

So, if you are wondering where to spend those hours of what-to-do-next, the track team would be proud to see each and everyone of you supporting this fine and wonderful sport we are so fortunate to have.

Big Dave Satterfield has done it again. The strong man tossed the 16 lb. shot 46-1 1/2 for a new school record. If Dave keeps progressing there won't be a limit to his distances. He has thrown the shot better in an on track meet he has participated in. We just hope he doesn't toss it too far, after all, it took the authorities a year to get the shot he is throwing now.

DE YOU KNOW

That Tom Phillips holds the record for scoring the most points in a career in track here at APSC with 291 over the years of (1958-61). He scored (85) in '58, (82 1/2) in '59, (98) in '60, and (95 1/2) in '61.

Ted Potter scored the most points in a single season with 123 1/2 in 1959.

Dave Stoner scored the most points in a single meet with 21 1/4 in 1955 against Tennessee Tech.
