The real work begins

by MARY MAGEE

With hectic days of campaigning and election worries behind him, Butch McGee, newly elected ASB president, has turned his thoughts toward his future administration.

"Since we do not officially take office until June 1, everything we are doing now is only preliminary to the extensive plans we will be making this summer.

"Our major concern now is setting up the Student Tribunal. Along with Chief Justice Gary Scott, there are to be six associate justices. All those interested will be interviewed, with the six being selected on a basis of contributions to the university and an ability to be fair and impartial.

"We are also uncertain at this time as to what judicial procedure will be followed. The question of student attorneys is still open. The extent of the court's jurisdiction has also not been established."

"We do plan to have a board of

Tenn. State Board approves new personnel appointments

Four administrative personnel appointments were approved for Austin Peay State University by the Tennessee State Board of Education at its quarterly meeting held in Nashville last week.

The board, upon recommendation by Dr. Joe Morgan, APSU president, elected:

- (1) Dr. Wayne Slamper, dean of the graduate school, effective June 15.
- (2) Dr. Tom K. Savage, dean of the college of education and psychology, effective July 1.
- (3) Charles N. Boehms, dean of students, effective July 1.
- (4) Doytt D. Redmond, dean of men, effective July 1.

Dr. Slamper, a native of Abingdon, Va., is presently serving as president of Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa. Slamper, 35, holds the B.S. degree from Emory & Henry and the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Vanderbilt University.

He will replace Dr. William H. Ellis, who, at the previous meeting of the board, was named dean of faculty to succeed Felix G. Woodward. On July 1 Woodward will assume the office of assistant to the president. Savage, 55, moves to his new position from the post of dean of students. The election of Dr. Harold S. Pryor as president of Columbia State Community College made it necessary that a new head of the college of education and psychology be named. A native of Linden, Tenn., Savage has had experience in the public school system in Tennessee as teacher, principal and county superintendent. He has been a professor of education on the APSU faculty for a number of years; he came to the university in 1953 and was named dean of students in 1957.

Replacing Savage as dean of students will be Boehms, an associate professor of history. Boehms, a member of the university faculty since 1957, is scheduled to receive his Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina during the academic year of 1968-69.

Presently director of housing and security, Redmond will be designated dean of men on July 1. The 44-year-old native of Kings Mountain, N.C., holds the B.S. and M.A. in education degrees from APSU. He joined the administrative officer staff of APSU in 1965.

Top students cited at honors assembly

A total of 69 students, comprised of 15 graduate students and 54 undergraduates, who have an over-all grade point average of at least 3.65, were recognized this morning at the annual Academic Honors Day program held in the Clement Auditorium.

APSU President Joe Morgan presided over the assembly.

The featured speaker for the event was Dr. George K. Schweitzer, professor of chemistry at the University of Tennessee.

His address was entitled "The Next Cosmic Breakthrough."

Dr. William H. Ellis, director of graduate studies, presented the graduate students, while F. G. Woodward, dean of faculty, made the undergraduate presentations. Graduate students honored were:

Undergraduate students recognized were:

'A' Club's outing set this afternoon

The "A" Club will hold its annual picnic at Day Pond this afternoon from 3 to 5 at Pettus Park.

So that everyone can enjoy the goodies at the picnic, the cafeteria will be closed for the evening meal today.

Brass Choir to perform on Sunday

The University Brass Choir will perform Sunday in the Clement Auditorium at 3 p.m., but because of a change in schedule, Robert Jager will not be here to direct his "Chorale and Pique" as was previously reported.

Guest Conductor will be Edward A. Knob. Knob received the bachelor of music education degree from Mansfield (Pa.) State College, and the master of music degree from the University of Michigan, where he held a teaching fellowship in bassoon. He taught in Michigan, Kansas, Kentucky and Tennessee. From 1956 to 1965 he was director of bands at Western Kentucky University.

Knob performed with the Kalamazoo and Twin City Symphony Orchestras from 1950 to 1952 and studied at the Tanglewood Music School in 1953. He is presently the principal bassoonist of the Nashville Symphony Orchestra and the Little Symphony of Nashville.

He is a member of Phi Mu Sinfonia, Phi Delta Kappa and was a charter member of the Kentucky Chapter of Phi Beta Mu.

He has guest conducted the 1963 Alabama All State Band, the 1965 Virginia All State Band and several district bands in Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky and Virginia.

Music to be performed in addition to "Chorale and Pique" includes: "Introduction and Allegro," "Two Pieces," "Provedom Domum," "Two Ayres for Corinths and Sagbats" and "Suite for Brass."

BRASS CHOIR—The University Brass Choir, directed by John Larkin, instructor in music, has slated a performance for Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Clement Auditorium. Edward A. Knob will be featured as guest conductor.

Progress at APSU

Things are happening at the Peay! Changes are being made in the administrative makeup of APSU and we believe that we will be a better university because of them.

Last week changes involving four individuals were announced; Doytt D. Redmond, who is director of housing, will become dean of men; Dr. Tom K. Savage, dean of students, will assume the position of dean of the College of Education; Charles N. Boehms, an associate professor of biology, is the new dean of students; and Dr. Wayne Stempier, president of Parsons College, will become dean of the Graduate School.

These men have shown competence in the jobs which they now handle; this is not the reason for the changes, however. Progress is what we need to grow into a great university and progress comes through changes whereby individuals are placed in positions where they are needed most and can offer the best benefit.

We are not in the act of deifying — each of these individuals has made mistakes, just like the rest of us. However, we do believe that these changes and others similar to these which have taken place this year will put new blood into both new and old positions at a time when it is most dearly needed.

Letters to the editor

A word of thanks

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you in the hope that you will communicate my appreciation to the students on your campus for their CHOICE 68 votes.

Not only because my candidacy was favored in the balloting am I grateful. More significant than the success or the losses of individual candidates in CHOICE 68 is the participation by one million students on some 1200 campuses in the political process.

Student opinions, debated and expressed democratically, will influence elections throughout our nation.

CHOICE 68 opinions on military action, bombing and the urban situation have been forwarded to me. I note that 55.4 percent of my student supporters favor a reduction of military action in Vietnam and 29.1 percent are for withdrawal.

Among students for whom the percent would stop the bombing and 28.4 percent prefer temporary suspension, I can assure you I shall keep these views in mind as I try to develop intelligent responses to changing international relations.

The emphasis of students for McCarthy on education and job training in our urban reconciliation efforts is reassuring to me in a very personal way. Let us remain together, and I am confident that our common cause can change the direction of our country.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,
Eugene J. McCarthy

Dear Editor:

We hear much on our campus about student apathy, but after talking with Wallace Bryan, president of the student government at the University of Kentucky, I think we must be pretty fortunate.

There are approximately 15,000 full-time students on UK's main campus — approximately 2,400 voted in their recent student body election.

Although I don't feel that we are as active in student affairs as we could be I am thankful and pleased that we are more concerned than many of the larger and more prestigious universities.

I am looking forward to a successful year and to working with all students in resolving any student problems in the forthcoming quarters.

Sincerely,
Butch McGee
ASB President, 1966-69

The college scene

by MARCIA TIPPIT

THE POST, George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn.—Applications are now being received from undergraduates in the Nashville Joint University Center who wish to participate in the 1969 spring semester of the Peabody in Denmark Program.

Students with junior standing, but also qualified sophomores and seniors registered at Peabody College, Scarritt College, or Vanderbilt University are eligible to apply.

Beginning with the spring semester of 1967, George Peabody established an overseas program whereby students could spend a semester abroad studying at the University of Copenhagen in Denmark.

THE BABBLER, David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn.—Richard M. Nixon won an overwhelming victory in the Lipscomb "Choice '68" primary, taking 48 per cent of the total vote.

In carrying the Lipscomb election, Nixon won more votes than his three major competitors combined.

Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama ran second in the balloting with 28 per cent of the vote. He was followed by Sen. Eugene McCarthy with 13 per cent, and Sen. Robert Kennedy who won six per cent of the vote.

THE TECHNICIAN, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, N.C.—Clearly one-fourth of the entire Meredith College Student Center Meredith College student body assembled to protest an administration policy they thought would lose many sophomores without hearing next fall.

Dean of Students Louise Fleming felt the entire incident was based on students' misunderstanding or room reservation policy. She stated that the situation had "shaken down" and most of the girls were satisfied.

THE ASIAN STUDENT, The Asia Foundation, San Francisco, Calif.—An American is teaching Chinese to seven Russians at Nanyang University in Singapore, according to "Strait Times." Dr. J. R. H. Rogers, an American linguistics professor from Columbia University who is on a year's loan to Nanyang, is teaching seven young Russians, including two young girls, who would be Singapore from Moscow recently.

THE TENNESSEE TECH ORACLE, Tennessee Technological University, Cookeville, Tenn.—Culmination of Spring Fling weekend sponsored by the Associated Student body was a concert featuring the Town Criers Quartet, May 18.

THE ASIAN STUDENT, The Asia Foundation, San Francisco, Calif.—Two professors of the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, are soliciting funds to place a full-page advertisement in the "Times" of London, saying: "Wanted, a Balfour to found a national home in Palestine for one and a half million Arab refugees," the "Times" reported.

Am I 'just' a student?

Here we are. We are at the end of the school year and the last issue of THE ALL STATE and we find ourselves asking the question "What have we accomplished this year?" Students all over America have made themselves heard this year, more so than ever before. And the trend will probably continue next year, whether students are voicing their opinions through demonstrations or more conservative means which may or may not be more successful.

So we make our observations, listen to the speeches and begin to wonder whether we are here just to be students who learn by listening in the classroom or should we participate to some degree and become actively involved in one of these "democratic" processes which will be a part of in four short years?

In his remarks at the dedication ceremonies Gov. Buford Ellington stated that "the university is a center of thought and discussion and the field of discussion includes social and political questions...the university is a place of study, thought, discussion and publication...it is not a center of political action."

We agree with that statement to a great extent; however, we must add (even in light of the incidents at Columbia) that a university is more than just a place of study, thought, etc. A university must accommodate some degree of student action and participation if we, as students, are to learn and be prepared to assume full responsibility once we leave this institution.

We can think and recall moments which have occurred much too often when we have been told that "you have to learn how to do this or that, you have to be educated" before you, before we can become full-fledged members of society and be active in its workings.

In other words, we are taking a somewhat pragmatic approach to a perplexing problem. We do not advocate the radical solution offered by Columbia demonstrators, nor do we advocate complete submission and reticence.

Having said that we must add the following: we believe that despite the criticism we have thrown at ASB officials, administrative officials and faculty members, the majority of these groups is basically aware of the problems facing us students. We will continue to criticize and hopefully find results for which praise may be offered.

There is work to be done, now and in the future. Sometimes it is more difficult for people to change their ideas than it is normally the case. The ASB has experienced difficulty with the "powers that be" and those same "powers" have experienced their own difficulties with the ASB and the students.

Perhaps we have here a "swan song" of sorts. At any rate, we envision a better APSU in the future because of what we have had in the past. And we see a better APSU because of participating students and cooperating groups which, because of their implicit nature, provide for progress.

Entertainment fee

(Editor's note: The following is a proposal drawn up by Butch McGee, ASB president for 1968-69. This proposal has been carried to Pres. Morgan, Dean Eshen and Dr. Cowan, all of whom have an intimate concern in the concept of an entertainment fee and what it will do for APSU. We heartily endorse this idea and envision the fee as a solution to a "heap" of problems. The proposal has been okayed by Morgan, Eshen and Cowan and now needs ratification by the students and Tennessee Board of Education.)

An entertainment fee of $5 is proposed for all full-time students and $3 for all part-time students. If, at a future date the ASB finds that the funds raised by this fee are in excess of expenses or the student body becomes large enough to support its own entertainment by admission fees, the fee can and shall be reduced or withdrawn.

The only time a student shall be charged admission to an ASB function shall be in the event that the Entertainment Account does not have the funds to cover the complete entertainment program. The amount which will be charged for admission to such functions will be determined by the Finance and Student Activities Committees. At no time will this fee be larger than that required to cover cost.

If this fee is adopted, students will be granted free admission to all ASB functions: weekend dances, concerts, lectures, etc. This fee will also make it possible for the ASB to provide better quality and more varied entertainment programs. Not only can it provide pop-music dances and dances, but it could also bring such renowned lecturers as Dick Gregory, Hugh Hefner, Robert Kennedy, Charles Percy, etc.

At the present time the ASB is limited to a $2,000 annual Entertainment account. As you must realize, it is impossible for the ASB to provide a varied program of entertainment with the quality most of us would like to see on such a limited budget.

The ASB solicits your support. In order for this proposal to become a reality, we students at APSU must show the Tennessee State Board of Education that we are in favor of such a fee.

I believe it is fair to say a $5 fee at registration than to try to find $5 every Wednesday night for a dance or a concert.

Dedication ceremony highlighted by address from Gov. Ellington

Calling upon universities to produce men and women who can self-govern and preserve freedom for the future, Gov. Buford Ellington spoke here Thursday at a special ceremony of dedication.

APSU, Tennessee's newest university, had seven buildings dedicated which have been built within the past five years.

Many Head Address

Dressed in academic regalia, the faculty and administrative officers, along with students, alumni, friends and special guests heard the governor dedicate the buildings.

In his address, Ellington said, "Something happens to a college when it becomes a univer-

Honor dorm applications due today

The deadline for applying to the Harvill Hall Honor Dormitory for women is at 5 p.m. The application forms are to be returned to the Dean of Women's office.

The applicants will be chosen by a committee composed of representatives of the staff of the dean of women and the members of Harvill Hall.

The criteria will be subjective with emphasis on housekeeping, citizenship and scholastic records.

The honor dormitory presently houses 37 residents who are under the supervision of Bernice Aderhold, graduate student director, and Doyce Ann Griffin, resident faculty member.

The purpose of the dorm is to provide mature university women with an opportunity to operate their own dormitory, thus enabling them to realize their potential as responsible citizens of a community.

In this way, it serves to recognize those women students who have proved their dependability to uphold the highest standards of Austin Peay State University.

Graduate students are also eligible for residence and must follow the same procedures as undergraduates.

sity. I expect a new spirit of serious intellectual endeavor... a maturing sense of involvement in the deep channels of higher education.

"I expect this campus... its students, its staff and faculty... its alumni and friends to live up to the full implications of university status.

"At Austin Peay State University, and its counterpart across the land, cannot find the means to educate its student population so that they will be ready for self-government, then there can be no doubt that these seven buildings we dedicate here today are a waste.

Government Must Be Taught

Speaking to uphold law and order, Gov. Ellington cited the Columbia University riots as an example that self-government must be taught to the college and university students of today.

Ellington closed his address by saying, "As I dedicate seven splendid new buildings here on this campus today... no usefulness here in this community of learning and to larger service to the whole of Tennessee... as

I join my four million fellow Tennesseans in congratulating you upon your admission into the select family of American universities... may I do so with the

Choir, Madrigal to combine talents

The University Concert Choir and the Madrigal Singers will present a program of musical selections tonight at 8 o'clock in the Clement Fine Arts Auditorium.

Selections for the program include "Sumbert Mass in G" performed by the combined choir. From the Early English Period, the Renaissance in the Baroque "Why Art Thou Heavy, Oh My Soul" by Gibbons; "Weep You No More Sad Fountain" by Dr. Lawrence Rickert will be directed by the choir with Peter Cook as organist and Diane Marion as pianist.

Soloists for the evening will be John Foote, bass; Don McCall, tenor; George Cavannah, tenor; Donna Lyle, soprano; and Jean Cliff, soprano.

servent hope and sincere plea that the real dedication be for the nurturing of human understanding... or responsibility... and concern."

The seven buildings dedicated included two men's residence halls, a women's dormitory, a complex for married housing, a classroom building, university center and library.

Statements by Sponsors

Sponsor's statements were made by APSU faculty and administrative members including Dr. Tom Cowan, Glenn Geisler, Dr. Tom K. Savage, Miss Mabel Meacham, M.P. Bowman, Dr. William Ellis and R.C. Shastone.

The presentation of the buildings to APSU was made by Howard Warf, commissioner of education, and responses of acceptance were made by Ray Radford, president of the Associated Student Body, and Dr. Joe Morgan, president of the university.

Halbert Harvill, state senator and president-emeritus of APSU, introduced Gov. Ellington.

The two-day dedication ceremonies concluded with a tour of the campus.

Skin tips

Style file

by SHIRLEY PARCHMAN

Have you given a thought to your skin's appearance next fall after a summer of swimming and sunbathing?

The sun is for your enjoyment, and with sensible management, you can have an attractive sun-tan.

However, over-exposure to sun and wind may cause your skin to appear older than it actually is. Also, excessive sunlight may produce a skin rash or a painful sunburn.

The safest policy for a pleasing tan is to begin with a few minutes of sunlight and gradually increase the length of time.

In addition, suntan lotions lessen the intensity of the sun's rays; however, they do not necessarily prevent a sunburn.

Over-exposure to sunlight is dangerous at any time, but it is even more dangerous at noon day-only "mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the midday sun." People with naturally dry skin should be especially careful.

SQ re-enrollment deadline is today

Students who are enrolled for spring of 1968 and who desire to re-enroll for summer of 1968 will have through 1:30 today to file IBM readmission cards and register on time, according to M.P. Bowman, dean of admissions.

Go to the old library room 12:15 - 1:15, pull IBM readmission cards from file boxes and present to clerk at desk. After 1:15 today, the readmission cards will be moved to the main admission office.

After today all submitted readmission cards will be held for a later IBM processing and registration packet will not be ready until 2:10 p.m. on June 6.

SACS issues survey conclusions

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, which accredits 445 colleges and universities including APSU in 11 southeastern states, feels it should discourage the existence or exercise of external budgetary controls which interfere with the operation and management of these institutions.

At the same time, the accrediting agency seeks to encourage a positive relationship between state officers and higher education officials during the entire budgetary process, recognizing that such has an appropriate area of financial responsibility to the taxpayers.

This conclusion-recommendation is contained in a recently published report on "Higher Education and Financial Control by State Governments," Authorized by the Southern Association's Commission on Colleges, the report grew out of a survey conducted in all of the Association's states following alleged violations by state officers of one of the Association's accrediting principles—that of non-interference in budgetary matters following appropriations.

Other general recommendations made in the report for improving the situation would:

- * Improve the system of communications between education officials and law-making bodies and state agencies.

- * Stimulate a new approach to budgeting for higher education to replace the existing multiplicity of controls and non-productive contracts between educators and state officers in the interim between legislative sessions.

- * Better acquaint state budget officials with the concept of accreditation and the role of the Southern Association.

- * Reinforce the existing illustration to the Association's standards dealing with this issue so as to prohibit "undue and restrictive" outside financial control.

The purpose of the printed report, as stated in its introduction, was "to summarize impressions, observations, and problems raised upon the personal interviews, to identify actual or potential problem areas, and to present recommendations for action in improving relations between colleges and universities and state financial agencies."

The survey revealed that practices followed by the Southern states in the administration of higher education funds are characterized more by their diversity than by common features.

It was reported that all states use some procedural devices which relate to higher education budgets, but that the degree of control by state budget personnel or legislators varies from virtually none in a majority of the states to a considerable amount in Florida, Louisiana and North Carolina.

Other states in the Southern Association's region include Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Linda Fulton, Barbara Mayhew, Terry Parks and Susie Penry. Sandra, Linda and Susie are alternates, while the other seven girls are regulars.

LIBRARY ADDITION—Lewis B. Burton, assistant professor of art and interior decorator consultant, hangs a photograph of "The Nautilus" in the Tennessee Room of the library as Jerry Jordan, vice-president of the Young Democrats, and Miss Johanna Green, head librarian, look on. The photograph was presented to the Young Democrats by Representative William Anderson while the group was in Washington, D. C., between quarters.

appeals, however, which, if approved, will consist of D. D. Redmond, dean of men; Mildred Deason, dean of women; and Pres. Joe Morgan.

Following a slight constitutional revision, ASB vice-president Hugh Dornin will head the student activities committee, vacating the chairmanship of the entertainment committee. This post will be manned by Dick Weaver, music major from Dallsstown, Pa., McGee announced.

Other appointments to date include Wade Mitchell as treasurer, accounting major from Nashville; Buster Yaine of Clarksville as executive assistant; and Glenn Gentry, head of the department of business, as legislative adviser.

Positions as yet unfilled are judicial adviser, social adviser, chairman of campus welfare, and chairmen of the finance, election, and public relations boards.

"In addition to working on the student court, we plan to talk to Pres. Morgan immediately about establishing an entertainment fee," McGee commented. "In conjunction with this, we will take a survey of student opinion."

"The entertainment for the fall quarter is already fairly well settled. To start the ball rolling, it is my understanding that Josh White will be back for freshman orientation week."

"As for publishing a faculty evaluation, we are facing the drawback of a lack of time to get an adequate polling at the present. We may be able to do so this summer through the mail, financial circumstances permitting."

University's vocal group's in concert

The University Singers will appear in concert on Friday at 7:00 p.m., in the University Center Ballroom, with Miss Lara Richardson as piano accompanist; John Olson, drums; Charlie Winkler, bass.

The Singers include: Fred Borders, Roberta Butler, Ed Kenney, Fred Landis, John Morris, Lara Richardson, Carolyn Riggs, David Simpson, Anita Tune, Cindy Watson and Linda Wood.

Hang it up 'til next year

With the exception of the NCAA College Division golf championship during June, sports for this school year at Austin Peay State University is over. It was not a good year by any means. No more than two squads could manage better than a .500 season.

Coach Sherwin Cliff's golf team posted an over-all record of 15-2 in match play, best ever at the university. Over the latter part of the year it seems that the fate of the other sports squads caught up with the golf contingent as the Gavs dived off from their place of the first of the season.

Still it has been a good year for the golfers and, with a long layoff before the NCAA, the Gavs should represent APSU well in the tournament.

Coaches Carl Taylor and Henny Murray produced good results with their freshman basketball team. The frosh posted a 13-4 record against some tough competition. This gives sports enthusiasts something to be optimistic about next year.

Bad year for APSU sports

Unfortunately, the other squads didn't perform as well as the winning golf and freshman basketball squads. Besieged by inexperience and injuries, the footballers of coach Bill Dupes managed but a 2-8 season compared to 6-4 state last year. The Dupesmen fielded the most inexperienced team since the likeable coach has been here. In 1964 and 1965 Dupes' charges posted 8-1 and 8-1 records. A return to form is hoped for next year.

Head basketball coach George Fisher also presented a line-up composed of mainly underclassmen. Sophomores Howard Wright, Joe Waller and Terry Young and juniors Holly Heaberlin and Charlie Moore are among next year's top returnees. And the top-flight freshmen to these performers and next season the Gavs will field a tough and more experienced team.

Cross-country and track are areas which definitely need improvement. Track was 1-3 in dual competition while the cross-country boys were 1-4 for the year.

APSU's diamond nine showed promise for the future. Leon Sandifer's baseballers showed streaks of good hitting and some tough pitching on Occult. On the team there was only one senior-pitcher Bill Wilhoite. Freshman pitchers Ed Iman, Jimmy Hardie and Dwight Haskins showed potential of future greatness. In the field APSU showed a good fielding team which will go places next year if more consistency in hitting and pitching can be attained.

Tennis coach Fred Overton saw his squad slip from an 8-4 record of last year to a 2-10 state this season. The APSUers never seemed to hit their peak game as a team. Bill Lefko and Jim Lucas, the top two players, will both be returning next year along with Mike Mierzewski, Joe Murray and Bernie Marrero.

Golfers look to NCAA

Austin Peay State University's golf squad has accepted an invitation to the NCAA College Division golf championship to be played in Beaumont, Tex., June 11-14.

The Governors, possessors of the best dual record (15-2) in school annals, will play in the sixth annual tournament at the Tyrrell Park Golf Course.

Lamar Tech, defending champion, will be the host institution for the national event. APSU finished eighth last season in a field of 22 clubs.

This will be the Gavs' final showing in the College Division bracket since all APSU teams, except football, will be elevated to the NCAA's University Division Sept. 1, 1968.

Coach Sherwin Cliff has indicated that he will take a full state team to the NCAA. Participants include Jimmy Smith, John Eddington, Fred Pitts, Randy Feather and Tim Tague, along with a sixth to be determined by a local playoff. Charles Torrell, Jim Tague and John Speed will vie for the final spot this week.

Junior Alan Bannister, a regular last year, has been bothered with a slipped disc all season and will have to forego the playoff. Freshman John Holder is ineligible for the event since he has been enrolled only two quarters.

Regarding the Gavs' disappointing fifth-place in the Ohio Valley Conference tournament last weekend at Johnson City, Cliff said, "We simply never got it going, to use golf terminology."

"We played mediocre the first day and the severity of the pin placements caused the high scores for the final 15. Only five golfers shot 75 or better the last day. Western Kentucky played great and deserved to win. I thought that Eastern Kentucky was the real surprise of the tournament."

Defending champion Middle Tennessee faltered also as the Raiders finished fourth. Team standings included: Western Kentucky 587, East Tennessee 601, Eastern Kentucky 606, Middle Tennessee 608, Austin Peay State 615, Tennessee Tech 623, Murray State 627 and Morehead State 628.

Rick Whitfield toured the Johnson City Country Club layout in 70-72-142, two-under-par, to capture individual honors. Ken Sawyer of East Tennessee was runner-up with a 145.

Western tops scramble for league titles

by BILLY BIGGER

The Western Kentucky Hilltoppers continued their quest of the all sports trophy as they easily added the tennis title to their growing list of championships.

Besides the tennis first, the Toppers have captured the number one spot in track and golf. They also placed second in football, third in basketball, and third in cross country.

Eastern Kentucky is providing the strongest competition to the Hilltoppers. The Colonels have captured firsts in football and cross country, sixth in basketball, and third in golf and track.

WKU's 29 points practically doubled the 16 points of runnerup Middle Tennessee State. Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee Tech tied for third with 10 markers each.

Murray State collected eight points for their fifth place finish. East Tennessee added six points for sixth place and Austin Peay State and Morehead State tied for seventh with one point each.

For the Gavs, the seventh place finish rounded out a long season. The scarlet and white finished with a record of two wins against 10 losses.

Jim Lucas continued his fine play though he dropped his opening round match to David Fielder of East Tennessee State. Lucas won the first set 6-3, and really put up a battle in losing the next two sets 8-6 and 6-2.

Lucas later combined with Bernie Marrero to capture the Gavs' only point, as the Western Kentucky team of Hector Cordero and Pedro Valentin defaulted the match to the Gavs. The rest of the Gavs were practically blanketed against the tough competition.

Grantham presents aspects of change in modern South

Theta Delta Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta had its annual banquet last Thursday at the Clarksville Country Club.

Following dinner, Dr. John Koumoudis was presented with gifts from the club and from the faculty in appreciation of all he has done at Austin Peay State during his five years here.

After the presentation, Dr. Dewey Grantham, guest speaker from Vanderbilt University, presented his papers, "The New Southern Region and the Ambiguity of Southern History."

He discussed the various aspects of change that characterize the contemporary South. The important aspects of change within the South, according to Dr. Grantham, have resulted from urbanization and mechanization which have somewhat blurred characteristic distinctions of the South as opposed to the rest of the nation.

Health, education and cultural developments within the South were also important aspects of his paper.

He dealt at length with the civil rights movement which has been a major force in Southern history especially during the past two decades, relating it to political and economic changes, showing how the attitude of southern whites is changing as the South moves toward a more mechanized and urban economy.

In conclusion, he projected contemporary development into the future as factors influencing the South's transition from a distinct section, and its ultimate movement into the mainstream of American life.
