A. P. N. S. Sponsors Are Reorganized

HACH BEACH, DRANE ARE CHOSEN OFFICERS—TICK-ET SALE SUCCESS

Celebrating the resumption of football at the Austin Peay Normal School, after a lapse of three years, the Athletic Sponsors' Association was reorganized at a banquet at the school cafeteria, October 2.

Following the banquet, the meeting was called to order by Dr. P. P. Claxton, who directed a nominating committee to present names of officers to the association. The following officers were elected by acclamation: Adolf Hach, president; Billy Drane, secretary; W. E. Beach, treasurer.

Enthusiastic speeches by the officers were followed by a lecture from Roy King, Clarksville postmaster and president of the Chamber of Commerce; Dean Harvill, C. H. Moore, superintendent of city schools; Allin Brown, A. B. Killebrew, and Morris Latner. Coach Brown made a talk on the make-up of his team, and its prospects.

Taking as its goal at least one hundred members, a drive for sponsorship tickets at five dollars was launched. W. E. Beach began with a subscription of twenty-five dollars, and others followed. Assisted by the Boosters Club, the campaign was successfully closed two weeks later with a membership of one hundred and seventeen.

ALL-STATE BEGINS PUBLICATION WORK

M I K E. NORTHINGTON JR.
HEADS A. P. N. PAPER
STAFF

Organizing with a tentative staff headed by Mike Northington, Jr., as editor-in-chief, the All State, Austin Peay Normal School publication, has begun work for the current year.

The staff, along with its sponsors, Miss Annie Laurie Huff and Prof. Felix Woodward of the English department, met Monday night and made plans for the coming year. The meeting was addressed by W. W. Barksdale, Jr., editor of the Clarksville Star, who told the aspiring journalists of the problems facing a newspaperman.

Working under Mr. Northington are three news editors, J. C. Hunt and Miss Agnes Nicholson of Clarksville, and Miss Monteen Deason of Vanleise; the literary editor, Miss Margaret Wilson and Gian Marchetti, formerly of the Clarksville High School; the sports editors, G. S. Thurmond and Ernest Mills of Georgia; the business manager, (Continued on Page 4)

MISS HOWARD, MISS MR. BROWN JOIN NORMAL FACULTY

The opening of the Austin Peay Normal School will find the faculty augmented by three new teachers: Miss Lucy Howard, Miss Mary S. Henderson, and Mr. Fred Thomas Brown.

Miss Howard, who succeeded Mrs. Morrow as librarian, is from Columbia, Miss., and has been teaching Spanish at Mississippi State College for Women. She has taken degrees from Mississippi State College for Women, Columbia University, George Peabody College for Teachers, and

President's Portrait Painted

The above cut appearing in the October 1 issue of the Clarksville Star, and kindly lent the All State by that paper, shows Lloyd Bowers Embury, a Washington artist, beside the oil painting of Dr. P. P. Claxton, president of the Austin Peay Normal School, which the former has recently completed. Within a few weeks the portrait will be hung in Washington, D. C., where Dr. Claxton was formerly United States Commissioner of Education. Mr. Embury, who is twenty-two years old, graduated with the B.F.A. degree last June from Yale University, where he compressed five years work in the portraiture department of the College of Fine Arts into four years. He received every honor given in that department.

Miss Henderson, professor of home economics, is filling the post left vacant by the death last year of Miss Mattie Smith. She comes to the Normal from Knoxville, where she was connected with the University of Tennessee. (Continued on Page Two)

CHINA EXHIBIT OPENED THURSDAY

Beginning Thursday, an exhibit of fine china opened in the home economics room of Stewart Building. The exhibit will be under the auspices of Miss Mary Stuart Henderson, head of the Domestic Science Department, and Miss Hazel Smith, head of the Art Department, assisted by the girls of the Alpha Beta, Delta and Omega Clubs.

Those who already have an expert knowledge of china and pottery will enjoy this exhibit, recalling to mind as it will, some famous marks of china, which they may not possess.

For those who are not familiar with the various marks of fine china, this exhibit will be a real pleasure, and of artistic educational value.

There will be on exhibit Hinge Spode, Haviland, Royal Worcester, Belleek, Willow, Majolica, Delft, and others.

Those interested in fine china-ware are invited to visit the exhibit Thursday and Friday from 9 to 4, and Saturday from 9 to 2, in the Stewart Building at the Normal College.

Claxtons Entertain Football Squad

Dr. and Mrs. P. P. Claxton entertained the football team at their home Sunday afternoon, October 18. Other invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Brown, and Dean and Mrs. Halbert Harvill.

AUSTIN PEAY NORMAL SCHOOL OPENS FOR EIGHTH YEAR---ENROLLMENT UP

Three New Members Added to Faculty---Registration Reveals School Serves A Wide Area.

Celebrating its eighth birthday with the resumption of football and the addition of three new members to the teaching staff, the Austin Peay Normal School opened Tuesday, September 22, with a 22 per cent increase in enrollment over the 1935 fall quarter.

The new members of the faculty are:

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL GYMNASIUM IS DEDICATED

TWO HOUR PROGRAM ENJOYED BY MANY

The gymnasium of the New Providence Demonstration School was formally dedicated to the local community Thursday night, October 1, 1936. The dedication exercises were presided over by Mr. D. H. Fite, able principal of the New Providence School.

The exercises began at 7:45 o'clock Thursday night and there ensued two full hours of lively and competitive play, a very realistic program of the building of the gym, and group singing sponsored by Mrs. Jessye Henry Childs, one of the New Providence teachers.

During the program, keys to the gym were given to the local pastor, to the president of the home demonstration club, to the (Continued on Page 4)

Big Sandy P.-T. A. Puts On Exhibit

An exhibit of the schools and community of Big Sandy, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association was displayed in the Library, October 2-4.

This exhibit was interesting to the students and faculty not only because of its intrinsic worth, but because many of the teachers, whose schools were represented are graduates of Austin Peay Normal School.

In addition to the handcraft of the pupils, there were such interesting items in the exhibit as a newspaper of 1863 reporting the death of Abraham Lincoln, a handpunch dress pattern, forty years old, a sheet handpunch in the early part of the 19th century, a pair of moccasins found more than a hundred years ago in a Kentucky cave; a suit of the late 18th century, and a pair of trousers of linen received through a consignment of its years of use. The coat of homespun was dyed with the juice of walnut hulls and the trousers of linen received their color from indigo.

WHO'S WHO IN FOOT- BALL AND BEAUTY

"Austin Peay All Hall!" Such is the song of the freshmen as they come to the open doors of A. P. N. Each year in steadily increasing crowds, the new players to the old go to the gym the freshmen bring with them new life, new spirit, changes. From many counties in Tennessee, and from adjoining states they come bringing interest, pep, and school spirit. From Glynn, Georgia come four football players to support the red and white—Joe Sprinkis, tall, dark, and handsome center; Henry Sandifer, All-Southern backfielder, comes to our aid in but fast backfielder, and Andrew Lorentzen, typical heavy duty center for the line, Muscovy, Georgia, wades in a farewell to Ernest Mills when he came to the red and white as right halfback. Thurmond, brunette backfielder, comes to our aid from "way down there in Alabama." Light but fast, that's Dave Sedford, comes to our aid from Lexington. (Continued on Page 4) ully are Miss Lucy Howard, who with the resumption of football, and Miss Mary S. Henderson, professor of Home Economics, and Fred T. Brown, director of athletics, under whose direction football will again be resumed after a three years' lapse. Professor F. G. Woodward, back from a year's leave of absence, resumes his duties as head of the Department of English. Mrs. Eula B. Keeling becomes matron of the women's dormitory, succeeding Miss Sara Nelson Brown, who resigned.

Registration, as usual, was held in the library and home economics room. Sophomores made out their schedules under the direction of Miss Smith, Professors Moffitt, Fite, Woodward, and Bond. Freshmen were assisted by Miss Buchanan, Miss Tanner, Miss Huff, Mrs. Bell, Professors Nicholson and Sprafkin.

A survey of the homes of students enrolled reveals that the school is gradually serving a wider area. Students for the fall quarter come from the following counties in the state: Bedford, Benton, Christian, Davidson, Dickson, Fentress, Henry, Hickman, Houston, Humphreys, Lewis, Lincoln, Maury, Montgomery, Robertson, Sevier, Shelby, Sumner, Sumpter, Warren, Wayne, and Williamson.

BOOSTER CLUB ORGANIZES

BROWN, WILLIAMS, HAND ELECTED AS OFFICERS.

On Wednesday, September 30, a group of students met for the purpose of forming a new club to boost the various extra-curricular activities of Austin Peay Normal School.

In an informal meeting, their sponsor, Mr. W. B. Nicholson, of the History Department, made a brief talk regarding the nature and purpose of the club. The following officers were elected: Frances Browning, president; Victor Williams, vice-president; Virginia Hand, secretary and treasurer.

The name Booster Club was chosen by the organization and tentatively Tuesday morning was selected as a regular weekly meeting date. Selecting the Athletic Sponsors' Association as its first work, the club actively and successfully sponsored a drive for the sale of athletic tickets which resulted in securing over six hundred dollars for the Athletic Association.

All those who are interested in the work of this club are cordial (Continued on Page Two)

Welcome, Freshmen

Freshmen, Hearty Greetings from the Sophomore Class! We congratulate you on having selected Austin Peay Normal School for your college work — a good faculty and a good school, located in a splendid town. We congratulate Austin Peay Normal on having such a fine group of young men and young women in the Freshman class. We have already been impressed with the manner in which you have sensed the spirit of college life, with the seriousness with which you have gone about your work, and with the interest you have shown in all the activities of the school and campus. We welcome you most heartily to our institution, of which you are now as much a part as we are.

Life at Austin Peay Normal has been pleasant and profitable to us. It is our sincere hope that you may find it so, and that we may all form new friendships here which will make our lives fuller and richer and happier.

Knowledge, growth and fun, we find it together.

Yea, Rah! Fight, Team, Fight!

In this, its first season after a long lapse, we may well give football our close attention for a few months. If this most popular of college sports is to make a successful comeback, it will need the enthusiastic backing of each student, and we propose to give it just that.

But outside of football there are activities just as worthwhile and much less publicized. The players themselves enjoy the daily practice necessary for a good grid team. But what delectable glories in reading long, tedious passages on a subject, more often than not ending up with only one paragraph which can be of use to him? That news reporter goes into raptures over the prospect of rehabilitating the news of the school and mailing it to his local paper? What club chairman really delights in chasing people down, finally doing all the work himself anyway, and getting most of the blame too?

These are only a few instances of the jobs that fall to the lot of those who participate in activities other than football. And yet, there is just one reason for their loyalty, and that is Interest — lively, enthusiastic, self-sacrificing Interest. No one of them would give up his part of the work, for the simple reason that he is too much interested to consider such a thing.

The same stimulus that keeps football men pounding a line keeps our other activities going. Nothing is more fitting than cheers and applause for the football team, but, lest we forget, let's have a little of our support for our less showy organizations. "Yea, Rah! Fight, team, fight!" is a good idea, but so is a subscription to the All State, and attendance at club meetings, and applause for a debating team.

Therefore, fellow students, our most urgent duty at present is to get behind the School and people!

Popular Matron Resigns

The resignation of Miss Sara Brown, Brown, of the Women's Dormitory, severs a connection with the school which dates from the opening of the institution. During her stay at Austin Peay Normal School, Miss Brown touched the lives of a great many young women who will remember her for a lifetime of beauty and high concept of right living. Miss Brown is being missed by her many friends on the campus. She's now living at Glen Raven, the famous Ewen estate, where she painted many of the pictures which were exhibited at the school several years ago.

with the home supervision section of the United States Agricultural Extension department. She holds degrees from Tennessee State Teachers' College at Johnson City and Columbia University, and has done supplementary work in the University of Tennessee and at Winthrop College. Mr. Brown is here in the capacity of director of physical education. He is a former University of Tennessee all-star athlete and a member of Major Bob Neyland's staff. Mr. Brown has a B.S. degree from the University of Tennessee, and completed work for his Master's degree at the University of Michigan. He is to be in charge of all physical education and athletic instruction. Several weeks before school opened he came to Clarksville to "take up his work on the foot-ball team." Mrs. Brown and the two children joined him here late in September.

In addition to the new members of the faculty, Mr. Felix G. Woodward, who was absent last year doing graduate work at Vanderbilt University, has returned to assume his duties in the Department of English.

Houfbeats of Pegasus

THE ROAD

Child and apathetic, a wind Slides soggily over the cold, flat fields.

Like a wet sheet slapped on a pane of glass.
Walking slowly, I pass
A young woman filling a scuttle From a pile of coal in her yard.
The lumps are black and hard,
But they will paint her windows Yellow in the night,
When she lies staring sleepily at the shadows,
Happy; loved.

The woman's husband

Comes from behind the house,
Where he has been feeding the chickens—

The man kisses his wife And takes the scuttle.
She follows him in.
Her dress is faded, thin;
The wind stirs through it easily,
The door
Slams behind them.

Life tastes unpleasant
Alone,
As oatmeal, unsalted,
Tastes white and shrill.

Those Precious Legacies

Gian Marechci

Anyone who desires to read an exciting and a interest-gripping book about Old England should read John O'The Green, by Jeffrey Farnol. Written with all the color of a Farnol romantic novel, it holds one's attention from first to last. Before going further, perhaps it would be interesting to compare this book with some of the others this author has written. No one can help but notice, if he reads both this book and A Jade of Destiny—the similarity of Farnol plots; and yet, after reading one, you would find the other no less interesting. This is due, in part, to the wealth of vivid and brilliantly painted scenes which the author fills his book.

Although this book is not in our library, some of Farnol's are. This one, along with others, is at the city library, which, of course, is at the disposal of the students. But now a little about the book itself.

King Tristan's plan being to unite into one kingdom with himself a ruler several neighboring duchies, he sent a captured outlaw and noble, John O'The Green, to capture the most powerful of Tristan's opponents. To save the lives of nine of his friends, John accepted, not knowing that within his high-walled castle, John O'The Green, to capture the most powerful of Tristan's opponents. ## Haphazard Happenings

By A. G. Mann

It was too bad that Spirakis was not shaved the other day, eh, Winters, Hand, and Taylor?

Tom Shaw should know all our Madison Street by now. Probably he was showing his companion the historical places, or maybe they were acting as agents for the cafeteria.

Virginia Hand should be congratulated on her new boy friend. Ask Miss Howard for a description of him.

"Big Time" Sexton was chafed to a certain town last around the other side. He also acted as messenger boy.

It is too bad that "Fat Lady" Cope has quit his farm and business. Maybe he had too many prospects to see after.

Mr. Moffitt has offered a reward for his psychology class if they will all get there before the last bell sounds.

"Plowboy" Roark should go down to Western Union and apply for work, since he has had some experience of that kind at these afternoon football sessions.

Claude Little is still the "outstanding" Romeo on the campus. He sweeps them off their feet before they find him out. A description we hope that you can fill the shoe left vacant by Miss Depriest.

If there is any one who would like to contribute a few cents to help buy a place of matches for Claude Jones, please see Coach Brown.

"Where is Eugene?" is an expression circulating over the campus. Wonder who wants him? You guess.

DEBATING CLUB
GIVES PARTY

The Debating Club, giving its first social event of the school year, held a "progressive party" Tuesday evening, December 3. Starting at the girls' dormitory, the group, composed of the club members, and the guests invited by them, left at 8 o'clock for the home of Jim Bailey Harper, four miles from Clarksville, thence to the home of Miss Agnes Nicholson, club sponsor, and ended at Miss Agnes Nicholson's home. At each stop, a short entertainment was given, and refreshments were served.

At the home of Jim Bailey Harper, the group was first introduced to her parents. The giant log home was admired very much by the party. Near the conclusion of this short visit, hot chocolate and sandwiches were served.

At Mr. Moffitt's home, the party, walking single file and holding to a rope, followed him through long, tortuous wanderings in the darkness of his basement. When, at last, the stairs were reached, the group was led upstairs, where, in a room appropriately decorated with colorful autumn branches, refreshments of sweet diet, cakes, and apples were served.

At Miss Nicholson's, after being introduced to her parents, the club played "Percolator", and, while the guests drank of Coca-Colas and cakes were being served, the group played "Two". The chime of the Nicholson clock at 10:45, bid the party to leave. A close, came altogether too soon.

Those present were: Marie Agnes Nicholson, Vivian Brewer, Elizabeth Taylor, Jim Bailey Harper, Marguerite Hambaugh, Victor Williams, Kate Anna Jobe, William Brown, Eleanor Matlock, Chester Price, Francie McCurdy, Thomas Shaw, Orvil L. Moffitt, Mrs. Moffitt, and Mr. Moffitt.

Football Resumed At Normal---Three Games Played

Cumberland Downed 13-0 By Normal In Fast Grid Opener

SANDIFER RETURNS PUNTER 90 YARDS FOR THE FIRST TOUCHDOWN

Saturday night, October 10, under the lights at Murtland Field, the Auburn Normal boys turned in a very good performance of football by defeating the strong B team of Cumberland University 7-0.

The Normal boys were somewhat handicapped in their team work due to the lack of opposition during the daily practice drills, but the team as a whole showed up much better than was expected.

The most brilliant run of the game came in the second quarter when H. Sandifer, the flashy hip-shaking little halfback from Brummett, Georgia, returned a Cumberland punt ninety yards behind good interference for the first score. Lorentzen placed his foot into the pigskin for the extra point.

During the third quarter Sandifer again caught a punt and this time returned it to the forty-yard line, where "Soapy" Haynes drove off tackle for the second score. The try for extra point failed.

In the second quarter the Cumberland Bulldogs started a drive down the field. After sweeping the end and accounting for several complete passes, they managed to get the ball down to the eleven-yard line. The drive was stopped by the A. P. N. Terrors.

Stockton showed his accuracy in passing the ball, while Lockes, receiver of the passes, was outstanding.

In the backfield, the Normal boys pulled the ball well. It was the little practice they have had in the past two weeks. The line showed up equally as well. The visitors made very little yardage over the Normal line.

In the line defense, Mills, Spirkas, and Green were outstanding, while the backfield Sandifer and Cooper shared honors on the defense and offense. Spirkas showed he had plenty of power and form with his excellent punting, and was also the main man on pass defense, intercepting four of the Bulldogs' passes.

Coach "Bo" Brown seemed well pleased with the boys' showing against the Bulldogs, but sees plenty of extra work ahead. A. P. N. Position Cumberland

Sophomores Elect Class Officers

On October 7, the Sophomore class met and elected the following officers for the year 1936-1937: Mike Northington, president; Sue Branton, vice-president; James Baby Harper, secretary and treasurer; Margaret Hambaugh, sergeant-at-arms. Plans were immediately made for a winner's roast to be given to the freshmen.

SPORTOGS

By ERNEST MILLS

It seems as though Joe Spirkas, assistant coach, insists that he doesn't care what people think about his beard. But he is not going to shave until ???

I am sure that the student body as well as the football players are very glad to see George Thurmond and Lawrence Lee back in uniform after being on the injured list for several weeks. They are quarterback and half-back, respectively. Here's to 'em!

The football team wishes to express their appreciation for the co-operation of the student body and faculty for their support in Chapel as well as on the football field.

It looks as if the injury jinx is following the football team this year. Wednesday afternoon "Red" Jackson was the fourth member of the squad to become a victim of Old Man Hard Luck. The result, one broken arm for "Red."

Tough luck, "Red." Here's to your recovery.

Coyle Branson, one of the Branson twins, a member of the list of injured football players, thinks that he will wear the red and white in about two weeks. Then Coach will start seeing double again.

At the regular Wednesday night ball session in Calvin Hall, Coach Brown in an interview, stated that a certain football player probably is a sprained thumb, whose initials are L. R., has more fight than any other member of the team.

What is your opinion of this Pardee-Stacker combination? A perfect match is hard to find.

At least not every affair of last year has faded. Peto and Lowe are probably to be remembered, and, there are Sumner and Mike.

It is true that Winter is coming on, but to Jimmy Walker it would probably be Winters.

The name "Plough Boy" must have been quite attractive to them. First there was one, then there was her roommate.

Shaw is succeeding in keeping the family tradition. A portion of his time is spent in the dormitory and he enjoys going around the "slide" for more reasons than one.

It seems that Dean's secretary chooses her friends from those out-of-town. Is that quite fair? All is fair in love and war, but let us only see war through the Keyhole.

4 Elected Cheerleaders

Cher leaders to encourage enthusiasm and build up school spirit at the football games were elected on October 2 by the student body, under the sponsorship of the Boosters' Club. Those chosen were: Virginia Hand, Lucille Edmondson, William Mann, and Josiah Stout.

Barber—I notice you hair is getting thin on top, sir. Shall I cut something on it to stimulate it?

Mr. Spafford—No! I in turn notice your nose is longer than the average mozzie. Shall I hit it and try to reduce its size?

When Let's was turned around the turned into a pillar around him. When Josiah turned around he turned into a telephone pole—or was it a ditch?

half was played in the no-man's-land of the gridiron.

Sandifer was the star for the local boys in the backfield and turned in several neat gains. On defense Mills and Workman were the outstanding players.

25 OUT AS FOOTBALL IS RESUMED AFTER 3 YEARS

Fred Thomas Brown Secured As Head Coach—
Night Football Played On Murtland Field—
Stiff Schedule Ahead.

Football at Austin Peay Normal School, after a three-year layoff, became king of sports at this institution Saturday night, October 10, 1936, when the Normal boys defeated Cumberland.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, Dean Harvill and other officials of the school have secured in Coach Fred "Bo" Brown a most efficient capable director of athletics. He has with the cooperation of the school officials and help of the newly organized Sponsors' Club, been able to bring the Normal to the attention of the city and surrounding counties.

This renewed sport has brought many new athletic faces to the campus.

The outlook for this year's team seems to be very promising with a heavy line and a fast backfield. The boys are handicapped, however, by the lack of reserves and a good gridiron.

Those reporting for practice are: Buddy Murdock, George Thurmond, Andrew Lorentzen.

Jones says she likes a Price that ain't too high.

Browning snores so loud some nights he wakes himself up to see who is sawing wood in the dormitory.

Walker is no longer the "Little" boy's girl. She is "Our Girl" to his stage.

Shaw's singing has disturbed everybody in the dormitory. Even the rats are complaining.

We have two radio crooners in the making in Pullen and Thompson. We hope some broadcasting company makes them an offer soon. We can at least change stations then.

Wonder where part of the Robb Hall gang went Sunday night. They looked awful sleepy Monday morning.

If any of you want a haircut, go to see Wright.

Who is that guy who has hair that a-way? Well, Branton, if you want to win Griggs, all you will have to do is give him a hint, 'cause he is just goofy over you.

FACULTY RECEIVES STUDENTS IN HARNED HALL

GET TOGETHER OF FACULTY AND STUDENTS ENJOYED BY ALL

The first social event of the college was the reception given to the student body by the faculty in Harned Hall, Monday, September 25.

On entering the guests were met by the reception committee, Frances Brown and Sue Bratton, and were given identification cards. They were then introduced to President Claxton and in turn to the faculty members and wives, who formed the semi-circular receiving line in the east end of the magnificent reception room.

After the students had been presented to the faculty, they were conducted by another committee, made up of the club presidents, to the west end of the hall, where punch was served from a beautifully ordered table.

At this point the formalities of the evening were thrown aside and the group spent a most delightful hour together. Several features and modes of entertainment were carried out, all centered about the purpose of the reception — to get acquainted. About 150 guests were present.

Harned Hall

We are glad to welcome to Myra Harned Hall Mrs. Eula B. Keeling, as our new matron and social director. Mrs. Keeling comes highly recommended from Tennessee College, where she has held a responsible position for the past two years.

Don't worry, Taylor, you're not the only one who has found those mystifying notes in your room.

The dormitory seems like a new place with all the new faces. Welcome, girls. We hope you will like dormitory life as well as we do.

The girls from Harned Hall seem to be growing very fond of doughnuts recently. Wonder if it's the doughnuts or just the "Nuts." Eh, Sparkman?

So you "just love" hot fires and parades, Sue? Well, maybe we'll have another one before long.

Can you figure out why Shaw is so interested in dormitory activities? He's not so good at figuring, maybe Blondell will give you a tip.

VESPER SERVICES

The vesper services, a regular Sunday night feature for the dormitory students, had its first program in the living room of the girls' dormitory, September 26, with Monteen Deason as leader. After devotional had been conducted, Dr. Claxton, president of the college, was introduced as speaker of the evening. He gave an inspiring talk on "High Ideals."

Services on Sunday evening, October 2, were in charge of Claude Little. The Rev. Mr. Blue of the Madison Street Methodist Church was the speaker. The students were greatly encouraged by his expression of divine truth.

Margaret Poyner led the devotional Sunday night, October 11, with Dean Halbert Harvill as guest speaker. Mr. Harvill gave a most interesting and illustrative address on "Youth."

At the close of the meeting, a program committee, made up of the following students, was appointed: Monteen Deason, chairman; Franellie McMillen, Mildred Anderson, Margaret Poyner, Frances Brown, Sue Bratton, Will and Browning, Tom Shaw, Shirley Greenwell, and Margaret Crutcher.

Debating Club Reorganized

The Debating Club was reorganized on September 28, and, to begin with, elected its officers, and selected a subject for preliminary debate in the neighboring high schools until material can be obtained on the inter-collegiate question for debate.

Jim Bailey Harper was elected chairman of the organization. Victor Williams was chosen vice-chairman, and Tom Shaw, secretary-treasurer.

Since the national inter-collegiate subject for debate has not been officially announced, the club selected the following question to discuss temporarily in the neighboring high schools. Resolved, That the next legislature of Tennessee should enact into law the eight-point educational program proposed by the Tennessee Education Association.

The club, which is under the sponsorship of Mr. Moffitt, has a membership of normal size, and is anticipating another successful year. A heavy schedule is being laid out for debating teams, which will include, besides the regular colleges, several high schools, when the trial subject will be discussed.

Jokes

Sophomore—Do you know the Deans—Dizzy and Daffy?
Freshman—Sure he is.

Ploughboy—Would you scream if I should kiss you?

Jones—Of course, but then we're a long way from the dormitory.

Mrs. Brown—Dear, you haven't kissed me for three whole days. Absent-minded Coach—You do say! Then whom have I been kissing?

Clarksville Montgomery Ward Manager—You want a raise? Why don't you live within your means?

Shaw—I do, sir, but you have no idea how I am crowded for space.

Bobby—Miss Huff, don't you find my name original?

Miss Huff—Very, especially the spelling.

Mike—Aren't you sorry you hit John?

Love—Yes, but I'll bet my hair is so low as sorry as John is.

Mr. Bond—I have finally discovered what it is that causes a boy to lose his memory entirely.

Front—step-hitters—What's that, Mr. Bond?

Mr. Bond—Just lend him a quarter.

(Mr. Bond, if I were Bob Bond, I'd say, "I have muffed that" or "I haven't time for all of you to catch on.")

DORMITORY CLUBS HAVE INITIATION

A. P. N. DORMITORY CLUBS HAVE IMPRESSIVE INITIATION CEREMONY

Thirty girls dressed in pastel colors were initiated into the Alpha, Beta, Delta and Omega Clubs in an impressive ceremony held in the living room of the girls' dormitory of the Austin Peay Normal School Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Seated at four tables were the officers of each club, and behind them standing were the members. The girls to be initiated, holding burning tapers, walked to the table and quoted the club pledge. Identification badges of the club colors were placed on their shoulders, and the names of the new members were inscribed in the roll books. Each club sang its song, all joining in a grand march around the room to the piano, where together, they sang the Alma Mater.

Party Follows Initiation. Following the initiation, a most enjoyable party was given, with all the boys of the institution being invited.

Games were played and dancing was enjoyed. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served.

The gym building is 43 by 73 feet. The inside is equipped with a dressing room for boys and one for the girls, showers, a club room, and a kitchen.

County. Clay Hicks, just call him "Red," assistant manager, halls from Bedford also.

"Is it true when they say about Dixie?" We say "Yes," now that we've seen light-footed Johnnie Nolen from Tallapoosa, Alabama.

From about 18 miles Kentucky comes Rose Ellen Reding. She's a thoroughbred, too.

From Benton County comes Blondell Walker, and surprisingly she's a brunette.

Humphreys County sends in six more to uphold the Red and White Club. They are, Susan Simpson, Byron Rhy, Thelma McCollum, Shirley Greenwell, and James Owen Dotson.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its first meeting of the year Thursday, October 1, for the purpose of electing officers. The president was elected for the close of last year, is Wilene Chadwick. The other officers elected were: vice-president, Sallie Wyatt Minnor; secretary, and treasurer, Martha Clark; chairman program committee, Margaret Wilson; chairman entertainment committee, Peto White. The last two officers are elected quarterly.

The last part of the program was given over to Marguerite Hambug, who related her experiences at Junalaska, where she spent a part of the past summer. Margaret Wilson, another Y. W. C. A. girl, also spent part of the summer there.

A report of the Y. W. C. A. store, organized last year for the convenience of the Normal students, was given by Miss Margaret Lacy.

Miss Lacy, Mrs. Bell and Miss Tammie and Miss Maitland. The Y. W. C. A. meets every Thursday at ten o'clock and cordially invites new members to join.

the squad from Davidson County, showing his ability to put the Red and White where it belongs—right in front.

We captured only two prizes from Warren County this year—Caroline Norcross and Irvin Cartrell Barnes—and two from Hickman, Jesse Wright and Jack Simpson, and William Grayford. Nutt halls from Lewis.

From Maury we got blond Frankie Jones and two other supporters of A. P. N., Pauline Harger and James McKinley Griggs. What a lineup from Henry County! J. Bedford Puyler, Ruth McDaniel, and Charles Pyle. What to do some places always have such good luck!

Last but not least, Wayne sends us three—Alma Gallagher, Gertrude Taylor, and Vivian Brewer. And that's a lineup that can't be forgotten.

DAVID L. RIEBEL

Letters from Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Riebel, announcing the birth of their son, David Lawrence, have been received by their friends in Clarksville. Mr. Riebel, who filled the place made vacant in the English Department (1935-1936) by Mr. F.

G. Woodward's leave of absence, is now holding a position on the editorial staff of the L. W. Singer Company, Syracuse, New York.

As slow as a N. Y. A. worker. As hungry as cafeteria flies. As undecided as a student without a 11:30 class.

As interesting as pep meetings. As chagrined as a student not wearing the colors. As futile as trying to hide from a teacher whose class you're cutting.

As unwelcome as an announcement of a meeting of a club to which you don't belong. As easy as liking our football coach.

As anxious for a fight as our football team.

As old-fashioned as a dignified girl who won't yell at a football game.
