For the student, college may be

A student is composed of many facets; each is oriented toward a new and different direction. Combining the learnings of the classroom with the experiences on the campus, a student is aware of college as a way of life and a realization of an aspiration. It may certainly be said that the experiences of a college student are unique. These experiences are shared or individual; they are rewarding or disappointing; they are entertaining or instructional. But most important of all, these experiences shape the life of the college student.

the maker of his character,

A desire for self-betterment, a desire for understanding, a desire to become a vital part of the changing world in which he finds himself—these are the things which motivate a college student. And each day brings an expanded realization of what his future role will be.

the molder of his life,

Today an education is invaluable. Never before has a people desired to acquaint itself so thoroughly with the world around it. The college student is interested in his own world—college life, this all-engrossing, all-encompassing aspect of life. In focusing on a detail, the student does not obscure his vision of the world around him. He merely sharpens his impression and adds depth to his perception.

and the builder of his destiny,

Learning is the center around which college life revolves. With vocational and intellectual knowledge each student acquires a greater knowledge and understanding of people. This is of benefit to his functioning as a happy and successful individual.

As a student, he may find

Why does a student come to college? He is seeking inward growth and expansion. As we live, we grow. Many uncertain students enter Austin Peay State College, hopeful to become successful, mature adults. These students are subjected to the forces that are to influence their future lives as no other experience can.

knowledge of himself and others

Those interminable hours in class and in the library . . .
the success or failure of an athletic endeavor . . . the excitement of a big dance . . . the quiet hours of contemplation . . . these are all parts of the life of the college student.

is the greatest of all knowledge.

Sitting in the bowl, talking in the Student Center, studying in the library or just relaxing in the dormitory, a student is surrounded by those things that influence him. Success or failure as a student may well indicate success or failure as an individual. These things constantly remind students of the need for an education.

A dedication to the students . . .

Because of their realization that college is an institution for higher learning and that such further education is necessary, the 1964 FAREWELL AND HAIL is dedicated to the student body of Austin Peay State College.

President Joe Morgan

In January of 1963 Joe Morgan became President of Austin Peay State College. He came to the College after spending several years in the field of education as a teacher, a principal, a superintendent, and State Commissioner of Education.

As a member of the Tennessee Education Association, the National Education Association, the American Association of School Administrators, Council of Chief State School Officers, and Kappa Delta Pi, President Morgan broadens his field of professional knowledge that makes him the competent college president that he is. Although he has been at Austin Peay State College only a short time, he has aptly demonstrated his capability and warm personality to the students and to the other administrative officers.

F. G. WOODWARD
DEAN

F. G. Woodward is respected and well known by all persons associated with Austin Peay, where he acts as Dean of Faculty. He fulfills his duties of general administration with superior precision and direct resourcefulness. Dean Woodward also is Director of the Graduate Division of Austin Peay, which he supervises with his superior ability.

Administration

TOM K. SAVAGE
DEAN

Tom K. Savage serves Austin Peay as Dean of Students. He, perhaps, is better acquainted with the students of Austin Peay than any other administrative officer because he is personally responsible for the conduct of the entire student body. Unending patience and his desire for the student's welfare have won him the respect and admiration of all who know him.

M. P. BOWMAN
DEAN

M. P. Bowman, Dean of Admissions, is the gentleman who is responsible for the admittance of students. Dean Bowman is kept busy maintaining complete records of each student's college career. Although his task is a large one, he carries out all transactions with speed and efficiency.

Administration

MABEL MEACHAM
DEAN

Serving Austin Peay as Dean of Women is Mabel Meacham. Miss Meacham has the difficult job of supervising all activities involving the women on campus. She fulfills her duties in the style of a true Southern lady. In addition to her supervisory role, she is engaged in all campus social activities. Austin Peay is indeed fortunate in having Mabel Meacham serve us as Dean of Women.

MR. R. C. SHASTEEN

Mr. Shasteen is coordinator of general business transactions on campus. It is his duty to keep accurate records on all tuition payments, scholarships, departmental spending, student activity receipts, and club treasuries. Well known for his achievements as a CPA, we are indebted to Mr. Shasteen for his excellent work.

Associated Student Body

This year marks the beginning of a new and strengthened student government. It has officially adopted the title of "Associated Student Body," and is acting under the auspices of a newly ratified constitution. As of the winter quarter, the student government has been divided into three branches: legislative, executive and judicial. The senate, the voice of each student, is composed of representatives from each council group and this group is responsible for the major activities carried out by the ASB.

Judicial

Women's Student Government Council

The Women Students' Government Council consists of the house councils of Blount Hall and Harvill Hall, the president of Harned Hall, and a freshmen representative. This makes a total membership of eleven women. These girls are elected to their house councils on the basis of their moral and academic standing in the dormitory and on the campus. The purpose of this council is to help in setting policies and regulations governing all women's dormitories and in interpreting these policies and regulations.

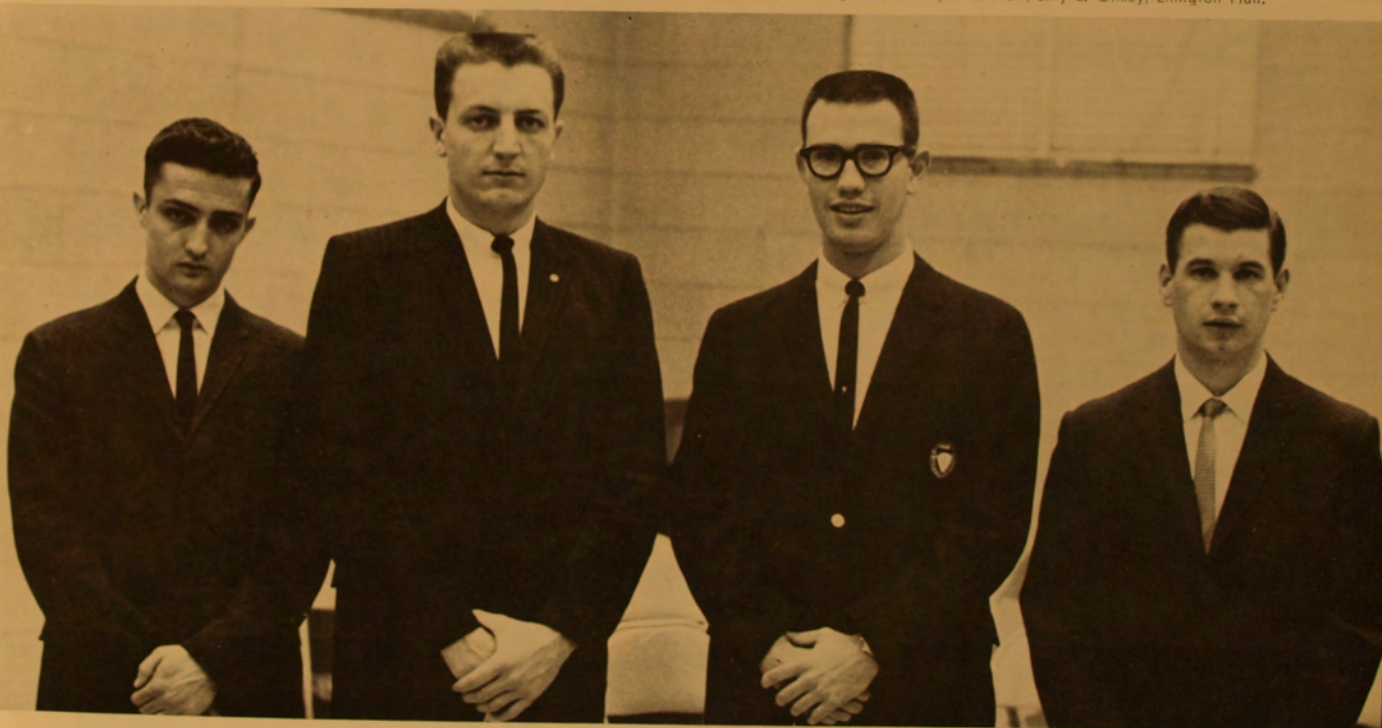

The Men's Inter-Dorm Council is composed of representatives of each of the men's residence halls. The members of this council work together with the supervisors to take care of problems that may arise and to enforce rules and regulations.

Each fall all of the men's dorms go all out to have the best decorations for Homecoming. This really gets to be quite a contest. McReynolds Hall was the winner this year with a giant spider web. Their long hours of hard work paid off.

The Men's Inter-Dorm Council was organized this year for the first time and will strive to help in the progress of Austin Peay State College.

Mens' Inter-Dorm Council

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is the nucleus which coordinates and directs the activities of the Greek-letter social clubs on campus. The council is composed of the president and a Panhellenic representative from each club.

The members work closely with the Dean of Women in a joint effort to communicate with the women in the dormitories in social interests and various other activities.

The women of the Council compose a cross-section of

Counselors

In the fall of 1962 Austin Peay began their counseling program for the freshmen women in Harned Hall. In 1961 there were four counselors. The number of counselors was increased to eight in the fall of 1963. These eight girls live in the freshman dormitory and aid the freshman women through guidance and counseling.

THE 1964 FAREWELL AND HAIL

This year the FAREWELL AND HAIL was edited by Suzanne Mitchell; the business managers were Kay Williamson and Jackie L. Lobertini. Acting as sponsor and adviser was Mr. Charles Waters of the English department.

A college yearbook is a bound compilation of a year of college life. The FAREWELL AND HAIL staff has endeavored to represent the lives of all students on the Austin Peay State College campus. This book has required many hours of work and worry by a great many people. This is the final result—the 1964 FAREWELL AND HAIL. It is dedicated to the student, both the individual and the group. As years go by, it is hoped that this book will serve to keep the memory of the 1963-64 school year fresh in the minds of those who were the students.

We hope that our efforts have been successful. They have, at least, proved rewarding to those students who have found some time in their busy schedules to work on this student publication. Bonnie Crick, Gary Hodges, Susan Price, Paulette Scott, Willette Starley, Bill Hutton, and Charlotte Dill deserve mention for their work on the yearbook; these students are not pictured.

The All State

Fully-processed color . . . largest edition ever . . . increased advertising . . . and additional features highlighted the 1963-64 editions of The All State, weekly campus newspaper.

The weekly, whether four or eight pages, also ran several exclusive stories which increased readership to an all-time high.

Student opinion, editorials and letters to the editor reached a high ebb as The All State continued to be the voice of the students.

Under the general management of Mr. Sherwin Clift, director of public information, the newspaper gained membership into two additional professional critical services—Associated Collegiate Press and the National Collegiate Press Service.

John Martin, senior English major from Clarksville, held the all-important student position as editor-in-chief. A thorough organizer, Martin molded a relatively inexperienced staff into an efficient, tireless working unit.

Major roles in publishing the newspaper were played by Ronald Arvin, managing editor; Barbara Smith, advertising manager; Tony Boehms, sports editor; Ramona Lumpkin, copy editor; and Billy Hutton and Don Reese, photographers.

Feature writers Frances Butler, Jan Leftwich and Betsy Riggins added quality writing for the students' enrichment, while Diane Mitchell performed the difficult duties as circulation manager. Judy Trotter, Sammy McIntosh, Ann Abernathy, and Sandy Williams rounded out the staff as reporters.

CAMPUS LIFE

Registration . . . The Beginning

"Why can't I manage two different classes at three o'clock?"

"What is that black spider doing in my cup?"

"Are these college students?"

Registration isn't a hard job. It is, Mr. Crabtree?

Registration means another quarter, more classes and more new faces. The IBM machines begin clicking and sorting the blue, green, pink, and beige striped class cards. The gymnasium is full of confused freshmen wondering why sections close just before they got there, and returning again to their advisers for needed help.

Clubs organize with hopes of greater unity and success. Clean dormitory rooms sadly wait for the mad scattering of clothes, books, and food.

The first day of classes arrives and students rush to get the favored back seats. First impressions register in the minds of students and teachers.

Resolutions are made but procrastination takes hold as many students wander into the card-crazy Student Center.

Social life begins with faculty reception.

Parades, Parades, Parades

The working half of the Governettes

Now, what's happened?

And the Band

Let us entertain you.

What have you done now, Suzanne?

After the rush of orientation, registration, and classes most students settle down to a daily routine, but not the Band and Governettes of Austin Peay. Their rush has just begun. Dr. Schmidt has made his band one of the most famous bands in the South and many students travel hundreds of miles to play for him.

Each afternoon during fall quarter, the band marches from the Clement Building playing their song for the year—"This Could be the Start of Something Grand." The sound becomes stronger and the step becomes livelier as the days pass and the song becomes a part of the campus.

Tryouts for Governettes bring excitement to freshman girls who are eager to be a part of this famous organization. Parades and performances follow. The band members begin to think they live on a bus. But the fun they had on their trips will be remembered. The groups may complain of too much work, but there is a void created with the realization of the end of another marching season.

Plays On

"WORK! WORK! WORK! Another napkin here." Homecoming was a success. The floats, the parade, the game, and the dance all involved work. But there was never more fun working.

The seniors started late but came out first place with their giant "Eagle-eater." The floats were greater than ever. More movements and imagination were shown. The parade was an attractive one with pretty girls representing clubs, organizations, and dormitories riding on colorful convertibles. Bands from the midstate area came to be part of the best parade in the college's history.

Each table in the gym lighted by a small candle was surrounded by happy students, who were to become happier as the night progressed. At one end of the gym the alumni were enjoying the homecoming dance and the talk about their days at APSC. They remembered the fun they had had working and planning a better college.

Our queen

Must be a new species.

Homecoming

and Napkins

Time Out

Just a few minutes of peace.

There really is something there!

Group participation

for Studying

Although classes are held fall quarter, real studying begins during winter quarter. The days are shorter and the temperature keeps even the most active physical education major inside.

Students find that studying is essential and they must delve frequently into books. Studying is probing into a dissected worm, gazing into a microscope, recording lessons in language lab, or just reading and analyzing material. All are a part of the learning associated with college.

I just don't understand.

A peaceful campus.

Student

A little time of relaxation.

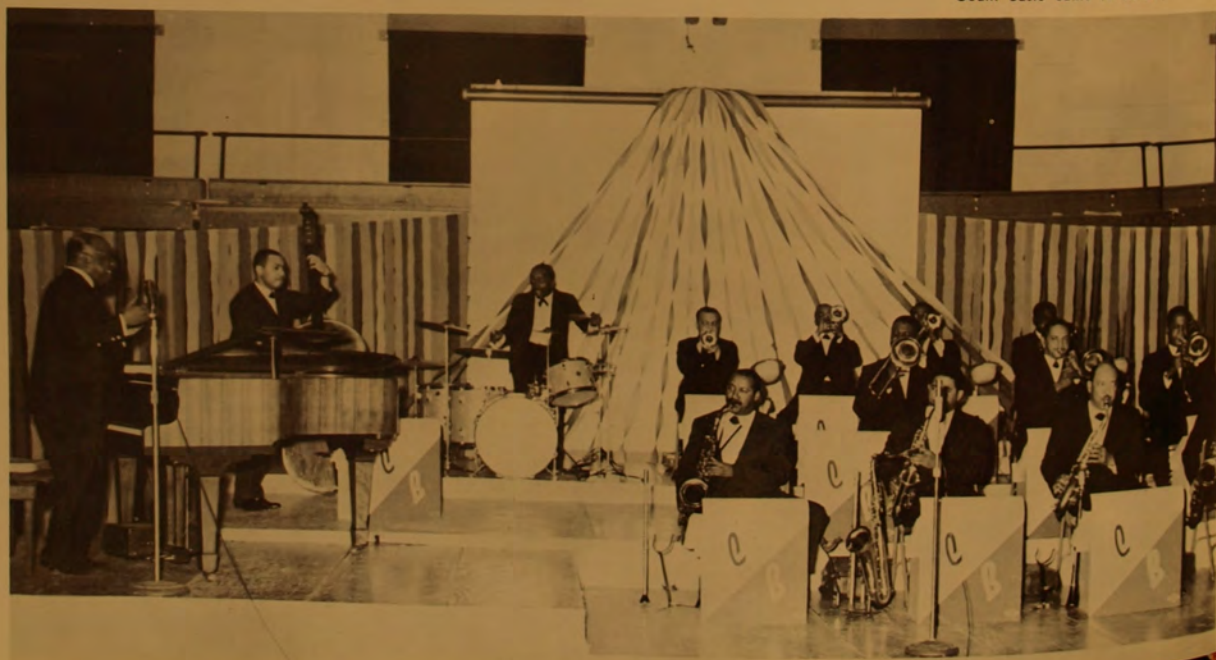

"Who's cheating?" "Eleven, twelve, thirteen . . . oh, boy, I can bid."

The Student Center is the headquarters of student life at APSC. Within the falling walls students break away from classes and relax. "Just one more game" leads to another. The students who like the "Stupid Center" so well seem to stay in it all day. The juke box continuously plays the same songs from fall to spring. Miss Annie hurries from table to table clearing the always messy tables. A scream is heard when a mischievous flirt pulls a chair out from under a good-looking girl.

The basement is quiet with only the clicking of mail boxes. The bookstore offers a momentary refuge for an interested reader.

The Associated Student Body office is located in the front hall. The ASB presented Count Basie in concert for the students and general public of the area. The concert was a big success and assured the students that big name entertainment would again be seen on the campus.

Count Basie came to APSC.

Life in Student Center

The last or FIRST resort.

We're having fun.

Decisions facing college students.

W-h-e-e!

Keep puffing, Freshman.

Freshmen

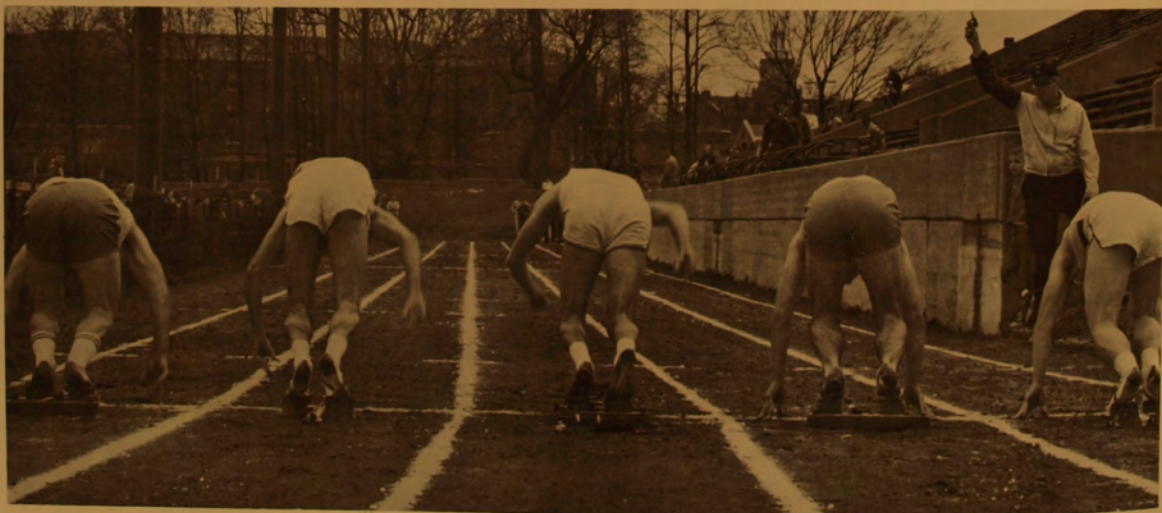

"Rules, rules, rules. What can you do?"

"Pick on Freshmen Week!"

The most original and vivacious Freshman Class ever charged onto the APSC campus. Threats by Mrs. Reeves echoed the halls of Harned Hall. Freshmen took part and made Orientation Week fun. Bald heads added variety to the campus men.

The Circle K versus the faculty basketball game added life to the mid-quarter drag. The captain of the cheerleaders was Dean Meacham, who received a "twenty-carrots" bracelet. Circle K members were the comedians of the year when they paraded in the gym wearing pajamas.

Drama and Dorms

Even counselors are climbing the walls.

We are getting out.

Poise at play.

Doctor, please!

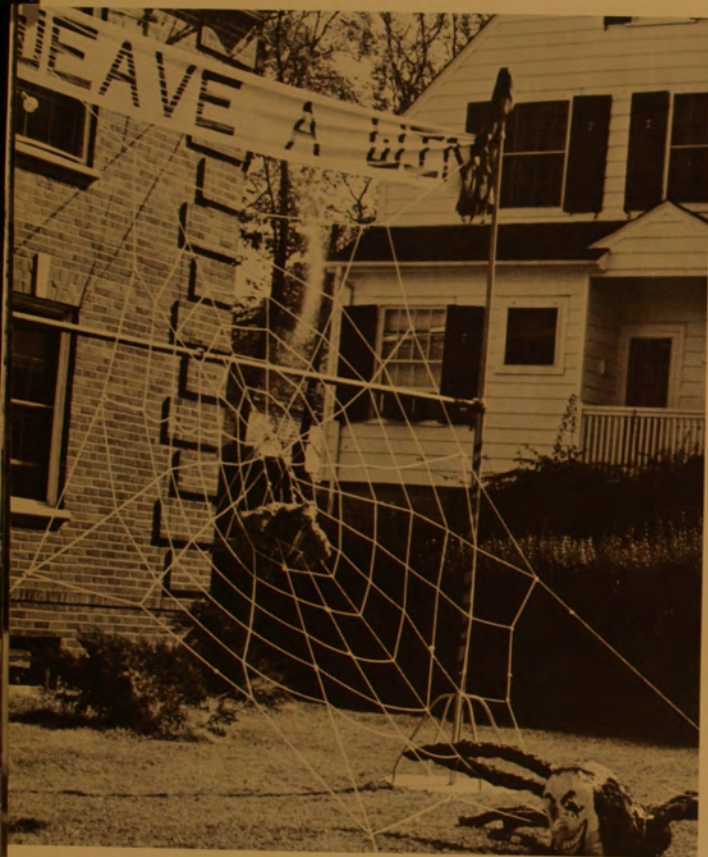

The Austin Peay Playhouse requires the co-operation of every member, from the make-up man to the leading actor. Rehearsals are long and the results are successful. Warren Chaney performed his part as Sigmund Freud excellently. After the cast party, rehearsals were begun for the French play for winter.

Drama also reaches the lives of girls who reside in the three women's dormitories. The Greek letter clubs had their initiations in the lobbies of modern Blount and Harvill Halls. Harned Hall, which had been newly furnished and redeccorated, was decked this Christmas with gold and white decorations. Above the beautiful lobby live the freshman women, who understand the housemother's actions only in the spring when each quiet moment in the dormitory means more free time for studying or sleeping.

You must try!

Madrigals

The Madrigals originally sang 16th Century music of England and Italy. It was the custom in those days to sit around the dinner table after the meal was finished and sing; therefore, each person must carry his part. Even though the group today still performs around a table, they do not restrict their singing to the music of that time; they sing folk songs, contemporary literature of all kinds, and any music that is suitable for a small group.

A Club

The "A" Club is composed of Austin Peay State College athletic lettermen. It is devoted to the promotion of the welfare of athletics and athletes on the college campus. The club also strives for academic as well as athletic proficiency.

The Blazing Staters Club was first organized in 1961 and has been relatively active in many campus functions since that time. The main objective of the Blazing Staters is the promotion of school spirit at Austin Peay State College athletic events.

During the past two years the club has had the responsibility of constructing the Homecoming Queen's float.

At present the club is composed of some thirty members and, in time, hopes to increase this number.

It is given in memory of the late William McClure Drane, a prominent citizen of Clarksville and patron of education. The bronze plaque is given on the basis of character, leadership and service to the school.

David Mason, a physics and mathematics major from Clarksville, received the 1963 Drane Award. He was President of the Circle K Club, President of Del Square Psi, Vice-President of the sophomore class, a member of the Galois Club, and was chosen to be in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

1963 Football

The 1963 gridiron season at Austin Peay State College saw the Governors finish with 1 win and 9 defeats. In his first year as head coach, Bill Dupes was faced with the problem of a lack of experience. The squad was loaded with freshmen and sophomores with only one senior.

Despite the way the games turned out, the Governors played impressive ball as can be seen by examining the record books. Nine records were broken or tied by the 1963 football squad.

Tim Chilcutt personally broke six Governor records. He added his name to the individual career record book as he upped his punt returns to 37, kickoff returns to 35, and kickoff return yardage to 740. He also topped his own single season marks for most punt returns, 20, and kickoff return yardage, 415. He established another record when he returned 5 punts against Fort Campbell.

Punting specialist Sammy Flatt cracked a single season record for the most punts, 54, and tied a single game record with 10 boots against Murray State.

Carlton Flatt, who along with Ed Bunio received honorable mention on the All-OVC team, tied the single season mark of three pass interceptions.

Bobby Byrd amassed an amazing total of 103 assists during the 10 game slate.

In the passing department, Carlton Flatt led the team with 39 completions in 76 attempts for a total of 579 yards.

Arnold Huskey led in rushing with 299 yards followed closely by Carlton Flatt with 296. Adding to his kickoff and punt records, Tim Chilcutt also led in pass receiving with 246 yards. Bettering his own average of 36.6 yards per punt in 1962, Sammy Flatt led the punting corps with a 37.0 average.

Although the going was tough for the Governors in their first year in the Ohio Valley Conference, things look good for the future with many lettermen returning in 1964 plus the addition of several transfers to the team.

#Denotes Ohio Valley Conference contest

A host of Gov tacklers smear an opponent.

We finally won!

Govs score another takedown.

1963-64 Basketball

George Fisher, in his second year as head coach, directed the Governors to a successful debut in the national prominent Ohio Valley Conference. Considered at the beginning of the season by many as the cellar team in the conference the "Big Red" soared to a 7-7 conference mark and a 14-9 overall record.

Miller proved to be a wise choice for captain as were alternate captains Murray and DeForest. Fisher heavily relied on veteran players; Stamper, Sledd, Bradley, Keller and Darke. Other players who capably supported the team were Ellis, Norris, Holliday, and McElfresh. Stamper, a member of the All-O.V.C. team, led the Governors in scoring with a total of 412 points for a game average of 19.6. Stamper now moves into second place in all-time scoring.

Defense proved to be one of the Governors most important assets and the team was recognized at one time as 10th in the nation in team rebounding. The leading rebounder was DeForest with a season total of 180. Miller was second with 167, and Ellis third with a total of 136.

Recognized by many as one of the best teams in the Mid-South the Governors were invited to participate in two invitational tournaments. Stamper was honored in the Quantic Tournament as the most valuable player and Murray was named to the all-tournament team at the Quincy Tournament. The Governors returned home and opened the new year on a sour note of three consecutive defeats but bounced back and showed the other teams that the Governors were capable of defeating any team in the conference.

A highlight of the season was the tremendous victory over Western Kentucky, known nationally for their winning teams. The Governors were 11 down with 2:06 remaining to be played. The Governors rallied quickly cutting the Hilltopper's lead and with two seconds left Stamper scored the most important field goal in his career as the Governors posted a 76-75 victory.

The 1963-64 season is over but the determination and effort displayed by the team will long be remembered. The Governors success primarily depended on four assets they possessed; excellent coaching, a great team effort, an abundant supply of talent, and good sportsmanship. The "Big Red" placed fourth in the OVC and Stamper was named to the all-conference team. The Governors led in players named to the all-OVC academic squad with Sledd, Darke, and Bradley receiving the high honor.

Co-alternate captains Murrey (13) and DeForest (33) along with captain Miller (31) focus their attention toward a play which head coach Fisher is diagramming.

Representing the typical coach, Fisher yells instructions to the Govs.

"Turn Me Loose" is the theme song as Gov guard Norris (50) and U-T Martin's Lacy (15) wrestle for the loose sphere.

Reaching to no avail is MTSC's Chuck Fiedler as Keller helps ice away another Governor conquest—73-65.

Showing versatility by using left-hand shovel shot when surrounded, Stamper led Govs to a 64-58 season-opening triumph over Transylvania.

All-OVC performer Stamper (42) holds up after dribble as MTSC's Fiedler attempts to avoid screen set by L. M. Ellis (44).

Arms and legs are the fashion of the day as Holliday and Murray State's Goebel (22) slam into others in a mad scramble for the basketball.

Senior guard Murrey drives for a basket against OVC champions, Murray State.

Captain Miller easily overshoots out-stretched hand of U-T Martin foe as Gobs won handily 89-65.

Freshmen Basketball

The 1963-64 freshman team was successfully coached by former APSC basketball player, L. J. Sanders, who directed the squad to a 8-9 over-all record. The Baby Gobs met tough opposition from such teams as Vanderbilt, Western Kentucky, and Kentucky Wesleyan.

The team was led by three brilliant players: Morgan, Van Hooser, and Jackson. Morgan led the team with a total of 322 points for a hot 18.9 average a game. Van Hooser scored a total of 255 for a 15.0 average and Jackson had a total of 241 for a 14.2 average. Capable support came from Cowles, Small, and Satterfield, who led in rebounding with a total of 145.

The Baby Gobs participated in two invitational tournaments winning third place in both against top area teams. The best effort of the year was against Western Kentucky, considered by many as one of the top freshman teams in the nation. The Hilltoppers never had a chance as the Baby Gobs rolled to a 84-71 victory.

The members of 1963-64 team will become the players of future of the "Big Red" and with their talent and desire APSC is assured of continued success in basketball.

Tennis Team

The Austin Peay State College tennis team under the direction of Dr. Marion Carr finished its fourth season of intercollegiate tennis and the first year of O. V. C. competition.

The Governors completed the season with a 1-7 record, but opposition was the strongest ever coming from such powers as Murray State and Western Kentucky. In their initial year in the O. V. C. the Governors were led by two juniors, Ralph Grant and Fred Alsop, and a freshman, Bob Bell.

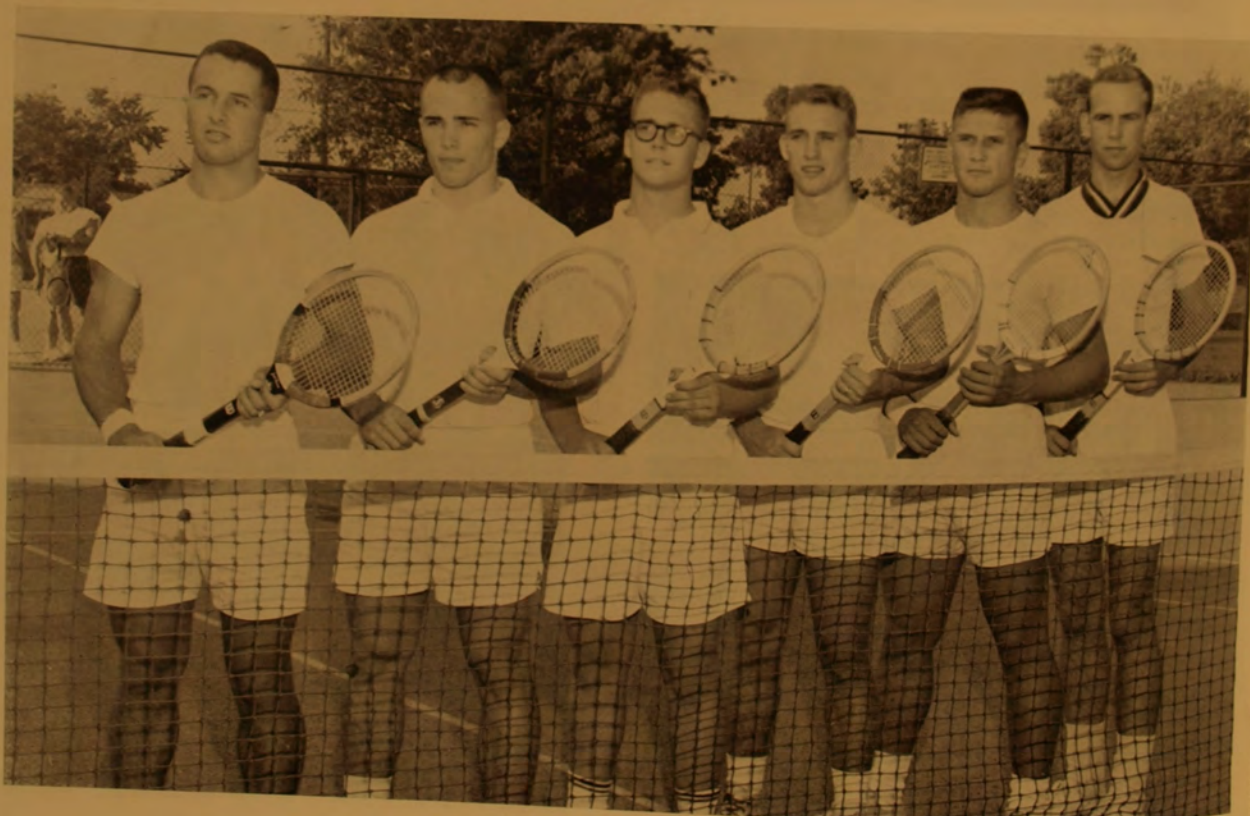

The 1964 outlook appears bright and the future of the tennis team at Austin Peay definitely appears on the up-swing with a revived interest in the spring sport. With a veteran team returning views for a successful season are very promising.

Golf Team

The 1963 golf team made their first official appearance as an O. V. C. contender, even though they had competed in the league before and had participated in the O. V. C. tournament and compiled an over-all record of 5 wins and 8 defeats. Scoring victories over such O. V. C. powers as Western Kentucky and over V. S. A. C. member U. T. M. B. by the Gobs were very impressive.

The Governors placed third in the T. I. A. C. Tournament and only lacked one point to tie East Tennessee for second place.

The squad also participated in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament and the O. V. C. Tournament where they finished fifth. With several returning lettermen the 1964 outlook appears especially good for an impressive season in the O. V. C.

Track Team

Coach Gordan Shultz completed his first year as head track coach and the Gov's first year in the O.V.C. with an identical record as the 1962 team.

The team was led by Blakey Bradley, high jump and hurdles specialist, with 63 points, and distance runner Tom Hinkle with 49.

The Governors competed for three championships including the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet, the O.V.C. meet, and the Fort Campbell Invitational.

In addition to the championship meets, the Govs carried on their regular schedule in the tough Ohio Valley Conference competing with such powers as Western Kentucky, Murray State and Middle Tennessee.

Hinkle outdistances his man again.

Flatt has a duel with the clock and other tracksters.

Coach Leon Sandifer

1964 Baseball

The baseballers of Austin Peay State College officially began competition in the Ohio Valley Conference in 1963 and compiled a 4-4 league record with a 7-6 over all slate.

In the hitting department, Jackie Winders led with the most home runs, three, and the greatest number of total bases, 47. He batted .348 and also had 9 RBI's, two less than hard-hitting shortstop Rodney Rogers, who contributed also with one home run, 21 total bases and a batting average of .319. On the Governor's squad there were seven men, five of whom were in the starting nine, that had averages above .300.

This spring Coach Leon Sandifer is looking forward to having a big season. He has returning from last year's squad several veteran performers but lacks the depth and experience in a few positions that could be damaging later in the season.

Intersectional powerhouse, Purdue University, will provide the opposition for the Govs in a two day affair in late March, which will open the 1964 season.

Rodney Rogers, shortstop

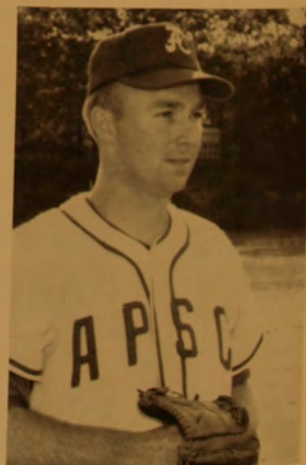

David Mason, catcher

Jackie Winders, centerfield

Ken Connelly, pitcher

Mort Paisley, outfield

Jack Atkins, rightfield

In the pitching department, Ken Connelly was the work-horse starting eight out of the Gobs 13 games and pitching once in relief. He had a 4-4 record with an excellent ERA of 1.99. Larry Hunter, Bill DeCicco, and Buddy Corlew rounded out the corp of moundsmen.

Don Cherry, infield

Buddy Corlew, pitcher

Tommy Elliott, catcher

Willard Ross, leftfield

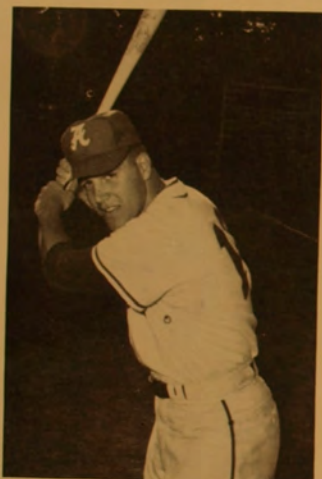

Larry Hunter, pitcher

Jim Bennett, infield

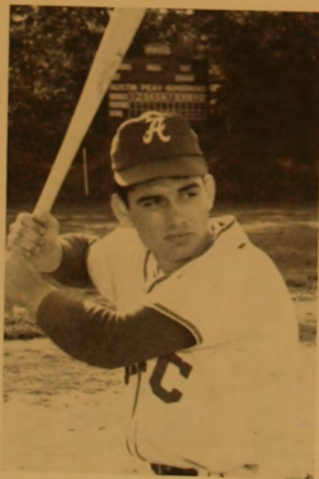

Claude Clements, outfield

Wayne Chesney, infield

Rupert Baker, third base

Rudy Sleight, outfield

Cheerleaders

At every athletic event in which Austin Peay State College participates there are eight pretty and attractive co-eds, leading cheers and adding to the enthusiastic support of the teams.

The cheerleaders, under the sponsorship of Mrs. John Hancock, attended all home sporting events plus many of the out-of-town games.

For the third, the Blazing Staters have been a factor in the increased enthusiasm at athletic events with the help and support of the cheerleaders.

This year A. P. S. C. had four entrants in the "Miss Cheerleader U. S. A." contest. They were Judy Griffin, Jan Welker, Becky McCarty, and Patty Paris. Judy Griffin was chosen as one of the five finalist and was awarded a trip to Winter Haven and Cypress Gardens, Florida, where the finals of the "Miss Cheerleader" contest were held.

FOR ALUMNI ONLY

We hope that you have enjoyed this edition of the FAREWELL AND HAIL and that these pages have brought to your mind many of the pleasant experiences that you had as a student at the College.

Wouldn't you like to remain a part of the college family by becoming a member of the Austin Peay State College Alumni Association?

Your membership dues of $3.00 (single) and $5.00 (family) will bring you each edition of The All State and the A.P.S.C. Alumni News. In addition you will be helping to keep eight deserving students in college through our alumni scholarship program. But most of all your membership will be indicative of your interest in the progress of your college.

During the past three years, the active membership has increased from 295 members to 700 paid-up members. Is your name on the active alumni list? Won't you help yourself and Austin Peay State by becoming a member of the Alumni Association during the 1964-65 alumni year?

An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest.

Benjamin Franklin

Admittedly money is an important element in the life of every individual, but this statement by Benjamin Franklin points out the truth that investments should be made in other phases of life in addition to the financial.

Herbert Spencer gave us this statement: "Education has for its object the information of character."

Thus the pupil and the parents and the educational institutions work together to make our Nation strong in wholesome ideals.

The First Trust & Savings Bank extends every good wish to the faculty, students and graduates of Austin Peay State College.

The 1964 FAREWELL AND HAIL has pictured the life of the student at Austin Peay State College. The yearbook was dedicated to the students; the opening section pictured the student in class, in study, and in relaxation. With the completion of this yearbook and this school year the staff says. . . .

AND SO HAIL AND FAREWELL.
