Student Programs

The Student Program here at the Austin Peay Normal is an essential part of the general program of the school. The real purpose of the Student Program is to stimulate interest as well as to promote the talent of the individual student. The value of the Student Program lies in the realization that it acts as an instrumentality in affording an opportunity for the development of special interests among students and for the promotion of leadership. The Student Program is an absolute necessity in order to maintain a pleasant atmosphere on the campus, and the purpose as well as the value of such an enterprise is popularly recognized. This year, a Chapel Committee has been organized to insure the presentation of an interesting Student Program. The student body elected the chapel leader and is to be complimented for the wise selection made in choosing such a capable leader to represent it. At the same time a questionaire was given to the student body. This report served to determine the ability of the individual student, and also conveyed his personal preference in regard to the type of program desired. The chapel leader then selected a group of student assistants to cooperate with him and certain members of the faculty are planning a series of interesting programs to be presented, from time to time at the chapel program on those days set aside for the Student Program.

The Student Program is your program, instituted by the reason of your own choice. Speaking to you, simply as one student to another, I wish to take advantage of this opportunity (for I may not be granted the pleasure again) to appeal to you, on behalf of the faculty and the Chapel Committee, for your interest and participation in the promotion of our Student Program.

Nature Rambles

By Brodie Crouch

HARBINGER OF BOREAS

November! For the naturalist month will be one of sheer enjoyment, packed with a wide diversity of interesting phenomena. With few exceptions, the "last rose of summer" has faded away, and Nature's children are hastily bringing about the completion of their winter preparations. Trees, plants, and shrubbery have ceased to supply food to their leaves, and such specimens of these as have withstood the squalls of October will find much fascinating in their multi-hued arrays of red, magenta, green and gold. Even the bold bare trunks of the walnut, tulip, etc., adorned in their rugged simplicity, possess a singular enchantment of their own. Notice how some of the oaks and the beech cling tenaciously to their summer foliage, even though the resplendent green becomes, instead, a cheerless rust. Now is the time to keep eyes open for migrating fowls. One does not know when some unfamiliar minstrel may be espied near a clump of evergreens or other seed-bearing shrubbery. Certainly some transient guests will be stopping over on their long flight south. Of our own companions the mocking bird, cardinals, sparrows, and some robins will winter here, but most of the others will bid farewell to summer haunts. Many northern songsters will also make this their winter abode—who will be the first to enjoy the chickadees?

That frolicking squirrel dancing nimbly across the campus is a harbinger of mystery. Unintelligent, some say, but he isn't losing any time laying up his winter stores—and when Boreas shrieks he will not have forgotten where he stored them.

Every "last leaf" seen clinging to the topmost branch of a mulberry or other shrub should command a second glance. It may be a cocoon from which, with the first breath of spring, will emerge a rare species of moth, rich in delicate texture and exquisite beauty.

The blossoming season is over, but one should continue to search for that late specimen in the protected nook, and if warm weather is prevalent, there may be freaks.

When north winds blow, with nature's pagant marching, I have always to be awake, alert, and watching.

GOVERNORS AMASS TOTAL
OF 51 POINTS AS ALL RE-SERVES PLAY

By turning Murfreesboro Field into a race track, the Governors on the night of October 27, racked up their second successive victory in swamping the small Martin College football team by the score of 51 to 0.

With the second team starting, and the regular eleven playing only in the second quarter, the Red and White gridgers scored in every period, except the fourth and completely outclassed their light but scrappy opponents throughout the contest.

Governors Engage TPI Friday

APNS Gridders Travel To Cookeville For Homecoming Contest

For the second successive week-end, the Austin Peay Governors take part in a homecoming football celebration. Friday Coach Brown and his pickin' charges travel via bus to Cookeville to engage the T. P. I. Eagles.

Last week it was the Tennessee Wesleyan home-coming affair in which APNS participated and incidentally spoiled, holding their opponents to a 6-6 tie. The Governors are in good shape and will be ready to give their best in an effort to also upset whatever plant T. P. I. may have for a perfect day.

The T. P. I. boys have an unpredictable eleven which has risen to great height, during the season, but only last Friday fell before Cumberland, 6 to 0. The Lawyers won their first game in seven starts. However, the Eagles hold verdicts over the strong teams of Western Kentucky and Sewanee, and were leading the S. I. A. A. until they ran aground the present leaders. West Tennessee Teachers. Their season record to date, which includes four victories and three defeats is: T. P. I. 6, Chattanooga 27; T. P. I. 7, S. T. C. 0; T. P. I. 7, Western Kentucky 6; T. P. I. 13, Western Teachers 26; T. P. I. 7, Sewanee 6; T. P. I. 0, Cumberland 6.

The Cookeville team has been hampered somewhat all season by injuries to different ones of its star players, as practically all times some griddier was out of action. Due to this, Coach Oweh has been forced to use several of his charges in different positions to fill gaps left open by the injury link. However, despite this fact, the Eagles have presented a formidable array of grid talent on the firing line in every contest.

The boys who have seen the most service so far this fall for the Eagles are Captain Hamdorf, Hutcherson and Holland. APNS stalwart and Patton at tackle; Owens, Parker, and McClure, at guards; Ellis, who has managed to fill the center position with little aid; and in the backfield Barge, Draper, Hamilton, Mullican, Ewing and Henry.

This group will be planning to return to the win column after the last week's upset and will be fighting to the last ditch to give the home-coming crowd a T. P. I. victory.

The Governors, on the other hand, will be trying just as hard to pull its victories up on even terms with those trio of reverses. The APNS boys have improved steadily all season and have a fine chance of spoiling their second homecoming game in seven days.

The wearers of the red and white are in good shape and should be ready to go. The only casualties on the squad at present are "Skip" Anderson, who has had knee, Riech with a wrenched back, and Steve Sulentie, who has an injured ankle. The latter will probably be ready for action by Friday, and may start at tackle.

The Austin Peay offensive play is considerably better than in early season and the Big Red team is still that titan in defense. So, barring serious injury in this week's practice session, the Governors should give the Cookeville eleven plenty to worry about before their own counter is finished.

A TRIBUTE

The Austin Peay Normal School football team was paid a glowing tribute after their game with the U. S. Naval Base at Pensacola, Fla., recently by the means of an anonymous letter. The compliment was sent to Coach Brown by a Florida football fan, praising the Governors' good sportsmanship. The letter reads as follows:

APNS GRIDDERS FIGHT TO TIE IN CONFERENCE ENCOUNTER

The Austin Peay Normal School football team fought the second Tennessee Wesleyan College game to a 6-6 draw at Athens. The game, scheduled to have been played Friday night, November 4, was postponed because of a rain-soaked field, and was played Saturday afternoon, November 5.

The Tennessee Wesleyan team took advantage of a break and scored in the opening quarter. Austin Peay came back strong in the second half. Noles took the kickoff and raced back down the field.

The probable APNS lineup is English and Sleigh at ends; Captain Campbell and Sulentie or French at tackle; Smith and Carney at guards; Price at center, and Denton, Sandifer, Rodeheaver and Noles in the backfield.

Southern Illinois
Next week, on November 19, the Governors make their third straight foray on foreign soil, engaging the Southern Illinois Teachers at Carbondale, Illinois. This trip will complete the APNS excursions on the highways, as they return to the terrain of Murfreesboro on November 23 for the final set of the 1933 season, opposing the strong Western Kentucky freshmen.

Clarksville, Tenn.

Dear Sir:

I have just returned from the game your boys played with the Pensacola Naval Air Station, and I must compliment you and your team on their excellent playing and sportsmanship. I have been following football games for many years, but I have yet to see better sportsmanship than your boys displayed. So, here's to Austin Peay!

Yours truly,
A FRIEND,
Billy Hudson, Manager

The march was climaxed by End Clyde Sleigh catching a pass from Denton, Governor's quarterback, for a touchdown, that tied the score. English's place-kick was blocked and the score remained 6-6.

INTER-CLASS GRID CONFLICT GOES TO FROSH ON EARLY BREAKS

The Freshmen gridders of Austin Peay Normal School emerged victorious over the Sophomores in Austin Peay Dell on October 31 by the score of 13 to 6, in a game which was decided largely by breaks early in the contest.

The Frosh wasted no time in crossing their opponents' goal line, taking the opening kickoff and marching down the field on a series of end sweeps with Tom Hudson going over for the score. Then leading 8 to 0, the victors kicked off, recovered a Soph fumble and pressed to the twenty-yard stripe, where the upper classmen's defense held. However, on the first Soph offensive play, a mixed signal resulted in a fumble which Freshman End Rudolph recovered over the goal for another touchdown.

W. E. Overby, an alumnus of 1931, made a talk on The School As I Knew It. Indiscreetly President Hagwood had called on him to speak on the subject, "The Function of an Alumni Association," and so Mr. Overby made a speech on this too, complaining, however, that he had been shabbily treated by the program committee, who assigned him one topic and called on him for another. Miss Margaret Wilson of Montgomery County spoke on "What Austin Peay Normal School Has Done For Me." Miss Wilson spoke earnestly of the many services the school had done for her while she was a student. She talked so well, in fact, that the group elected her president for next year.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, president of the college, concluded the program, with a speech on the future of the Normal School.

Retiring President Hagwood proposed that a day be set aside as homecoming day for Austin Peay Normal School Alumni. The group concurred and Dr. Claxton agreed to let the alumni know of the plans for the homecoming.

Officers elected for next year were Margaret Wilson, president; Clifton Hagwood, secretary; and Marie Horton, treasurer.

Tom Schade and Bessie Mai Allen came from Nashville, where the former attended Father Ryan and the latter was a student at East High School, while Harry Council and Ann Harris are both graduates of Claksville High School.

The group many new yell leaders have been introduced by this newly-elected group, and they are doing an excellent job of creating the proper atmosphere at the APNS athletic contests.

AUSTIN PEAY RALLIES TO GAIN A THRILLING 14-13 TRIUMPH

The Austin Peay Governors crashed into the win column for the first time this season on October 20 under the arcs at Murland Field by virtue of a one-point conquest over the U. T. Junior gridiron forces, 14 to 13, in a thrill-packed encounter.

The visitors recovered an APNS fumble on the kickoff and scored but missed the extra point. In the second quarter two passes led to another Vol score and a 13-0 lead.

Austin Peay retaliated on a recovered U. T. fumble before the half and won the game in the third quarter as Furlow ran 38 yards for the score, and Noles backed over for the winning point.
