Farewell & Hail

IS DEDICATED TO . . .

Our

PRESIDENT HALBERT HARVILL

President ...

President Harvill has been at Austin Peay for thirty two years. Beginning in 1929 as an instructor in history, he later assumed the position of Dean-Registrar and in August 1946 was elected president of the college. From that time to the present this institution of higher learning has undergone a change which has expanded tremendously its facilities and reconstructed its curriculum to the extent of giving rise to Bachelor of Arts Degrees and Master of Arts Degrees in Education. Many old landmarks have fallen and new buildings have taken their place during this era. The McCord Hall Science Building, Catherine Harvill Cafeteria, the Browning Administration Building, the Ellington Hall Men's Dormitory, McReynolds Hall, the Memorial Health and Physical Education Building, the Frank G. Clement Building, and more recently the Ernest C. Ball housing project for married couples, the Halbert Harvill Women's Dormitory, and the Jack Miller dormitory for men are results of this dynamic program. These exemplify the breadth of vision and the remarkable capabilities of this man. Students and faculty members alike have been inspired to emulate his example of deep-seated conviction, unswerving determination, refinement, leadership, and accomplishment.

To you—President Harvill—because under your leadership and guidance the motto "Grow with Austin Peay" has transcended mere words, we of the FAREWELL AND HAIL Staff gratefully dedicate this, the 1961 FAREWELL AND HAIL.

This is Austin Peay State College

CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE

What

Austin Peay State College, named in honor of Governor Austin Peay, was created by Act of the General Assembly of 1927 as Austin Peay Normal School. It was a junior college for the special purpose of training teachers for the elementary schools of Tennessee. On February 4, 1943, the name of the School was changed to Austin Peay State College; in 1951 the College was authorized to offer a curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, and in 1952 was authorized to establish a fifth year of advanced professional work leading to the Master of Arts degree in Education.

Small classes are an asset to learning.

Mr. Mayfield gives individual assistance.

...it's instruction

The end product of a college education is considered by most to be the acquisition of a reasonable amount of knowledge. This knowledge comes via various routes during a college career, but the prime source seems inevitably to be the classroom.

Classes at Austin Peay are of an informal and informative nature. Trained and skilled professors leave little to be desired in their teaching for each and every student is of concern if he or she is truly interested in the education which is undertaken. The classrooms are well equipped and offer the best facilities to be found anywhere. Clean, up-to-date equipment in the laboratories, and attractive, comfortable classrooms go a long way in making for better learning situations. Though the importance of good laboratories and excellent classrooms to learning is undeniable, the item of chief importance is that of mutual understanding between teacher and student. Probably nowhere else is there a more desirable situation than at Austin Peay. Not infrequently do the instructors take extra time with individual students who have difficulty with certain aspects of their studies.

The informality achieved in the classroom is to a great extent due to the relative smallness of the classes. Seldom does a class consist of more than forty students with the average being much less. The informality, adequate facilities, and close student-teacher relationship are desirable features of class situations at this college.

Much is learned in the laboratory.

There is nothing like a friendly gathering for float building.

Those memorable moments.

The student center promotes socialization.

Boy meets girl.

...it's association

It is a commonly held truth on college campuses that man cannot live by books alone. Along with all the studying must go activities of the lighter nature. The school year at Austin Peay is dotted with times which promote a departure from study and encourage a joining-of-the-gang for a good time. The many dances and parties at the college are an integral part of one's growing up. It seems highly improbable that a well rounded education could be attained without them.

Although dances, parties, and other occurrences of the formal nature are frequent around campus, one place seems to lead these in promoting socialization. This is the student center. Moved from its former home in the Browning Administration building, the center settled in the old cafeteria. Here in a larger room, hoards of students gather each day of school to relax and discuss just about everything. Some see it as an escape from studying; yet others know it plays an important role as a meeting place for both fellow students and faculty members. To those who realize its true value, the student center remains an important part of their school life and thus their education.

Fun and informality.

Friends are made at wiener roasts.

Snow accents the majestic Browning Building.

That modern look.

The women's dormitory, a welcomed addition.

New apartments for married couples add to the campus beauty.

...it's construction

Under the guidance of President Halbert Harvill, the college has undergone phenomenal growth during the past four years. Such old time greats as Stewart Waddell have fallen prey to wrecking crews and relinquished their resting places to youthful masterpieces like the Clement Fine Arts building. Just during the past year, the old apartments for married couples gave way to new, modern dwellings located across Drane Street from their former site, and a large dormitory for girls was constructed near the present one. This is indicative of two things—a growing student body and a progressive educational institution. Tomorrow is planned for, today. These two projects represent but a small portion of what has been planned for the immediate years. One needs only to look at the college campus to see the significance of the school's motto, "Grow with Austin Peay."

A great builder.

New mens' dormitory.

Much aid is needed at registration.

...it's direction

Students who attend classes at this college do so under the guidance and supervision of one of the most efficient groups of leaders anywhere. Along with the faculty, five deans and their secretaries keep matters well in hand on the administrative level. They are never too busy to render individual assistance to some student in despair. Prompt and courteous service on their part has kept the college operating smoothly during the years of its existence. These two groups, deans and faculty, leave few avenues unguarded which may cause unsuspecting students to lose their way. Such a desirable situation as this makes one proud to attend an institution of higher learning like Austin Peay State College.

Dancing can be learned easily with good direction.

Formative years are important ones.

Every blank must be completely filled in.

Prospective teachers get started in the right direction.

The final step.

Help for the asking.

College students ? ? ?

Where friends meet.

A break between classes.

Do you have this problem?

Students of varied ages and from all walks of life.

...it's students

Even with beautiful buildings, a large campus, and up-to-date facilities, a college in the final analysis must be evaluated according to its reason for being. This inevitably turns out to be its students. If a college is to grow, the students must be progressive minded; if it is to gain prestige, they must be willing to work. No institution of higher learning is stronger than its learners.

Austin Peay attracts students from all over the world. Every quarter sees foreign students enroll for studies of various sorts. They are here to learn and perhaps take back to their mother country an idea of this so-called American way of life. Other enrollees at the college find these foreign students both interesting and informative. They find no better way of learning about a country than from its native inhabitants. A kind of mutual understanding exists between these two peoples from varied backgrounds. They realize their objectives at the college are essentially the same—to learn and better equip themselves for life in this world of ours. This general feeling makes a student body a unified whole. It makes a college proud of such a group of people. This attribute of the school more than any other gives one a proud feeling to be a student at Austin Peay State College.

Fun for all at assembly.

is a Student?

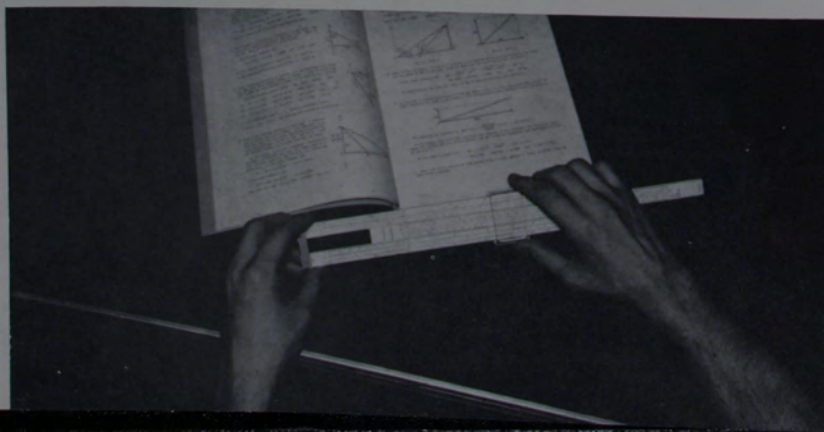

A happy worker.

...a worker

Persons who decide upon a career in college study realize very early in such a life that work is of prime importance. They find, too, that this is a very special kind of work, one which activates the brain. The exhaustion arising from such work is a pleasant experience to those who truly love to study and learn. The feeling of accomplishment far outweighs the mental fatigue resulting. Those who work deserve much credit. They alone know just how much is gained from such activity. Rewards for this effort above and beyond that which is required are rather infrequent, many times coming only at the end of the quarter. The greatest reward, however, comes later in life when much of college years is forgotten. Memories of commendable performances in the classroom are fond ones and rank high among the other items in one's treasure chest of life.

Proficiency with instruments comes with practice.

Two heads are better than one ???

The library is a treasure for those who seek.

Knowledge comes through study.

Mr. Stack, where did you get the pi? ? ?

...a thinker

Just thinking.

Thinking in twentieth century America seems to be fast becoming a lost art. This activity of the brain was developed and prized highly by the ancient forerunners of education, the Greeks, but has been on the decline ever since. Impulsiveness in the place of thought on the part of many leaders of today has given rise to threatening and possibly disastrous world situations. Only since the outburst of the space age have people realized the scarcity and importance of that intellectually elite group, the thinkers. Education cries for a reviving of this nearly forgotten art. Needless to say, a good thinker is not created in four years of college work. This is only the formative age. Its importance, however, cannot be over emphasized. Constant study, drill, and association with people are required if one is to acquire this ability to any appreciable degree. Motivation for these is adequately present on the campus at Austin Peay. Emphasis is not only on the acquisition of an appreciable amount of knowledge—this could conceivably be done by mere rote learning—but also on the development of other mental traits, not the least of which is the ability to think. Students are urged to keep in mind during their studying that knowledge without understanding is little more than worthless. This understanding results from unprejudiced and meaningful thought. The successful student is he who heeds this plea.

What makes a man?

Think, think, think.

I have one of those?

Concentration

Moment of reflection.

College and then a family and . . .

Dreams for tomorrow are the joys of today.

Lunchtime leaves the mind free.

...a dreamer

History seems to indicate that the major part of the growth of our country—indeed, our world—has come as a result of the dreams of our greatest leaders. These dreams have not been of the spontaneous and impulsive type familiar to most people, but rather the product, many times, of a life of hard and patient work. Just as in the past, great intellectual dreamers are in demand today. They surpass the great thinkers in scarcity. To qualify, one must be more than a mere thinker. Only when there is the ability of a true dreamer; only when these thoughts are gathered does a real dream exist. Probably a great reason for the shortage of the so-called “egghead” is that of social discrimination. They are shunned, talked about, and blamed; but in the final analysis, admired and praised.

A great aim of our educational program today is to turn out people who qualify as “eggheads.” They are a long time in the making; but once the goal has been reached, it is a credit both to the individual and to the institution which produced him.

The great space age in which we live beckons, but many fear to heed the call. Only those dare who see beyond the present and realize the great need of conquering the outer world. These we laugh at and ridicule. These we call the dreamers.

Studying or dreaming?

This taxing and busy life.

...a believer

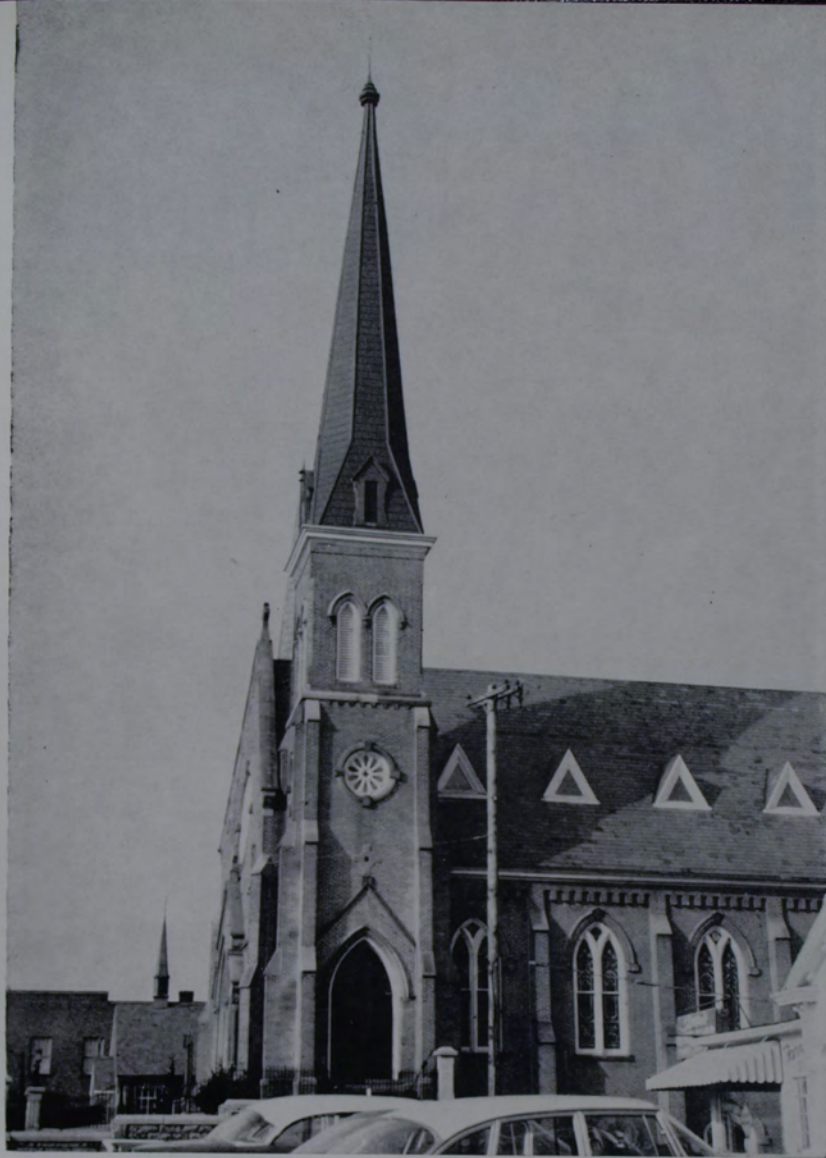

Education has its roots in religion. Since its beginning as a Jewish means of developing leaders, it has grown along with religion up to the present day. A failure on the part of many students to realize the importance of religion necessarily results in an inadequate education. Students at Austin Peay are helped to see this importance by the abundance of religious organizations on campus. These groups meet to fellowship together and endeavor to learn more about the faith they profess and its relation to the education they pursue. In doing so old ideas lose footing, unstable value systems crumble, and previous beliefs are questioned. This obvious change in one's religious life is not a sign of spiritual weakness; it is an indication of learning and understanding. He who never changes an idea or outlook is no better off tomorrow than he is today. The aim of education and religion is constantly to strive for betterment of the individual.

An inspiration.

Daily encouragement.

"Remember the Sabbath . . ."

"and into his gates with praise."

"Enter into His courts with thanksgiving."

Austin Peay State College is blessed with excellent administrators and faculty personnel.

The administration sees to it that all phases of campus life are smoothly run. Persons in some branch of the administration take care of the most minute detail, from supervising our scholastic records, to seeing that we get our meals on time. The administrative force is well-staffed with conscientious persons who contribute to the efficiency of this institution.

Well-trained, dedicated faculty members form the nucleus for any good college. A student at Austin Peay may begin training for virtually any field of endeavor secure in the knowledge that the instructors in his courses are well-grounded in their subject matter.

Austin Peay has reason to be proud of her superb faculty and administration.

BUFORD ELLINGTON
GOVERNOR

TO THE STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF OF
AUSTIN PEAY STATE COLLEGE

It gives me a real pleasure to be able to greet you through the pages of FAREWELL & HALL. Although I am a member of the State Board of Education which determines the policy for Austin Peay and our other state colleges, sometimes I feel that the pressure of other duties has limited my contacts with college personnel, and I welcome this opportunity to visit with you.

It is impossible for me to emphasize enough the part various colleges play in our state educational system. Through their many activities, reaching far beyond the campuses, they are helping to lead the way toward a fuller and richer life for all of our people.

The Tennessee General Assembly has appropriated a large sum of money for the operation of Austin Peay State College. Although it is not as large as we all wish that amount could be, it still is a considerable appropriation. I know that your president, Halbert Harvill, will see to it that the General Assembly's appropriation is used for the greatest benefit of the greatest number of our people.

No matter how good his plans are, however, they will be to no avail without the cooperation of every student, every faculty member and every staff member of the college. The value of the money, the time and the interest invested by our people in Austin Peay State College must in the final analysis depend upon those to whom this effort is directed--the students.

I urge every student, undergraduate and graduate, resident and part-time, to make certain he is doing all he can to make his stay at the college mean as much as it can to himself and to our state.

Sincerely,

Buford Ellington

"To Live In Hearts We Leave Behind Is Not To Die"

In Memoriam

DR. GEORGE GRISE

To think of Dr. Grise is to remember an English professor at Austin Peay State College. But to have been acquainted with him is to have known a colorful personality and a stimulating teacher.

His engaging smile, his informal classroom attitude, his practical viewpoint in dealing with everyday problems, his numerous tales of the Kentucky he loved so well, his folksongs with their haunting strains, his guitar and auto-harp, his zest for living, and his willingness to share his talents and his hospitality both on the campus and at his "84 Acres"—all these remembrances will keep Dr. Grise in the lives of those who knew him.

His death in an automobile accident on December 30, 1960, created a void at the college that will not soon be filled. But those of us here are thankful for the privilege we had of calling him teacher and friend.

Deans

The machinery of any college is built around a special group of persons whose time and effort is of unestimable value to the students and faculty. These people are the deans. Their jobs are many and varied, ranging from handling the filing of grades and transcripts to hearing with sympathy the sad stories orated by students. As a rule the deans are rather close to the student body, thus making their facilities readily available to those in need. Dean F. G. Woodward as Dean of the Faculty, Miss Mable Meacham as Dean of the Women, Dr. T. K. Savage as Dean of Students, Mr. R. C. Shasteen holding down Bursar duties, and Dean M. P. Bowman managing the office of Registrar leave little to be desired when it comes to dependability and efficiency. Austin Peay State College is certainly proud of such an asset as this fine family of deans.

F.G. Woodward

Mabel Meacham

Though officially Dean of Women, Miss Meacham is actually a mathematics teacher. Between her classes she finds time to counsel the women students on campus when need arises. Outside of college duties, she seems happiest when at her Woodlawn home.

Tom H. Savage

This man's smile and reassuring pat on the back has helped many a freshman along the rugged way of early college life. Complaints, tears, and broken hearts are frequent and welcomed visitors to his office.

Mr. Shasteen

One of the smiling "final steps" in registration line at the beginning of each quarter is the face of Dean Shasteen as he collects the various fees from students. Mr. Shasteen is reportedly one of the best CPA's in the business. His exactness leaves the officials fruitlessly searching for even a penny mistake.

M.O. Bowman

Famed for his multicolored information forms, Dean Bowman has his hands full keeping student records and transcripts. His office houses the history of everyone's college career who has attended Austin Peay State College.

May we, the FAREWELL AND HAIL Staff, deviate from the normal concept of classes as being the usual division of students into Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, and Graduate Students?

Although there is a slight distinction in the classes of students as far as progressiveness or accomplishment from one grade to the next, we think of the WHOLE STUDENT BODY as being one "Distinct Class"—a class of people working toward a higher goal with an education as the basic foundation.

On the following pages of this section the FAREWELL AND HAIL Staff proudly presents Austin Peay State College—its students, grouped as a whole but divided into their respective classifications.

The Senior Class Officers

Pete Ross, President; Polly Fussell, Treasurer; Diane Bieri, Secretary; Dickie Garland, Vice-President.

Traditionally, college students wear caps twice during a college career. Four years ago the Senior Class proudly sported the "Red Freshman Beanies" with the initiation trimmings—now it is time to put on the Traditional Caps and Gowns for Graduation, June 2.

The four years between the cap wearings will always be recalled as the best years filled with the bliss of sports, dances, and gaiety of social life with friends. As we gaze into the candle light during the Farewell and Hail Ceremony, surely we are aware of the importance of the insight gained from attending classes and the sufferings of taking examinations.

As we say Farewell to campus life—we say HAIL to our future with the opportunity to utilize and continue our education.

The Senior Class

The Junior Class Officers

Joe Winn, President; Nancy English, Student Council Representative; Bill Price, Vice-President; Judy Graves, Secretary and Treasurer.

Having a shaky ride, Janelle?

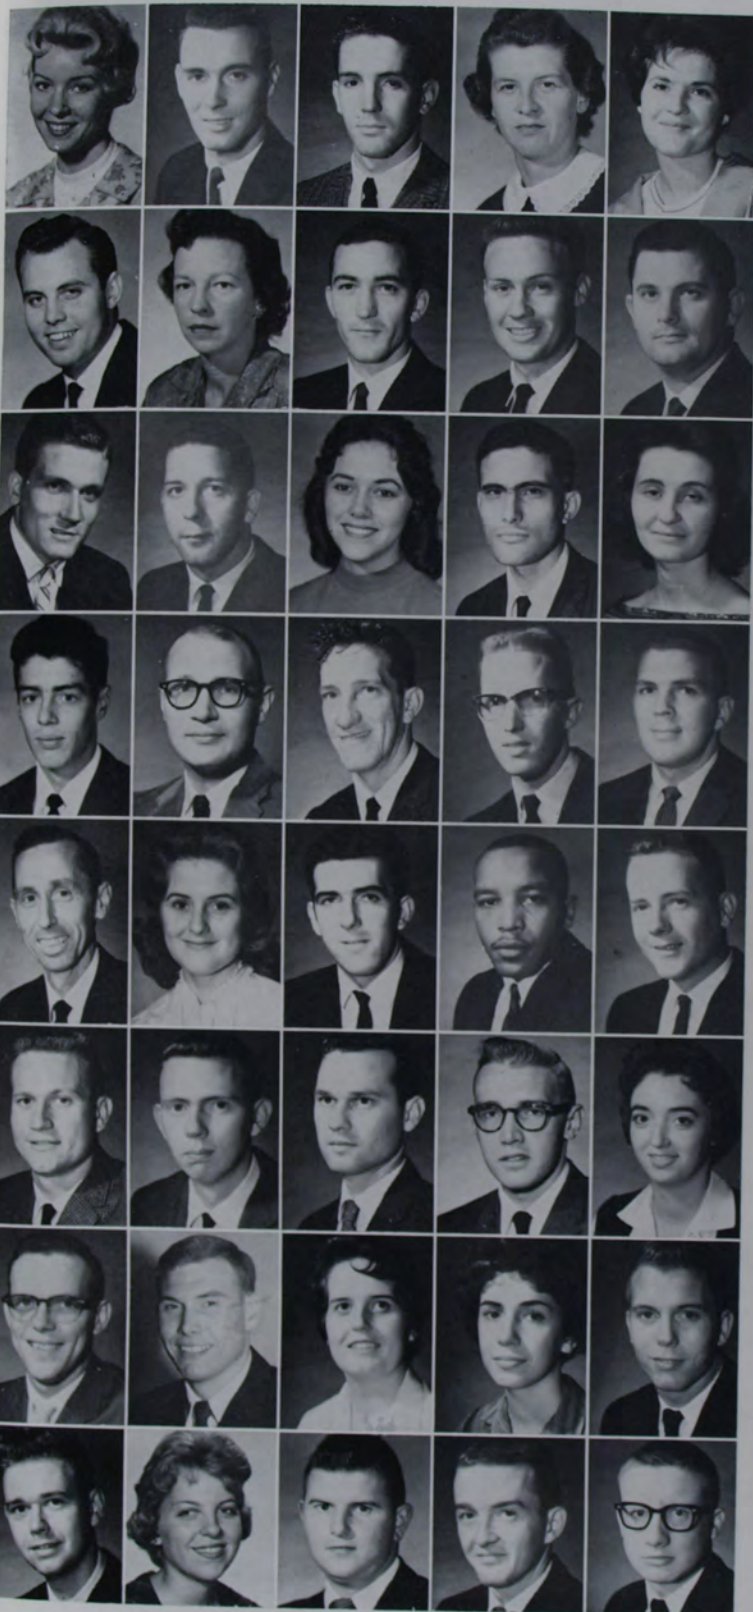

The class of 1962 takes great pride in its active membership which undertakes the sponsorship of many important campus functions throughout the school year.

The traditional Farewell and Hail ceremony is planned by the Juniors. The impressive function, held the night before graduation, is followed by the Aloha Ball. The Juniors also sponsor the Ball as their final farewell to the class of 1961.

Miss Janelle Mason represented her class in last year's Homecoming festivities. The clever Junior entry in the float contest depicted a card house.

Joe Winn was chosen to lead the class as president, assisted by Bill Price, vice-president. Judy Graves served as secretary-treasurer and Nancy English was Student Council representative.

Juniors

The Sophomore Officers

Ann Comperry, Walt Davic, David Mason, Barbara Kimbrough.

Who is your friend, Nora?

The Sophomore Class got in the swing of things this year as the 235 class members planned a wild initiation which would give the "green" freshmen a dose of what they went through as freshmen—plus a little more.

They kept up the pace during homecoming activities and came out victorious in the float contest with a gigantic skunk tended by class queen, Nora Roth, and the theme, "Skunk Em."

Christmas found the class immersed in plans for the Christmas Dance which they sponsored in cooperation with the Freshman Class. The dance launched the holiday festivities in grand style.

Leading the class through this busy year were Walt Davic, president; David Mason, vice-president; Ann Comperry, secretary-treasurer, and Barbara Kimbrough, student council representative.

The Freshman Class Officers

The beginning of the 1960-61 school year found many eager, yet apprehensive, students ready to enroll in Austin Peay for the first time. When they finally finished registering, the freshmen found themselves subject to the shims of the upper classmen for a period of time officially known as "initiation week." The week passed slowly, and the survivors then settled down to a routine of attending classes, getting homework, and just plain studying. Fortunately, Homecoming rolled around and many freshmen forgot the trials and tribulations of school by working on floats, and dance committees. The freshman entry placed second in the judging of the class floats. To represent them their first year at college, the class elected David Watson as their president, Billy Gilkey as vice-president, Vicki Thompson as secretary-treasurer, and Dionne Crow as Student Council Representative.

DAVID WATSON, DIANNE CROW, VICKI THOMPSON, BILLY GILKEY.

At the end of each school year at Austin Peay those students who have been outstanding either socially, academically, or both are honored in the following section of the annual. Superlative implies highest degree of quality. The people who appear on the succeeding pages have been chosen by this criterion.

The football Queen is chosen by the members of the team and her attendants are the class queens. The King and Queen of Hearts and their attendants are selected by the members of the dormitory clubs at Harned Hall. These girls sponsor the Valentine Ball over which the King and Queen reign.

Governor and First Lady are chosen from the Senior class by the student body on basis of leadership, scholarship, and service to the college; Bachelor of Ugliness and Miss A.P.S.C. are selected as the best all-around personalities from the sophomore, junior or senior classes.

This year the FAREWELL AND HAIL staff is proud to include in the Superlative section the Laurel Wreath Society.

Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges

Being chosen to represent Austin Peay in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" is a distinct honor given to twenty-one of our students this year.

In order to be eligible to be a member of Who's Who,

one must have at least a B average and hold one of the following positions: a campus office for one year, membership in two college organizations for one year, one superlative or annual recognition, or an award through a recognized

The Laurel

The Laurel Wreath Society was organized by a group of honor students at the end of Spring quarter, 1960. Only students who maintained at least a 3.65 average for three consecutive quarters are eligible for membership.

The purpose of the Laurel Wreath Society is to stimulate the minds of the members through discussions of common interest. The name Laurel Wreath symbolizes academic achievement, and the gold pin is worn with pride by all the members.

The programs for this organization are provided by the members themselves. At each meeting, a member reads a paper written by himself; formal criticisms of the paper are written and presented by two other members. A round-table discussion follows.

PHILLIP FORT

Phillip is from Pembroke, Kentucky, and is in his second year at the college. His major is pre-pharmacy and he plans to attend the University of Tennessee School of Pharmacy. His hobbies are playing basketball, baseball, and fishing.

KENNETH POOLE

Kenneth is a senior from Clarksville. He is majoring in mathematics, minoring in biology, and is planning to do graduate work after leaving Austin Peay. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and electronics. Kenneth is now the editor of the FAREWELL AND HAIL.

OFFICERS

DAVID WOODWARD	President
KENNETH POOLE	Vice-President
SHARON MARSEGLIA	Secretary
MR. CHARLES WATERS	Faculty Sponsor

CAMILLA McCULLOUGH

A junior from Gallatin, Tennessee, Camilla is majoring in mathematics and minoring in French. She plans to teach mathematics in high school after graduation. Camilla is Secretary of Harned Hall and her hobby is sewing.

NANCY PLUMMER

A native Clarksvillian and majoring in English, Nancy is a senior. Her minor is science. She is active in the English Club, Secretary of Kappa Delta Pi, and her hobbies are baking, reading, and gardening.

BARBARA KIMBROUGH

Barbara is a junior from Guthrie, Kentucky. She is majoring in biology and minoring in chemistry and mathematics. After graduation she plans to teach or work on her M.A. degree in biology. Her hobbies are reading, listening to records, and writing. Barbara is active in the Tri-Beta Club, the Science Club, and is President of Harned Hall.

DAVID WOODWARD

A senior from Clarksville, David is majoring in history and minoring in economics. He plans to attend the University of Georgia and get a Ph.D. degree in modern European history. Following this, David would like to teach history in college. His hobbies are sports.

SHARON MARSEGLIA

Sharon is a sophomore and comes to Austin Peay from Beekley, West Virginia. She is majoring in biology and plans on teaching or doing research as a graduate student. She has participated in various campus organizations, such as MSM, the Governettes, the Science Club, and Tri-Beta. In May, 1960, Sharon received the first-place non-fiction Tower Award.

Wreath Society

MOLLY LANDIS

Molly, a junior, hails from Cumberland City, Tennessee. She is carrying a double major in chemistry and biology. She plans to teach biology and chemistry or work in a related field. Molly is secretary of Tri-Beta, a member of the Governettes, Science Club, and Omega Club. Her hobbies include swimming and cooking.

MELVINA WARRICK

Mrs. Warrick is a junior majoring in European history and minoring in political science. Formerly, she attended a classical preparatory school in Trieste, Territory of Trieste, Italy. She is interested in becoming an interpreter for the State Department. Her hobbies are languages and listening to opera and classical music.

The Drane Award

THOMAS H. LARKINS

Tommy receives the Drane Award from President Harvill.

Climaxing the year at commencement for one student of the graduating class is the presentation of the Drane Award. Since 1950, this award has been given in memory of the late William McClure Drane, a prominent citizen of Clarksville and patron of education.

Given in the form of a striking bronze plaque, this highly desired honor is awarded on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and service to the college.

Receiving the Drane Award last year was Thomas Larkins, a chemistry and mathematics major from Clarksville, Tennessee. He was active in Student Council and the Science Club, and was president of the Galois Club. Tommy was one of eighteen students chosen to be in Who's Who last year.

Presently, Tommy is living in Nashville and is attending Vanderbilt University.

After graduation, Tommy married Rosemary Nichols of Clarksville.

Campus life comes forth from the oven of Austin Peay State College containing the ingredients that are accumulated over the period of ones college days.

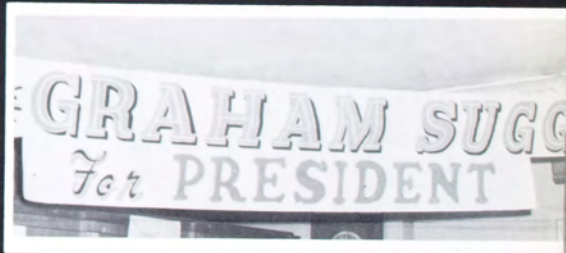

The first bite of campus life causes the familiar scenes on campus to flash before ones eyes. Among the halls, the library, the beautiful columns of the buildings, the trees, and the flowers there can be seen the results of those first hectic days. Echoes of laughter and cheer ring from the dorms, the student center, and the sports events.

Another ingredient that makes campus life such an important part of college is the breaks-in-between. Without these, the mad social whirl would cause life to move too fast for the safety of everyone. Certainly, one can see in Campus life the ingredient of challenge and reflection. These are those memorable events that the student sees when he enters and leaves the college campus.

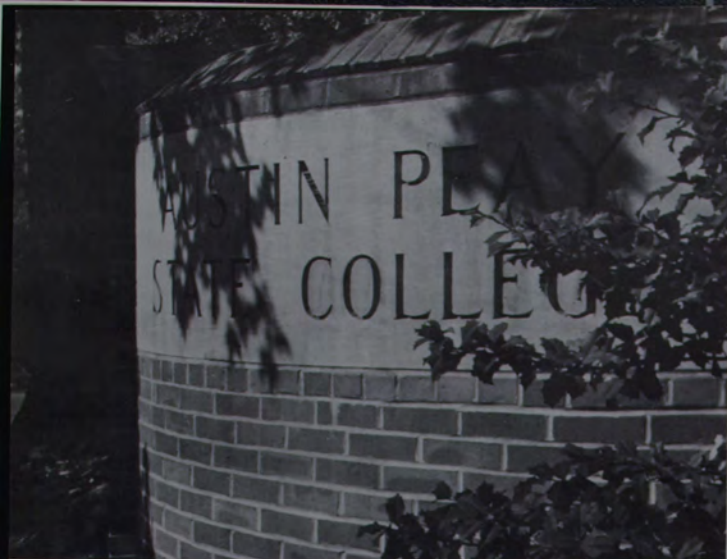

Campus life? It is a spirit made up of every event, every part of the student's life. It is college.

Campus Life

"The gateway of knowledge."

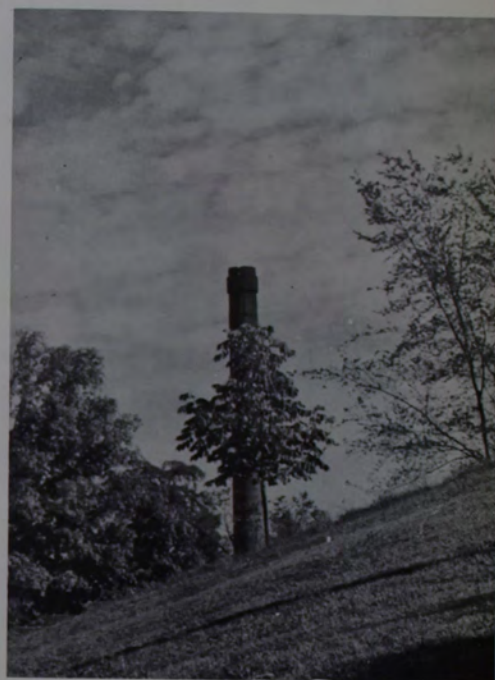

Favorite Campus Scenes

"Time is passing; are you?"

"The portals of learning."

"Let's paint it orange."

As one approaches that final day of his college life, he looks back at the past with a feeling of sentimentality in his heart.

There are many things that come to mind in that remembrance of the days gone by and perhaps one of the things that is remembered are those campus spots that hold the memories.

It might be the steps that led to that final test or it might be those portals of learning that are passed through by so many. For some couple, here may be many memories of the front campus as it opened to them that new way of life.

Many a student has looked twice at some of the girls on campus but the thing that has caught more glances than any other thing is the "ole" tower with its Roman numeral face.

Those campus scenes that are favorites are those that hold memories for each individual. They are numerous, personal, and most of all, lasting.

"Home Sweet Home."

The First Hectic Days

Multi-colored registration slips—as usual.

Freshman terror week!

The first days of college life mean different things to different students. For the freshman, it is a time of challenge to make new acquaintances and broaden oneself in many various areas. As the student opens this door to vast new experiences and knowledge, life becomes a hectic, exciting and unforgettable memory.

Long lectures concerning choosing a curriculum, proper conduct on campus and instructions on how to register are confusing to the majority of students.

The young coeds must take a battery of orientation tests, fill out multi-colored registration slips, and make a final trip to the Bursar's office. The students then find their way to the bookstore to collect books which will be used for the quarter's work. With a weary heart, headache, and tired feet, the full pledged students of A.P.S.C. make their way to their dormitory rooms exhausted.

Forgetting the regular routine of the day, students attend dances, coke parties, and picnics. These activities provide an opportunity for students to make new acquaintances which will start a new chapter in their book of college memories.

Yes, the first days of college life are hectic, but my, aren't they enjoyable!

A time to get acquainted during freshman week.

You may take the girl out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the girl.

Oh my, why didn't I study in high school?

Echoes of Laughter and Cheer

"Look Mom, no cavities."

"Are you wearing snow-treads?"

At Austin Peay there is a time for work and a time for play. Echoes of laughter and cheer are familiar sounds in the student center, dormitories, sports events, and many other campus activities.

The student center is one of the more popular buildings on campus. As students sip a last drop of coffee and read their morning mail, the melodious music (rock and roll) fills the atmosphere. This is a favorite spot for students to let off steam and discuss a personal or world-wide problem with a fellow student or professor. The A.P.S.C. student center serves as a hub with campus life revolving around it.

The indwelling spirit of togetherness between students makes dormitory living very beneficial. Much studying is done in the dorms, but some of their spare time is spent in other enjoyable activities. Pastimes of playing practical jokes on fellow students, dorm parties, and "bull-sessions" are activities which produce echoes of laughter and cheer in any of the five dorms at A.P.S.C.

Cheers of laughter led by the cheerleaders and students, the sound of drums beating "Go-Govs-Go," push the Governors to victory in any athletic event, whether it be basketball, football, baseball, or track.

"We've got the torch."

"And, Ann, he is SO sweet."

"Go, Govs, Go!"

"Watch that step!"

"That long, hard walk."

Breaks in

Girls, it is $513\frac{3}{4}$ calories you have there.

Between

The principle objective of college is the attainment of knowledge which enables a person to live a fuller and richer life. During this four-year process, it is the breaks between classes, in the student center, dorm, on campus, or on a date, that add spice to college life.

As the seasons alternate, the activities of the A.P.S.C. students do likewise. A boy and girl walking through the orange, brown, and red leaves is a typical October pastime.

Brisk winds of winter bring a white blanket of snow enhancing the campus, furnishing gay times for all students. The fun of snowball battles, sleigh riding, or a thrilling moonlight stroll through the snow highlight the winter season.

With the blossoming of jonquils and roses in the spring, so blossom many new campus romances. Tennis, swimming, golf, picnics and outings fit into the busy spring schedule of the college students.

The well rounded A.P.S.C. student participates in many of these activities during the breaks in between classes.

"The high and mighty."

"Will We Make it Charlie Brown?"

Dorm Life?

The Mad Social

"It's late and I'm sleepy."

"I'm glad to meet you."

"Oh! I'm starved."

Whirl . . .

"The King and Queen."

Plans, work, fun, and laughter combined into one big whirl gives our campus the necessary glow which makes each moment one to remember.

Just before Christmas vacation, one may see students in preparation for the beautiful Christmas Ball which highlights the season on our campus.

Besides the romantic Valentine Dance where the girls are given their "big chance" to trap their man, and the lovely Iris Ball in the spring, shuffling of feet fill the recreation room after many of the ball games.

Always-always, students hustle and bustle to various banquets, teas, parties, and receptions. The main reception of the year comes at the beginning of the school where students and faculty meet with a warm handshake.

What a whirl this social world may be, but not one student may be found who regrets these experiences shared with fellow classmates.

Moments of Challenge and Reflection

The long summer between high school and college is filled with moments of anticipation, as the students pack their bags and trunks in preparation for their new four year career of college. As students approach college for the first time, they are faced with a challenge to make new friends and acquaintances. A college future is before them to either make a success or failure; as students attend classes, social activities, church, and participate in dormitory living, they must automatically become young ladies and gentlemen. During the process they put away their teenage mannerisms to meet this challenge of college life.

Upon completion of the first year of college, each day seems to pass at a more rapid rate, until that marvelous day becomes a reality. The day which you have wished, hoped, and worked for—Graduation. Dances, social activities, dorm living, and special activities create moments of reflection that causes a person to have feelings of regretfulness as they leave the A.P.S.C. campus. Yes, as students graduate and meet the challenge of the future for which they have prepared, they carry with them these fond memories of college days.

"I'm sick of this marching."

That wonderful moment at last!

Study, Study, Study.

Another part of our challenge.

Cafeteria food?

That wonderful parade.

Memorable Events

Throughout each year of college, campus life is made up of memorable events. Some of these events are campus wide and others are personal.

Decorating dorms and floats, pep rallies and bonfires in preparation for the returning alumni make Homecoming a busy and hectic occasion for the many students and faculty involved. Before making their presentation along crowded streets, the homecoming floats require that final touch only to be torn to bits by spirit-filled students afterwards. Later in the evening with the spirit of the game still strong, students dance away the night with old classmates and friends.

The special secrets locked within the walls of a dormitory room are secrets of memorable events which only roommates share. There are other sides of dorm life that create lasting impressions. The campuses and restrictions are a part of these impressions.

Plays, picnics, talent night and dances are special events which create one lasting memory of college.

Get out of that paint.

Let's have a cheer.

Sing it out.

I'm hungry. Let's eat.

Another successful play comes to an end.

Please Mrs. Gamble, don't campus me.

Community Concert

The Community Concert is a non-profit organization in the Clarksville area interested in more and better musical entertainment for its people.

Austin Peay State College makes a contribution to the Community Concert and this entitles all students of Austin Peay to attend the concerts on their student-identification card, free of charge.

This season Community Concert sponsored such performers as Mary McMurray, a soprano; Jean Casadesus; Ballet Espagnol Ximenez-Vargas; and the Beaux Arts Trio of New York.

JEAN CASADESUS

Ballet Espagnol Ximenez-Vargas.

The Beaux Arts Trio of New York.

"MISS HAT AND CANE"

"Miss Hat and Cane" is chosen annually in our campus beauty contest. The winner officially represents A.P.S.C. in the "Miss Tennessee Beauty Pageant."

Laura Swift, a junior from Clarksville, Tennessee, was chosen "Miss Hat and Cane" of 1960. Laura brought much prestige and recognition to the college and Clarksville when she was chosen third runner-up in the "Miss Tennessee Pageant."

There were forty-two contestants representing cities, counties, and colleges throughout the state. The girls competed in three divisions; formal, swimsuit, and talent. During preliminary judging, Miss Swift took top honors in the swimsuit division.

Laura is working toward a distributive major in Music Education with an applied major in voice. She is president of the APSC Governettes, parliamentarian of the student council, a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Westminster Fellowship, Music Educators National Conference, and the Austin Peay Playhouse.

"Miss Hat and Cane"

Attendants to Miss Hat and Cane, Joyce Hutson and Marty Chambliss.

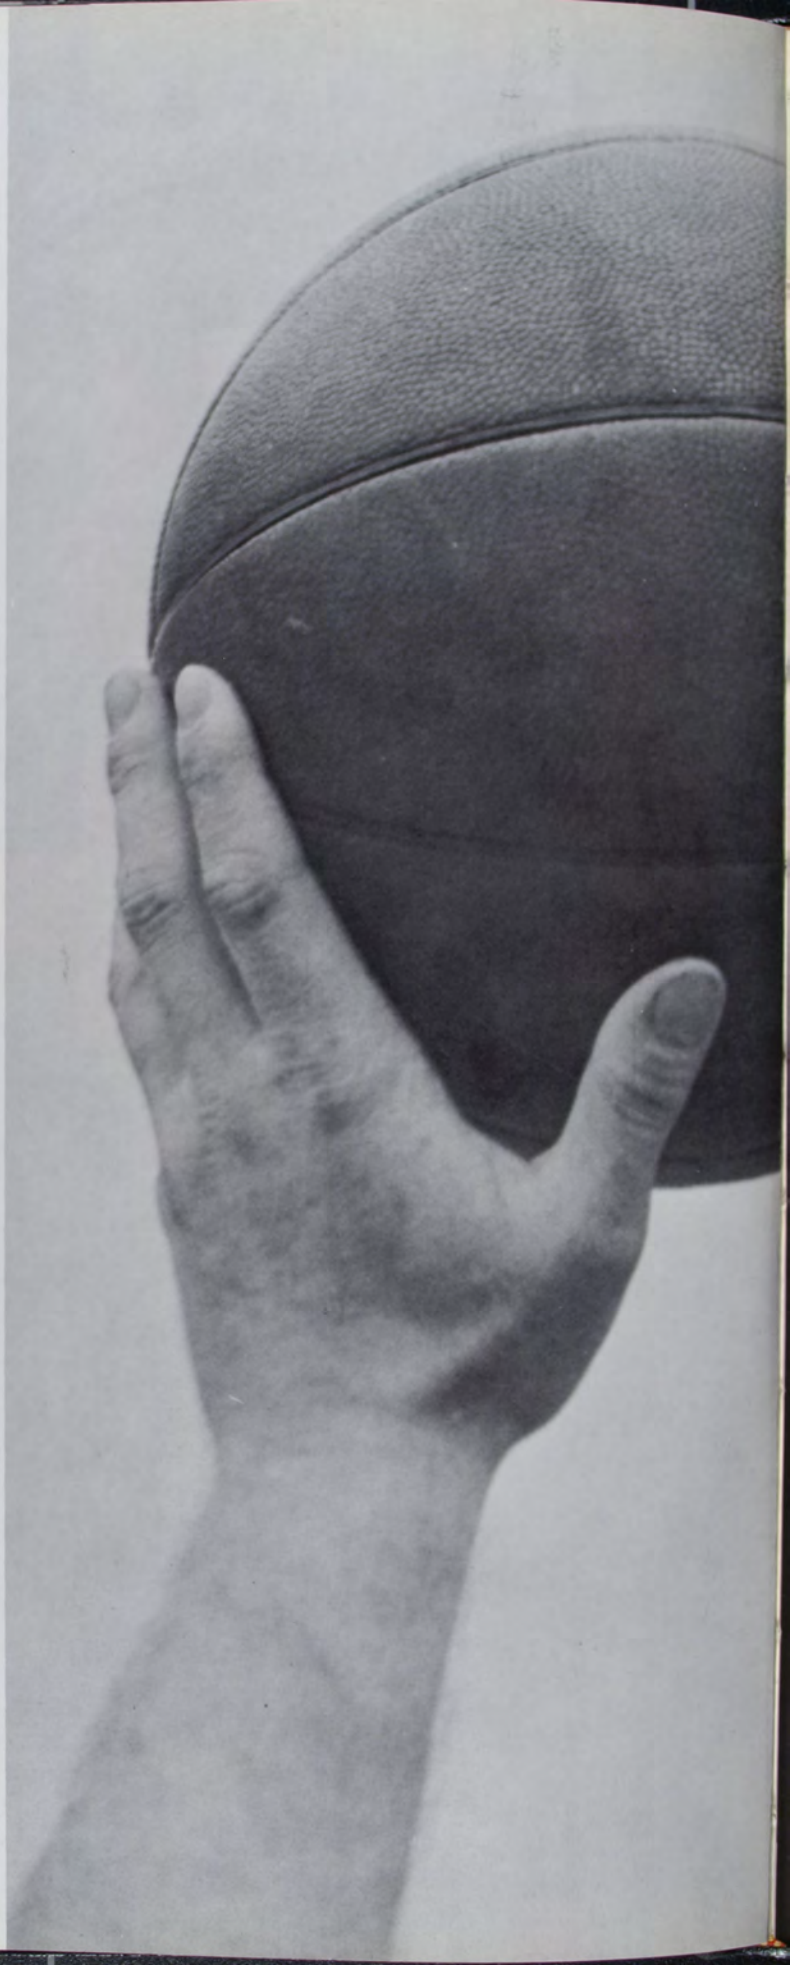

Austin Peay State College competes in six major intercollegiate sports, football, basketball, baseball, track and field, golf and tennis.

The Athletic Department is headed by athletic director Dave Aaron and his coaching staff is composed of Art Van Tone, Leon Garrett, George Fisher, Leon Sandifer, and Sherwin Clift.

Austin Peay is a member of the NCAA and the VSAC, of which they are the current defending Western Division basketball champions, as they have been for the past five consecutive seasons, and are also the defending conference title-holders in track and field.

Austin Peay's gridiron representatives finished the season with a record of two wins and eight losses, while the hardwood squad posted a season's mark of 22-9, including among their laurels the South-Central NCAA Regional championship.

ART VAN TONE
Head Football Coach

The 1960 Season

In his first season at Austin Peay, Head Coach Art Van Tone has given Gov boosters something they have not experienced in some while—hope. Hope for a better football season in the near future and hope for good football teams in the ensuing seasons.

While the Governors' record this year was an improvement of only one win over the previous season's mark, they demonstrated the ability to come back week after week from demoralizing defeats, many inflicted in the waning minutes of play, and always give a commendable performance.

Van Tone was capably assisted this season by line coach Leon Garrett, also a new member of the staff, and end coach George Fisher, men who have proven themselves to be a vital part of this progressive program.

Austin Peay supporters look optimistically to the future because only four Seniors leave a team that showed time and again it had the desire to win by making impressive comebacks and never quitting until the last whistle was blown.

The Governors will continue to press forward and look upon the events of the past season not as an indication of things to come but merely as trying grounds for greater achievements.

McKinney Streaks Govs

The Governors ended the 1960 season with an impressive showing against a heavily-favored Ft. Campbell team, which appeared to climax the year for a team that had to overcome inexperience, lack of depth, and injuries at key positions in its bid for gridiron success.

Success, record-wise, evaded the Governors. But the next season, and the seasons following may show just how successful they were in other respects. An inexperienced group of Freshmen and Sophomores will be able to carry a load next year that they were at least a year away from carrying this past season. And, of more importance, the Governors will have a place to start from this next season. It is a sure bet, then, that the only direction they will be concerned with is up.

A fourth quarter touchdown, set up by a recovered Austin Peay fumble, gave the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee the edge, 6-0, in a game that had all the outward appearances of ending in a stalemate.

The Governors displayed a potent defense which contained the M.T.S.C. attack for three full quarters until sophomore halfback Danny Neal scored on an 18-yard end run in the fourth quarter. Tackle Joe Wiggins then missed the conversion.

The score was the second lowest the Raiders had been held to in their previous 42 games, who last season were ranked number 1 in most small-college polls.

The Governors came close to notching their first win of the 1960 season but were turned back 7-0 by a late fourth quarter score. An Austin Peay fumble on their own 22-yard line set up the lone tally.

Bright spots in the Austin Peay offensive attack were the passing of Moe Burlison and some brilliant runs by halfback Ronnie Dollar. Six of Burlison's nine completed passes were caught by A.P.S.C.'s glue-fingered end, Jack Wallace.

Guards Bud Coley and Jack Bushofsky played exceptional defensive ball as the C-N running game was comparatively bottled up inside.

Austin Peay lost its third straight game in the final period against UT Martin Branch, 13-7.

A 54 yard desperation pass from quarterback Vernon Prather to halfback John Brodie in the last 35 seconds of play gave the Vols their victory.

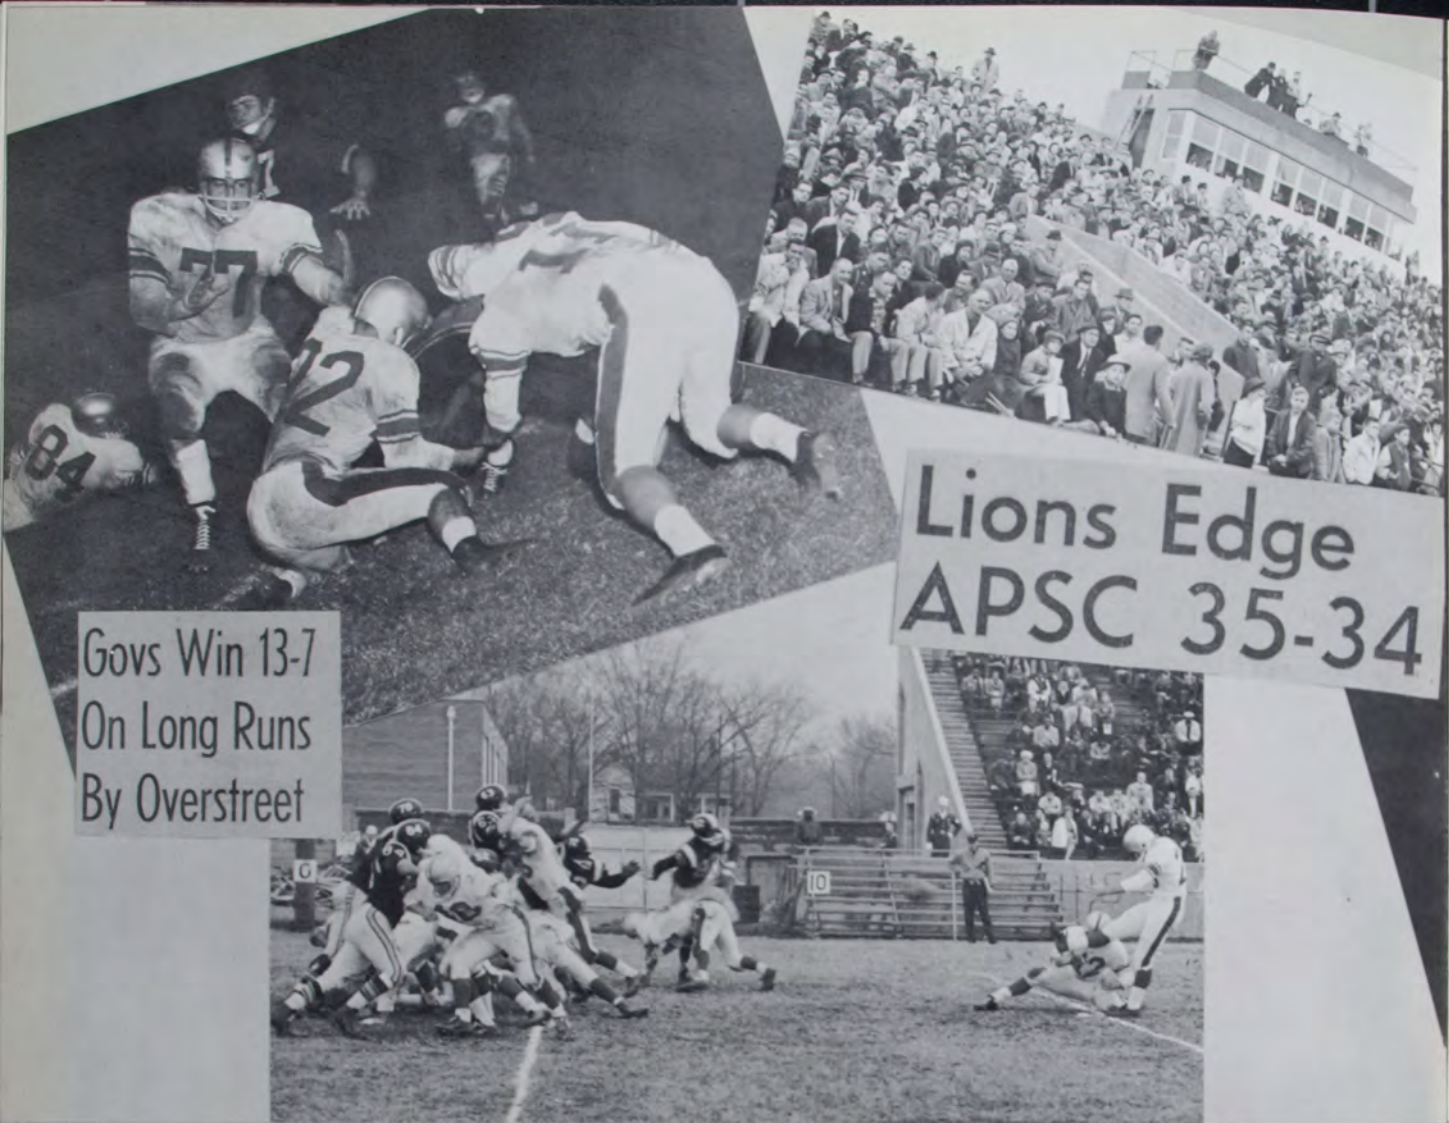

U.T.M.B. tallied first in the game in the opening quarter but the Govs came back in the second quarter to knot it up on a one-yard dive by halfback Fred Alexander. Freshman Ralph Grant added the conversion.

On the Gov's successful touchdown drive, fullback Leroy Overstreet's diving smashes carried the Governors inside the U.T.M.B. five-yard line where Alexander's thrust took AP to their first touchdown of the 1960 season.

A hapless Austin Peay eleven held the Hill-toppers of Western Kentucky to a 6-0 lead at intermission before Western unlimbered its passing weapons in the second half to tally 28 points in the final two stanzas.

The sweltering heat took its toll from the under-manned Austin Peay squad in the last two periods and broke open a game that appeared headed for a re-run of the Gov's first three outings.

Austin Peay scored in the second half with a 37-yard pass from quarterback Cobb Parker to end Jack Wallace eating up most of a 58-yard drive. Fullback Leroy Overstreet scored the touchdown.

Austin Peay threw off the shackles of defeat and upset heavily-favored Jacksonville State 14-8 for the Governor's first football win in five starts.

The Govs came out passing in the second quarter and climaxed the drive with a five-yard pass from quarterback Richard Moore to end, Jack Wallace. Ralph Grant then converted for the Govs.

In the same frame Jax State got control of the game on an Austin Peay fumble on the Gov's 19. Jacksonville's quarterback, Eugene Griep scored the touchdown and ran his own two-points extra.

Jax State returned the fumble courtesy in the final period when an AP end, Rupert Baker, recovered the ball on the Gamecock's 26.

On the next play, halfback Ronnie McKinney went the distance to score. Ralph Grant added the extra point.

Austin Peay	0	0	0	13	13
East Tennessee	0	7	14	6	27

Eastern Kentucky, along with a three quarter offensive lapse by Austin Peay, added up to a 27 to 13 victory for Eastern in the Governor's Homecoming game.

Austin Peay held the Maroons scoreless until the last 37 seconds of the first half when Eastern made a touchdown, resulting from a pass interference penalty inflicted upon Austin Peay.

The Maroons added 14 points in the third period and 6 more in the fourth quarter, all on long drives.

Austin Peay then came alive with 10 minutes left in the game. Quarterback Cobb Parker threw a 51-yard aerial to end Jack Wallace to make it 27-7. Parker then consumed 60 yards in the air with three consecutive first down passes, two to Wallace and one to halfback Fred Alexander.

Back Nick Nichols carried it over from the one yard line for Austin Peay's last score of the game.

Lee Roy Overstreet, a former Southern Golden Gloves Champion, punched Troy State silly with two long touchdown jaunts in a 13-7 Austin Peay football victory.

Overstreet ripped straight up the middle just after intermission, steamrolling over several defenders enroute to the goal line. Ralph Gant then booted the extra point.

The margin was widened in the final quarter when Overstreet repeated his stint, this time for 27 yards.

Troy's touchdown was set up by a recovered fumble at the Governor 32. Charles Aplin capped a drive from there by going over at the one.

The Governor defensive unit was brilliantly led by center Joe Cincotta and tackles Howard Suiter and Walt Davie.

Austin Peay racked up a record 18 first downs against the Buccaneers but were unable to cope with a 21-point output by East Tennessee in the fourth quarter.

In the fatal fourth, after three quarters of good playing from the fired-up Governors, a young Austin Peay drive was nipped on the Governor's 34 when a Buccaneer tackle intercepted one of quarterback Cobb Parker's bullet passes. This appeared to be the turning point, after which the Governors seemed to lose some of their zip.

The Governor scores came on an 8 yard run by halfback Glen Glover and a 22-yard canter around end by freshman Ronnie Dollar. Ralph Grant added both extra points.

Austin Peay and Florence State threw caution, defense and the football to the wind in a spine-tingling game that gave the visiting Lions the decision 35-34 when Austin Peay failed on a two-point conversion attempt.

Austin Peay finished in a swirl of fourth quarter touchdowns and with 28 seconds left in the game moved to within one point of a tie on a two-yard pass from quarterback Richard Moore to end Jack Wallace. A pass to Lee Roy Overstreet in the end zone for the two-point play was intercepted and victory went out the window.

Moore threw four touchdown passes and Overstreet collected the only other marker. Ralph Grant was 4 for 4 in the conversion department.

A Governor pass batted down by Ft. Campbell, with 1:37 left in the Annual Charity Bowl game, gave the Eagles a 14-13 victory.

The pass came on an attempted extra point, after the Govs had pulled to within one point on a dazzling 72-yard pass play for a touchdown from Richard Moore to Bobby Baumgartner.

The charity battle started off at a fast and furious pace with both clubs scoring quick touchdowns. A 72 yard punt return by the Eagle's Olin Winfreys put Ft. Campbell ahead at the half and marked the end of the game's scoring until Baumgartner's last quarter snag of a Moore touchdown aerial.

The Gov's other touchdown was also scored on a Moore pass to Austin Peay's sensational freshman end, Jack Wallace, who was also the top season scorer. Ralph Grant was good for the one-pointer after Wallace's score.

1960-61 Basketball

DAVID B. AARON

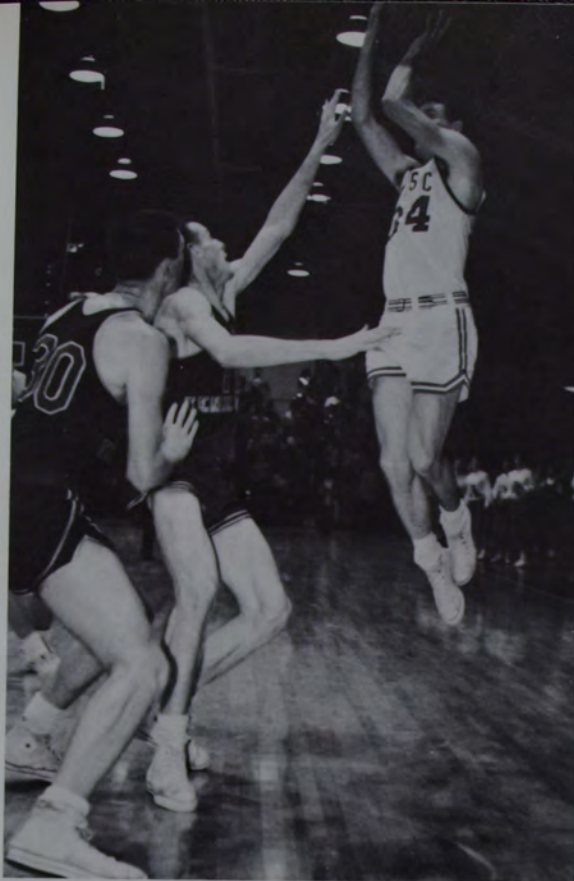

Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach

The 1960-61 basketball team was a highly successful, record breaking, crowd thrilling band of boys. The season was filled with many ups and downs and had several high points and peaks. After a poor start the Governors rallied to become recognized as one of the top eight small college basketball teams in the entire nation!

For a team that was everybody's pick to tear through the conference we found the traveling mighty tough at times during the season. This was especially true during the first half of the basketball campaign. We were a talented, veteran, and matured team and this combination can be extremely harmful to individuals if not used properly.

Checking the new record of 43 points for Beshears.

Let's go back and trace the season and follow the Govs in their quest for national recognition.

We opened the season on that first day of December, 1960 as if we were going to finish our Christmas shopping early! In our opener we pounded Bethel College 96 to 84. Two nights later we blasted Florence State 85 to 77. In these first two games we gave indications that we were going to be all that everyone expected of us. We now had a string of twenty-one straight victories in the "big red barn." The University of Tennessee Martin Branch soon put an end to this collection by stopping us in overtime by one point.

Bradley hooks for two.

In the following days Austin Peay suffered through one of its worst losing streaks. After the U.T.M.B. game we lost another one point decision to Georgetown College and then another overtime defeat to Middle Tennessee State. Naturally these setbacks caused some mental letdown by the players and students and also it was exam time. Before long the Christmas break was over and the wars continued on the hardwood on December 29th and 30th. This was the first annual Queen City Invitational Tournament. In the opening round we ran into a tough Florence State five that handed us our fourth consecutive defeat. We managed to snap that losing streak the next night with a win over Delta State that gave us third place honors in the tourney.

1961 came in hard and fast and we ripped to four quick wins before stumbling to Carson-Newman at Jefferson City, in another one of those—!)? (!! —overtime games!! The Govs rebounded quickly though, and tore into the "Torch Game" with David Lipscomb with a chance to take over full possession of the V.S.A.C. Western division lead. Aaron's boys showed their appreciation to the fans and student body for supporting them, by a thrilling 69-68 crucial win! This was one of the key points in the success of the team. The Govs then streaked to the finish line by winning six of their last seven games. In the process of blazing through their remaining games, many heroes were born, many records were broken and many fans were thrilled! Jim Beshears set a new individual scoring record against Bethel by getting forty-three. The previous high was held by Tom Morgan with 38. Also, Austin Peay gained revenge against East Tennessee State and fabulous Tom Chiltons. Another mark of revenge was gained against Kentucky Wesleyan as the big red scored a climaxing victory over the Panthers, 81-78.

The V.S.A.C. Tournament must have caught Aaron's boys looking ahead to the NCAA because they were caught flat-footed in the finals and lost to David Lipscomb.

When the long awaited NCAA Regional did finally arrive, the boys were ready. They downed Chattanooga in the semis and knocked off Belmont Abbey to win the regional and advance to the National Finals at Evansville, Indiana. It was here in the first round and against a good Mount Saint Mary's College team that seven seniors played their last game for Austin Peay. They were: Bradley, Camp, Davis, Henderson, Overton, Phillips, and Stewart.

Aside from the just mentioned seniors the 1960-61 team was greatly supported by Beshears, Celusta, Darrah, Briggeman, and Sugg.

The accomplishments of the team were numerous: VSAC Champions for the fifth straight year; a third place finish in the Queen City Invitational Tournament; Second Place in the VSAC Tournament; winner of the NCAA Regional Tournament for small colleges, and played in the opening round of the NCAA small college finals, being one of only eight in the nation to attend.

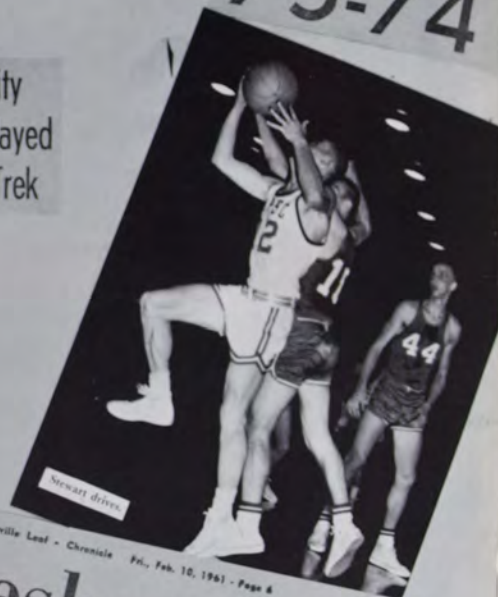

Congratulations to a great basketball team, a great coach, and a great student body!!

1960-61 Freshman Basketball

The 1960-61 Freshman basketball team coached by Leon Garrett, finished with an impressive 16-7 record.

The Freshman team won their first eight games of the season before being defeated by Elkton, Kentucky. They later scored revenge on the high flying Kentucky high school team. Among their victories are two from Clarksville High and two from Woodlawn High School.

The team showed high scoring ability often throughout the year and they broke the century mark of 100 or more points twice during the season. The maximum point output was against Cumberland University when they registered a 111 to 63 win here at the Austin Peay Gym.

Pacing the team is Bob DeMier, a 6-7 center. He's helped out by Blakey Bradley, a 6-5 forward, Bryan Wilkinson, a 6-3 guard. Other regulars are Jimmy Coleman, Joe Covington, Jack Knight, Carl Masters, Jim Mohon, Henny Murrey, and Tommy Nichols.

The fans can be looking forward to seeing many of these boys on the varsity soon. This year we lose seven seniors. In just a few years these boys will be our leaders.

Torch

Game

The "Torch Game" is one of the high points of the basketball season. It concerns the two greatest rivals in the Volunteer State Athletic Conference, the Austin Peay State College Governors, and the David Lipscomb Bisons.

Since the rivalry began in 1957, it has spread and grown in its present successful status.

The "Torch" is an emblem of victory, and the rivalry is patterned after the Olympic Games. The winning school gets to keep the torch until the next game. The games are scheduled for February each year. The proud winner then, via some 110 runners, relays the torch to the game site at the last year's losing school's campus. Since Lipscomb and Austin Peay are located about fifty miles apart, it takes nearly four hours to complete the run.

The game this year was not decided until the last few seconds with Austin Peay squeezing out a 69-68 win. The Gobs trailed most of the game but put on a tremendous rally to win.

Both the players and the students were "keyed" to high emotional levels for this contest and it is usually just as close as the score indicates.

Aside from usual student to student clashes and a few officers of the peace, every now and then the success of this rivalry is incomparable to any other student interest we have yet to experience at Austin Peay State College.

For those of you who have not experienced the results of a "Torch Game" at Austin Peay, we certainly hope you'll strive to do so in the near future. If Austin Peay can continue to establish rivalries with area school we will surely continue to grow!!

1960 Baseball

The 1960 Governor Baseball team finished with an overall record of nine wins and eight losses. In VSAC conference play their record was four wins and five defeats.

Head Coach Leon Sandifer will be starting his eleventh season in 1961 as chief leader of Austin Peay's nine.

Coach Sandifer hopes to improve his record from last year. Several on his team graduated. The Governor's center will be around Jim Stewart at third base, John Briggeman at first base, Joe Cincott behind the plate. On the mound Sandifer will alternate with Ken Connelly, Ronnie Bibb, Roger Davis, Jim Beshears, and Herschel Smith. Also Sandifer is counting on getting some newcomers out for this year's team.

The 1961 season will open early on March 27 with Central Michigan. Nineteen games are scheduled for this season, ten home games on tap.

The Gobs are looked on to be stronger this year and the maturing of the pitching staff should contribute immensely to the successfulness of the team.

The major addition in the scheduling is the addition of large colleges such as Purdue University. The Boilermakers will play the Governors here in April.

1960 Track • VSAC Champs

Under the able direction of George Fisher and Leon Garrett the Governors copped their first VSAC track crown ever in the 1960 season.

After a somewhat disheartening performance in their first two meets the Gov thinlegs rallied their efforts and came on to win the next two contests before they fell twice again at the hands of powerful Murray State College and Middle Tennessee State College. Fisher and Garrett then took their spirited group through the last three meets with victories in two of them.

Carrying a mediocre record into the conference meet the Governors were rated as anything but a strong contender for the championship. But a determined and gallant crew, led by Tom Phillips in the broad jump and the high jump, Charlie "Red" Reinhart in the high and low hurdles, Jim Henderson and Fred Overton in the middle distance runs, and Bobby Winders in the mile and two-mile runs, paid little attention to their "dark horse" ranking and performed like champions to sweep Austin Peay to the VSAC track title, the first in the school's history.

The Golf team is coached by Mr. Sherwin Clift.

Last season the team compiled a 3-3 record.

This season's schedule has eight meets and two tournaments. The Gobs have exchange meets with David Lipscomb, Florence State, Western Kentucky, and Union University. The team will compete in the TIAC and VSAC tournaments.

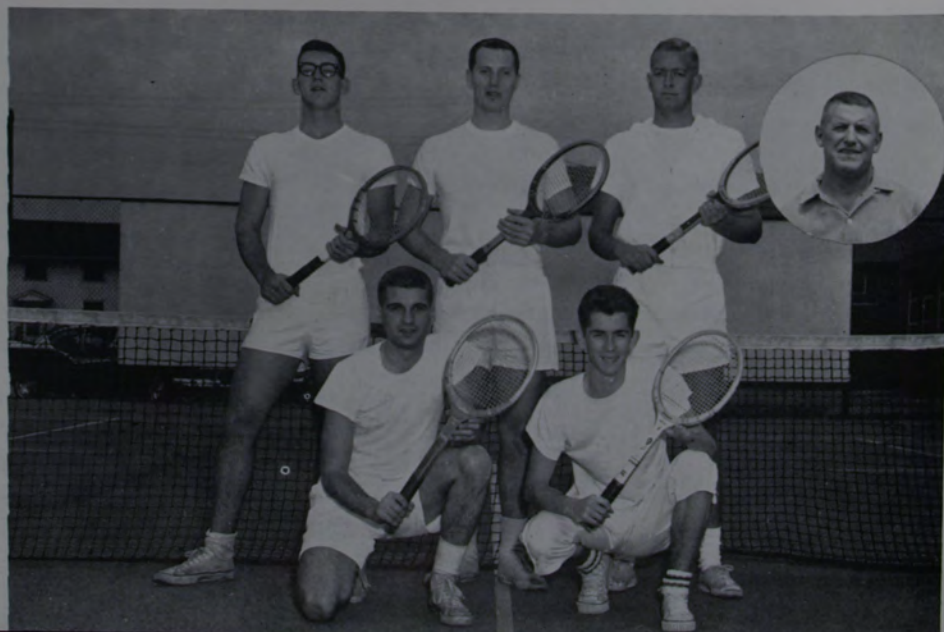

1961 Tennis

The Tennis team will be out to improve their 1960 record of two wins and two defeats. Last season they split two matches with Fort Campbell and also split two with Paducah College.

The team is composed of five members: Dick Scott, Eddie Sexton, Buddy Soloman, Lloyd Collier and Charles Wasson.

The Tennis team is one of the relatively new sports at Austin Peay. It has yet to get completely on its feet and fully established.

On every college campus there must be some form of organized social activity where people with similar interests can meet and develop these interests and share ideas. It is these ideas that make a college grow. The conventional method of having clubs and societies for this purpose is not foreign to Austin Peay. We have about forty such clubs on campus.

Honor societies leave no taste of want here either for there are several such societies on our campus. The groups attempt to stimulate the students majoring in their subject matter area to attain the highest possible honors in order to be eligible for membership.

One common goal of this group of clubs is to promote the social life of the campus and stimulate school spirit. In order to acquaint you with the clubs, we, the editors, have compiled the following pages devoted to most of the clubs at Austin Peay.

The staff of the FAREWELL AND HAIL takes great pleasure in presenting to you the 1961 edition of our college yearbook. It is the end product of many hours of hard work and we hope that it pleases you in every way. We have attempted to improve it this year in several ways and we hope that it will become one of the cherished mementos of your college days at Austin Peay State College.

Our theme, "Farewell and Hail," is one of the traditions of this school. It is named for the ceremony held in honor of the graduating seniors each year by volunteer undergraduates.

Farewell to weary days of past, Hail to the new dawning of the future. The future may be uncertain, but memories of the past are a personal possession that we each have and hold forever. The good times and the bad times, all are an experience to remember. To these years at Austin Peay, we fondly bid Farewell but the experiences gained will be used as a foundation for judgment in the future. So, we exclaim Hail to the moments to come, with the hope that we will grow more effective and competent in everything that we endeavor to do.

Maybe our effort to condense a year of college into a few pages will be eventful for most of you; sad to some, happy and joyous to others, but to us, it means the realization of a dream that started so long ago in September.

We hope that you will thumb through the pages of this book often in the future to remind you of days past at Austin Peay, but we also hope that you will return often to the campus.

All State

The All-State was started almost thirty-one years ago. Since then the semi-monthly student newspaper has gone through a continual process of increase in quality. The staff this year has attempted to improve many points of the paper. Emphasis has been placed on the announcement of forthcoming events and a better editorial page. One of most widely read and controversial features has been the "Letters to the Editor." The paper has also established the monthly selection of a "Man of the Month," and "Miss (Month)."

In 1959 the All-State began awarding a trophy to the campus organization which had contributed the most to the college during the preceding year. In both 1959 and 1960, this award was won by the Circle "K" Club.

Student Council

The Student Council, under the leadership of Graham Sugg, has completed another progressive year. The Council is composed of the elected officers, class representatives, and the presidents of the campus organizations and is the legislative body of the students. A vigorous campaign is held each spring quarter and a new student emerges as its president.

This year, the Council sponsored the Bonfire before Homecoming, several dances, assembly programs, and a wide variety of activities. It is the aim of this group to increase school spirit and to promote more active participation in the various campus organizations.

House Councils

The house councils are the administrative bodies of the dormitories on campus. Officers are elected annually from the residents of each and they work with the supervisors and Deans to encourage good relations between the residents and the administration.

The councils of the girls' dormitories work with Miss Meacham, Dean of Women and Mrs. Gamble and Mrs. Reeves, supervisors of the girls' dorms. The councils of the boys' dormitories work with Dr. Savage, Dean of Students, and Mr. Gardner and Mr. Fisher, their supervisors. A new boys' dormitory is under construction on Drane Street.

Problems do arise where large numbers of people live together, but it is at these times that the value of the councils is best seen.

NORA ROTH

Alpha Club

Socialization in a girls' dormitory comes natural, but to promote better cooperation there are the three social clubs in these dorms. The first of these is the Alpha Club. It has always been successful in promoting a great deal of esprit d'corps for the club, especially during Homecoming.

These three clubs jointly sponsor the Valentine Dance, one of the outstanding social events of the college year.

OFFICERS—Camilla McCullough, President; Marty Brown, Vice-President; Justine Nichols, Secretary-Treasurer.

The members of the Beta Club often boast that theirs is the best of the women's clubs on campus, but they usually meet a great deal of opposition from the other two. At any rate, the members endeavor to make their club second to none. The girls always enter a car in the Homecoming Parade and cooperate with the other clubs in their projects.

Omega Club

Two clubs produce a stalemate, but add a third and you have variety and interest. Competing with the Alpha and Beta Clubs is the Omega Club, composed of girls with one major aim, the promotion of school spirit. They, like the other two, never fail to enter a car in the Homecoming Parade. While competing with the other two on one front, they do cooperate each time the annual Valentine Dance rolls around.

Beta Beta Beta

Beta Beta Beta is a Biological Honor Society composed of outstanding students majoring or minoring in biology. These students have achieved superior academic records and indicate special aptitude for the subject of biology.

Highlighting student participation in research, Miss Rosemary Gaiser represented the Austin Peay chapter at the Tennessee Academy of Science meeting at Knoxville and at the Southeastern Regional Tri-Beta meeting at Lexington, Kentucky, by presenting a paper on the research that she had performed in the cultivation of parasitic round worms.

Such outstanding personalities as Dr. Richard Kudo, A.I.B.S. visiting lecturer, Southern Illinois University, Dr. Arthur Woodbury, Chief of the Division of Pharmacology, University of Tennessee, Dr. Alfred Gellhorn, Columbia School of Medicine and the American Cancer Society, and Dr. William Downs, Jr., Director of the Research Center, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, were featured for the enlightenment of Austin Peay students through the chapter of Tri-Beta.

Kappa Delta Pi

The Eta Rho Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was established on the Austin Peay campus on May 23, 1953. It is an international honor society in education and is composed of both students and faculty members.

The club holds regular monthly meetings at which papers are presented by members and prominent guests.

The purpose of Kappa Delt Pi is to increase the interest in education and the promotion of good scholarship among those who are preparing to teach. The group is sponsored by Dr. Tom K. Savage.

Student National Education Association

The Claxton Chapter of the Student National Education Association is composed of students preparing to teach in the elementary and secondary schools. Sponsored by Dr. Fred Bunger, the club is a branch of the largest teachers' organization in the world. The club's activities for this year included a meeting with the state and national directors of S.N.E.A., attendance at the state convention at Middle Tennessee State College in February, several service projects and their annual banquet. Meetings are held monthly and programs include well-known speakers, panel discussions, and other informative presentations. Members receive the N.E.A. Journal and the Tennessee Teacher.

One of the more active clubs on campus is the Music Educators National Conference. For the past two years the Austin Peay chapter has had the largest membership in the state.

Two original school songs, "A Song for Austin Peay," and "Smash Bang," were written by a former sponsor of the M.E.N.C., Dr. Charles Gary.

The annual spring dance is one of the highlights on the social calendar because of the originality of the annual theme.

The chapter also exhibits good taste in the selection of their representative for the "Miss Hat and Cane" contest each year.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is an honor society in music and is open by invitation to interested male students who are enrolled in a campus musical organization. The members are required to maintain a high scholastic average in order to remain active.

This is the second year for the Theta Tau chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, but the group is growing and the activities are expanding. This year the club sponsored a variety show composed of skits prepared by the other clubs on campus. The aims of the group are to promote interest in music, promote a fraternal spirit among musicians, and to promote loyalty to the alma mater.

OFFICERS—John Pickrell, President; Joe Wayne Giles, Vice-President; Billy Murphy, Secretary-Treasurer; Dr. Aaron Schmidt, Faculty Sponsor.

The Choir and Collegians

Sing, Sing, Sing! This is exactly what the Choir of Austin Peay does. Not just singing, but very beautiful singing indeed. The Choir responds to the very capable direction of Dr. Tom Cowan and Mr. Jack Hurt to give all listeners an experience to remember.

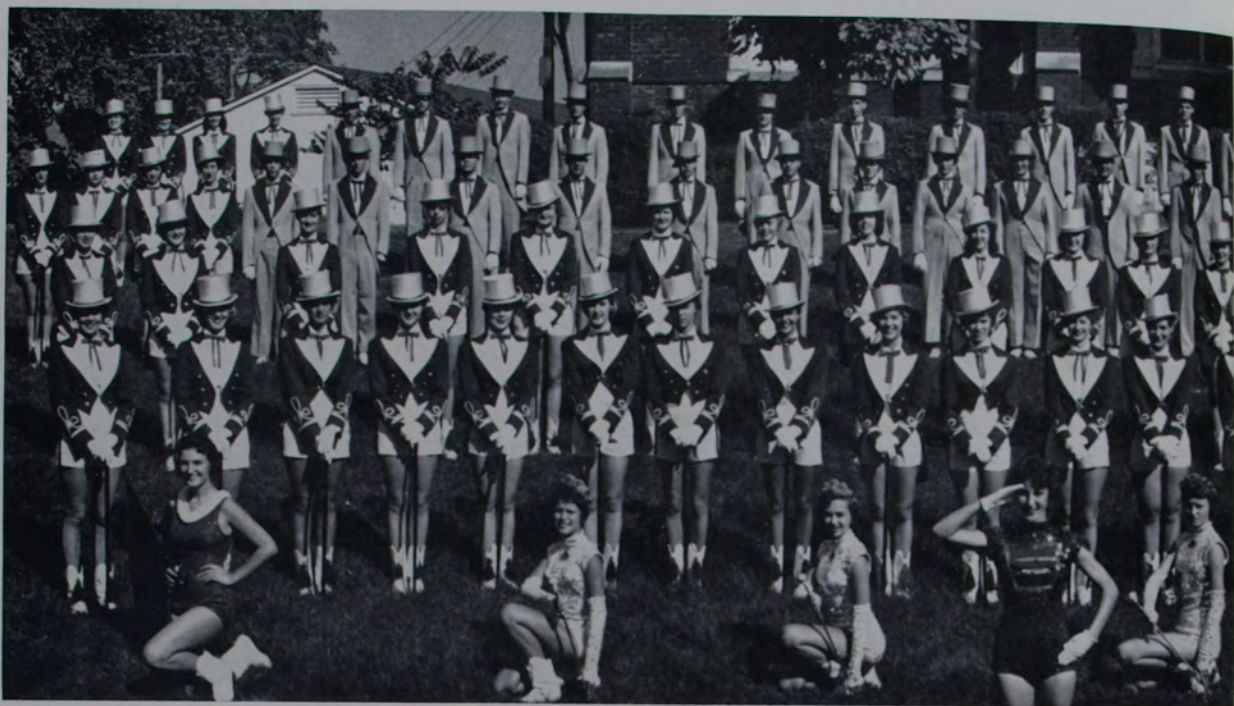

This fine group, directed by Dr. Aaron Schmidt, exhibits the versatility of the music department of Austin Peay. The Collegians play dance band music not equalled by any non-professional group in the south. One of the highlights of the year is their tour of high schools in the service area of the college as a part of the recruiting program of the Division of Field Services. Accompanied by Dr. Schmidt and Mr. Earl Sexton, Director of Field Services, the group gives each high school an assembly program that they will long remember.

Saxes: Tommy Houston, Lester Solomon, Norman Fredericks, Billy Murphy. Electric Guitar: Charlie Dickson. Vocalist: Marty Brown. Trombones: Doug Batson, Will Hackman, Dick Foust, George Foxworth. Trumpets: Bob Bishop, John Pickrell, Cass Cassovsky, Jim McKenzie. Drums: Jackie Kindig. Bass: Sid Burton. Piano: Joe Wayne Giles.

Governettes And . . .

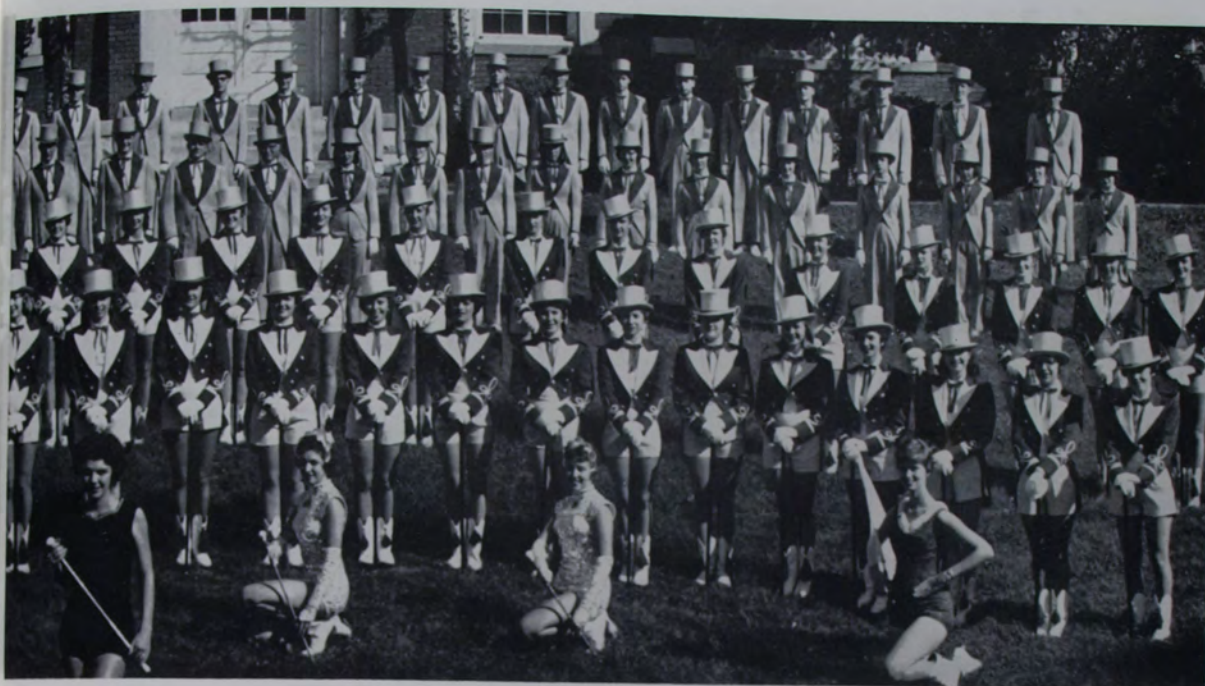

The Marching Band and Governettes of Austin Peay are two of the most famous groups of this type in the United States. Under the direction of Dr. Aaron Schmidt these groups perform at all home football games, parades, and festivals. The highlight of this year was their appearance on national television in the Macy's Christmas Parade, in New York City.

The Band plays numbers which are arranged especially for them by the Director and does precision drill routines. The Governettes, accompanied by the Band, does precision drill and dance routines, also arranged by Dr. Schmidt. Wherever these groups go, their tuxedo-style uniforms immediately attract attention to the groups. But it is when they begin to play and march that all other similar groups watch and learn.

A band as great as this and a smooth-functioning drill group as famous as the Governettes does not happen overnight. It is the result of diligent daily practice as a group and individually. It is the result of careful following of every direction of an expert leader. But more than this, it is the result of an intense desire to be a member of the "best" organization of its type. These are the best.

OFFICERS—Laura Swift, President; Martha Ann Chapman, Vice-President; Janelle Mason, Secretary-Treasurer; Dr. Aaron Schmidt, Director of Marching Units.

Governettes and

On Tuesday, November 22, 1960, a group of 130 assorted musicians, flag and baton twirlers, dancing girls and sponsors gathered at the L. and N. terminal in Clarksville to embark on a journey that would carry them several hundred miles and bring national recognition to these organizations and the school that they represented. This group was composed of the Governors Marching Band and Governettes, the twirling corps, and the featured twirler, O'Neil Hill Phillips, all of Austin Peay State College.

On Wednesday they arrived in the world's largest city to participate as the featured units in the world's most famous parade. This city was New York and the parade was Macy's. At the rehearsal that night, they almost blew the lid off the Governor Clinton Hotel.

At 5:45 a.m., Thanksgiving Day, this group of weary performers rolled out for the long march. They were seen by about two million people along the parade route and by another sixty million on NBC Color TV and CBS-TV. To the tune of "Are You from Dixie," "Alexander's Rag Time Band," and "Holst March," all arranged especially for this band by the director, Dr. Aaron Schmidt, the Governettes danced, the spinners spun, and the musicians played their hearts out.

Following this the group had 24 hours of free time in "The" city. Sightseeing . . . there's nothing like it.

But all that glitters is not gold, for what goes up (to New York) must come down (to Tennessee), so this same group crawled back in their private coaches and found their way back to Clarksville and home.

A banquet and many letters of congratulations awaited the itinerant bandmen. A happy ending to a glorious trip. It was Farewell to New York and Hail to the generous folks who made this appearance possible. This was one of the highlights of their college careers.

Circle "K"

OFFICERS—Bill Frensley, Treasurer; Bob McGee, Secretary; Joe Crunk, Vice-President; Jerry Poole, President; Gordon Jackson, Lt. Governor, Kentucky-Tennessee District.

The Circle "K" Club is a civic club, which is to the college campus what Kiwanis is to the business world. It is composed of young men, meeting the scholastic requirements, who are considered by the members to be civic-minded. Under the sponsorship of Dr. Fred Bunger, the main activity is the giving of scholarships to worthy freshmen entering the college for the first time. For the past two years, Circle "K" has won the All-State award for the most outstanding club on campus. Last year the club presented a portrait of President Harvill to the school. The portrait, painted by Mr. Charles Young of the Fine Arts Department, may be seen in the main foyer of the Brown-Administration Building.

Money Makers . . .

Circle "K" has sponsored several activities this year. Among them were the sale of air cushions imprinted with the name of the college, the sale of Austin Peay sweat shirts, the sending of two delegates to the International Circle "K" Convention in Toronto, Canada, the sponsorship of the Annual Circle "K" Christmas High School Basketball Tournament, the sponsorship of the first annual Circle "K"-

Faculty basketball game (incidentally, the faculty won), the collection of funds for the March of Dimes and the American Cancer Society, presentation of four scholarships to entering freshmen, the sponsorship of a candy sale, and acting as host for the Kentucky-Tennessee district meeting of the Circle "K" International. The club closed the year's activities with the annual banquet for the members and guests.

English Club

The English Club, composed of English majors and minors attempts to promote better usage and understanding of English and increased participation in speech, dramatics, and creative writing. They also promote better understanding among people in their field.

The Tower, an anthology of student writings is edited, published, and sold by the club. They also sell Austin Peay Christmas cards and personalized stationery. The proceeds from these sales are used to provide the Tower Scholarships, which are given to entering freshmen majoring in English.

The entire student body, and the English Club particularly, was saddened this year by the untimely death of Dr. George C. Grise, Chairman of the Modern Languages Division of the college, and, for many years, the sponsor of the English Club. One of the highlights of this year's activities was their annual picnic at his home.

Mr. Charles Waters and Mr. Hayden Jolly are now the sponsors of this club.

Home Economics Club

OFFICERS—Nancy Ann Byard, Vice-President; Marilyn Cowan, Vice-President; Polly Fussell, President; June Dortch, Treasurer; Mary Wilyard, Secretary.

The Home Economics Club, open to all majors and minors, studies all the phases of home-making on the college level. Foods and nutrition, textiles, furnishings, family spending, understanding children, and family relationships are some of the topics that this club considers.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Doris Milton, the club meets semi-monthly, one for business, the other for programs and fun. The award for "Miss Home Economics" was given this year to Polly Fussell, who is president of this club.

Among the many activities of the club is the serving of refreshments and a get-acquainted party for entering freshmen during Orientation Week. Interesting speakers are brought in for many of the programs, and in every phase of their activity, the Home Economics Club is one of the busiest on campus.

Third Row: Johnny Matthews, Paul Batson, Wayne Strohm, Billy Trevena, Lucian Wyatt, Bill Justice, Tommy Rye, James Wiseman.

The Agriculture Club

The Agriculture Club, composed of those students majoring in agriculture, attempts to promote a better understanding of modern developments in this field. Sponsored by Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Hinton, the club won second place for their float in the homecoming parade, had two parties at the recreation area of the College Farm and one on beautiful Kentucky Lake, and another in conjunction with the Home Economics Club. Again this year, the Ag. Club is selling various paraphernalia advertising our school.

OFFICERS—Wayne Strohm, President; Lucian Wyatt, Vice-President; Richard Robinson, Secretary-Treasurer; Tom Cain, Reporter; Mr. Frank Hinton, Sponsor.

Business Club

The Business Club, composed of business majors and minors, again sponsored its ham raffle to finance the activities of the year. The major activity is the giving of a scholarship each year to an entering freshman majoring in business. The club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Jerry Rust, also had a hayride in the fall and a picnic in the spring.

The main objective of the Business Club is to promote high professional standards for those preparing to enter the field of business. The projects of this club give its members and officers an opportunity to co-operate in worthwhile endeavors, while gaining business experience in handling club affairs.

OFFICERS—Don Hamill, President; Bill Frensley, Vice-President; Judy Graves, Secretary; June Dortch, Treasurer; Mr. Jerry Rust, Sponsor.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by Mr. John Porter, is composed of majors and minors in industrial arts and pre-engineering students taking industrial education courses. They take great pride in their entries in the annual homecoming parade. This year they won first place for their reconstructed "still." Monthly meetings are held in which speakers are presented and movies are shown relating to industrial education. The group also takes field trips to industrial concerns and observes the operations in an effort to get a better understanding of how each industry fits into the pattern of our culture.

OFFICERS—James Howell, President; Victor Baggett, Vice-President; William Norfleet, Secretary; Preston Bagwell, Treasurer; Mr. John Porter, Sponsor.

Science Club

The Science Club of A.P.S.C. attempts to promote understanding between its members in the different phases of science, present outstanding speakers in the field of science, promote more interest in the study of science, and publicize the science departments of this college.

This year the club entered a car in the homecoming parade and presented programs concerning the five senses and chemical and biological warfare. The spring is highlighted by their presentation of their annual science contest in which tests in chemistry, biology, physics, and general science are administered to high school students in this area. The winning schools and students are presented awards and scholarships.

Galois Club

The Galois Club consists of those brainy people who are majoring in mathematics at Austin Peay. Among their activities they conduct a math clinic for those students having troubles with their math courses and sponsor the annual mathematics contest for high school students from this area. They devise the exercises, administer the tests, and do the grading. This contest is under the direction of the Tennessee Collegiate Teachers of Mathematics. The club is sponsored by the members of the mathematics department.

The club is composed of those people for whom math comes quite naturally, so they are a real service to those of us to whom math is a drag.

OFFICERS—John Capps, President; Benny Collins, Vice-President; Emily Kaye Bellamy, Secretary-Treasurer.

A. P. Playhouse

OFFICERS—Carl Craven, President; Walter Gray, Vice-President; Linda Powers, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Austin Peay Playhouse was organized last year for students who are interested in any phase of the theatrical arts. This year, the club sponsored another successful masquerade party and a dance after the final home basketball game.

Under the direction of Mr. John Griffin, the Playhouse presented Arthur Miller's "All My Sons," and in co-operation with the Clarksville Civic Theatre, the Playhouse presented "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial," and "The Crucible." The Playhouse assists the Community Concert Association by providing stage crews and lighting technicians for their concerts. All of the productions are presented in the beautiful, air-conditioned Clement Auditorium.

P. E. Majors Club

The P.E. Majors Club is composed of majors and minors in the field of physical education. The club attempts to promote high standards in the teaching of physical education, inform the general public of the importance of the physical education program in the schools, and promote social and professional cooperation between persons in the field.

The club is chartered by the American Association of Health and Physical Education. It sponsors the Women's Intra-Mural Association and assists in the intra-mural program of the college.

OFFICERS—Ida Chadwick, Treasurer; Mo Burlison, President; Carolyn Settle, Vice-President; Peggy Rust, Secretary.

OFFICERS: Diane Bieri, President; Judy Upton, Vice-President; Martha Varble, Secretary and Treasurer.

Aqua Belles

This is the third year of Aqua Belles, a club composed of people interested in synchronized swimming. A climax to the swimmers' efforts is afforded the public through the production of a vast water show. This year the theme was "Dreamland." All the famous Mother Goose characters came to life as the swimmers donned their costumes and displayed their feats of precision swimming they so ably mastered under the skillful supervision of Miss Patsy Dykes.

Because the production is so grandly attended, two performances are usually given. Every member of the club devotes much spare time to practice, and the enthusiasm shown by all indicates the members work together to make each performance greater than the last.

To one female member, a special honor is bestowed—"Miss Aqua Belle." This year "Miss Aqua Belle" is Diane Bieri, voted by all the members as having contributed the most for the best of the club.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club, sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and a member of the Association of International Relations Club, enjoyed one of the best years in its history. First organized after World War II, it was reorganized two years ago. Sponsored by Dr. Wentworth S. Morris, Chairman of the Social Studies Department, the club began a move to have a series of programs presented by the exchange students on campus. Students from Norway, Iraq, Spain, and other foreign countries presented programs concerning their homelands. In addition several programs about current international affairs were presented by members of the history department. The year's activities were culminated by a party at the home of the Traherns.

OFFICERS—Jerry Scott, President; Dan Long, Vice-President; David Woodward, Second Vice-President; Nancy Plummer, Secretary-Treasurer; Dr. W. S. Morris, Sponsor.

Westminister Fellowship

OFFICERS—Jim Briney, President; Teena Smith, Vice-President; Judy Harter, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Westminister Fellowship is the organization that promotes Christian fellowship among the Presbyterian students on campus. Their activities are varied, but their chief objective is to give their members an opportunity to be of Christian service on the campus. They welcome Presbyterians and non-Presbyterians alike, as they attempt to spread Christian good-will to everyone on the campus.

Wesleyans

The Wesleyans is the organization of Methodist students on campus. Their programs include films and outstanding speakers. They sponsor two week-end retreats each year, a chili supper, and an inter-denominational Christmas caroling party.

It is the purpose of this organization to integrate religion into the college student's life as an active part of his character. Through their many activities they show that students can have fun and lead Christian lives at the same time.

The Wesleyans are sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boehms and Mrs. James Crockarell.

OFFICERS—Bob Evetts, Publicity Chairman; Mr. Charles Boehms, Faculty Counselor; Beverly Nichols, Vice-President; Rebekah Johnson, Secretary; Dick Scott, President.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union provides a link between the home church and the college student away from home. It is composed of Baptist students and others on campus and the activities of the club are quite varied.

This year, the B.S.U. sponsored the annual Valentine Banquet, the annual Christmas party for orphans, an intra-mural basketball team, and weekly Vespers, in addition to the regular semi-monthly meetings. They were represented at the State B.S.U. Convention and pledged the missions program again this year.

Miss Patsy Middleton came to Austin Peay this year as B.S.U. Director. Supported by the Southern Baptist Convention, she maintains the B.S.U. office in Robb Hall, from which she guides the activities of the club and counsels with students who seek her advice.

B.S.U. began publication of a weekly bulletin, The B.S.U. Spotlight, giving information about club activities and about what Baptists are doing around the campus.

"A" Club

The "A" Club consists of those students who have earned the college letter in the inter-scholastic sports of Austin Peay. A member of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference, Austin Peay participates in football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, and golf. Those earning letters in any of these are eligible for membership in this club and to wear the official school jacket.

Del Square Psi

Del Square Psi is composed of physics majors and presents regular programs of interest to those interested in physics. Sponsored by Miss Sara Wood, the club presents one distinguished speaker each year and has programs consisting of films and topic discussions. The officers are: Joe Thomas, President; John Rhinehart, Vice-President; Mickey Garland, Secretary-Treasurer.

A. P. Fellowship

The Austin Peay Christian Fellowship, an inter-denominational group, attempts to promote good-will and understanding between members of the various faiths on campus.

Their members take time out from classes for prayer and meditation.

Brass Choir

Under the direction of Willis Hackman, this musical group is composed of those persons studying music who play brass instruments. They present an assembly program yearly and this occasion is looked forward to by all. The past year they played music from several of the great musical Periods and climaxed their presentation by playing portions of the music from the film "Quo Vadis."

Concert Band

The musical atmosphere changes as often as the season on this campus. Soon after football season is put on the shelf the concert band begins its rehearsals for another season. Mr. Lew W. Bodine, director of the group puts the Austin Peay Symphonic Band through its paces.

Directing concert music is an art in itself and the beautiful sound that this band has is praise beyond words for Mr. Bodine and this fine group of musicians.

Each spring the band presents a special assembly program and makes a tour of Tennessee and Kentucky high schools and presents assembly programs for their student bodies.

Radio Club

The Amateur Radio Club is one of the newest organizations on the campus. The club was organized during the winter quarter of 1960. At that time the club received its official charter and Federal Communications Commission license with the call letters W4NGV for the club station.

The club is planned to be an organization of all persons interested in amateur radio at Austin Peay. One of the major objectives of the club is to help new members get their licenses. At present there are eight members of which five are licensed hams. The club station is located in the Industrial Arts building; the faculty sponsor is Mr. Porter.

... and so Farewell and Hail

Annuals are filled with memories the human mind soon forgets. Between their covers lie experiences and events which are soothing to the mind in later years when one finds himself "looking back!" Through the 1961 FAREWELL AND HAIL the Staff, it feels, has given the Student Body such a collection of memorable experiences and events. The Staff hopes that you will find for this history a permanent berth in your college life treasure chest. Then at some other time and perhaps at another place, when opportunity arises—and it will—the Staff hopes that you will pull from the bookshelf this collection and with a great deal of pride briefly relive the younger days at Austin Peay State College. With this the Staff bids Farewell to the parting seniors and Hail to the anxious freshmen.
