Ten Finalists Chosen For Best Dressed

Students Aid In Remedial Reading

The education department is conducting a research project this quarter in co-operation with Howell Elementary School. Approximately 30 AFSC students enrolled in beginning courses of education are teaching remedial reading to some 40 fifth, sixth and seventh graders on an individual basis.

The experiment is under the direction of Dr. George Ackley, Dr. David Denton and Dr. Elizabeth Stokes of the department. The program is also valuable in that it will provide laboratory experience for students entering education and give them an opportunity to better understand children.

The children were tested to determine reading level and academic ability. The test results indicated that the selected children were reading below the level that might be expected for grade placement and ability.

The children and the education students are participating in the program voluntarily. Each AFSC student participating in the program instructs one child for one hour bi-weekly.

Miss Catherine Beard and Mrs. Frances Moore are consultants to the training of college students in methods of teaching reading.

The directors and the college students are enthusiastic about the program and its success. "We are anxious to see the results," said Dr. Stokes.

Roaring 20's Dance To Be Held This Friday

A Roaring Twenties dance will be sponsored by the Associated Student Body Friday from 8 to 11 p.m.

The dance will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium and will cost 50 cents per person. Students are urged to dress in Roaring Twenties style as there will be a contest to determine who best represents the era.

Music will be presented by Norman Fredrick and members of the Copa Club band.

David Watson and Susan Price shall emcee the floor show. The show shall consist of a faculty quarter, four fantastic light-scrippers and other singing groups.

The Charleston Contest will be judged by faculty members.

Bathrub gin — ger ale will be served.

Playhouse To Present "The Enchanted"

Rehearsals are now underway for the Winter Quarter presentation of Jean Giraudoux's "The Enchanted" by the AP Playhouse. The play was translated from the playwright's "Intermezzo" by Maurice Valency. Production dates for the play are February 12, 13 and 14.

"The Enchanted" is about a young girl in love. It is the biography of a critical moment in the life of a girl, Isabel, the moment when she turns from girlhood to womanhood.

In this moment, Isabel's belief in the life of a spirit is so strong that it is sufficient to evoke a real phantom, and even to threaten this world with a spiritual revolution.

Included in the cast are Sally Welch as Isabel; Jim McKinstry as the Mayor of the French town; Leon Perry, the doctor; Hilary Kidd, the supervisor of weights and measures who is in love with Isabel; Douglas Hunt, the Ghost; Billy St. John, the Inspector who tries to exorcise the ghost.

Betty Higgins and Barbara Allison are the old maid Manglebox Sisters; Tom Williams and John Hughes are two executioners and two card players. Ten little girls from Barksdale School complete the cast. "The Enchanted" is being directed by Dr. David Mayes, head of the Speech and Drama Department. The show is the first local production of Dr. Mayes, who joined the College staff this past fall.

Assistant to the director is Bob Hensley; stage manager is Jane Hunt. John G. Griffin, speech instructor at AFSC, is in charge of the technical aspects of the show.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. each night. General admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Mayfield Attends Meeting

Melvin Mayfield, professor of physics at Austin Peay State College, attended a joint meeting of the American Physical Society and the American Association of Physics Teachers at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City.

The meeting which ran from January 22-25, including the awarding of the Orestes Medal to the most outstanding college physics professor in the United States.

Winner Will Receive Bouquet, Trophy And Gift Certificates

The ten finalists who will be competing for the title of AFSC's "Best Dressed Girl" are: Mrs. Sue Duncan, senior; Mrs. Trudy Brotherton, Barbara Lee and Susan Price, juniors; Barbara Smith, sophomore; and Camille Buck, Ramona Lumpkin, Carolyn Liscoe, Mrs. June Miller, and Cissy Williams, freshmen.

The final judging will be open to the public and will take place Wednesday, January 29, in the Clement Fine Arts Auditorium. It will begin at 7 p.m.

The girls will model three outfits before the committee of judges: an on-campus outfit, a daytime off-campus outfit (church) and a cocktail dress. The finalists will be judged on overall appearance and poise.

The girl selected by the judges as the winner will receive a bouquet of roses, a trophy and gift certificates from the ladies' shops downtown. Joyce Keatts Pickering, the 1962 "Best Dressed Girl" at AFSC, will make the presentations to the winner.

The first and second runners-up will also receive a bouquet of roses.

Pat Allison will serve as Master of Ceremonies for the evening for the second consecutive year. The program will also include piano music by Ruth Young and vocal arrangements by Dotie Sue Stone.

Photographs of the winner in the three outfits and the official entry form will be sent to GLAMOUR magazine by March 9 for the national judging. The magazine will select a group of semi-finalists and from these the "Top Ten" will be chosen. The rest of the semi-finalists will be named honorable mention winners.

GLAMOUR's "Ten Best Dressed College Girls" will win national recognition for themselves and their colleges in the August, 1964 College Issue of GLAMOUR and in newspapers throughout the country. Photographs will be taken by leading fashion photographers for the August issue of GLAMOUR. These will be taken sometime between April 15, and May 15, 1964, either on campus, in New York or in some other location determined by the editors of GLAMOUR.

In addition, GLAMOUR's "Ten Best Dressed Girls" will receive an all-expense paid visit to New York from June 1 to June 2

Cigarettes Are 'Damaging' In More Ways Than One

The report on cigarette smoking has affected some of the students at Austin Peay State College and some keep right on puffing away on their favorite brand.

A rash of pipe smokers and cigar puffers have been seen on the campus since the ill-fated day when the committee report was made known to the public.

However, it is not the purpose of this editorial to tell you whether or not you should continue to smoke or give it up once and for all.

The only purpose of this editorial is an attempt to try and stop the cigarette smokers from discarding the remains of their cigarettes on the floors of the dormitories, in the classroom buildings and on the cafeteria and student center floors.

One junior in McReynolds Hall was vigorously complaining about having to mop the cafeteria floor Wednesday night after the dance because of the cigarettes which had been discarded on the floor during the course of the night.

There were ample ash trays around the cafeteria for the disposal of cigarettes, yet only a few students seemed to know the purpose of the ash trays.

Many students have been asking to have dances in the cafeteria for some time now and with justifiable reasons. Now that the use of the cafeteria has been obtained it seems that some students are intent on having this privilege lifted before it really has a chance to show if it will work.

But, this editorial is not directed only to the guilty ones who attended the dance in the cafeteria last Wednesday night. It is also directed at the residents of the men's and women's dormitories as well.

Frequent visits to the men's dorms have shown that the halls have been permanently marred by the careless throwing away of cigarettes. The linoleum floor covering has been burned by countless cigarettes and cannot be repaired in any way except through the installation of new linoleum.

The conditions of the women's dormitories is not known but several residents have said that the same problem does not exist in the women's dorms.

There is really no excuse for this carelessness and laziness. Ash trays are inexpensive if you need one for your room. There are ample ashtrays in the various buildings around campus. If you cannot find an ashtray take the time to walk outside and throw your cigarette in the yard. It will not mar the grass and the floors of the buildings will gradually begin to look like they originally were.

Again, it is not the purpose of this editorial to tell you that you should not smoke, but if you must smoke, at least discard your cigarettes where they will not ruin the interior of the buildings of the College.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

After the last Freshman English Progress Test, I am wondering what the English Department is trying to do.

We had 150 questions to answer and one hour in which to answer them. We, the freshmen, had an average of 24 seconds to read the question, read five possible answers and then mark our choice on the answer sheet.

In several instances, there was a question on one page and the key list on another. The constant flipping of the pages was very distracting to everyone involved.

I am not an English major, thank goodness; and, if I were, I think that I would soon change my major. I feel sorry for my fellow students who did not pass the Progress Test for this means that they failed English 101. The English Department required us to pass at least one of these tedious tests in order to pass the course. However, if we were lucky enough to do well on both tests, they only counted one-fifth of our grade. The reasoning of the English Department is completely beyond me.

Out of the five classes which I have, English was the only one in which the department saw fit to give a so-called "progress test."

All of Austin Peay State College English professors were at one time or another freshmen. I wonder if they had to take a progress test?

Yours truly,
Frank A. Smith

Ramblings Of A Fool

Twisted Titles And Reviews

By Ronald Arvin

Today's book titles are becoming more attention-getting and perhaps a little more truthful than such titles as Leather Stockings, Tales and Little Women. Here are a few modern titles with a slight twist.

Exodus (Leon Urin) -- The story of life on Austin Peay State College campus on a Friday afternoon.

Twice Told Tales (Nathaniel Hawthorne) -- The 19th century version of television re-runs.

The Undeclared War (William Langer) -- The brilliant story of the heroic struggle of the college student to overcome education and professors.

The Ordinal of Change (Eric Hoffer) -- Barry Goldwater's secret memoirs including why he cannot accept the 20th century.

The Censors and the School (Jack Nelson) -- or Why Freedom of Speech is Too Dangerous to Speak of.

The Highway Jungle (Edward Tenny) -- Daring expose' of the trials and ordeals of an Austin Peay State College student trying to beat the other college students home on the weekend.

In the Clearing (Robert Frost) -- or Only One Quarter of College Left and That's Practice Teaching!

A Piece of My Mind (Edmund Wilson) -- The story of the professor who gave his students all that he had.

The Agony and the Ecstasy (Irving Stone) -- The confessions of an art major who thought that he had failed Art 200.

Time and the Hour (Howard Spring) -- A 500-page condensation of Dean Bowman's speech to Incoming freshmen.

Advice and Consent (Allen Drury) -- or The Real Truth About Faculty Advisors.

Letters to the editor are welcome and are printed whenever possible. They should be clear, to the point and in good taste. All letters must be signed, but names may be withheld upon request. Unsigned letters will be rejected.

Aimez-Vous Le Theatre?

Students and faculty of Austin Peay State College who would like to have greater opportunity to expand their educational interests and culture beyond the day to day work of on-campus activity will find pleasure in the fact that a performance of Jean Anouilh's play L'ALOUETTE will be given in French at 8:45, Sunday Evening, March 8, in Nashville at the Vanderbilt University.

The performance is by a troop of young actors from France called le Troupeau de Paris.

For the most part, the work of Anouilh are based on the kind of mythology whose principles are both simple and varied. His plays are characterized by a struggle between good and evil, each incarnated in symbolic characters.

Anouilh's observation which he passes on to his theatre goes is that society both exposes and protects individuals who represent both the good and the evil.

As a spectator of Anouilh's plays, we are able to see some unexpected protections and exposures which afford us a view of ourselves and our society not noticed before.

Anyone who would like tickets to this performance should contact Mr. Welker, French Room, C-206 at once for transportation and other arrangements. The only cost will be $2.00 for tickets.

Professors Speak Out

An Exercise

By Dr. David Denton, assistant professor of psychology
The reader is hereby requested to undergo an initiation ceremony known among psychologists as an Intelligence Test. In accordance with a tradition made venerable by prolonged usage, the reader is asked to respond in one of three ways — yes, no, don't know — to each of the items in the following list:

1. Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?
2. Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest?
3. Who hath stretched the line upon it?
4. Who shut up the sea with doors when it broke forth; as if it had issued from out of the womb?
5. Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days; and caused the dayspring to know his place?
6. Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the search of the depth?
7. Hast thou raised the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew?
8. Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?
9. Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?
10. Gavest thou the goody vines upon the peacock? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?
11. Doth the hawk fly by thy wisdom, and stretch her wings toward the south?

END OF TEST

What is your score? You probably have some combination of ten "no's" and "don't know's." MORAL: Whenever you feel you have attained great knowledge and power, re-read this test.

MINOR QUESTION: Who developed the first intelligence test, Binet or Iot?

"MAJOR" QUESTION: Now that you have been initiated and have failed the test, would you like to major in psychology? AN ILLOGICAL MORAL: Take everything you read with at least two grains of salt.

"Without Canal, U.S. Is Up Creek"

By Judy Trotter and Sammy McIntosh

Because the Panama Canal is vital to world shipping and the crisis which has arisen there jeopardizes not only our South American policy but also our entire foreign policy, the Panamanian situation is important to every industry in America.

The Panamanian government refuses to re-establish diplomatic relationships with the United States unless the U.S. definitely agrees to a new Canal treaty in which Panama will receive significant control of and profit from the Canal operations.

The question for this week was: Do you think that the United States should give the Panamanians more control over the Canal? Also do you believe that the students of Balboa High School were responsible for the crisis?

Susan Lawrence, freshman, biology, Gustavus City, Ga.: "The U. S. should definitely not relinquish control over the Canal. The U. S. should and could easily have complete and unquestioned control. America seems afraid of stepping on toes but this should be the case when such a powerful nation as the United States is involved. If we wish to continue a free, powerful nation, we must defend our rights at all costs."

Janis Traugott, junior education, Nashville, "No. The U.S. lets every country run over them without doing a darn thing. Without this canal, our country would be up the creek without a paddle. High school groups aren't capable of causing such uproar; therefore, why blame the kids from Balboa High School?"

Audrey Vertess, freshman, elementary education, Clarksville, "I certainly do not. These people are using the Balboa students as an excuse for starting something."

Joyce Neblett, freshman, marketing, Clarksville: "No, I don't think any more control should be given. I don't see how high school students can cause such a nationwide dilemma. This bomb has been ready to explode for a long time."

Diane Neblett, senior, marketing, Clarksville: "No, I do not think the U. S. should relinquish any more of its basic control of the Canal. Any other concession that will add peace in that area should be made. Although the U.S. could probably control the Canal by force, it would be very unpleasant and probably unsafe."

"The United States has already made such concessions as equal jobs, pay and retail store privileges without giving up any control of the Canal."

"The Balboa students probably did a rash thing but they did not cause the riots. This has been building up for a long time."

History Department

By Jan Lefwich

According to Tillman Taylor, associate professor of history, "There is a great degree of cooperation among the members of the history department." It may be noted that there are no female members. The department is unfortunate, perhaps.

Dr. Wentworth S. Morris is chairman of the department and professor of history. Six other men are full-time members. They are Dr. J. Milton Henry, professor of history; Dr. L. Paul Hyatt, professor of sociology; Tillman Taylor, associate professor of history; Dr. Preston J. Hubbard, professor of history; John A. Koumoulides, assistant professor of history; and Dr. William R. Johnson, assistant professor of history.

As Abraham Lincoln once said, "We cannot escape history."

Austin Peay State College students are inclined to agree, but with a slightly different attitude. Nine quarter hours are required for graduation. These nine quarter hours are concentrated on the heritage of the American people. For three quarters, a student is exposed to an atmosphere of the department's making. He sees the foibles, failures, fun and fantastic accomplishments of the Americans who led this country to its present position in the world. The all male department is unique. It is in the manufacturing business — manufacturing patriotism.

What of the European studies? That course averts students. Today a vast panorama! To think TODAY resulted out of those yesterdays! Other courses in history are offered to those students interested in them. "Latin American History is my specialty," Dr. Henry will tell students with a smile. "The history of the Far East is offered, too," he will add.

A history for the history department may some day be compiled. It would surely include a note on the origin of its members. Dr. Morris is a native West Virginian. Dr. Henry is from Kentucky but considers himself half Tennessean. Professor Taylor says, "I am a Tennessean raised in Kentucky." Dr. Hyatt is, of all things, an Arabian — from Arab, Alabama. Dr. Hubbard is from Tennessee. Dr. Johnson, like another Johnson, is from the Lone Star State, Texas. Koumoulides is from Greece — the original one. They all work peacefully together.

After all, the department does pretty well without women.

Feminine Beauty Equated To Ships

(ACP) — Connecticut Daily Campus, University of Connecticut, Storrs, suggests the "1,000 Ships" method of grading coeds.

The idea, a la Helen of Troy's face that launched 1,000 ships, is to rate girls according to how many ships they would launch. It works this way:

More than 900 — Wow! From 700 to 900 — Probably a Kappa Delta, or AEPH. From 400 to 700 — Are you still dating that girl from French AT From 100 to 400 — Honest, Charlie, my sister is a barrel of laughs. Below 100 — Another blind date from Sprague.

A SMALL portion of the students and faculty who took part in the campuswide tuberculosis test clinic held last Tuesday. All participants are urged to remember the check-up which will be held today in the TV room of the Student Center. (Staff Photo by Don Reese)

Little Helga, aged five, was the daughter of Norwegian parents who had come to America shortly before she was born. When Helga went to Sunday school the first time, the teacher asked what nationality her name stood for. Helga looked her flaxen curls and replied with dignity, "I'm an American of Norwegian design."

Tony's Tidbits

Govs Seek Victory

By Tony Boehms

Tomorrow morning the Governors will travel to Nashville where they will board a plane at 12 noon for Johnson City, Tenn., where they will play the East Tennessee Buckeaters. This will be a first experience for any Governor squad to travel as a unit for a major athletic contest.

The Govs will be out to avenge a 97-67 lacing at the hands of the Bucs on the Governors home court on January 4.

APSC will at least have one or two points in their favor when they cross foreign borders. First will be the availability of junior transfer L.M. Ellis and secondly an impressive victory over last year's Ohio Valley Conference champion Tennessee Tech (77-57).

Speaking of last week's victory at Tech, the Governors demonstrated their full strength and ability by pulling out in front of the Golden Eagles of Tech and never falling behind the entire night. The victory was a great team effort with four of the starters for the Govs hitting in double figures with Doug Stamper scoring 19, Jim DeForest with 17, Henry Murray with 15 and Steve Miller scoring 12 points. Leading Gov rebounders for the night were Miller, Murray and Ellis who pulled down 11, 10 and eight rebounds respectively.

Following the Tech encounter, the tired but happy Govs returned home to host the Murray State College Thorobreds and saw their action go down in defeat by a 98-82 margin. The night was not a complete loss, at least to one Governor sharpshooter Doug Stamper. A total of 27 points gained Stamper recognition from the Murray head mentor as the "best little guard in the conference."

Frosh Win Another

Another bright spot that can be considered while looking back on last Thursday night is that the Governor freshman team pulled one out of the fire with an 86-76 victory over the Murray frosh.

Benny Morgan, the fine prospective Governor guard, scored 30 points and also played a fine defensive game. Hal Jackson also gave an outstanding performance in scoring 26 points. Another steady forward, Melvin Vanstoser, had one of his off night's and scored 11 points.

The victory was a come from behind victory for the Gov yearlings as they were down 39-37 at the half and as much as seven points during the game.

The Governor frosh now hold a 3-4 record with win over the Governor frosh and a 3-4 record with win over Murray, Middle Tennessee and Cumberland College.

The next home game for the L.J. Sanders coached boys will be next Monday night when the freshmen and varsity teams from Tennessee Tech invade the Memorial Gymnasium.

Intramurals Progress

After one week of play in the boys' intramural tournaments much enjoyment has been derived by the fans with the clowns putting on their show.

The team nicknames for this year show such concoctions of words as Rebebyanks, Potenechers, Renegades, Cavellers, Wildcats, BSU Bobcats, Trashmen, Hawks, Hurray Hoosters, Midgets, Hip Nips, Red Devils, Rejects, Yard Birds, Stump Jumpers, Yellow Jackets, Pacifiers and a few unmentionable names.

Leaders in the scoring department are Charles Lawrence of the Hurray Hoosters with 23, Willard Ross of the Midlets with 21, Davis Johnson of the Renegades with 20 and Dale Ellis of the Potenechers with 19 points after each of their respective teams played one game.

The girls' intramural began practice sessions last week and the four teams which are composed of two freshmen teams, one sophomore team and another team composed of both junior and senior girls. The plans are to begin official competition this week among the girl teams which are played in the afternoons from about 5:15 to 6:15.

Governors Split Two Games

MURRY FIRES FOR TWO—Henry Murray, Austin Peay State College, shoots for two points in the Governors 98-82 loss to Murray State Thursday night. John Nannicini (4) of Murray is caught flat-footed while Scott Schlosser (11), Seldon Sled (14) APSC and Gene Pendleton (34) Murray State watch. (Staff Photo by Billy Hutton)

"He is the best in the league," were the words of Murray State coach mentor Cal Luther following his team's triumph over Austin Peay State Thursday night.

Luther was not speaking of one of his own Racers, but rather dandy Doug Stamper of the Governors. The Hamilton, Ohio, sharpshooter scored 27 points in 31 minutes of play and raised his scoring average to 19.5. He was the game's leading scorer as the Thorobreds stopped APSC by a 98-82 count.

Stamper has been a thorn to all Ohio Valley Conference opponents with the exception of East Tennessee. The 6-2 guard missed two non-conference games due to a leg injury and played only a few minutes against the Bucs scoring two points. However, Stamper is averaging 23.2 against other OVC clubs as he has scored 191 points in six games. He has scored 28 and 23 against Middle Tennessee, 22 against Eastern Kentucky, 20 at Morehead and 19 at Tennessee Tech.

Setting a new school mark in free throw percentage when only a sophomore, Stamper bagged nine for nine against Murray and now sports an .815 percentage. Jim Jennings, Murray strong boy, was the OVC leader last week with an .848 mark but he slumped during the week to .787.

Stamper passed the 1,000 point career mark Tuesday night when he hit a jumper with 7:41 left in the half against Tennessee Tech. He now has 1,041 to his credit. A breakdown shows the wizard of the court scored 218 as a sophomore, 565 as a junior and has 255 thus far this season.

Following Stamper in the scoring race are Steve Miller (124), L. M. Ellis (112), Henry Murray (9.9), Jim DeForest (9.8) and Seldon Sled (6.1).

The Govs continue to dominate the boards as they out-rebounded Tech and Murray by a combined total of 48 rebounds. DeForest is team leader with an 8.4 average on 131 grabs while Ellis carries an 8.6 average.

APSC also upped its free throw percentage from .683 to .702 during the week as they cashed in on 53 of 66 charity tosses. The Govs' opponents are shooting .699 from the free throw line. In the field goal percentage department, however, Gov enemies lead by a commanding .427 percentage to .390. Murray State scored the nets for 56.0 per cent Thursday night, which was the second best ever in Memorial Gymnasium, Kentucky Wesleyan popped at a 57.6 clip last year in defeating the Governors.

By virtue of the loss to Murray coupled with Western Kentucky's victory over Morehead, the Govs are once again in the basement of the OVC. Standing 2-5 in conference play, the George Fisher-coached club does not see action until Wednesday when they travel to East Tennessee.

Cager Of Week

DEFOREST

Jim DeForest, 6-5 junior forward from Albany, Ky., is this week's choice for the Cager of the Week. In the Govs' two games last week, DeForest scored 32 points and hauled in 16 rebounds as APSC split in the two games. Big Jim continues to sparkle on defense and has often been called the best defensive big man in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Twirling Squad Featured In Publication

The Austin Peay State College baton twirling corps is featured in a publicity publication of the Conn Corporation that has a circulation of 55,000. The publication entitled "Conn Chord" is being sent to music educators, schools and professional musicians throughout the country.

The photograph of the squad with the girls displaying their Conn "star" batons has a caption which reads: "The new stars of Austin Peay State College, Clarksville, Tennessee, perform exclusively with the new Conn 'star' Batons." The batons in the picture were a gift from the Conn Corporation.

Beattie Feathers of the Chicago Bears was the first National Football League player to gain more than 1,000 yards in one season. He did it in 1934 and it was 13 years before Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles also topped the mark.

Overall the Governors now stand 8-7 due to the forfeit of the Central State (Ohio) game to the Govs. Two Central players falsified college transcripts and the Marauders forfeited to AFSC thus converting an 84-69 loss to a 2-0 win. According to OVC practice the points scored by the players will be included in scoring records. The total points scored in the game will continue to be counted in AFSC's seasonal scoring average, as well as Central's in the opponents' column.

Guaranteed Cost For Four Years Offered At UIU

Fayette, Ia.—[L.P.]—A guaranteed four-year basic cost plan to cover tuition and fees has been adopted by the Upper Iowa University Board of Trustees.

The plan, which guarantees entering freshmen that their basic college expenses will not increase during their four years at UIU, will go into effect next September.

The guaranteed cost plan will apply only to students living in University housing and will cover such general expenses as tuition, standard fees, room and board. It will not include special laboratory fees or books.

Don't blame a successful man for bragging a bit. When you catch a good string of fish, you don't go home by the back alley, do you?

Summer Programs Still Available In Education

The Institute of International Education announces that a limited number of scholarships for 1964 summer study are being offered to qualified Americans by two Austrian and four British universities.

Adolf-Morbach awards for summer study at most German universities are also available. All programs are administered by the IIE.

The historic University of Vienna will hold a special summer session at its St. Wolfgang campus in Stroble, Austria, from July 12 to August 22.

Courses available to students will include law, political science and liberal arts courses and German language courses. The St. Wolfgang program is open to candidates who have completed two or more years of college and will cost approximately $335. An optional four-day trip to Vienna at a small additional charge is also available.

The aim of the Salzburg summer school at Salzburg-Kleinhart, sponsored by the Austro-American Society, is to provide students with an opportunity to learn the German language and to acquire a first-hand knowledge of Austrian Culture and foreign policy.

Although most courses (in art, music, economics and politics) will be taught in English, attendance at one of several German language courses will be mandatory.

Total cost for the Salzburg program will be $260; $245 to cover room, board and tuition, plus a $15 registration fee. Applicants for the six-week session (from June 5 to July 25) must be between the ages of 18 and 40 and must have completed at least one year of college.

High-point of the two Austrian summer sessions will be the opportunity for students to attend the famed Salzburg Music Festival, including one opera, one concert and Hofmannsthal's drama "Everyman." Festival tickets are included in the schools' fees.

Summer school opportunities in Great Britain include a choice of subjects and historical periods, with study to be carried out at the appropriate university concerned. The study of Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama will be offered at Stratford-upon-Avon by the University of Birmingham; the history, literature and arts of seventeenth century England will be taught at the University of Oxford; twentieth century English literature at the University of London; and British history, philosophy and literature from 1688 to 1832 at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

The Universities of London and Oxford will hold their session from July 6 to August 14; the University of Birmingham, from July 5 to August 14; and the University of Edinburgh from June 29 to August 7.

Fees, which include room, board and tuition, for all schools except Edinburgh, will be $296; and for Edinburgh, $282. Courses for all four university summer sessions are designed for graduate students, but undergraduates who have completed at least two years of university work may apply.

Eight-Morbach awards, worth approximately $125 each, are being made available to qualified Americans by the German government for summer study in German universities. They are open to candidates with a good knowledge of German who have not received other grants for a full academic year's study in Germany.

Further information and applications for all summer sessions and awards may be obtained from the Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 800 Second Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Completed scholarship applications to the British schools must be received by March 31. Austrian scholarship applications must be received by March 1; admission applications by May 1, 1964. Closing date for completed German government awards is April 1, 1964. Travel arrangements to and from Europe are the responsibility of each student.

Coed Of Week

COED OF THE WEEK — The 5'3", 110 pound coed is Miss Carol Allen from Lewisburg, Tenn. Carol, who measures 34-23-34, is a sophomore at APSC and is majoring in home economics. Her plans for the future are in the field of dietetics. Much of Carol's time is spent as counselor for the freshman dorm, but she still finds time for other clubs on campus. She is president of the Alpha Club, vice-president of the Wesley Foundation, vice-president of the Home Economics Club and is a member of the Panhellenic Council. Why the big interest in art? Well, you'll have to ask Carol about that. (Staff Photo by Billy Hutton)

Interview Appointments To Be Run Weekly

Beginning with this issue of The All State and continuing for the remainder of the year, a schedule of the interview appointments will be published in The All State.

This is done for the benefit of the seniors who will be graduating at the end of the Winter, Spring, or Summer Quarters. It will still be necessary for the students to sign the appointment sheets on the main bulletin board in the Browning Building. It is hoped, however, that this will be of some help to those seniors who wish to make use of the placement service provided by the College.

For any further information, the student should see Mrs. Pinckley in Dean Bowman's office.

The interview schedule as it now stands is as follows:

JANUARY

January 31 — Upper Marlboro, Maryland (teachers)

FEBRUARY

February 3 — Salem, Virginia (teachers)

February 4 — Annapolis, Maryland (teachers)

February 11 — Retail Credit (General) (Insurance, Credit, Personnel)

February 18 — Food and Drug Administration (Science majors)

February 24 — Leonardtown, Maryland (teachers)

Campus Comedy

While still in high school, a young man made the usual applications to several colleges, then waited hopefully but nervously for the replies. Finally to his great relief and delight, he received a letter of acceptance from one of the colleges. But, after he had thought it over, his exuberance subsided. "I'm not so sure," he explained, "that I want to go to a college that would accept ME."

In his first class at an eastern university, a guest professor from France was aghast when several coeds calmly took out knitting bags and began to ply their needles. He could hardly finish the hour. By the time the class met again, however, he was ready with a solution.

"I have an important announcement to make," he said when the final bell rang. Then, as everyone quieted down expectantly, he continued, "It is simply this—only those young ladies will be permitted to knit in class who are pregnant." There was no more knitting in his classes.

While driving on a large eastern campus, a visitor was following an old Model A Ford with three symbols on its rear window. He assumed they represented a fraternity but was surprised, being a student of Greek, that he couldn't identify any of the symbols. So at the next stop sign he pulled up beside the car and called out to the boy driving it, "To what fraternity do you belong?" The boy grinned and answered, "Sigma-Phi-Nothing."
