Marching Band Has New Style

By FRANCES ANN BUTLER

The Austin Peay State College Marching Band will certainly be stepping in style this year with their new uniforms of Forestman's wool by Ostwald Uniform Co.

The uniform has two coats, one for marching and one for concerts. The marching uniform is military style in the colors of red and black with white braid. The front panel of the coat gives a black shield effect with red and white trim and silver buttons.

There are two black stripes on the lower part of each sleeve, with one sleeve bearing the name of the college and the other, Clarksville, Tennessee. The hat that the band will be wearing has a detachable plastic tear-drop plume. There are only two schools in the country which will be using this special plume. Marching along with the band will be the squad of seven majorettes and two solo twirlers. Avis Bibb, Frances Ann Butler, Brenda Davis and Betty Lu Strassheim are the returning sophomores.

Frosh English Changed

The English Department, under the direction of Dr. James Sims, is following a new plan for freshmen English this year.

Approximately 600 freshmen students are distributed among 15 classes. Dr. Sims stated that five important factors are being put into action:

1. A detailed and comprehensive freshman English syllabus is being used by every freshman for the first time.
 2. Essays will be graded on the numerical rather than the alphabetical system.
 3. Two mass examinations will be given to each freshman each quarter.
 4. Oral communication is being practiced by all classes.
 5. Students may be exempt from freshman English 101 and 102 on the basis of tests administered at the beginning of the year.
- Dr. Sims explained that this system will be of great advantage to the students, although it will require more administration.

Nettie Shurtz, Gayle Smith, Mary Smith, and the two solo twirlers, Pam Howard and Sharon Miller, are freshmen. The squad will be wearing uniforms of silver opaline and the solo twirlers will be wearing similar uniforms of gold opaline. In addition there will be four flag twirlers who will be dressed in red brushed corduroy tapered pants and vest with long sleeve white blouses. The girls are:

'Washington Slept Here' Coming Playhouse Feature

By BILLY ST. JOHN

The Playhouse will present a comedy, "George Washington Slept Here," as its fall production.

Tryouts for the George Kaufman-Moss Hart play will probably be held this week. The story centers around a middle-aged city couple, Newton and Annabelle Fuller, who buy a country house — one in which

Murphy Heads College Band

With school activities well underway, the AFSC band is no exception. The new officers who will be leading the band through its busy schedule this year are: Billy Murphy, president; Charles Winn, vice-president; Judy Eastridge Batson, secretary; and Bill Ball, treasurer.

Cloud Chosen Frosh Prexy

Marshall Cloud, Clarksville, was elected president of the AFSC freshmen during class election September 26.

The vice-president, Price Hopson, and secretary-treasurer, Lucy McCutcheon, were also from Clarksville.

Lilly Taylor of Dickson was chosen Student Council representative.

Chappell Speaks Here Wednesday

Dr. Clavis Chappell, retired Methodist circuit rider, is slated to present another of his talks to Austin Peay State students this Wednesday.

He has appeared many times during the past years in AFSC assemblies with his humorous talks which later get down to serious matters of college and life.

Head Yearbook Staff

WILLIAM TURNER

MILDRED GAITHER

NANCY BURNLEY

Work has begun on the 1963 edition of "The Paracell and Hall," the yearbook of Austin Peay State.

Heading this year's annual is William T. Turner, editor; Nancy N. Burney, assistant editor; and Mildred L. Gaither, business manager.

Turner, a senior history major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Turner of Hopkinsville, Ky. He is a graduate of Hopkinsville High School and Bethel College, Hopkinsville. Upon graduation from Bethel, he received the "Spirit Cup," the highest award given to a graduating senior.

He is presently serving as president of the SNEA and president of the Theta Delta Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, a national honorary history society. While at AFSC he has been active in the BSU and the International Relations Club.

Miss Burney, a senior biology major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Burney, Cedar Hill. She is a graduate of Jo-

Byrns High School. While at AFSC she has served as secretary and publicity chairman of the Baptist Student Union and is now serving as evangelism chairman. Miss Burney, secretary-treasurer of Harvill Hall, is also active in Beta Beta Beta, a national honorary biological society, the SNEA and the Delta Club.

Miss Gaither, a sophomore French major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gaither, Clarksville. She is the recipient of a Civitan scholarship. Miss Gaither is active in the Baptist Student Union and the Alpha Club.

The staff appointments haven't been completed yet, but they will be announced as soon as possible. The annual will be ready for distribution by the last of May. Each full-time student attending school for three quarters and paying $8.50 each quarter for textbook rental will receive the annual free. Each student pays $1 to have his picture in this yearbook.

If you've ever visited a large factory and witnessed the clean modern lines of massive machinery, then you will have some idea of the Industrial Arts Department's facilities.

This AFSC department is a perfect picture of the school-wide improvement plan. Machines and other equipment line the buildings in straight columns on the well-kept floors, and all through the department there is an atmosphere of discipline and the will to learn.

Eleven courses are offered this first quarter, paving the way to a minor, major or just pleasure of taking one of the courses. Presently there are about 65 industrial arts majors, with about 10 taking an industrial preparation curriculum which offers a major in industrial arts and a minor in business.

All shops and labs are adequately equipped and any phase of industrial arts work can be done with the equipment available. Also, women are welcomed to take industrial arts courses such as pottery, leather craft and plastics.

In expansion, over $100,000 was spent this year alone on 9000 square feet added. Among the new facilities are two drafting rooms, one supply room, a blueprint and developing room, two combination audio-visual and class rooms, a metals lab, four offices and lobbies, which, by the way, are apparent in no other department. The addition now brings the department area to 25,000 square feet.

Industrial Arts Expands

In addition, the old wire electricity and electronics building is equipped with new testing stations valued at $2000, included in the department are the automotive, machine shop, welding, general metals, woodworking and craft labs.

Good subjects to combine with a major in industrial arts are physics, math or business, math and business being the most common.

Find out about your college's Industrial Arts Department, (visit it) teachers and students. Visitors are always welcomed by Dr. Leon Bibb, professor of Industrial Arts and head of the Industrial Arts Department; Richard Gansaway, associate professor of industrial arts; and John Porter, assistant professor of industrial arts.

Editorial, Etc.

Have you ever tried writing an editorial? If you have, you know it's pretty hard to think of something earthshaking to say. If you think of something that really needs saying, you may be afraid to say it because your parents may no longer claim you, you may lose your former friends, you may be barred from class, you may be forced to do pushups by some majority class of stronger individuals — or someone may slip some pepper in your milk when you try to eat.

Well, our parents are mad as us anyhow, we have no friends, classes couldn't be much harder, we need the exercise, and after a couple of years we can quit anything — so maybe we can say something every once in a while that needs to be said.

We notice with satisfaction the campus trend to establish political organizations. This is a worthy endeavor, we think, assuming that someone at least goes to the meetings. Austin Pay State students get many opportunities to apply the desirable principles of politics and they should be encouraged to know what they are doing, after which they should go all out for what they believe in.

People have different views on various matters. Variety in the spice of life, as many have said, and life sure is spicy. No two people anywhere agree on everything all the time. This is one good reason why a person shouldn't let someone else think for him. If a young man thinks the side doors shouldn't be locked at night, when he has to leave early (and in a hurry) the next morning, he should feel free to express his opinion. Whenever the situation, whoever the master of the situation, no person should simply wait for someone else to carry the load.

You know, people are slow about some things. We've never seen a meeting that started on time. Perhaps one reason for this is that everyone waits until the meeting to start to leave for the meeting. This is effective when one doesn't want to be early for a meeting which must start late because everyone is late to avoid We'll flat see you next Tuesday, though, with more pearls of wisdom. Isn't that white of us?

Fall is here again, bringing with it a brand new crop of freshmen — be they ever so green. Welcome, y'all! Most of these newcomers may usually be found clad in APSC sweatshirts of various colors. Hoorsay for baby blue!!!

Hope all of you managed to survive registration. As most of you know, Dean Bowman is quite fond of his pink, blue, yellow, white, green and striped B.I.T. cards, but it's a good thing those machines can't talk back. Contrasts to Travis Smith and his BMT crew for a job well done. Personally I think Dean Woodward deserves an award for superior fly swatting.

Harvill Hall is in (almost) full swing again. We have a new dorm mother — and a dorm daddy. Greetings and salutations to all new and transfer students in our midst.

Open House For Wesley Center

On October 7 open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation Center, 308 Castle Heights.

The Center, supported and directed by the Methodist organization, houses a worship room, a study room and other facilities for the convenience of all students and faculty members. From 4 to 8 daily and on weekends the Center offers a place for a deepening of faith and Christian fellowship.

The weekly Fall Quarter schedule of the Wesley Foundation will be:

Sunday: 5:30 p.m. Supper and program

Monday: 6:37 p.m. Seminar "Christianity vs. Communism"

Tuesday: 6:15 p.m. Vespers 6:30 p.m. Married couples fire-side time.

Wednesday: 6:30 p.m. Choir practice

Thursday: 6:15 p.m. Vespers; 6:30 p.m. Drama practice.

Friday: 7:00 p.m. Socials and chat time.

Saturday: 7:00 p.m. Open house (open after home games, too).

A word to all guys with girl friends in the dorms: Please don't call them at 7 a.m. We love our phones. B.I.T. —

The Marching Band, under the capable hands of Judy Batson and Dr. Schmidt, can be seen and especially heard every afternoon.

And then there are the O.C. group. And then there are the O.C. group. And then there are the O.C. group. And then there are the O.C. group.

Practice teaching is descending on students again, and I'm afraid that I'm one of those lucky "Dad ha! ones. "Room" has decided that it's enough to kill a president. Maybe she'll decide to beat a bass drum instead of her students.

There are a few comments I'd like to make about our football team, but I prefer to wait until later in the season. After all, there's such a thing as the law of averages. So—Chin up, and good luck!!!

We of Harvill Hall would like to extend a hearty welcome to our baby sister dorm, Blount Hall. And in case you haven't heard, midnight per is now ours on Friday and Saturday nights.

We're very grateful, and we're proud to be a part of this dorm. Pat Wesley, track team prospect, ran a race in the dorm Tuesday night, and, unfortunately, lost. Better luck next time, Pat.

To all students in English, grammar, don't forget that an about is NOT a German homolog. That means you, too, Gettings. De all of you that know that Joe Berlin of the English Department is also a football referee? Some people never cease to surprise me.

In case some of you have never listened to "Audie C" on WJZM radio, tune in sometime. Our own Dr. Richard C. is host, and we think that he has a sterling quality which few others can match. Try it some time. You won't be sorry; in fact, you might even pass a class.

That's it for this time.

Strange how close relatives can be very distant.

Danforth To Give Awards

Inquiries about Danforth Graduate Fellowships for college teaching careers worth up to $12,000 are invited. Joe Sufin, Danforth Foundation division official announced today.

The fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., are open to male college seniors or recent graduates preparing for a career of college teaching, counseling or administrative work. Applicants should not have already undertaken graduate work. Nominations close October 28.

About 100 fellowships will be awarded to outstanding candidates. Nominees will be judged on intellectual promise and personality, integrity, genuine interest in religion and high potential for effective college teaching.

Winners will be eligible for up to four years of financial assistance, with an annual maximum of $1500 for single men and $2000 (as well as $500 per child) for married men, plus tuition and fees. Students without financial needs also may apply.

Danforth Fellows and leading scholars are guests of the Foundation at an annual conference of teaching.

Students may hold a Danforth Fellowship concurrently with other appointments; winners will become Danforth Fellows without stipends until these other awards lapse.

Additions To Paper Staff

Charles Jackson has been appointed circulation manager of "The All State." He is an undergraduate from Clarksville.

The college paper staff was expanded Tuesday night with the addition of Barbara Akers, Sharon Sue Eason, Mary Arnold, Joanne Mayo, Kathy Cummings, Mary Smith, James Gross, Trudy Brotherton and Theresa Markham.

Silly John is on the staff again this year. Thomas Karnes assists Ed Fredette with sports.

At the Tuesday meeting, Editor Price stressed the importance of getting news in while it is news.

Faculty members and other APSC students are urged to assist the editor and his staff by informing them of upcoming events which are newsworthy.

The staff will meet at 4:30 p.m. each Monday this quarter.

Reporters contributing to this issue included Jim Gross, Sharon Sue Eason, Kathy Cummings, Mary Arnold, Trudy Brotherton.

Wilson Group Offers Awards

Competition for the 1000 first-year graduate study awards offered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for 1963-64 is under way now.

Faculty members have until October 31 to nominate candidates for the awards. All nominees will be notified by the Foundation's regional chairman to return an information form immediately after receipt and to file other credentials no later than November 20.

APSC nominations should be reported to Dr. Fredson Hubbard, campus representative of the Foundation.

Exchange Student Arrives

The Clarksville Community Ambassador Association again is sponsoring an exchange student program this year, with a foreign student to study at Austin Pay State College here.

This year's student, 20-year-old Fernando Jose De Carvalho-Lopes, arrived in Clarksville Monday, September 17.

Fernando, following his settlement into the life of the local college, will be available for speaking engagements before groups desiring to hear him. Joseph Thomas, professor of Modern Languages at Austin Pay, is chairman of the program. The purpose of the program, Thomas said, is to promote international interest through the exchange of people.

Faculty-Student Reception Held

Thursday night the annual faculty-student reception was held in the recreation room of Memorial Gymnasium.

Following the reception, a dance was sponsored by the Student Council in the gymnasium. The Bel-Airs played for the dance.

As always, the reception was a success. The faculty and students both lent themselves to the opportunity of becoming better acquainted.

Dean Mabel Meacham and Ann Chappery were co-chairmen in charge of the reception, and the Student Council officers and faculty sponsors were in charge of the dance.

Mrs. Hardin On Library Staff

Miss Johanne Givens, head librarian of the APSC library, has announced the addition of a new member to the library staff. Mrs. Irma Hardin is the new chief clerk in the cataloging department. Mrs. Hardin replaces Mrs. Marnie Harper who resigned to accept a position with the Fort Campbell high school staff.

Mrs. Hardin formerly served as cataloguer for the Fort Campbell post library.

As a graduate of San Jose State College, Mrs. Hardin is the holder of an Associates of Arts degree.

Four Added To Circle K Board

Four Circle K Club members were elected to the club's board of directors in the Wednesday noon meeting.

New board members are David Mason, Ken Connolly, Lawrence Baggett and Jim Jarrells. The officers were already members; they are Bobby Johnson, president; David Watson, vice-president; Nick Nichols, secretary; and Murry Hawkins, treasurer.

Jackson Wins Essay Grant

Jerry Howard Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Jackson, Palmyra, a student at APSC, has won a college-aid grant in a nation-wide essay competition conducted among sons and daughters of employees of member-firms of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors.

Participating in the competition were students from every part of the nation. The winners are attending 41 different colleges and universities in 17 different states.

Urged To Give Best At College

Earl Sexton, acting president of Austin Peay State, urged freshmen and upperclassmen to do the best work they can this year in order to make their college stay a well-spent part of their life.

Sexton said the college has the highest enrollment ever this year. The number enrolled was not then known, as the IBM equipment was still tabulating registration cards.

APSC, he pointed out, is an average college and is growing more each year both in enrollment and physical facilities.

He spoke of the importance of a college education; only about half of college students who enroll as freshmen stay for graduation, he said.

He said that students should not only expect to get a degree from college; they should also form attitudes, become tolerant and be understanding.

Dean F. G. Woodward, dean of faculty; Dean M. P. Bowman, dean-registrar; Dean Tom Savage, dean of students; Dean Mabel Meacham, dean of women; and Rodger Bowman, student body president, were among the other speakers.

Dr. W. S. Morris, professor of history and political science, helped prepare a manual on teaching "isms" in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Morris was one of 15 teachers in the state chosen to participate.

His work was mainly concerned with democracy.

WHAT TO WEAR TILL THE DOCTOR COMES

Now that you have enrolled and paid your fees and bought your books and found your way around campus and learned to hate your roommate, it is time to turn to the most important aspect of college life. I refer, of course, to clothes.

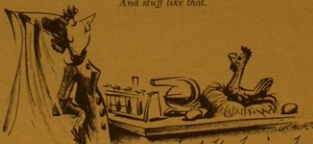

What does Dame Fashion decree for the coming school year? (Incidentally, Dame Fashion is not, as many people believe, a fictitious character. She was a real Englishwoman who lived in Elizabethan times and, indeed, English is forever in her debt. During the invasion of the Spanish Armada, Dame Fashion—not yet a Dame but a mere, unlettered country lass named Moll Flinders—during the invasion, I say, of the Spanish Armada, this dauntless girl stood on the white cliffs of Dover and turned the tide of battle by rallying the drooping morale of the British fleet with this stirring poem of her own composition:

Don't be gullies,
Men of Britain.
Seeing your callous,
We ain't 'quitting'.

Smash the Spanish,
Sink their boats,
Make 'em vanish,
Like a horse named Best.

For good Queen Bess,
Dear sirs, you gotta
Make a mess
Of that Armada.

You won't fail!
Knock 'em flat!
Then we'll drink ale
And stuff like that.

In 1589 she invented the laying hen

As a reward for these inspirational verses Queen Elizabeth dubbed her a Dame, made her Poet Laureate, and gave her the Western Hemisphere except Duluth. But this was not the extent of Dame Fashion's service to Queen and country. In 1589 she invented the laying hen, and she was awarded a lifetime pass to Chavez Ravine. But she was not to end her days in glory. In 1591, alas, she was arrested for overtime jousting and imprisoned for thirty years in a butt of malmsey. This later became known as Gary Fawkes Day.)

But I digress. Let us get back to campus fashions. Certain to be the rage again this year is the cardigan (which, curiously enough, was named after Lord Cardigan, who commanded the English fleet against the Spanish Armada. The sweater is only one product of this remarkable Briton's imagination. He also invented the glottal stop, the gerund, and the eyelid, without which winking, as we know it today, would not be possible).

But I digress. The cardigan, I say, will be back, which, I believe, causes for rejoicing. Why? Because the cardigan has nice big pockets in which to carry your Marlboro Cigarettes—and that, good friends, is ample reason for celebration as all of you will agree who have enjoyed Marlboro's fine, comfortable, mellow flavor and Marlboro's filter. So why don't you slip into your cardigan and hie yourself to your tobaccocon for some good Marlboro's? They come in soft pack or flip-top box. Cardigans come in pink for girls and blue for boys. © 1962 Max Shuman

Cardigans or pullovers—it's a matter of taste. . . And so is Marlboro a matter of taste—the best taste that can possibly be achieved by experienced groovers and blenders—by science, diligence, and tender loving care. Try a pack.

Sideline Views Govs Defeated 16-0 By UTMB

By ED FREDETTE

Surprising as it may seem to the average football fan, a team is only as good as its so-called "Scrubs."

The APSC rainbows, as these players are called because of the many different colored jerseys they wear, are an impressive group to watch during practice.

Our Athletes

By ED FREDETTE

In every college or university we find scholarship aid in many fields to assist young men.

At our institution, we have many young men on scholarship for football. Let's first distinguish the merits of an athletic scholarship. These chosen individuals sign a contract each year which is drawn up by the scholarship committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The rules which are stated within it are to be enforced by the athlete himself under the supervision of his coaches.

The average athlete can't afford to receive help from home to finance him in school, so with the scholarship assistance he can obtain that sheepskin and long wanted for him. If the athlete doesn't comply with the contract or make the compulsory 2.0 average he will be automatically dropped.

We at Austin Peay State are fortunate to have among us the finest group of athletes a college could have. As an overall picture, our football team, academic-wise, carries a 2.2 average, they dress as good or better than the average student. They bring to our campus not only entertainment on the ball field, but also their support and presence in many clubs and class functions. Each of these boys possesses character, sportsmanship and that $100 word, initiative. Campus life is solid with a group of men like this.

I am personally acquainted with the majority of our football players and our some odd 14 married men's wives and families and have found them to be not only friendly and kind but wonderful friends and a tribute to the game of football.

From what I have seen, they make the first and second teams live hard. You might not get recognized in the games and headlines, "Rainbows," but you are tops in my book.

If you are wondering why Cobb Parker is no longer a quarterback, he informed me a couple of days ago that he thinks he has a calcium deposit on his elbow and affects his throwing arm. He is doing a fine job however, at his new position, fullback.

Felix Inglis, a product of Chattanooga, is showing up well as one guard stud. Keep your eye on this lad.

APSC roundballers aren't wasting any time; working out every afternoon on their own, they are going to try to meet their tough schedule in top-notch shape. Co-captain Doug Stamper, on the heavy side at the present time, could easily afford to give his running mate at forward, Henry Murray, a couple of pounds. Nick Nichols, the football team trainer, and manager Bobby Gee are the busiest men on the scrimmage field. I believe they run more than the players, with never a quiet moment for these utility men.

Let's all try to get interested in this year's intramural program. I am certain with everyone's co-operation we can have fine inter-school competition in which everyone can participate. This will at least give us added recreation to occupy our time. For details on this see Walter Deprest.

Walter Camp is considered the father of American football (Yale University).
