Newcomers fill 26 posts on the faculty

Twenty-six new faculty members have been appointed to positions at Austin Peay State University, according to F. G. Woodward, dean of faculty.

Dean Woodward also announced the returning of two other faculty members, promotions in rank, leaves of absence and new degrees earned.

Earlier Dr. Joe Morgan, president, announced the return and appointment of Miss Mildred Deason as dean of women; John H. Martin, Jr., assistant director of public information; Dr. William H. Ellis to serve as associate dean of faculty, in addition to director of graduate studies; and Miss Mabel Meacham, director of social affairs.

New members who will join the faculty on Sept. 18 are:

Roger T. Evans, instructor in art, who holds the B.F.A. degree from Ohio State University and the M.F.A. from Cranbrook Academy of Art. Evans comes to APSU from Western Kentucky University.

T. Max Hochstetler, instructor in art, who holds the B.A. degree from the University of Evansville and the M.F.A. degree from Southern Illinois University. He taught at SIU last year.

Earl Schmittner, Jr., instructor in biology, who holds the B.S. degree from Austin Peay State University and the M.A. degree from Peabody College. Schmittner taught in the Dickinson County School System.

Sam S. Anderson, instructor in business, who holds the B.S.C.E., B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees from Texas A&M.

Miss Jane H. Pickett, instructor in business, who holds the B.S. degree from the University of Tennessee and the M.A. degree from Peabody College. Miss Pickett has been teaching in the Nashville Metro School System.

Mrs. Donna Benson, instructor in business, who holds the B.S. degree from Delta State College and the M.B.E. from the University of Mississippi. She was an instructor at Eastern Kentucky University last year.

Miss Cheryl Jones, instructor in chemistry, who holds the M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee. She has been teaching at Parsons College.

Aaron A. Hutcheson, associate professor of economics, who holds a Ph.D. from the University of Tennessee.

High school band competition here

The Middle Tennessee School Band and Orchestra Association marching contest will be held at APSU Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Aaron Schmidt, professor of music, has announced.

Approximately 3,000 playing members representing 37 bands will be on hand for the contest. A twirling competition will also be staged as part of the band contest.

The competition ends at 9:45 when all of the bands will play several numbers under Schmidt's direction.

The All State

Based All-American, 1966-67

Volume 38 — No. 1      Clarksville, Tennessee      Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1967

STAIRWAY TO SUCCESS—Hoping to climb the stairway of success to another All-American honor rating are the people who will compile this year's The All State: (l-r) Maurice (Moose) McHagan, sports editor; David Bibb, editor-in-chief; Jean Collins, advertising manager; Buster Yates, editorial page editor; and Ron Popp, associate editor.

Named All-American

The All State rates top honor

THE ALL STATE begins the 1967-68 school year with its highest rating. In the 37-year history of the newspaper, Staff members of the weekly were notified last week by Associated Colleague Press that THE ALL STATE earned an All-American honor rating for the 1966-67 second semester. According to Fred L. Kildow, director of ACP at the University of Minnesota, the All-American honor rating represents a "Superior" rating and is reserved for the top publications.

THE ALL STATE scored 3700 of a possible 4900 points in the 7th National Newspaper Critical Service sponsored by ACP.

Doug Stone served as editor-in-chief of THE ALL STATE the final semester of 1966-67; other top positions were staffed by Ron Popp, associate editor; Buster Yates, editorial page editor; David Bibb, sports editor; and Jean Collins, advertising manager.

"The editors and staff worked diligently to give the APSU students the very best coverage possible, and I am deeply proud that this top honor has been bestowed upon the newspaper for their efforts," said David Bibb, director of public information and faculty adviser to the paper.

This year Bibb, a sophomore from Clarksville has the task of filling Stone's shoes as editor-in-chief. Popp, also a sophomore and resident of Clarksville, will again serve as associate editor.

Yates, a junior, and Miss Collins, a senior, are both back in their respective positions. They are both Clarkvillians.

The newest member of the editorial staff is Maurice (Moose) McHagan, a Clarksville junior. He replaces Bibb as sports editor.

THE ALL STATE is under the supervision of the Board of Student Publications, and the general management of C.S. Photography is supplied by Gerald L. Tenney, director of photographic services.

National artist-authority shows new medium today

Russell Woody, nationally known artist-authority on the new art medium, acrylic based paints, will demonstrate the paint's artistic qualities this morning from 10 to 12 o'clock in room 47-C of the art department.

Interested local artists, art students and the public are cordially invited to see and hear Woody's presentation.

Primary purpose of the lecture-demonstration is to explain the use of synthetics in fine arts.

Based upon acrylic techniques by artists such as T. Hart Benton, Boris Artzybasheff, Adolph Gottlieb and others, Woody will display and discuss these techniques.

Debate organizes

"A debating program is being organized for those students interested in debating," says Miss Linda Jackson, instructor of speech.

To qualify for membership, a student is not required to be a speech major or minor.

However, Miss Jackson requests that any prospective debaters visit her office (Room 102, Clemens Building) immediately if they wish to become members of the debating group.

niques from his recent book, "Painting With Synthetic Media."

This lecture-demonstration has been presented nationally to many colleges and universities, which include Cranbrook Art Institute, University of Iowa, New York University, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, University of Southern California and Choinard School of Art.

Who's Who seeks qualified seniors

Any bachelor degree applicant who thinks that he may have a B average and who has participated in any college organization is urged to file, at the Admission's Office, an application for Who's Who Among Students.

The first screening is made by selecting those students who have a grade-point average of 3.00 or better. The second screening is made for students having participated in college activities or who have earned certain awards and honors.

The final determinations are then made by compiling ratings of the entire faculty on the candidate's personal traits.

Great strides predicted by APSU prexy

"The 1967-68 school year promises to be one in which Austin Peay State University will continue to make great strides," said President Joe Morgan in reference to the increase in size and scope that APSU is now undergoing.

Throughout this school year, Austin Peay State will receive nearly $2 million for building and repair projects. This is part of a $54 million program that the State Building Commission has approved for Tennessee educational facilities. Building and repair projects include:

1) A project to construct an art building, and approval of Hibbs and Johnson, architects, Clarksville, to design and supervise construction. Estimated cost - $250,000.

2) A project to construct an addition to industrial arts building and approval of Hibbs and Johnson to design and supervise construction. Estimated cost - $400,000.

3) A project to construct steam and chilled water lines to new dormitory, and approval of R.C. Thompson and Associates, Nashville, to design and supervise construction. Estimated cost - $125,000.

4) A project to renovate the armory, and approval of Hibbs and Johnson to design and supervise construction. Estimated cost - $125,000.

Applications for degrees are due now

A communique from Wanda S. Pincley, director of placement, advises all seniors, especially those completing degree requirements in December, to apply for their degree immediately.

Forms for this purpose are obtainable in the Admissions Office. Personal data forms (required for interview) will be sent to the applicant after he has requested his degree.

Mrs. Pincley also asks that students check the placement bulletin board for interview schedules and that if interested in an interview, sign for an appointment with the particular recruiting representative.

The calendar for October follows (subject to addition at any time):

Oct. 10: Rural Electric Association, 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Mr. Hunt, Accounting, business, economics majors.

Oct. 19: State Farm Insurance Company, 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mrs. Spelman, Claims adjusters, management assistants.

Oct. 27: Ernst & Ernst, 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mr. Van-Sant, Accountants.

Transition marks opening of school

It has finally happened! Most freshmen are probably not aware of the changes, but major transitions have become very conspicuous to upperclassmen with the advent of the 1967-68 school year. For the first time in years the campus is not undergoing wholesale renovation; furthermore, this fall probably produced the first relatively smooth registration in history at APSU.

While large scale improvements are still being made on the college grounds it is readily apparent to returning students that said improvements are not monopolizing the local scene as they have in the past. Of course, construction is in progress on the new University Center and P. P. Claxton Building. However, the campus roads are lacking a preponderance of potholes which

The grounds proper have assumed a new look of vitality, due mainly to the efforts of Charles R. Pinkley, APSU Landscape Gardener, and his staff. Commendation is due this group for their mainly successful efforts to enhance the beauty of the campus.

Commendation is also due Dean M. P. Bowman, the administration and faculty, for enacting what was probably the most effective registration ever at APSU. This is not to indicate that all problems have disappeared. In fact, Pres. Morgan has requested that a machine data study committee be appointed to determine ways of improving registration techniques. The committee will seek to determine if more profitable use may be made of our machine data processing equipment.

Nevertheless, we should note that students did not have to submit themselves to procedures tantamount to a CIA investigation in their attempt to enter the gym to register. This problem was alleviated by distributing packets to groups of students just prior to their registration time. Granted, this did add to the amount of time each person had to spend in the gym, but the result justified the means.

Greetings from ASB office

To the students of Austin Peay State University:

This is the first time that I have had the opportunity to speak to all of you, and I would like to welcome you back for what I feel will be one of APSU's most productive years.

My congratulations go to you for your high spirit and full participation during Freshman Orientation Week, the Western Kentucky game and Freshman Show-Night.

The Associated Student Body officers were well pleased with the attendance at the registration dance and at all the events of the past two weeks.

I extend a personal invitation to you to attend the Josh White Jr. concert on stage at the Clement Auditorium, Wed, Oct. 18.

Ray Radford
President, Associated Student Body

Editorial procedure explained

For the sake of efficiency THE ALL STATE staff adhere to the following policies for editorials, letters to the editor and other related articles this year.

These guidelines were prescribed by the APSU Board of Student Publications on May 13, 1966.

Concerning political campaigns, the newspaper shall be non-partisan in publishing articles and editorials. Furthermore, all editorials shall be confined to campaign issues rather than personal characteristics of a given candidate.

In relation to editorials appearing on this page, no staff member other than the editors may write editorials. Moreover, each editorial will be designated by the larger type in which it will be printed and will reflect the official opinion of the paper. Editorialistic comments may be written by other staff members or invited persons; these will be printed at the discretion of the editorial page editor and shall appear in regular size print, accompanied by the writer's name.

Letters to the editor should be submitted to either the editorial page editor or THE ALL STATE office by 5:15 a.m. on the Friday preceding publication.

Letters should be typed, double-spaced on a 60-space line and should be no more than 250 words in length. The editorial page editor reserves the right to publish letter falling to meet the criterion for length.

All letters must be signed; however, the writer's name will be withheld from publication by request.

Finally, the content of the letters, as well as editorials, must exhibit good taste on the part of the writer. Material which is obscene or vulgar and which ridicules religious or minority groups or human infirmities and the like shall be excluded.

The year and 'U'

Just 34 days ago Austin Peay State College assumed a new position in the academic world. Our institution became a university on the first day of September.

The assumption of a new title means the addition of new responsibilities, not only for administration and faculty, but also for the student body. One of the primary responsibilities is concerned with the projection of the "university" image to the general populace. One of our goals will be to show and inform people that the misnomer, Austin Peay Normal School, no longer applies to us.

There are other numerous new responsibilities but we should not be so hasty as to absolve ourselves of some "old" responsibilities. Apparently, this was the case when APSU entertained Western Kentucky in our first home football game. Evidently, a group of APSU boys decided to forego their responsibility. They did so by displaying a sign which stated "APSU says hi." The sign showed an obscene gesture, which was in very poor taste.

Perhaps these students were not aware of the existence of an attitude award, which is presented annually by the Ohio Valley Conference. The rotating award is sponsored by the conference's Circle K Clubs and is given to the institution which best exemplifies the ideals of good sportsmanship during the football and basketball seasons.

Poor sportsmanship unnecessary

The award is based on ratings given by game officials, coaches and the commissioner. Tennessee Tech and Murray State have received the award the past two years with almost excellent ratings.

While we do not like to start the year off by complaining, we do not feel that the entire student body and school name should suffer because of misconduct on the part of a few.

This is the year of the "U" and you. Will you accept the responsibilities and challenges which face a university student? Or will you take the easy way out?

Morgan welcomes students

Students of Austin Peay State University, Clarksville, Tennessee

I am happy to welcome both new and old students to Austin Peay State University. This year, as in others since I have been at Austin Peay State, the quality as well as the quantity of students has increased.

The faculty has been considerably strengthened. Physical facilities continue to be improved. We are looking forward to occupying the University Center and the Claxton Building during this quarter.

I wish for you a most successful year.

Sincerely yours,
Joe Morgan

SS requires 2 forms for deferments

Dean M. P. Bowman of the Admissions Office has announced that there are two report forms which should be of interest to all who are subject to selective service.

The first is the IBM form, SS-17, which was pre-punched and placed in all IBM registration packets for the fall of 1967. It serves the purpose of certifying the student's classification year and his scheduled graduation date.

This brown IBM card carries a statement of certification by the university that the student is currently enrolled as stated by the student on the top portion of the form.

Since several students failed to fill in the IBM card properly, each student who desires to have this IBM data card properly certified by the university should come to the outer office of the dean of admissions and receive Form SS-50 which supplies specific information concerning filling in each of the six blanks on the card.

Then he should fill in the card accordingly and drop it into the locked wooden box on the table.

These cards will be completed by the Admissions Office and mailed to the local selective service boards not later than Oct. 12. It will be the responsibility of each student to see that this card is properly completed.

The second form refers to the SS-11 white sheet, also Form SS-104, which is found on a small table near the center of the foyer in the Browning Building.

The Military Selective Service Act of 1967 makes it mandatory that any student desiring a U.S. deferment must make an official request on this prescribed form.

It is to be filled in by the student and mailed by the student to his own selective service board. Students are not to bring this form to the office for any type of certification.

Announce those meetings!

Many clubs are beginning to have organizational meetings concerning the forthcoming year. Too often the members are not aware of these meetings due to neglect of scheduling on the Programs and Events Calendar.

This could be eliminated by notifying the Office of Programs of these forthcoming meetings and events. Attendance would be increased if the members were informed in advance.

If any organization would like to schedule a program or event and have it printed in this column, phone 647-3684 or contact the Director of Programs in the lobby of Harvill Hall.

These meetings and events have been scheduled for this week:

Saturday - The Junior Class is sponsoring a dance in the cafeteria from 8:00 until 11:45 p.m.

The Tri-Beta Club is holding its first meeting of the year Oct. 12. The remaining meetings are scheduled for every second and fourth Thursday of the month.

The Home Economics Club for all majors and minors in home economics is scheduling all meetings at 12:05 p.m. every first and second Thursday of the month.

Year's first art exhibition opens in Trahern Gallery

by JOE HANNIBAL

This week the Trahern Art Gallery opens another season of fine, ever-improving art exhibitions, in an effort to update our campus' aesthetic sensitivity.

The first show opened Monday and was one of the most professional, international groups of art works every to grace the APSU campus. The show was put on by the American Society of Contemporary Artists, an exhibiting society celebrating its 50th year.

It is composed of 177 distinguished artists, 18 of whom are represented in this show. The membership is elected according to the professional merit of the individual artist.

The society is well known and is represented extensively throughout the U.S. and abroad in major museums and important collections.

Their shows have a fresh, varied approach with a diversity of technique and style, both abstract and representational.

The headquarters of the American Society of Contemporary Artists is located in New York City.

LIVIN' IT UP—Freshmen, food and fun was the scene at Pettus Park during the freshmen picnic. The picnic, which was sponsored by the Associated Student Body, came as part of freshmen week at APSU.

Bowman's office announces new VA regulations

All students who plan to draw benefits under the Veterans Administration should call by the Admissions Office and secure a copy of Form GI-17, G.I. Bulletin, and read it carefully.

It will be noted that increases have been made in subsistence payments effective for the fall of 1967 wherein a single veteran is to draw $130, a veteran with one dependent $155 per month, a veteran of two dependents $175 per month.

This informational bulletin also specifies the procedures to follow in securing the official letter of entitlement under the G. I. Bill.

All students under the G. I. Bill, both veterans and war orphans, are reminded that they must file a new application to be entered under the benefits at the beginning of each fall and each summer quarter.

These forms, VA-1, may be found on the left ledge of the service counter in the outer section of the Admissions Office. Students enrolled for less than full time will be required to submit the Form VA-1 at the beginning of each quarter.

Symphony tickets presently on sale

Tickets for the Nashville Symphony Orchestra Concerts are on sale through Friday at the music office.

School rates for the tickets are available to all APSU students and faculty and staff members. Season tickets at school prices range from $7 to $21 depending on seat location in the auditorium.

This season the orchestra will perform seven pairs of Monday and Tuesday night concerts. The opening performances are slated for October 22 and 24.

TO APPEAR SOON—Josh White, a folk-rock singer who was last year's 11th most sought after campus entertainer, will perform on the APSU campus Oct. 18 as the year's first big name entertainer.

NEW ADDITION.—“Peeled Orange,” a painting by Werner Wilder, was recently added to the APSU art collection. The Saturday Bridge Club of Clarksville purchased the painting in memory of Mrs. Margaret Fort Trahern, a former club member and APSU faculty member.

Painting has real ap(pee)l

The Austin Peay State University art collection has made a recent painting acquisition.

The Saturday Bridge Club of Clarksville provided funds for the purchase of a painting entitled “Peeled Orange,” by Werner Wilder, a famous contemporary Nashville artist.

The purchase was made in memory of Mrs. Margaret Fort Trahern, who was a club member for many years.

The painting, an exceptional example of objective painting, is now on display at the entrance of the Trahern Gallery, Clement Building.

Belmont invites

APSU students

Tommy Himes, president of the Belmont College student government association, has extended an invitation to the students of Austin Peay State University to see and hear The Four Seasons’ in concert.

The concert will take place in the Belmont College gymnasium in Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 19. Tickets are $3, $3.50 and $4.

holds meeting, plans induction

The initial meeting of the Phi Alpha Theta history fraternity was held last Wednesday. The members made plans for the induction of new members into the fraternity today.

Phi Alpha Theta has been very active over the past three years. Under the leadership of Hugh Akerman, assistant professor, the fraternity has held dinners and has been able to secure many excellent speakers for the field of history.

Dr. Z. M. Henry of the history department is currently working on a history of the land area between Barkley and Kentucky Lakes. Dr. Henry is doing the work under a contract from the Tennessee Valley Authority in connection with the Land Between the Lakes recreation area.

This is the third year on the project for Henry. Most of the material for the history has been collected and he is now in the process of collecting his notes.

Assemblies set

Two assembly programs are on slate for the fall quarter. F. C. Woodward, dean of faculty, has announced.

The first will be held on Tuesday, October 24 at 10:50 a.m. to make plans for homecoming. Freshmen are to report to the Clement Auditorium while sophomores, juniors and seniors are to report to the gym.

On Friday, November 3 at 1 p.m., T. George Harris, senior editor of “Look Magazine” will speak in the Clement Auditorium.

Olen Bryant returns from art institute

Olen Bryant, professor of art, has returned from a summer institute in the Visual Arts in American Culture. The three week intensive study program was presented by the University of Delaware and the Winterthur Museum.

Professor Bryant was selected for this study grant out of several hundred candidates from all parts of the world. The candidates were selected on the basis of their academic background and ability to benefit from the course of study.

The institute was conducted by a select group of art historians, historians of culture and museum curators. Among this distinguished group were Dr. Jules Brown, department of the history of art, Yale University and Dr. George Tatum, department of the history of art, University of Pennsylvania.

10) A project to install and equip two new chemistry laboratories in the McCord Building and approval of L.C. Thomason & Associates to design and supervise construction. Estimated cost—$65,000.

In addition to the new building program, APSU has experienced several other changes. Among these are:

* the college's elevation to university status

* the addition of 26 new faculty members

* expanded services in student personnel by the creation of the position of Director of Social Affairs

* the honor dormitory system put into practice in Harvill Hall for sophomores, junior and senior girls who meet certain academic standards and other criteria

* the addition of the master of arts and master of science degrees

* the soon-to-be completed $1.1 million University Center, the $700,000 P.P. Claxton Building and 32 apartments for married students, all part of a previous building program.

Schmidt begins a new version of 'sing along'

In an attempt to promote the singing of the official APSU songs, "Smash Bang," "Hail to Austin Peay" and "Hail Varsity" at the football games, Dr. Aaron Schmidt has launched a "campus sing along" for students to learn the words of the songs.

"The band and Gownettes will begin singing the songs at the games, hoping that the students will soon learn them."

Governors seek first win of season

Face defending OVC champ, Morehead

APSU Closeup

By

Scramble for OVC top spot

With the 1967 football season well under way, it looks like there will be a scramble again this year for the coveted top spot in the Ohio Valley Conference. Morehead, the defending champ, started the season in fine style by whipping a tough Marshall team and then edging Middle Tennessee, considered the Eagles' chief rival, 21-19. That was before they ran into Murray State's Thoroughbreds. Murray shot down the high-flying Eagles 21-15 Saturday night at Murray.

Eastern Kentucky and Western Kentucky are still undefeated in league play, each at the expense of Austin Peay State and East Tennessee. Eastern beat East Tennessee 35-7 and blanked the Gavs 37-0. Western beat Austin Peay State 31-6 and slipped by East Tennessee's Buccaneers 6-3 Saturday night in a battle of field goals. The only other undefeated team in league play is Tennessee Tech, who nipped Murray 22-21 two weeks ago.

Eastern and Western still have to play each other and Middle Tennessee and Morehead as well, so which ever team finally comes out on top will undoubtedly have a struggle getting there.

Murray is definitely on the upswing after going 0-10 last year. Austin Peay and East Tennessee have to be relegated to the role of spoiler at this point.

Moose calls OVC tilts

Morehead 21, APSU 7 -- The Eagles must have this game if they are to remain in the league race. Head coach Guy Penny will no doubt have his team up for it. The Gavs still have too many problems to work out. They have managed only 14 points on offense this year, while the defense has given up 91 points.

Tennessee Tech 20, East Tennessee 10 -- The Bucs gave Western a scare last week before going down 6-3. Tech's Golden Eagles have more offense than East Tennessee and should remain undefeated in league play.

Eastern Kentucky 24, Middle Tennessee 20 -- Eastern will be out to avenge last year's 22-20 loss to Middle Tennessee. The Maroons are strong both offensively and defensively. The Blue Raiders need this game or they drop out of the league race, having lost to Morehead in their only league game.

Murray 27, Iowa Wesleyan 7 -- Murray's Racers could be the surprise team of the league. They are coming off a 21-15 upset win over defending champion Morehead. The Racers feature a dangerous passing attack which revolves around quarterback Larry Tillman.

The Austin Peay State University Governors will have their work cut out for them when they travel to Morehead, Ky., Saturday night to meet the Morehead Eagles. Both teams will be trying for a comeback, each of them having been defeated last week. In addition, this is homecoming for Morehead, so the Eagles will be trying doubly hard to win this one.

Morehead returns 20 lettermen from the '66 squad which posted a 7-2 record and won the OVC crown.

APSU has been having problems both offensively and defensively this year. Head coach Bill Dupes has indicated that there will probably be several new faces in the Gavs' starting lineup this week.

"Our offense people are just not getting the job done," Dupes said. "We definitely will make some personnel changes this week. We've been very disappointed in what we have seen so far. And it can't all be attributed to youth. We've got some old boys who are not pleasing to us either."

"We are very unhappy with the progress we've made this far -- especially our offense. We thought the kids would come along more rapidly than they have."

At any rate, Morehead will be anxious to get back into the win column. The biggest threat is halfback Tommy Gray, OVC Offensive Player of the Year in 1966. Gray could be the nation's fastest collegiate football player, having been clocked at 9.3 seconds in the 100-yard dash. He averaged 6.5 yards per carry last year.

Also returning in the offensive backfield are halfback Leon Wesley and fullback Otto Gsell. Wesley was the workhorse of the rushing attack last year, carrying the ball more than any of the other players.

Bill Marston, 5-10, 160-pound sophomore quarterback, will call the shots for the Eagles.

The offensive line is headed by All-OVC tackle Paul Conner, a big fellow at 6-1 and 225 pounds. Tight end Bill Blairbridge was named to the OVC second team.

Morehead leads the series between the two clubs, having won four of five encounters. Austin Peay State's lone win came in 1965, when the Gavs won 26-21 at Clarksville.

Last year the Eagles won 21-10 at Morehead on a two-touchdown performance by Gray. APSU was leading 3-0 at halftime but saw that lead vanish when Gray took the second half kickoff back 97 yards for a touchdown.

With the score 14-10 in the fourth quarter, Gray scored again. This time it was an eight yard run which upped the score to 21-10 and put the game on ice.

37-0 loss

APSU 'marooned'

Eastern Kentucky's Maroons added insult to injury Friday night by blasting Austin Peay State University's Governors 37-0.

The game began on an ominous note. The Gavs received the opening kickoff and were unable to make a first down.

Rodney Collins punned to Eastern's Aaron Marsh who proceeded to run it 66 yards for a touchdown. This provided Eastern with the momentum that it needed.

"We think the punt return really gave us a lift," said Eastern head coach Roy Kidd after the game.

"We were afraid that we were going down because we had so many players out," Eastern said. "We had six starters missing when it took the field, including quarterback Jim Guice, generally accepted as the OVC's best at his position."

Guice's position was more than capably filled by sophomore quarterback Tim Sparks. Sparks completed 12 of 19 passes for 176 yards and two touchdowns and did a beautiful job of directing the Eastern attack.

CAN GOVS PIN DOWN MOREHEAD'S EAGLES?

Martin suffers

PIO has off night

Amidst the 37-0 defeat APSU received from Eastern Kentucky, the Public Information Office staff didn't fare too well either. John R. Martin, Jr., assistant director of public information, Gerald L. Tenney, director of photographic services; and Buster Yates, editorial page editor of THE ALL STATE, covered the game for the PIO. Only Yates returned to APSU undamaged.

Tenney was the first victim

After Marsh's TD jaunt, Eastern moved deep into Governor territory, mainly on the strength of a 48-yard run by Mike McCoy. With 5:55 left in the first quarter, Walter Murphy kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Maroons a 10-0 edge.

Late in the same quarter APSU quarterback Carl Williams pitched out on the option play, but there was no one to receive the pitch-out.

Eastern's safetyman, Harry Leuz, alertly pounced on the loose ball at the Gov's 36. From there quarterback Speaks engineered a drive which took eight plays, the payoff being a four-yard scoring toss to flanker John Tazell. The Speaks-to-Tazell combo clicked four times for 34 of the 36 yards in this drive.

Eastern scored once more in the first half on a one-yard plunge by fullback Bob Beck to make it 24-0 at halftime.

The Maroons scored two more touchdowns in the second half—one in each quarter.

McCoy got one on an 11-yard run in the third quarter; Speaks passed five yards to Marsh for the other in the fourth stanza. Phil Farnella led the Gov defensive team with eight individual tackles and eight assists. Howell Platt was close behind at 7-4.

at the Friday night game as he sustained a bruise on his left leg while photographing from the Governor sidelines. He was dealt a blow when a host of players knocked an Eastern player out of bounds near the APSU bench.

Loyal to his profession, Tenney safely guarded expensive photography equipment while succumbing to the pile up.

Martin needed medical attention and five stitches to close a gash on his right foot after a freak accident in a Richmond motel Saturday morning prior to leaving for Clarksville.

Relegated to crutches, Martin's misfortune came when he accidentally hit his foot against the footboard of a bed in the motel.

According to Sherwin Clift, director of the Public Information Office, he will check a local physician's report before announcing the PIO lineup for the upcoming Morehead State University game at Morehead, Ky., Saturday.

Conclusion: Journalism is a tough profession.

SPORTS SHORT

The Governor coaching staff has been pleasantly surprised by the play of freshman end Harold Roberts. Roberts has been a bright spot in an otherwise dull Gov offense, having received 13 passes for 183 yards and two TD's.

RONNIE HACKNEY

Gridders fall to Mocs, WK

Austin Peay State University's Gobs found the going rough in their first two games.

They ran into Chattanooga's Moccasins on Oct. 16 and came up on the short end of a 23-8 score. The Moccasins enjoyed a 10-2 halftime lead and were never in much trouble.

In the second game, Western Kentucky unleashed a powerful offense which featured the running of fullback Dickie Moore who smashed 162 yards. APSU's Ron Hackney gained 86 yards.

The Hilltoppers jumped to a 21-0 halftime lead and were not to be denied as they rolled to a 31-6 triumph.

Cross-country team opens campaign at Western Ky.

Austin Peay State University's cross-country team, in only their fourth season of competition, opens this year's season Tuesday against Western Kentucky in Bowling Green.

The Governors of Max Mayes will compete in five dual meets, the Union Invitational, the Tennessee

Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet and will be the host school for the Ohio Valley Conference meet.

The APSU harriers, who posted a 1-4 record last season in dual competition, return three members of last season's squad along with four incoming freshmen.

Chuck Babcock, Bob Engler and Ron Morton competed on the 1966 team. Freshmen George Gallardo, Donnie Huff, Tony Page and Billy Sandy also reported for the 1967 team.

The full schedule for the cross-country squad:

Oct. 10 - At Western Kentucky, Oct. 14 - At David Lipscomb, Oct. 21 - Union Invitational at Jackson, Oct. 28 - TAC at Memphis Southwestern, Nov. 4 - At Union University, Nov. 9 - At Tennessee Tech. Nov. 9 - Middle Tennessee, Nov. 18 - OVC at Clarksville.

About people

Book gives 'dogged' views

by TOMMY WARREN

Ever wonder what dogs think about people?

Now a unique book, "The Dog's Intelligent Guide To People," relates the views and opinions of a sheepdog. Written by Gray

ROLAND A. BROWNE

Frier's Flannel Pericot (nick-name is "Missy") and a collaborator, Roland A. Browne, assistant professor of English at APSU, the book is a satire on the life of a dog.

Browne explains, "The book was written nearly three years ago and was offered to Doubleday Publishing Company. However, it was not accepted by a publishing firm until this year, Funkner and Wagner Publishing Company of New York published the book September 20th.

September 27, Browne appeared on CBS-TV's "To Tell the Truth," along with the young actresses. Although the experienced panel failed to guess the two celebrities' identities, the audience pegged Browne as Missy's owner. Actually, Missy gave her master away to the attentive audience by looking up at him every time he spoke.

While in New York to publicize the book, Browne was a guest on NBC Radio's "Monitor." The radio program was broadcasted last weekend.

The book was formally introduced to Middle Tennessee by Browne with an autograph party at Mills Bookstore in Nashville. In addition to the autograph party, Browne was on WSM's Noon Show and morning radio program. Missy accompanied her book partner in all of the festivities.

Writing is not new to Browne, who has been with the English department for six years. "I was gardening editor for 'Woman's Day Magazine' from 1956 to 1960," he explains. He still contributes feature articles to "Woman's Day."

Other experiences include writing for "Culler's Magazine" and writing several books including "For Better Gardening" — Doubleday, and "Common Sense Book of Flower Gardening" — Funkner and Wagner.

"Gardening has become a specialty in my life," the author says. His designing and supervising of the tulip planting at Ft. Campbell and at the roses at the Clarksville Municipal Rose Garden attest to his special interest and work.

In addition to gardening, he is recognized in other subject areas. He has written articles on photography and is working on several other books. One is a college text on nonfiction writing. The other is a children's book on pets.

Animals seem to dominate Browne's life. Besides Missy, he owns Freddy, a pet hamster, and Cinnamon, a horse. But his association with animals goes back to when he was a young child. Followed and guarded by a dog, he confesses, "I was brought up by my Great Dane."
