This Is Playhouse

BY WARREN CHANEY

The APSC Playhouse is responsible for the production of a play each quarter.

In the past the group has staged such performances as "South Pacific," "The Cain Mutiny Court Martial," "Salad 17," "Dracula," "All My Sons" and "Guys and Dolls." For this fall they have planned the comedy play which has become a tradition in and on the American stages, "George Washington Slept Here." This is to be performed November 28, 29 and 30.

Aside from plays, the Playhouse was responsible for the first cinematic movie to be shown on this campus, "The Robe." The group purchased a large cinematic screen for school use.

Other activities of this drama organization include the Masquerade Ball, one of the social highlights of the year, school dances, debates at the college for high schools of the state, and public relations work.

The club, under the direction of John G. Griffin, has plans for organizing a large variety show and using the profits to create a scholarship fund.

The Playhouse has been invited to join a national dramatics fraternity.

Play Cast Selected

Rehearsals are now underway for fall production of the Playhouse "George Washington Slept Here," a comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The play will be presented November 27, 28, 29.

The roles of Newton and Annabelle Fuller, the new owners of a New England cottage, will be played by Doug Tidwell and Jackie Sabo. Jim Sandford is Mr. Kimber, the custodian. Madge, the Fullers' daughter, and her fiancé Steve are Barbara

Smith and Jim McKindsey. Charles Matthews portrays Raymond, the Fullers' impish nephew; their Uncle Stanley is Barney Schelske.

The household servants Hester and Katie are Beverly Nelson and Anita Needham. Warren Chaney and Judy Batson enact the Broadway star. Clayton Evans and Rena Leslie, the neighbor, Mr. Prescott, is Jeff Neff; a townswoman, Mrs. Douglas, is Marty Arnold.

Four weekend guests are Tommy Karnes, Peggy Copas, Billy St. John and Gayle Frost. The play is being directed by John G. Griffin. His assistant is Warren Chaney, stage manager is Billy St. John.

'Fashion' Show

BY NANCY APPLE

Are you a Messy Mary or a Sloppy Sam?

Find out what you can do to improve your appearance and manners in assembly Wednesday when the Home Economics Club takes you "Through the Looking Glass."

For this view into the right and wrong in campus fashion, several members of the student body will model clothes furnished by downtown merchants.

Was At FFA Meet

Charles Bond, a freshman agriculture major from Thompson Station, attended the National FFA Convention at Kansas City, Mo., October 9-12.

He is a graduate of Bethesda.

Initiation Began Monday

By MARTY ARNOLD

Freshman initiation began Monday, October 15; it is scheduled to end October 20.

The following rules must be observed by all freshmen:

1. All freshmen must participate.
 2. All freshmen must wear APSC beanies each day.
 3. All freshmen must sit in a group at the Eastern-APSC football game.
- All freshmen will address all upperclassmen with "Best Eastern Ky., Sir (or Ma'am); I will be at the APSC Homecoming." All freshmen will carry a piece of wood with "APSC Homecoming October 27" plus their name.
- All freshmen must know school cheers and songs.

Roll will be taken daily.

Daily activities include: Monday—Freshmen were all to have their clothes turned inside out by 4 p.m., at which time a "Crummy" Party was slated for the lobby of Harned Hall.

Tuesday—Boys to wear sports coats, girls to wear "church clothes" right side out.

Wednesday—Freshmen will dress normally, except for sticks and hats. The freshman talent show will be held at 6:30 p.m. All freshmen with talent or who know of anyone with talent must contact Doug Tidwell or Rodger Bowman before that morning.

Thursday—Freshmen will dress normally, except for hat and wood. Freshman English test at night.

Friday—Normal schedule until 4. After 4 all clothes will be inside out, 6:30-8, Kangaroo Court; 8-11 dance, with Kapers.

Saturday—Beginning at 10, in front of cheerleaders in song of Student Center, 1:30, assemble in front of Student Center for march through town; 2:30-

5:30, work on Homecoming float; 7, assemble in front of cafeteria, must wear pajamas (over long underwear or over sweatshirts and Bermuda shorts) and Freshman hats; the group will proceed for march through town; 2:30-

Freshman twins, Betty (seated) and Patty Paris of Madison, double their chances to make new friends at Austin Peay State this fall.

Both are business majors, undecided minors, members of the Baptist Student Union, and both also hold workshops. Betty stated that one advantage of being a twin is having someone of the same age to talk to with understanding of each other's problems. One disadvantage, in Patty's opinion, is, "People compare us and sometimes think of us as one person." It generally takes time to separate two close personalities, but an easy way to distinguish them apart is to notice that Betty is 5' 5" tall and Patty is only 5' 4".

Betty and Patty pose in identical dresses of black and white diagonally striped wool. The simple, rounded necklines and short sleeves are trimmed with black braid, and the pleated skirts are completed with belts of the same material. (Staff Photo by Don Reese)

Language Division Expands

By THERESA MARKHAM

The Language Department is being expanded this year by the addition of teachers and facilities.

For the first time this year

Chosen Director

R. C. Shastren, APSC business manager, has been elected one of 16 new directors of the Clarksville Chamber of Commerce.

The directorship is for three years.

Earl Sexton is serving a term which expires in 1964.

Peace Corps Man

To Visit Campus

Dr. Joseph G. Colmen, director of the research division of the Peace Corps, will visit the APSC campus Friday, October 19.

Dr. Colmen will show a 28-minute film on the work of the Peace Corps. His visit is to familiarize students, faculty members and administrative officers with the Peace Corps.

There are three teachers in the department. Rowland Brown is teaching French, Mrs. Olga Ruse is teaching Spanish, and Joseph Thomas is teaching French, German and Spanish. Dr. Thomas also serves as head of the department.

A new recording machine has been added to improve laboratory facilities. This is the first year that lab facilities have been available for all three languages. A new fourth year French course, A Survey of French Civilization, is being offered also.

A German club is being organized, and students interested in starting French or Spanish clubs are asked to see Brown or Mrs. Ruse.

Good breeding is that quality which enables a person to wait in well-mannered silence while the loud mouth gets the service.

Reporters contributing to this issue included Marty Arnold, Truly Brotherton, Warren Chaney, Theresa Markham, Sharon Eason, Tommy Karnes, Billy St. John.

Foreign Students Visit Rotary

Nine Austin Peay State College students from foreign countries attended the Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday.

M. P. Bowman, dean-registrar of the college and a Rotarian, pointed out that a purpose of Rotary is to encourage and foster international understanding and goodwill.

The students included F. S. Carvalho Lopes, the Community Ambassador to Clarksville from Brazil; Fawzi Baywa of Iraq; Guillermo Pira, Guatemala; Yun Gi Park, Korea; Haeop Gashan, Mousa Morris Eshaghpour and Massoud Rafi of Iran; Elias Hanna Sharr, Jordan; and Helga T. Sones, Germany.

Ross Elected

Mario Ross was elected Student Council representative of the Senior Class at the Wednesday meeting.

Librarians At Meeting

Three members of the library staff, Mrs. Rachel Chambers, catalogue Miss Joanne Givens, head librarian; and Miss Mary Fox Clardy, of the library science department, attended the Southeastern Library Association meeting in Memphis, October 11-13.

The program included lectures on "Man's Ability to Recall and Impart Knowledge," "Advances in Collecting Children's Books," "The College President and Manuscript Collecting" and "The Child Studies His Past."

Of special interest was a panel discussion on interlibrary loan practices in the Southeast and a tour of college libraries in Memphis.

Miss Givens is completing a four-year membership on the Association's Committee on Library Work as a Career. At this meeting she began a two-year membership as the representative from Tennessee on the Southeastern Library Development Committee. This committee serves as the planning committee for the association.

College's Homecoming festivities, and supported the APSC football team in their contest against the Eagles.

The Clarksville contingent numbered 126 in their performances in Kentucky. Included in the group were 64 band members, 45 Governorettes, nine majorettes, four flag-spinners and the field commander.

The band and Governorettes have earned a reputation for outstanding marching and precision drill routines. They have appeared at numerous events in the state of Tennessee and throughout the nation.

Heads Dellas

Patsy Hampton has been elected president of Harvill Hall's Delta Club.

Other new officers are Karen Gowan, vice-president, and Loreta Wheatley, secretary-treasurer.

Savage Named To Committee

Dean Tom Savage has been named to serve as a member of the committee to visit Jacksonville State College for accreditation of its teacher education program.

The appointment was made by Dr. Earl Armstrong, director of the national council for accreditation of teacher education.

He will be at Jacksonville Oct. 22-24 and will have primary responsibility for drafting the report on the third standard, student personnel and service for teacher education. APSC has just completed its study and is looking forward to a similar evaluation next March. Dean Savage served as editor of the APSC report.

Newman Dance

The Newman Club will sponsor a victory dance Saturday night after the battle game with Eastern Kentucky. The dance will be held in the gym and the price will be 50 cents per person.

Bowman 'Man Of Month'

By TRUDY BROTHERTON

Rodger Bowman has been selected "Man of the Month" for October.

The selection is sponsored by "The All State" and is done by a committee composed of the editor, associate editor, faculty adviser, Dean Mabel Meacham, Dean Tom Sexton and Acting President Earl Savage.

By now Rodger, a senior from Clarksville, is a familiar face to most students.

As president of the student body, he is usually identified as the announcer of student activities in Assembly.

Rodger has been the leading man behind the increase in school spirit by working for buses to games and more social life on campus. He stated his main concern is "to make Austin Peay State a seven-day college instead of a five-day a week institution."

Rodger is majoring in marketing and minoring in math and physics. Since his freshman year, he has served as vice-president of the Del Square Psi and is the junior class and president of the Newman Club. He now is a member of the Business Club, the Young Democrats, Blazing Saters, Del Square Psi and the Newman Club.

Social — Robert Stone (chairman), Albert Coke, Tony Boehms, Steve Deaver, Henry Murray, Buford Davis, Lawrence Baggett and Ralph Grant; houses — Lucian Wyatt (chairman), Bobby Gee, Blakey Bradley, Jimmy Coleman, Joe Winn and Bill Hutton.

The club meets again tonight, Tuesday, at 7 p. m.

WT's birth day is coming.

Led UN Study

Dr. Milton Henry, professor of history, conducted a study of the United Nations at Forest Street Methodist Church.

The seminar began September 30, with other sessions October 7 and 14.

At the first meeting Dr. Henry discussed the origin of the UN. On September 7, he discussed the history and non-political acts of the UN. On Sunday, the end of the series, the subject was prospects of the future. At each session the floor was open for discussion.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Agathe Fusco.

Agathe, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A," was awarded her B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, her M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and her D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was hers. Her intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was she happy? The answer, alas, was no. Agathe — she knew not why — was miserable, so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, she was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that she flung herself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by a liberal arts major named R. Twinkle Plenty came by with his yo-yo. He noted Agathe's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said R. Twinkle.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Agathe peevishly.

"Have you ever smoked a Marlboro cigarette?"

"All right, I will," said R. Twinkle. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life — the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Agathe shook her head.

"Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Smoked a Marlboro cigarette?"

Agathe shook her head.

Well, we'll fix that right now!" said R. Twinkle and gave her a Marlboro and struck a match.

She puffed, and then for the first time in twelve or fifteen years, she smiled. "Wow!" she cried. "Marlboros are a fun thing! What flavor? What filter? What pack or box? What a lot to like! From now on I will smoke Marlboros, and never have another unhappy day!"

"Hold!" said R. Twinkle. "Marlboros alone will not solve your problem — only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Agathe. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said R. Twinkle.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Agathe. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said R. Twinkle and removed it.

"Land sakes, what a relief!" said Agathe, now totally happy, and took R. Twinkle's hand and led him to a Marlboro vendor's and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Agathe is a perfectly fulfilled woman, both intellectually and personally. She lives in a dashing split-level house with R. Twinkle and their 17 children, and she still keeps busy in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, she became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, she was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and she published a best-selling book called I Was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

© 1981 Max Shubman

The makers of Marlboro are pleased that Agathe is finally out of the woods — and so will you be if your goal is smoking pleasure. Just try a Marlboro.

Sideline Views

by ED FREDETTE

I have observed football practice the past few days and have found our boys are higher in spirit and desire even though they are supporting me to win at the present.

I can't help but make comment on the "Rainbows." If ever a team makes it rough on the first and second unit, it's these lads. The "Rainbows" have their own personal game out on the gridiron and believe you me I suspect the number one boys are respecting them for it.

I asked one boy on the first unit what he thought of the "Rainbows" and he replied, "I believe if the 'Rainbows' look bad in practice and show us a bad picture, we won't be worth two cents in the games, so in turn the reason we look better in every game is the 'Rainbows' never look bad."

Wayne Brown, the Morganfield strong man who weighs a blazing 165 lbs., is Mr. Guts in my book. "Brownie," known to many, is a never-give-up guard on the APSC football team. "Brownie" has shoulder trouble. Anytime you see him jumping up and down don't worry for he is merely putting his shoulders back into place. He reminds me so much of Ray Berry, the all-pro end who has so many body defects it's a wonder he can even make it to the ball park.

Big Murray Pride is still sidelined with a neck injury. Looks as if the Morganfield giant will be out for some time.

In the year 1875 Harvard and McGill Universities played a game combining Rugby and Boston Soccer — unimportant at the time, but later to be identified as the ancestor of America's greatest game, intercollegiate football.

Co-captain of the basketball team, Henry "Penny" Murray, has officially passed his over-weighted assistant Doug Stamper in the weight bracket. I understand Henry is doing a lot of road running along with James Suggs. Stamper, however, has lost a few pounds. I guess he's gotten a few tips from teammate John Briggeman.

The APSC bowling league had its first meeting October 8. They meet every Monday night at 9:15 at Skyline Lanes. Clubs on campus are encouraged to enter a team. If interested contact Tom Halley, Chuck Dumbacher or Kenny Perkins.

The APSC intramural football program officially opened October 9 on the practice football field. There are six teams entered, and I am glad to see this come about as interschool sports is one thing we have lacked. For an evening of enjoyment come out at 6 and see some of the old salts trying to make a comeback.

Hats off to the students for the fine success of their pre-game bonfire and snake dance before the Western Kentucky game.

DID YOU KNOW

Warren Geise, one-time assistant under Tatum of Maryland, said that in his coaching career there were eight All-Americans selected, but out of these there were only two true All-Americans — the other six were over-publicized.

Home Game Sat.

BY JOHN MARTIN

The Governors will open their home season against Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, Ky., this Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Glen Pressnell, coach of Eastern, will bring a team bolstered by 22 returning lettermen from last year's squad.

Eastern is leading the OVC in team offense. Their attack is led by quarterback Larrle Marline, a sophomore transfer from Ohio State. Marline threw two touchdowns against Middle Tennessee in leading Eastern to a 28-8 victory.

APSC will be out to stop Marline and company Saturday with a smattering of experienced players and a host of freshmen.

Eagles Fly Over Governors

BY ED FREDETTE

The highly-favored Morehead Eagles of Kentucky lived up to the pre-game prediction.

The Eagles flew by the Gove as if we were helpless; the score told the ball game. Morehead, last in the conference last year, proved what a veteran club can actually do against its opponent. The Eagles scored their touchdowns on four running plays and one aerial which covered 52 yards.

APSC, however, had its worst day, being held to a minus 28 yards rushing and picking up 139 yards through the air.

Considered the most outstanding individual play of the afternoon was the brilliant kickoff return by APSC field general Carlton Flatt. The Nashville flash demonstrated to the Morehead fans we also had a little class.

This coming week, the Gove return home for the remainder of the season. They are bringing with them a 0-5 record.

Playing their last year of college ball for Austin Peay State are Parker, Moore, Donnelly, Forte, Deaver, Baker and Faulk.
