

A Cappella Choir Broadcasts At WSM

APNS VOCALISTS RENDER NINE SELECTIONS OVER
AIR

On Sunday, May 7, the APNS A Cappella Choir presented a half-hour program over WSM at Nashville, President P. P. Claxton made a brief talk appropriate to Music Week immediately preceding the musical program.

During the broadcast, made possible by the kindness of announcer Jack Harris and the studio of WSM, a recording was made of the entire program. This record enabled the choir to hear an exact reproduction of their musical rendering and Dr. Claxton's speech.

The selections rendered were: "O Thou, From Whom All Blessings Flow" Tchaikovsky, "Grant Me True Courage, Lord" J. S. Bach, "Lo, A Voice to Heaven Sounding" Bartimaeus, "Lost In The Night" Christiansen, "Hear My Cry, O God" Kuyloff, "Dedication" Franz, "Somebody's Knocking" "I've Been Listenin'" "To God On High" J. S. Bach.

Horrors Of Spanish Revolution Revealed By Imogene Warder

FIRST HAND INFORMATION
GIVEN BY AMERICAN AD-VENTURES

Miss Imogene Warder, recently returned from Spain, lectured in the Austin Peay Normal auditorium, Monday evening, May 1, on her first-hand observations of the Spanish civil war.

The revolution produced many harrowing experiences as told by Miss Warder. The lecture included an account of her visit to Andorra, the tiny republic in the Pyrenees; her interview with Emperor Haile Selassie; her visit to the Kabila Monastery; and her visit to the Alambra.

"After having traveled in 40 countries," stated Miss Warder, "I compare our glorious free country to some of these less fortunate countries, and emphasize that Americanism is the best 'ism' of all, and the only 'ism' we care for in America."

Seiner Addresses APNS Student Body

NOTED CATHOLIC PRIEST SPEAKS ON "FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY"

On Monday, May 1, the Rt. Rev. Mr. A. A. Seiner, D. D. addressed the student body of Austin Peay Normal School in chapel. His subject was "Freedom and Democracy." Mr. Seiner is the pastor of the Cathedral of the Incarnation Parish, Nashville. He received his Doctor of Divinity Degree while studying in Rome. He gained the title Msgr. from the late Pope Pius XI several years ago for his outstanding work in the activities of the Catholic Church.

The Msgr. Seiner made a strong plea for freedom and democracy, he said that these two, freedom and democracy, are necessary for the growth of any country and any people there abiding. People who are self-relying and have their own initiative are the ones who help make a democratic country. Without this kind of people, rulers could never make a free country; it takes a cooperative people working for the same ideals and the same freedom and democracy.

Three of Mrs. M. L. Shelby's pupils, Sarah Acre, Virginia Durrett and Ruth Winn, delighted the audience with dances, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Adkins.

FAMOUS PIANIST PERFORMS AT APNS

NATIVE OF CLARKSVILLE DISPLAYS TALENT TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Mr. Meriwether, nationally known pianist of Chicago, gave a very interesting musical program in the auditorium of the Austin Peay Normal School on Friday, April 28.

Mr. Meriwether is a native of Clarksville. He was born in 1898. As a boy he lived in the home of Mrs. Frank Beazant. During the six years that he lived in her home he studied music with her daughters and her sister-in-law. It was during this time that he received his inspiration to become a musician.

Later, he went to Fiske University, where he studied music for three years under Mary Chamberlain. Showing unusual ability in music, he was encouraged to go to Chicago.

After his graduation at Fiske University, he went to Chicago, where he studied music with a Leon Bloom, Victor Henze, and the late Fannie Bloom Zisler, known at the world's best pianist. Still showing outstanding ability and excellent progress in

Beta Club Presents Friendship Program

COOPERATION STRESSED IN ORGANIZATION OF DORM-ITORY CLUBS

On Friday, April 28, an assembly program on "Friendship" was presented by the Beta Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Kathryn Tanner, Terrell McCurdy, president of the Betas, who presided, explained the organization and purpose of the club.

The following program was presented: Definition of Friendship, Sara Raines; Poem by Emerson, Mary McKee; Human Relations, Mildred Hays; Poem, "The Blue and Gray," Mary McKee; "The House By The Side of the Road," Martha Bradley; "Relation vs. Isolation," Catherine Summers; Poems on Friendship, Louise Hill; "Vivis Vivit," Lila Neal.

There are six dormitory clubs, each with a membership of twenty-five. Their central purpose is to help girls make pleasant and profitable contacts with one another.

APNS Band Makes Initial Appearance

The Austin Peay Normal Band made its first public appearance in chapel on Wednesday, April 26. A section of the band composed of about twenty advanced members, played five selections, which were greatly enjoyed by the student body.

A large majority of the band is composed of Freshmen, and the Freshman class made one of the early contributions toward the purchase of the instruments.

The completion of the stage equipment has added greatly to the enjoyment of the plays presented in chapel by the Dramatic classes. The outfitted stage has made acting much more interesting and pleasant. It is expected that the new equipment will lead to the increase of interest in Mr. Isaac's Dramatic classes.

A four-piece backdrop, a two-piece curtain, and a set of footlights were purchased by funds furnished by the A Cappella Choir and set up by the N.Y.A. boys. Miss Bryan's sewing classes made the backdrop and curtain.

DEDICATION

This issue of the ALL STATE has been edited by the Freshmen representatives of the staff. We take this opportunity to show that we can edit an issue of merit without the excellent help of our upper classmen. We wish to prove to the patrons of this school and paper that we, the Freshmen, are on or above the level of Freshmen of other schools.

Our sponsors, Miss Huff and Mr. Woodward of the English department, are due praiseworthy mention for their advisory work during the year, which we gratefully acknowledge here.

And so, we, the Freshmen Class of 1938-39, wish to express our appreciation to them for their excellent help which they have rendered us by dedicating this issue to our sponsors, Miss Huff and Mr. Woodward.

FRESHMEN

Considered by the upper classmen to be in a lowly state, Freshmen are usually regarded as poor material now, but good prospects later on. But somehow, the 1938-39 Freshman class of Austin Peay Normal School has had an appearance of self-will and determination from the very beginning. The Sophomores have had to respect this class whether they wanted to or not.

Of course, the present class is an exception; all exceptions, however, have some bad points. At first the class was new and had to be shown around, but they learned with amazing quickness. They said and did things that were considered unworthy of college students by their upper classmen. Soon they acquired the air of a college student and entered wholeheartedly into every activity open to them. They were better than the average performers in athletics; they became worthy of the place created for them in literary events; they showed brightly with knowledge in their classes. They began, too, to gain prominence on the campus. They were asked to serve on various committees, both for entertainment's and education's sake.

Certainly they had aspirations. What class doesn't? Different from previous classes, they began their bid for honor and distinction the day they entered Austin Peay Normal. As the end of the first and the hardest year draws near, they can look back with pride and glee to see a work well begun and well-ended. For they believe that the best way to complete a task with satisfaction, is to do it well with a determination and unfailing dependability that will win out at the end, no matter what the job might be.

FRESHMAN FROSH

The 1933-34 Freshmen of APNS have established themselves as a class with much athletic talent. They have exhibited their skill and power on the gridiron, basketball court, baseball diamond, as a group against the Sophomores, and several are expected to shine on the tennis court.

Last fall, the Frosh engaged the upper classmen in a tug-of-war game that easily revealed that the first year boys possessed the better team. Although the Sophs put up some stiff opposition, they were not able to hold the wide-awake Frosh, who pushed across the goal line two touchdowns and one extra point early in the game to hold the lead throughout the contest. The Sophomores completed a pass for a touchdown late in the second quarter for a score but never made a serious threat afterward. The second half saw no scoring and the noble Frosh won over the Sophs, 13-6.

Then, in the winter, many Freshmen took part in the Inter-Mural basketball game, and always made favorable showing. Although never did a Frosh basketball team play the Sophomores, we believe that if this contest had been brought about, since we have many good players enrolled in our class.

And now, this spring, many Freshmen are expected to be outstanding on the tennis courts and will share the spotlights with upper classmen in the annual tennis tournament, which will take place in the near future.

All told, the Freshmen have had a successful year in athletics. They have not been forced to bow to the Sophomores through this year of athletic achievement, and their future in the field of sports is very bright. More power to the Frosh.

OUTSTANDING FROSH ATHLETES

Athletes participating in the above contests did not compete in the intercollegiate activities of APNS athletic squads, but there are many Freshmen who have confined their efforts to inter-collegiate sports and have contributed greatly to the record of the Governors in competition with other colleges and universities. These athletes include:

Jack Price — Football, 1933; Baseball, 1933.

John Carney — Football, 1933; basketball, 1933-39, baseball, 1933.

Homor Rodenewer — Football, 1933; basketball, 1933-39, baseball, 1933.

Bill Furlow — Football, 1933; basketball, 1933-39.

Marshall Tombs — Basketball, 1933-39; baseball, 1933.

Alfred English—Football, 1933; baseball, 1933.

Fletcher Jobe — Football, 1933; baseball, 1933.

Billy Rabel — Football, 1933; baseball, 1933.

Bill French—Football, 1933.

Cecil Robertson — Football, 1933.

George Stinnett — Basketball, 1933-39.

Harry Law—Basketball, 1933-39.

Harry Council—Assistant Football Manager, 1933.

These squad members have done a good job in their respective fields and they the Freshmen of 1933-39 will be the experienced athletes of next year, who will form the nucleus for APNS football, basketball, and basketball teams of 1939-40.

Jean — "Let the rest of the world go buy."

Marshall — "Are rabbits' feet lucky?"

Mr. Law — "Yes, my wife felt one in my pocket and thought it was a rouse."

Dean Harvill — "Robertson, who invented the cotton gin?"

Cecil Robertson — "Good lands, are they making it out of that now?"

St. Peter — "Who's there?"

Voice (without) — "It is I."

St. Peter (peevish) — "Get out of here; we don't want any more school teachers."

Miss Huff — "Now, boys, if you were seated in a trolley car, every seat of which was occupied, and a lady entered, what would you do?"

Charles Buford — "Pretend I was asleep!"

Why didn't Marshall make his customary stop in Nashville on the way back from the STC baseball game? Of course, Margaret Davidson didn't have anything to do with it.

Can that look of anticipation in Catherine Shelby's eyes have anything to do with a certain boy she expects to see in Knoxville this summer?

Mattie Harris and Bill Furlow were certainly swinging high at the Iris Ball.

It has been noticed by many that Christine Hardy and Fern Caldwell have been keeping frequent company.

Jimmy, if you're going to stay on Greenwood, the majority of your time, you might as well pitch your tent there.

We now have another one of those triangular affairs composedence rock quarry last Wednesday evening. Twenty-nine attended the affair which lasted from 5:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Miss Hazel Smith is sponsor of the Omega Club, and Lillian Hunt is president.

Under the direction of its sponsor, Miss Mary Henderson, and its president, Margaret Baker, the Home Economics Club went to Shelton Springs for a steak fry the evening of Wednesday, April 26. Dean and Mrs. Harvill and their son were guests of the club.

Dr. Claxton: "Now, Harry, if you had ten dollars in one pocket and fifteen dollars in your other pocket, what would you have?"

Harry Law: "Somebody else's pants."

The barber had used his electric clippers in cutting small Betty's hair.

"I guess my neck wasn't clean," she told her mother on coming home, "cause the man used his vacuum cleaner on it."

An Englishman and an American were standing on a street corner in New York arguing as to whether English newsboys ed of Lillian England, Billy Wall, and Nevins McKinnon.

Marguerite firmly vows that if a certain letter from Columbia doesn't soon enter this post office, she's going to sue for breach of promise.

Girls desiring ideal views on marriage should consult Nevins McKinnon before he changes his mind.

Formerly an ardent photographer, Bernice Randolph has decided it is a dangerous hobby. Jirmie Kendrick certainly isn't camera shy, is he Bernice?

Mary, Margaret Reed has decided to let Jeannette go and study Owen Hodges for a while. He makes it very easy for her.

Evangeline, don't you wish Tubby had a Maiden form; or do you still prefer him as he is?

are smarter than American. "Yonder comes one of ours now," said the American. "Ask him any question you want to and you'll see I'm right."

"All right," said the Englishman. "What time is it by your nose, sonny?"

Quick as a flash, "Look at your own, mister, mine's not running."

B. Hudson: "My greatest sin is vanity. Only this morning I looked in the mirror and thought, 'How handsome I am.'"

St. Peter: "Go in peace; to be mistaken is not a sin."
