

This F. H. Lanate designed house has utilized its corner location by building the house in a "U" shape. The elaborate columns, and brackets are the only details on a relatively simple designed house.