FAREWELL AND HAIL

EDICATION

In appreciation for his contribution of natural beauty to our campus, to Herbert Roake, retired landscape gardener, the 1951 FAREWELL AND HAIL is proudly dedicated. May his years in retirement be joyfully spent in the midst of the picturesque environment which he helped nature create at Austin Peay State College.

THE PRESIDENT

Students of Austin Peay State College

Greetings:

The year 1950-'51 will soon be written into history. This has been one of our best years. The College has continued to grow and develop in many ways. Academic offerings have been strengthened. The building program continues to develop. The dormitory for men and the physical education building will add greatly to the comfort and strength of the College. Accreditation of the College is much strengthened by our becoming a member of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

I want to encourage you of the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes to be steadfast and determined in your efforts to complete your educational training. Many of you will serve in the armed forces. The armed forces need educated personnel. Therefore, you will render greater service when you become a part of the armed forces if you have as much training as possible before entering.

To you who are seniors, we wish you all the success you can attain. Your experiences will be many and varied. There is a passage in the Bible I would have you remember. It is I Kings 20:11—"Let not him that girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off." You are girding yourself for your life's work. It is true you are finishing four years of college. Your test years are ahead of you. You have just begun to learn. You have built your foundation. You will continue in harness many years. May your many years of service be such that when you take off the harness it will be said of you, "Well done."

Sincerely,
HALBERT HARVILL,
President

ATHLETICS

HEAD COACH AARON

With athletics playing a dominant role in the activities of present day colleges, Austin Peay is enjoying a feeling of considerable pride. In each athletic activity here, the program has met with much success.

THE 1950

The past football season of 1950 once again saw A.P. rise to and retain the position of a major small college power. In the past few seasons she has done the same. Last season one man was chosen Little All-American and another received honorable mention. This in itself is a singular distinction for the player and reflects credit on the team and institution as a whole.

The same praise may be handed out to the basketball squad. Two years prior to the '50-'51 season A.P. captured the V.S.A.C. title. The '50-'51 team, though never fully realizing its potential, remained throughout a club that caused each opponent grave concern.

The enviable records set by these teams is not just a happen so. It is the direct result of cooperation and desire on the players' part and shows capability on the part of the coaching staff. On these pages are the men who have proven their capabilities as coaches and found the respect and admiration of a student body.

FOOTBALL

KRUG—HONORABLE MENTION

Little All-American

Phil Krug, 205 pound tackle, received honorable mention on Paul B. Williamson's Little All-American football team. A junior from Chattanooga, he was a valuable player on both the offensive and defensive teams.

Two Friends Meet

Two boys who fought together now find themselves on opposite sides of the fence. Jimmy Drye, full-back of A.P. is pictured above opposing his one time army buddy, Harry Zinn of Arkansas A. & M. As best as could be learned, neither could outdo the other and ended the tilt with a draw, each happy over the reunion.

The Band Performs at Half-time

A rainy evening failed to dampen the spirits of the 4,000 homecoming fans, November 18. The half-time activities, climaxed by the crowning of Queen Rosabelle Bouldin, were staged in all the color and grandeur that has become a tradition for Governor homecomings. After the class attendants—Martha Sue Parker, Jane Harter, Polly Davis, and Grace Sanders—had passed in review, co-captains Hendrix Fox and L. E. Oakley crowned Queen "Pie," Homecoming Queen 1950.

Oakley—Little All-American

Crowning Queen "Pie"

A star offensive right end on the Governor eleven during his four years here, L. E. Oakley was selected on the first team of Paul B. Williamson's Little All-American football squad. While playing his second year for Austin Peay, Oakley was one of the highest rated pass receivers among the nation's small colleges. Among his many honors on the gridiron during his college career was his selection on the All-VSAC team in 1949. He was co-captain of the Governor eleven last year.

AUSTIN PEAY

The above picture depicts the basketball "5" at Austin Peay. The head on the little governor is owned by Dave Aaron who has coached and challenged the best in the V.S.A.C.

Though not winning the V.S.A.C. title this season, the A.P. basketball team has been a very interesting club to all concerned.

BASKETBALL

Only one ball to a player, please

It was built around a group of players with only a season's experience. They defeated every club they played at one time or another during the year's play. This in itself is evidence that the potential is there. "Is there" is used because next season the same team, hardly without exception, will again take to the hardwood.

It is enough to say that while being feared by every team this year, the coming '51-'52 season will find each club yet more doubtful over its success.

Billy Covington has just made an extra point in the top left hand picture. It is worthy of mention for with just such accuracy his marksmanship won two games in the final seconds of play. The photos on this page depict random moments of a game with M.T.S.C. in which A.P. won 71-57.

B A S E B A L L

Baseball at Austin Peay is the sport that rounds out the athletic program. The past few seasons' play has afforded much spectator enjoyment as well as interest in the sport.

INTRAMURALS

A new program hotly received here is the intramurals. It has as yet only found expression through basketball, but every indication points to a more expanded activity.

As for basketball, enthusiasm ran high. Clubs, faculty and groups formed teams and waded through a roster of play, hoping to ultimately grasp the championship.

The physical education department was instrumental in promoting this program as an adjunct to the physical well-being of the students. In this instance the students are enjoying an activity designed by the school for the students betterment.

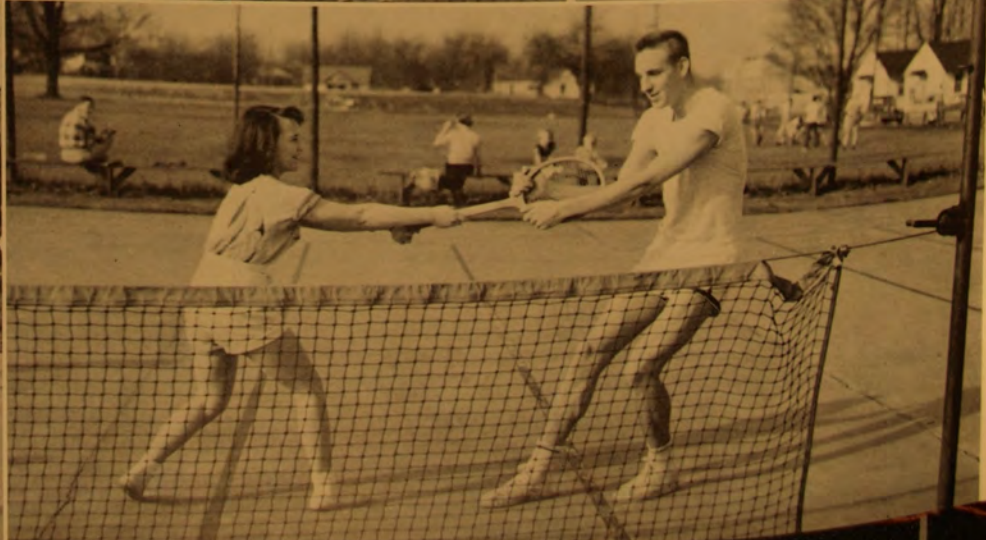

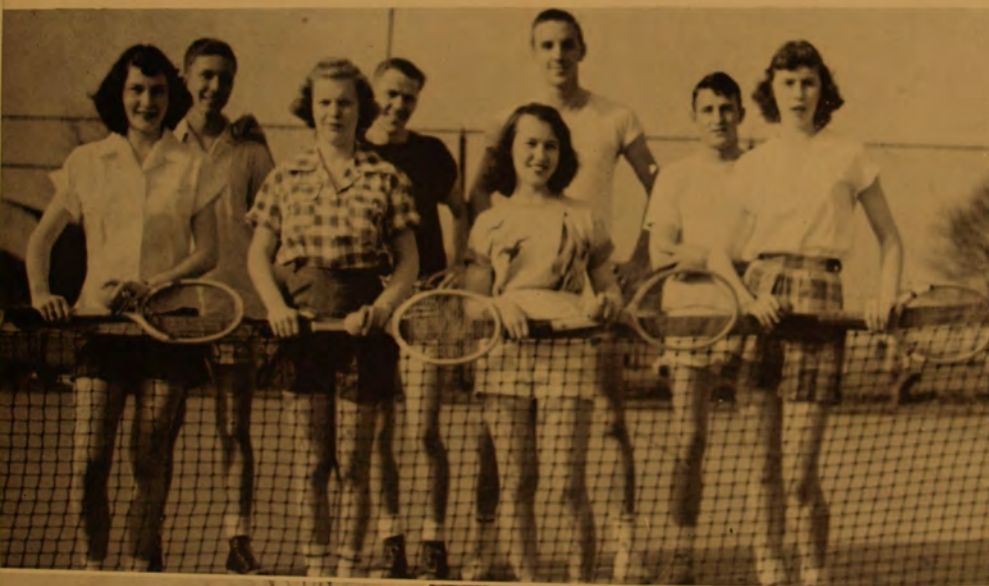

TENNIS

Tennis on this campus is probably the sport most universally participated in. It is not organized, though often used in conjunction with the physical education department's program.

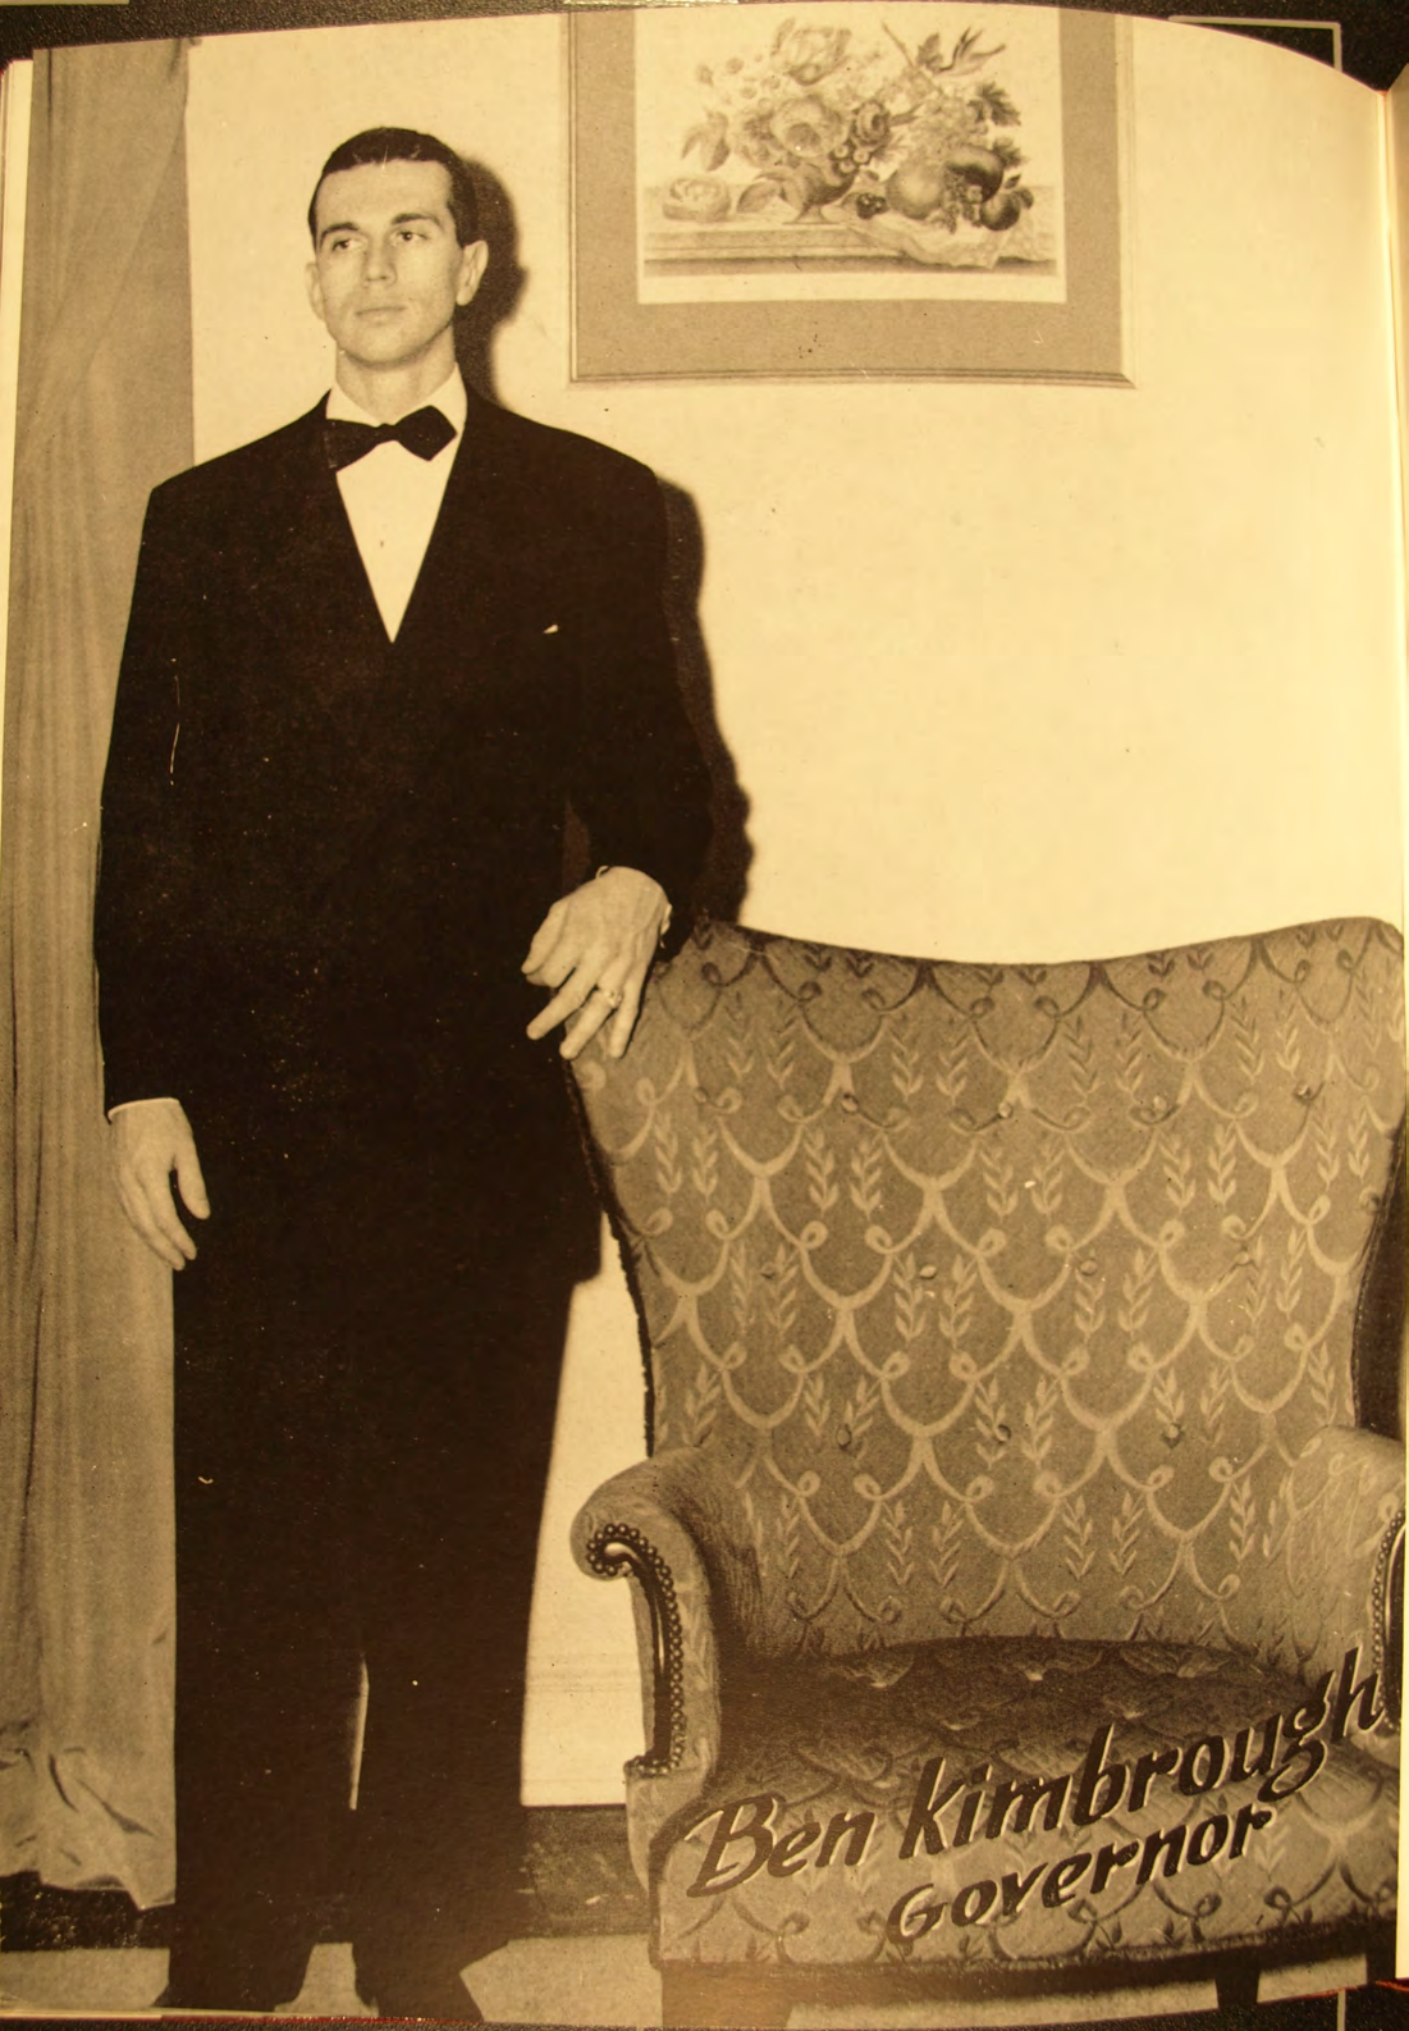

With three new concrete courts it offers exercise and relaxation to every student as well as the faculty.

Much of its popularity stems from the painlessness of obtaining a sun-tan. This is especially true of the weaker sex. But regardless of why or how it is played, it does find the approval and participation of most all on the campus.

THE STUDENT OFFICERS AND THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Austin Peay Student Council works hand in hand with the administration of the college to give the students actual practice in a democratic form of government, to develop in the students, self-discipline and social responsibility, and to promote in all ways the best interests of the College.

The Council consists of eleven members who are elected by the student body. Three of these members, the president, the vice-president, and the secretary-treasurer, are elected by the student body at large. The other members of the Council, two representatives for each class, are elected by their respective classes.

1951 FAREWELL AND HAIL

Producing an annual is no easy job. It takes the combined ideas and efforts of the entire staff. We have tried to capture in the 1951 FAREWELL AND HAIL not only life at A.P.S.C. but also the spirit of the college.

After months of planning and replanning, many headaches, a few grey hairs, and several cases of writer's cramp, we have by some miracle produced this, the fifth annual to be produced at Austin Peay State College.

THE ALL STATE

The pages of The All State, a semi-monthly publication, are designed as an outlet for expressing student opinion through news, features, and humor.

Although the maddening hours of getting copy ready for press and the frantic rush of meeting a deadline resemble bedlam, somehow everything returns to normalcy until another deadline.

Work on the student newspaper is fun, and the experience of writing and reporting makes The All State one of the most interesting activities on the campus.

THE BAND

This year's band took great strides toward becoming one of the most active organizations on the campus. In addition to playing at all home football games, the group made several out-of-town trips. The band was always on hand for the pep rallies, bonfires, and basketball games. Highlighting the year's activities was the spring concert tour of high schools in the surrounding area.

KAMPUS KIDS

A popular dance band, the Kampus Kids play for a number of school dances throughout the year and are in constant demand to play before audiences in Clarksville and Fort Campbell. Since their organization two years ago the group has become widely known for its performance of popular, semi-classical, and folk songs.

THE CHOIR

The A Cappella choir offers an opportunity for instruction in choral singing and for appreciation of good music. During the year several trips are taken to schools and churches in the surrounding territory and programs are given during the Christmas season and Music Week. Since no previous experience is necessary, any student who has an ear for music and is interested may apply for membership in the organization.

GLEE CLUB

Believing in singing purely for the enjoyment of it, Charles Gary organized the Men's Glee Club to arouse interest in group singing. Among the club's many activities for the year were chapel programs, radio appearances, a demonstration school program, and several appearances before high school and civic groups.

A Reality . . .

This Bank considers Austin Peay State College a vital part of our community, not a separate entity. We believe our citizenship can better evaluate our college if we realize this is a reality.

As wholesome food becomes part of a living body and nourishes it, Austin Peay State College enters into and helps build the very life of each individual of this community.

As present plans also become a reality, we shall have an even greater and stronger citizenship because of AUSTIN PEAY STATE COLLEGE.

Appreciation

An annual is a source of inspiration to underclassmen and a memento to be treasured through the years by those leaving as an intimate reminder of their beloved Alma Mater and the many friends they left behind.

We have worked long and hard to produce this annual and hope that this result of our efforts meets with your approval and is considered worthy of our fine institution.
