Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Lecturer, Speaks On Youth In U. S.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton, former president of the National Education Association and a noted lecturer and writer, held the interest of the College student body on Wednesday, April 14, with a talk on "Yourself."

Dr. Sutton, who is on the editorial staff of "The Readers' Digest," explained that to life a person is concerned with four fields, which are the following: yourself, your community, the national scene, and the international scene. We are responsible for our community and national life. The speaker commented that we must do our own thinking, and must ask ourselves the question, "What has been responsible for our success, and how can it be preserved?"

"Yourself," the field emphasized in the speech, implied that physical well being should be sought after by everyone. The personality of an individual is not inherited, but grows from physical health. The lecturer stressed that in order for a body to grow and influence character, one must appreciate it, from whence it came, and how essential it is to us. He illustrated this point with the quotation, "Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels." The following eight characteristics were given as necessary for being "just a man": physically robust, mentally strong, domestically true, polite, socially, vocationally correct, morally brave, spiritually deep, and socially adjusted.

The orator expounded that it was tremendously important for the woman also to be strong and healthy. A person is here for all times, to pass on the torch of the transitory but real part of life. "I am the way, the truth, and the light" was quoted to bring out the necessity of good health in parents.

As a last admonishment, Dr. Sutton stated: "We must be strong physically, that our children will be strong body and soul. We must be strong that we might live on and on in our off-spring. Live to be just like a man or a woman."

Psychology Students Visit Central State; Class Returns Intact

The Stewart building at seven o'clock on Thursday morning, April 22, was the setting for the departure of approximately 70 students who went to the Donnan Home for the Feeble Minded and Nashville's Central State Hospital to observe the psychological cases at these two institutions.

At Donelson Dr. Hyder delivered a most interesting lecture and exhibited individuals who represented different phases of feeble mindedness. After the lecture a tour was made of the different wards of the hospital.

The students ate lunch in Donelson and proceeded to the Nashville airport where they stopped for a short while.

At two o'clock the auditorium of Central State Hospital was the scene of the lecture given to the students by Dr. Zuk who also used special cases to illustrate the points which he made.

Having had no trouble and having spent an interesting and profitable day, everyone including Professor Moffitt returned home never to forget the experiences of that day!

Many Students Hear Guidance Day Speakers Wednesday

Nearly six hundred students took part in Vocational Guidance Day which was held at the college Wednesday, April 28. The program was sponsored by the Clarksville Rotary Club with Kenneth Curry, C. H. Moore and Dean M. P. Bowman serving on the general Rotary Committee. Dean Felix G. Woodward acted as emcee.

The students were from seven Middle Tennessee counties. These high school seniors heard speakers who represented various professions and trades, each speaker giving the advantages and disadvantages of his particular profession. The purpose of the clinic was to advise students in the choice of a vocation.

Sixteen professions were represented in the clinic including the following: Athletic Director, Electrician, Engineer, Homemaker, Nurse, Secretary - Bookkeeper, Teacher, Doctor-Surgeon, Mechanic, Photographer, Aviator, Beautician, Interior Decorator, Salesman and Farmer. The list of speakers included both local and out-of-town men.

In the evening, the college was host at a dance for the seniors held in Harrod Hall. A large number attended the function.

Athletics At APSC Are On The Upswing

Austin Pray's capable athletic director, David Aaron, is well satisfied with the progress the school has made concerning its athletic program.

The school is now sponsoring five sports: football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and golf. The latter three have been added this year.

In discussing A. P. S. C.'s present athletic program, Coach Aaron said, "The school is undertaking a tremendous job in the athletic field, but we feel that it is a necessary one. School sports are a vital and integral part of every student's education. Athletics foster school spirit, and school spirit is an absolutely essential if a college field expects to be a complete success."

"The tennis courts will be completed in the near future, and we expect to add track to our list of activities next year," he added. "Our program is rounding out nicely, and we hope to make further progress and improvement in the future."

Gower To Be Speaker At All State Banquet

Plans for the annual All state banquet have been made by the staff and sponsors. May 11 has been set as the date for the banquet which will be held at the College Cafeteria starting promptly at 6:30.

Those to be present will include the entire staff, sponsors, speakers, and their guests. Stanley Gower, editor of the Clarksville Leaf Chronicle will be the principal speaker.

A committee composed of Sarah Linehan, Josephine Duke, Jean Swift, and Jacqueline Fain will have charge of arrangements. Members are urged to report to this committee the names of their guests as soon as possible.

The All State banquet has become a tradition here at Austin Peay, and this year's promises to be one of the best.

Iris Queen Will Reign At Annual Ball May 7

Plans have been completed for the Iris Ball, the annual spring dance to be held here on the campus. The dance will be held in the lobby of Harrod Hall on May 7 from 8 to 12. Micky Fabrit and his orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. The highlight of the festivity will be the crowning of Miss Cherry as Iris Queen. Miss Cherry was chosen queen in an election held last fall.

Committees have been appointed from students and faculty to take care of decorations, crowning ceremonies, refreshments, and other activities. The theme of the decorations will of course be the Iris, the state flower. This motif will be further carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

The Iris Ball is the main social event of the season and everyone is urged to attend this formal affair.

John L. Sullivan Heads New Student Council; Armistead, Giles Win

John L. Sullivan, a junior, polled the majority of votes cast for president of the Student Council in the annual election held Friday, April 23, in the student room. He defeated Nita Peachey, who was running for Frank Miller when he takes office at the beginning of the next school year.

Thomas Armistead of Indian Mound defeated James Stagers for the vice-presidency, and Betty Giles won the position of secretary-treasurer over Jacqueline Fain of Dallas, Texas.

"John L." has served as manager for the football team, was chosen to be listed in "Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges," and has been active in veterans' affairs and extra-curricular work while here at the college. He was graduated from Clarksville High School, is married, and lives in "Kid's Korner" on the campus. Armistead is a senior, a junior, and is also married. Miss Giles is a local girl who attended Clarksville High School, and was outstanding in school activities while there. She has been active in both school and extra-curricular activities here at the college.

On Wednesday, April 23, the candidates for the various offices and their campaign managers made speeches before the assembly and each presented his campaign platform. The campaign managers were as follows: Peacher, Ralph Miller; Sullivan, Wilbur Marsh; Stagers, Norman Young; Armistead, Dalton Majors; Fain, Blue House; Giles, Creason Briggs.

The election brought out a large vote and considerable interest was displayed in the selection of council officers. An election committee composed of Dr. Charles S. Pendleton, Frank Miller, Peggy Jo Bridgewater, George Morton, Louis Catigian, John Boyd, Sam Winters, Edison Miller, Charles Bourne, and Charles Linehan supervised the election which was staged in a dignified and orderly manner.

Veterans' Club Gives Square Dance

Decorated with bales of hay and colored balloons, the Clarksville Armory was the scene of an old-fashioned square dance Saturday night, April 24. The affair was under the sponsorship of the Harper Veterans Club of A.P.S.C.

The dance was called by Sally Merritt, with music being furnished by Kenneth O'Quinn and his "Musical Mountaineers."

Cake walks were the highlight of the evening. The cakes were contributed by the Students' Wives Club.

A MIRACLE AT SANGO

Miracles do not usually happen right here in Montgomery County. Yet what took place last week on a run down farm in the Sango Community borders on the miraculous. The farm of Tandy Richardson, a veteran who is taking agricultural training here at the college, was chosen by his class to demonstrate what could be done to an old worn out farm if all available resources were used.

On the morning of April 27, a Cavalcade of Construction swarmed down the highway leading to the farm in the Sango Community. When they arrived, tractors dug deep into waste land, porthole diggers, fertilizer spreaders, and bulldozers battled in the red clay. Ponds were dug, terraces constructed, buildings painted, and gullies were filled. Fields were laid off according to a model plan, and the landscape took on a new aspect. By nightfall the miracle had been performed. What was once an old eroded and worked to death farm was transformed in one day to a new productive farm for 20th century living. In one short day the value of the farm tripled.

But moving from the economic aspect let us look at a point that is more important. This whole demonstration is an example of what cooperation and good neighborliness can do. Machinery was contributed by various dealers, money was given by Clarksville merchants, and the labor and know how was provided by the agricultural training class and their supporters. Many of the County's farms could use a similar "face lifting". Cooperation and good neighborliness is the answer to this and many other of our needs of today.

THE ELECTION

On April 23 students here at the College had a lesson in democracy in action. On that day 71 per cent of the students went to the polls and voted for the candidate of their choice for the office in the Student Council for next year. The election was conducted in the same way that democratic elections are held all over the United States, so that those who have never voted in an official election have now experienced another step in their training for good citizenship. The Student Council, the Election Commission and the Administration are to be commended for making possible this election and are to be complimented on the orderly and dignified way in which the entire campaign was conducted. Not a single incident marred the whole affair.

The All State salutes the newly elected officers and the student body pledges its full support. All the candidates who ran for office were capable and all would have made good officers, but all could not win. The losers displayed the best of sportsmanship, and we feel sure that they as well as their supporters will cooperate to the fullest extent with those who were elected.

Just as it is true in most elections, the number of eligible voters was greatly in excess of the number who cast their ballot. The register of those eligible listed 169 names; the total number of votes cast was 264. This was a good showing, but the per cent should have been at least 98 instead of 71. This per cent is practically the same as last year's, so here is a challenge to the new officers and the student body for next year. Let's see if we can't raise that figure to nearly 100 per cent.

SILENCE

"Silence is golden"; and since it is, a place where silence is maintained is a place to be desired by persons wishing to study or think. The library here at school is such a place. It is a place where one can concentrate, study, rest, or—yes, even sleep. Most thoughtful people truly appreciate our library and are grateful for the efficient way in which it is run.

As we pointed out, our library is usually quiet, that is, until one of a group of four or five professors enters and starts a search for a book. Then the golden silence is shattered by the rapping of toes on an unobstructed floor. Just what prerogative these few individuals possess is quite beyond our ability to comprehend. It would seem that the librarian's whispered reply to their inquiry would serve notice that their vocal volume needs adjusting. But it doesn't. The conversation continues in a half-and-half manner until the mission is accomplished. Then silence reigns again.

The above comment is not intended as malicious. It merely presents one of life's little oddities and most of all it helps to fill this column.

A REMINDER

The end of the year is not too slowly approaching. This always means an extra special amount of activities to take up everyone's time. What with all the parties, dances, banquets, graduation, and so forth—not to mention examinations—soon to come, it's a wise student who does his outside work for his classes now. There is no time like the present to write those term papers, make book reports, and finish special projects. There will be enough time for everybody to do at the end of the quarter without having to think of the things that they could and should do now. Don't let the time slip up on YOU!

Rattle! Rattle!

Are you in favor of the segregation of popcorn-eaters at the cinema? If you answer in the affirmative, you will probably recognize the following types of pop-corn-eaters that one encounters at the movies. If you answer in the negative, you are either deaf, or if the shoe fits wear it.

1. The hand-in-bag type — the muller or handwarmer. He doesn't miss a kernel—shoving the luscious snowy substance into his cave-like aperture with a technique known only to this "cornvorous" breed. Nothing short of two bags per sitting for his homie—he's always hungry.

2. The synchronized type — This precisionist sits mesmerized by the screen. Every time his elbow bends his mouth flaps open. He rarely plucks more than one or two kernels from the bag and (bless him!) doesn't make too much noise.

3. The greedy type—This dilatory moron absolutely refuses to withdraw his hand from the popcorn bag until his fist is cramped to capacity. The suffering audience endures, on the average, 15 seconds of rattling per dig.

4. The incessant type—a tantalizing nerve-graver. He makes sporadic attacks at the popcorn bag—usually at five-minute intervals, finding it impossible to eat and watch the show simultaneously.

5. The funnel type—A rather purple germinal who looks as if he's trying to ram the whole popcorn bag down his throat. When he finishes, he always vomits the bag and throws it three or four aisles.

6. The self-conscious type — This shrinking violet rarely eats popcorn at the cinema. In fact, he feels rather guilty about the whole thing. Realizing the spongy popcorn-eaters cause some movie fans, he tilts the bag at a slight angle, sneaks individual kernels, and is reasonably quiet about it.

The next time you attend the movies see how many of these types are in your proximity. They are there. They are always there.

Announcement

The Home Economics Club is selling varied assortments of thank-you notes, birthday and get well cards, correspondence notes, stationery, engraved and plain and prepared boxes of gift wrapping paper, seals and ribbon. The economical assortments are always handy to have on hand, so see Miss Henderson or a club member soon about your order.

All State Staff Meets At Editor's Home

All State Staff members and faculty advisers met at the home of the editor, Charles Waters, Tuesday evening, April 23.

Assignments were made for the next issue, the annual banquet was discussed, and plans were made to award keys to various staff members.

Refreshments were served following the business session.

The judge disgusted by a number of divorces in town finally tacked a sign on the door: "Mediate well, girls, before you make your decision. Remember alimony is next to useless on a cold night."

Last night I held a little hand,
So dainty and so sweet,
I thought my heart would surely break,

So wildly did it beat.
No other hand in all the world
Can greater solace bring
Than the pretty hand I held last night -
Four aces and a king.

I bought a dress on the installment plan,
The reason, of course, to please a man.
The dress is worn, the man is gone,
But the darn installments go on and on.

The deaf man sitting in the front pew spotted a new man in the pulpit chair.

"Who's that?" he asked a fellow worshipper behind him.

"New Deacon," was the answer.

"New dealer, eh?" the deaf one asked.

"He's the son of a bishop."

"Yes," the deaf one nodded, "they all are, ain't they?"

"I hope so. He can't make a living just making love to girls."

A young wife had just told her friend that she was going to have a baby.

"Bill and I wanted a new car," she said, "and we wanted a baby. But we couldn't afford both."

"You made the right choice, my dear," said her friend.

"Yes," said the mother-to-be, "we picked the baby because we could get delivery sooner."

Knoxville Pastor Addresses A. P. S. C. At Chapel Program

Dr. Henry J. Stokes, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Knoxville addressed the student body on Wednesday, April 21. He was introduced by Dr. Richard Owen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Clarksville.

Dr. Stokes, using an illustration the story of the 700 qualified men who were able with their left arm to throw within a hair's breadth of an object, brought out how important it is to overcome the obstacles in life. He stressed that one should refuse to let a handicap interfere with his spirit of achievement and that he should use what he has to his best advantage.

The speaker explained that one of the main difficulties of Christianity is that the world has not been able to take in the simplicity by which God is revealed.

Education Classes Enjoy Fishing Trip

On Wednesday, April 21, Elementary Education majors enjoyed a fishing party and hamburgers fry at Cunningham Lake. The group fished, played softball, and had a delicious supper of hamburgers with all the trimmings.

After supper dancing began in the old log lodge to the strains of the Nickelodeon.

The party was such a success, and everyone enjoyed it so much, that plans for a return trip are being made.

The party was sponsored by Miss Willy Stevens, the Professor of Elementary Education.

Psychology Students See Child Development Film

A series of six films on child development were shown in the auditorium, Thursday night, April 15. Dr. Arnold Goesselt, outstanding child psychologist in the United States acted as narrator, as the films were made in his laboratory at Yale University. Of special interest to psychology students, the mental and physical development of the first 18 months of a child's life were shown. The series consisted of movies every four weeks from the time the child was four weeks old to 18 months of age.

Students' Wives Club Announces Meeting Dance

At the regular meeting of the Students' Wives Club, Thursday, April 15, plans were made to assist the Veterans Club in holding their square dance. Volunteer committees were set up to bake cakes for the cake-walk feature. It was also decided that the club would have the second Wednesday of each month as its regular meeting date, and call-meetings whenever necessary.

After the business session, the group played cards, with Mrs. Bruce Corbitt and Mrs. Jerry Peacher winning the prizes. Mrs. Donald Miller and Mrs. Richard Fowles served as the social committee. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Art Brooks, Mrs. Bruce Corbitt, and Mrs. Ernest Miller.

Sully Says

The tennis courts are shaping up nicely. Concrete has been poured for two of them and from general appearances they should have a two-fold use—the other use being an outside dance floor for summer events.

It won't be long 'til you tennis players can obtain all the blisters and athlete's foot you desire besides beating the nets black and blue or seeing your buddies all you please.

Recreation from Kid's Korner has taken a new slant. Dr. Collinson purchased a new fangled swing for his back yard and the College donated an additional two. This was all right for the older kids but, due to hazards the youngsters had to spectate only. Well, the Doc handled that situation also by creating a non-spill rubber tire contraption he suspended from a tree. Now everyone's satisfied except the grown-ups, for you occasionally catch one of them swinging when no one else is looking.

The golfers and racquetballers did exceptionally well in the tournament held at Murfreesboro recently despite the lack of practice. All are to be commended for their never die attitude.

Governors Blast Bethel For 16-8 Win

"Chigger" Ruble and D. Hardwick co-starred in a slugging battle at the plate to send Bethel College back to McKinney deflated, disheartened and well defeated.

Both Ruble and Hardwick collected four hits in six trips to the batter's box.

Bryant and Hardwick started the first inning with a single and a homer respectively to give the Red and White a two run lead. Thereafter scores were added as they were needed until the eighth frame, in which the Governors got nine hits and eight runs which iced the tilt.

Jack Boyd went the entire route for the Governors scattering 13 hits to allow only eight runs.

Hall started on the rubber for Bethel but was removed in favor of Russel in the 3rd after giving up six safeties and five runs.

Murray State Teachers played bitter hose to Austin Peay by rallying in the late stages to down the Governors 8-2.

Andy Siltz started for the Governors and served the throughbreds nothing but blanks for six innings. Finley took over in the seventh and was relieved by Outrell in the eighth.

Finley smashed out two triples to lead the hitting and was given ample support by Louis Catignani, who collected two singles.

Austin Peay's Golf And Tennis Teams Lose First Matches

The Austin Peay State College golf and tennis teams haven't tasted the fruits of victory yet.

The golf team was trounced 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 by Middle Tennessee State College, April 19, at Murfreesboro.

Tennessee Tech edged the Governors in a hotly contested match 11 1/2 to 6 1/2 at the Clarksville Country Club, April 23, with the locals losing on the last hole.

The tennis team journeyed to Murfreesboro with the golf team and was blanked 6-0 by the M. T. - S. C. Blue Raiders. The Governor racquetballers played the match without benefit of any practice whatsoever, but still managed to press their opponents.

The golf team is composed as follows: 1. James Stone, 2. Paul Aaron, 3. John Livingstone, and 4. Fred Selp Jr.

Face-Lifting Program Attracts Thousands of Sightseers At Tandy Richardson Farm

Governors Bow To Lipscomb

The Austin Peay Governors dropped a 7-4 tilt to Lipscomb Bisons in their season opener April 12 at Nashville.

Cutrell started on the mound for the Governors and allowed eight scattered hits, six free passes and five runs in six innings. He was replaced by "Wrong Side" Stitt who gave up two bingles and a like amount of scores. Both pitched creditable ball.

The Peay nine scored their first run on a double by Lincoln and a single by Bridgewater. Ruble singled in the eighth, stole second and scampered home on Finley's single to center. The Gov's finished up their tallying with two in the ninth on singles by Self, D. Hardwick and Ruble.

A brilliant double play combination composed of D. Hardwick and Bryant clicked for two twin kills.

"Hack" Wilson performed on the hill for Lipscomb to gain six strikeouts while Cutrell got four and Stitt two.

D. Hardwick, Self, and Ruble took the batting honors for Austin Peay with two each as Keele led the Bisons with three.

Peay '9' Come From Behind For 9th Frame Tie, 7-7

The Austin Peay Governors scored twice in the ninth to deadlock the Cumberland Bulldogs for a 7-7 tie. The fracas was called by Jimmy Doaty at the end of the 10th due to approaching darkness.

Aaron and Cutrell delivered the goods for the Governors, while Hilton and Jennings supplied the mound for the Bulldogs.

Trailing by two runs going into the last of the ninth, B. Hardwick walked, D. Hardwick singled to left, an error was followed by Lincoln's single to right scoring the Hardwick brothers.

Neither team could tally in the 10th so took over. Plate power was displayed by D. Hardwick with three ca'ties and Ruble and Lincoln with two apiece.

A five star general was asked if he knew General MacArthur personally. "Know him!" he replied. "I studied dramatics under him for four years."

The lads at the corner drug store were exchanging stories about their experiences with the opposite sex.

"Aw!" sniffed one. "Girls are a dime a dozen!"

"Gee," sighed a younger lad, who had remained silent until now, "and all this time I've been buying jelly beans!"

If you think you are crazy, you're not; but if you think everybody else is—you are!

It's a smart girl who knows what she's talking about and "Nos" what he's thinking about.

This quarter is coming into the home stretch and summer vacations are in the immediate future for the majority of Austin Peayites. For some though summer will be just the beginning of another quarter.

SARA COWAN and ELOISE ROBERTSON plan to be here during the summer, also BUD and ESTHER STEVART. ELOISE has already started dividing her attention between MELVIN MAYNARD and CRESBON BRIGGS.

We would like to compliment the students and election commission on the way the campaign and election of Student Council Officers was managed. The efficient efficiency and cooperation of the students should be applauded. Congratulations to John L. Sullivan, Thomas Armistead, and Betty Giles for being elected.

Sun bathing has become a popular pastime on the campus among both the young men and women. More people are going around with that "tanned" look. MARY MANN, PRUDIE COTTRON, and JACQUE MARSH are among those who tortured themselves and they dare anyone to slap them on the back.

Everyone is still talking about the lovely "Wedding of the Week." MISS SEEGERS gave at the Demonstration School. Those who missed it, regret it.

We hope the tennis courts are completed soon so that JULIUS SNEED, SAM REEKS, DICK HARDWICK, LOUIS CATIONANI, SLICK AARON, and all the other tennis enthusiasts can demonstrate their prowess to the girls.

The baseball team has provided much glamour for the campus. DOROTHY BROOME finds baseball fascinating, as does EVA CLARK. Of course, CATLETT DARNELL and BEN FINDLEY do not have anything to do with this. No? Wonder why ELEANOR FOUST watches the team so attentively.

JIMMY DRYE and AMANDA MCCULLOUGH p have discovered each other, as have BUTCH HARRIS and FRANCES BRADLEY.

Saw FRANK MILLER and REBECCA at the square dance Saturday night. There was a big crowd including BUDDY DAVIS and LOUISE HEWITT, EVELYN BELL and LEON GARRITT, BILLY MILLER and wife and her, RAY RYE and MARY LOU FELTS, BILL BEAUMONT and ANN BRINTON, WES SORNEY and REBA FOWLES, and HENRY DUDLEY and his SALLY.

It is said that if a certain Harned Hall girl doesn't stop accepting more than one date at a time she is going to become an unhappy victim of circumstance.

MARION REEKS is certainly an attractive addition to the campus. Her charming personality and SALLY FRIENDLY manner make them a popular couple.

IF NIGGEO FOWLKS only knew how much a certain young lady would devote her time to entertaining him, we imagine he would be very surprised and pleased.

Could anyone suggest a better way to catch pneumonia than going swimming last week? MARTHA FAIN didn't catch pneumonia but it said their little dip was short-lived, and they haven't been back yet.

The Elementary Teachers picnic was a big success. ROBERT STOPHREL took MARY LOU MCCOBBE, EVELYN MCCRAW was with BRANDON BEULAH, SARA COWAN with WILBUR MARSH, and GLEN BROOME was with EVA CHEEK.

There were some switches made last week. MARY MANN had a date with WEYLAND ALAUP and BEVERLY SENESEY went with BILLY RANKIN. That is a friendly swap.

BOTTLE BROWN became a blonde over night. He says it was the sun, but we know better. J. D. JONES has several girls worried. They can't figure out why he likes to spend so much time with the girls already "taken" when he could make a lot of "un-taken" ones happy by his presence.

ANDY STITT has made more speeches in Speech class his quarter than anyone else. He must be bucking for an A or else he has a lot on his mind. Speaking of speeches, BLUE HOWES' campaign was clever and original. Wasn't it?

Are you ready for the Iris Ball? If you are not, it is through no fault of ours. Miss RUTH GARRISON has been sponsoring a dancing class every evening between six and seven for the last couple of weeks. Many beginners have learned the essentials and many dancers have leaped up on old steps. The dancing class has been the meeting place of many of the youths on the campus. It was lots of fun and lots of students hated to see the training come to a close last Thursday evening.

Paging Mrs. Anthony

Dear Mrs. Anthony,

I have a teacher who butchers the English language something terrible. Some days the constant repetition of the illiterate phrases makes me so nervous that I nearly go into a screaming fit. What can I do to keep this from making me nervous?

PERPLEXED

Dear Perplexed,

I dislike very much to put in writing what I think of any teacher directing a class who speaks butchered English. It's so important that every teacher, from the first grade through College, should be able to speak correctly to the people she teaches. It is unfortunate how many people in the teaching profession murder the King's English. There are teachers who come here every year for training that could grieve the hearts out of people who are grammar conscious. If they would allow it to do so. Yet they teach the youth of our country and are allowed to hold their positions until old age. I ask "Why is this person you ask about allowed to hold a teaching position?" From your question, I assume that you are in college to get the best and I can readily understand how it must get on your nerves. Correct grammar should be used in every class, not only in the English class. Why don't you explode in one of the classes and throw a screaming fit? Maybe it would make the teacher up make him realize how atrocious he must be rating himself as a teacher in his incoherent way. To protect your nerves, don't take any more classes from this instructor. Life is too short to pay someone to injure your nerves.

Dear Mrs. Anthony,

When a couple is planning to be married in the future and both wish to belong to the same religious denomination, who should make the change in order for them to do so, man or woman?

SINCERE

Dear Sincere,

If both are willing to accept either religion don't have a squabble over who should make the change. Don't ruin the sweet spirit of willingness here, just draw straws.

Dear Mrs. Anthony,

I have become greatly infatuated by a lady about five years older than I. How can I show her that this slight difference in age shouldn't interfere with our association?

DISTURBED.

Dear Disturbed,

After you're grown what difference does age make, especially five years? Do you think that the same old marriages are found among couples where the wife is the older? This is just an old custom about the man's being older than the woman. We've dropped so many of the good old things that should have been upheld and cherished forever. Why hold on to a trivial thing as a few years difference in a woman's age? Have you ever read Elinor Glyn's "One Week-End"? You won't find it on the college list of novels and I wouldn't advocate some of the things that took place in the book. The heroine in this story was five years older than the hero. They had lots of fun but don't you try some of the acts practiced in the story. I feel that you are capable of reading the story without adopting some of the practices.

Dear Mrs. Anthony,

I have been going with a boy for some time and love him very much. I believe that he loves me too, but he is rather timid and has not asked me to marry him. Since this is leap year, do you think it would be permissible for me to propose to him?

CO-ED.

Dear Co-ed,

Ask him if you want to, but who wants such a timid man for a husband. I'd rather have one who could speak for himself. Men who are that timid aren't any fun anyway. You want fun, don't you?
