All State Ends Years Work With Banquet

The annual All State Banquet was held Thursday night, May 1, in the College cafeteria. The decorations were of red and white crepe paper with candles and arrangements of narcissus and carnations ornamenting the table.

Charles Waters, editor of the paper, acted as master of ceremonies and presented members of the staff with articles for the paper. Joyce Fowler told of front page news and how to make it. The editorial for this animated issue of the All State was assigned to Eleanor Choate, who chose the subject, Fraternization. Sam Winters reported on a favorite college sport—dating—in the terms of a football game. The gossip assignment was late and had not been turned in; the feature article was elsewhere.

Prof. F. O. Woodward, faculty sponsor for the paper, was the main speaker. He commended the staff for their work, although he was, he admitted, at times surprised by what he read in the All State. He asked the students to fill the same positions next year.

Bob Fort, giving the students' impression of Mr. Woodward, recalled how the girls would sigh over him when they first saw him. He brought the subject (Mr. Woodward) up to date, telling, in glowing terms, how much Mr. Woodward had meant to him, the school, and especially the All State.

Business Managers, Edison Burke and Frank Miller, gave a financial report, along with assorted comments.

The trials and tribulations of an editor were explained by Charles Waters. According to him, it is a miracle that the All State is ever published. He closed his speech by reminding the staff members that their assignments were due.

Choir Completes Tour Series

The mixed choir took its last all-day tour for the quarter on April 29. During the day they added Joelton, Goodlettsville, and Gallatin to the list making a total of nineteen high schools visited this season. The entire group feels that it has gained much from these trips.

Each school received the group with enthusiasm and graciousness.

On Sunday evening, May 4, the choir gave a concert at the First Methodist Church, Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

Investments Class Has Speaker

Albert W. Jobe, Administrator of Farm Home Administration in Montgomery County, was guest speaker in the class in Investments Friday, April 25.

Mr. Jobe explained to the class the work of the Farm Home Administration, a federal agency, is doing in this county and throughout the nation. The agency makes long term loans to deserving families who desire to make farming their life's work. That the families who have received the loans have made good was shown by the speaker as he presented actual cases from the files in the local office.

Mr. Jobe also spoke of farming as an investment and as a vocation and gave the class some interesting facts on farm prices and incomes of the present time.

Farewell and Hall Ceremony Held

The beautiful and impressive outdoor commencement ceremony, Farewell and Hall, was held in the front bowl on the campus Thursday evening, May 15, at 8 p.m.

The program began with a band concert, under the direction of Guy L. Hague. Following this, the graduates marched into the bowl and formed the letters "AP". The program by the graduates in the bowl consisted of the song "Tennessee", address by the graduating class president, and "Farewell to These". At the conclusion of this, all the students of the college marched into the bowl in single file, lighted torches of the graduates and marched to the pavement around the bowl.

The responsive reading was led by F. G. Woodward, and responses given by the students and graduates. President Halbert Harvill then gave his address. Students, graduates and visitors joined in the Doxology, and the benediction was given.

At the conclusion of the program, the graduates marched out of the bowl through an open column formed by the students. Ending the traditional ceremony was "Auld Lang Syne," and the bugle call.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the lobby of Harned Hall.

Dr. Caldwell Baccalaureate Speaker

Dr. Frank Hill Caldwell gave the baccalaureate sermon for Austin High School's 65 seniors on May 11, at the First Presbyterian Church, Clarksville.

Dr. Caldwell, who is president of the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary at Louisville, Ky., is listed in "Who's Who in America." He received his Ph.D. in Edinburgh (Scotland) University, his Master's degree from Centre, California, and his Bachelor's degree from the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary.

College Enters High School Seniors

"Mable's Tea Room" was the center of action in the entertainment given by the Student Council for the senior classes of neighboring high schools. The program was presented in the college auditorium Wednesday, May 14, and was followed by a dance in Harned Hall.

Mary Wilson portrayed the proprietor, Miss Mabel Meacham. Floyd Ford as Dr. Pendleton and Deery Eakin as Mr. Moffitt were among the patrons who voiced their opinions of the place. Other patrons were Margaret Wilson, Dick Harris, Marthann Anderson, and Jimmy Knight. Jack Sides served as master of ceremonies and Don Meyer was the waiter. Sara Beth Haynes sang "Al Sweet Mystery of Life" and "The Anniversary Song". The Andrews Sisters, better known at AFSC as Jesse Trout, Bobby Davis, and Trez Thompson, were featured. Piano music was furnished by Jimmy Hicks.

A surprise visit by Miss Meacham's hilariously relatives interrupted the proceedings. Much to the disgust of the patrons, they insisted on playing and singing songs of their own choice. This group included W. C. Buchanan, Charles French, Thurston Price, Ray Miller, Cecil Bishop, and Arthur Brooks.

49 Students Receive Degrees

The 1947 graduating class of Austin Peay State College received diplomas Friday morning, May 16, in the college auditorium. King Vivion, A.M., R.D., D.D., LL.D., pastor of McKendree Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee, delivered the graduating address.

The B.S. degree in education was conferred on the following: Carrie Lee Barnett, W. C. Buchanan, James Woodrow DePree, James L. Denning, Evelyn Fleming, Madge Haug, Lillian Wherry Hickman, Ben Ford, Hollingsworth, Mary Frances Malone, Julia H. Mackay, Willie Gilbert McMillan, J. Howard Pity, Delmas T. Robertson, George Edward Moore, Florence Woodson Taylor, James Woodall Taylor, Mary Eula Thomas, Louis Wickham, Rupert P. Williams, William S. Woodcock, Jr., Dorothy Dimple Acree, Elsie Lucille Adkins, Leonard H. Allen, Elaine Black Baggett, Mary Marable Baggett, Lester S. Betty, Mamie Ruth Brown, Clemmie James Buttry, Mildred Louise Culwell, Thomas Doxallan, James Eakin, Jr., Ed Edson Feltner, Robert Cullum Fort, Turner Lawrence Lee, Carl Truman Moore, Betty Jo Morris, Ann Elizabeth Roberts, Mary A. Sadler, Virgie Ann Wallace, Mrs. Pearl Warden, Boone Soups Wright, and Marie Boone Young.

Five graduates received the B.S. degree in arts and science. They were the following: William S. Olive, Mildred Dorothy Roach, Robert D. Sykes, Fletcher Evans Harvill, and John William Welker.

The annual Iris Ball was held in the lobby of the girls' dormitory, Thursday night, May 8, from 8 to 12 o'clock. Music for the occasion was furnished by Bill Yandle and his orchestra from Nashville.

The lobby was beautifully decorated with Iris and other spring flowers. Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1947 Iris Queen, Miss Margaret Page, which took place at 10 o'clock. The royal party walked to the throne on an aisle of white.

The Queen was lovely in a dress of white satin and net. She carried a large arm bouquet of Iris. She was presented by Bob Kendrick, president of the student body, to Mr. Harvill, who crowned her.

The attendants all carried arm bouquets of Iris. They were Miss Peggy Jo Bridgewater, Miss Mildred Culwell, Miss Evelyn Bell, and Miss Joyce Ransdell. The crown-bearer was little Miss Mary Alice Hamilton.

The committee chairman for the affair were as follows: Eleanor Choate, general chairman; Don Roach and Peggy Fleming, refreshment committee; Peggy Douglas, decorations; Ann Askew, crown and throne; Margaret Wilson, publicity.

The reception line consisted of Mrs. Gorsch, Mr. and Mrs. Harvill, Bob Kendrick, Dr. and Mrs. Michelson, Prude Cochran, Joyce Skike, Ann Askew, Martha McDaniell, and Eleanor Choate assisted at the door. Don Roach and Peggy Fleming presided over the punch bowl with Mrs. Jo Deberry, Cecile Lacy, Louise Baxter, and Elaine Roach as assistants.

One of the school's most colorful elections has resulted in the selection of Frank Miller as the new president of the Student Body. Miller was elected by a majority of seven votes over Paul Phipps. Thurston Price was chosen vice-president over Jesse Trout and Peggy Jo Bridgewater, secretary-treasurer over Betty Giles. The three newly elected officers will take office at the beginning of the next school year.

This year's election was held in the student-faculty room April 30, 1947. The rules of the election were the same as those that govern the state election. A large per cent of the qualified Student Body exercised their right of voting. The count showed that 265 votes were cast out of the 280 registered voters.

The All State wishes to compliment all the candidates, their managers, and the Student Body as a whole for the splendid way the election was run. Our congratulations go to Frank, Thurston, and Peggy Jo. We are looking forward to a prosperous year under their leadership. To Bob Kendrick, Paul Phipps, and Peggy Fleming, our 1946-47 officers, we say, "A job well done."

Garrett and Morton Named Grid Captains

In the election held Tuesday afternoon, May 6, previous to the "All Sports" banquet, Leon Garrett and George Morton were chosen as Co-Captains for the coming football season. They will succeed George Fisher, who withdrew his own name from re-nomination. Bud Barrett is the retiring Alternate Captain.

George Fisher was elected Captain of the basketball team with Jack Butler as Alternate.

Summer Quarter Offers Full Schedule

The summer quarter will open with registration on May 19. Classes to be held include courses in art, chemistry, commerce, education, English, industrial art, math, music, physics, history, geography, political science, home economics, shorthand, typing, sociology, economics, physical education, choir, band, health, biology, agricultural science, and library science. There are need for regularly scheduled Saturday classes.

For those desiring accelerated courses in history, English, geography, and health, classes will be held offering these subjects six days a week. This will allow the student to finish a quarter's work in the first six weeks.

An Audio-Visual Workshop will be conducted for students from June 30 to July 18. A Curriculum Workshop will be held from July 21 to August 8. Each of these give 1 1/2 quarter hour credit per week making 4 1/2 quarter hour credits for each 3 week workshop. These will meet 4 hours a day, Monday through Friday, 10 to 12 in the morning and 1 to 3 in the afternoon.

Band Uniforms Arrive

The band uniforms have arrived and were displayed May 5, when the band played in Chapel. The new uniforms are red and white, exemplifying the school colors.

Au Revoir

As we approach the end of another school year, we look back on the past three quarters with the realization that this has been a happy part of our lives. Our college days will linger in our memories forever.

However, it is with sadness that we say goodbye to many of our friends. Some will return for the summer quarters; others will come back next fall; but quite a few—the graduates, those going elsewhere to continue their education, those entering the professional and business world, and those leaving for other reasons—will be missed from the campus.

It is to these that we bid a fond farewell; and to everyone, we, of the All State staff wish success and happiness in every undertaking.

Inquiring Reporter

QUESTION: What are you going to do on your vacation?

Martha Sue Parker—Take sun-baths and work.

Sam Kerr—Fish, love my wife, and fuss at the kid.

Thurston Price—Start to work—I've been on it for three quarters.

Frank Crigger—Ditto.

Jack Ward—Try to make some money so next year I can give the gals a rush.

Betty Wallace—Get married (lucky girl).

Clinton Martin—I'm gonna spend the summer in La.

Lawrence Lee—Go back to school.

Betty Jo Parker—No vacation.

Doris Lee Snyder—Nothing.

Maggie Wilson—Ah-a-aa-a (as usual).

The Library Is Still Open Evenings

Some time ago a great number of students made known through the Student Council and this paper that they desired the library to be kept open evenings. The administration responded, and when fluorescent lights were installed, the library was opened from seven to nine each evening. For this we express our thanks to the administration.

Now that the library is open evenings, it has been noticed that few students are taking advantage of this much needed place of quiet focus. Certainly the library is the best place in which to study evenings. Not only is it quiet and well lighted, but also it contains all books and references needed in preparing assignments.

This quarter has ended, but many of us will continue in school during the summer. The library will be open, so let's use it to our advantage. Let's not be guilty of wanting a change merely for the change's sake. Rather let us prove that we wanted the library open evenings by going there to do our studying.

Psychology Class Visits Mental Institutions

On the bright and shining morning of May 1, Mr. Moffitt's psychology classes gathered together at the Stewart building—dodging the sunbeams, which had not quite dried out that morning. After Thurston and Christine Price had extorted enough money from the students to satisfy the bus drivers, the trip to the Feeble Minded Home and Central State Hospital began.

When the first bus stopped at a side road to pick up Mr. Moffitt, Walton Griffin very adroitly persuaded Mr. Moffitt to turn the bus loose and catch the second bus.

A pleasant spring rain graced the travelers and after a pleasant and refreshing sleep they reached the Feeble Minded Home at Donaldson. After the majority of the students took a short run through the wet weather, only to result in a dry run, they were in fine mood to visit the school and auditorium where several cases were exhibited and interviewed. After a visit to the hospital they were on their way to lunch. With appetites whetted by their wholesome environment, the students partook of a hearty lunch, some consisting of crackers and water, and some on less illustrious bills of fare. The students were delighted to hear on the radio that much of Clarksville was destroyed by a windstorm and pondered audibly the possibility of losing some of the dead wood on the teaching staff at Austin Peay.

Just as the group was about to be off, they discovered the disappearance of Tony Hostettler and had to go back to the school where they found him eating lunch with some of his little friends. After obtaining his release (in custody of Elva Hiams) the group proceeded to Berry Field, where the entire group was treated to the sight of seeing a four-motored aeroplane land and take off.

The bus then went across the road to Central State Hospital, which completed the itinerary for the day. The group was shown into a large auditorium where Dr. Hauk, a Vanderbilt graduate, gave a lecture on abnormal psychology. Then he had Mrs. Roosevelt (also a Vanderbilt graduate) brought out. She gave an interesting lecture on her experience, and conditions in the institution. After she was taken away, several more interesting types were interviewed.

After the completion of the talks, the group was shown through some of the women's wards.

Several boys were invited to inspect the rooms by the inmates, but were hurried along by Dr. Hauk, who said time would not permit.

The group then boarded the busses and finally reached Clarksville, tired, but happy, at 5:10 in the afternoon. All expressed deep satisfaction with the visit and indicated a desire to return to the institution when they could spend more time.

Upper Classmen Sponsor Treasure Hunt

The junior and senior classes were hosts to the whole student body Tuesday night, April 29, when they sponsored a Treasure Hunt. Groups of from two to ten students were given clues which led them all over town and eventually back to the campus. The treasure, when it was finally discovered was a box of candy. The students then enjoyed a weiner roast at the back of Harrod Hall.

Some people owe their success to their friends; others owe their friends to their success.

When a modern girl turns the other cheek, she puts rouge on that one too.

Patience is the hard word some men used to describe their inability to make a decision.

Freshmen Present Intigruing Program

The Freshman Class of Austin Peay College sponsored the assembly program Friday morning, April 11.

Four contestants were chosen from the audience. Musical records were played. The contestants took turns at guessing the titles of the records played. The titles, when put together formed letters of such interesting and unrelated subjects as romance and study.

The contestants chosen were: Anthony Hostettler, Trev Thompson, Carolyn Cross and Evelyn Glenn. Jesse Trout served brilliantly in the capacity of master of ceremonies.

A Different Proposition

A certain nobleman had a valet who was violently opposed to the capitalist system, and who devoted most of his spare time to attending meetings where he could listen while communistic theories were expounded. The master was tolerant because the servant was diligent in the performance of his duties. Suddenly the valet stopped going to meetings, and after several weeks the master became curious enough to ask the reason.

"At the last meeting I attended," said the good man, "it was proved that if all the wealth in the country were divided equally among all the people, the share of each person would be two thousand francs."

"So what?" asked the master. "Well, I have five thousand francs."

SPORTOGS

This is it, sport fans. It is now three hours past deadline, and I am just starting my last column for the All State. Perhaps I should get reminiscent and sentimental, but I shall confine the mush to this simple sincere statement, "I love athletics, and my associations with athletics and sports here have been most pleasant. I value the friendships thus formed and hope they are mutual."

The year 1946-47 has been an eventful one in sports for Austin Peay State College. Our football team was successful with a record of five wins against four losses. Phenomenal was the success of the basketball team. The sharp-eyed fast breaking Governors suffered only one defeat at the hands of college competition, and that was against a great aggregation from TPT in the finals of the first tournament of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference. We are proud of that first postwar record. Under the aegis of Coach Aaron assisted by Coach McKinney, the Governors will continue to achieve remarkable results in the future. Coach McKinney, incidentally, is at present on active duty with the Army but will be back with the resounding crash of boot against ball and body against body next fall.

Climaxing a most successful year of sports was the "All Sports" banquet Tuesday night featuring Mr. Bain Stewart, State Personnel Director, as the main speaker. Mr. Stewart is the ace sports fan of the country and regaled the appreciative audience with his many entertaining sports stories.

Coach Aaron awarded the following letters in football: George Fisher, Bud Barrett, Bobby Turentine, John P. Roberts, Jack Price, Joe Crabtree, Horace Taylor, Leon Garrett, George Morton, Charlie Gentry, Carl Moore, Ambrose Moss, Ed McWhorter, Edgar Settlers, David Wood, Melvin Maynard, Larry Marshall, John L. Burns, Paul Phillips, Woodson Oliver, Lehman Hailey, Louis Catignani, Thomas Green, Ray Rye, Charlie Burchett, and Homer Bell. Basketball letters went to Paul Aaron, Louis Catignani, James Stone, Jack Butler, Tony Hostettler, Dick Hardwick, George Fisher, and John L. Burns. Manager.

The football team is to be congratulated on its wise selection of Captains for the 1947-48 season, as is the basketball team. Garrett, Morton, Fisher, and Butler are a credit to Austin Peay State College athletics, and each possesses all of the numerous attributes of that indefinable something known as leadership. Good luck to you, Captains. I know you will give it your all, and that is plenty.

Sports Shorts: Terrill McWhorter, pre-war APSC grider is now at Vanderbilt as is James English. Bob Cutrell pitched ten innings at Franklin, Ky., Sunday only to lose 3-1 on two very close decisions. Yours truly did the receiving in the last four innings. Cutie's twirling was superb. He allowed only five hits.

Unquotable Quote: "No brains are required for writing sports. Anybody can do it." — High Commissioner of Baseball, Happy Chandler. Does everybody agree? Never mind, let me guess.

ALL STATE ENDS

President Harvill, who had the honor of naming the All State when it began, also complimented the staff for their work during the year and expressed the hope that as the school grew bigger and better, that the All State would do likewise.

Beside the guests of the individual staff members, President and Mrs. Harvill, Prof. and Mrs. Woodward, and Miss Lou Owen were also present.

At the close of the program Miss George Chapman was complimented on the exquisite food served at the banquet.

She was trying to work her way through college by selling subscriptions to the Saturday Evening Post, but all the fellows wanted to take Liberties.

Bob Fort: "There's a lot of girls who don't even want to be married." Jesse Trout: "How do you know?" Bob: "I've asked them."

Peay Pickers

Well, here we are again and this time it's for the last issue of the ALL STATE this year.

Snooping around we have seen many couples attending the ALL STATE Banquet, Athletic Banquet, and Iris Ball.

Some are enthused over the sheepskin but who wouldn't gladly take it? Those graduating certainly should be commended but we still have hopes.

Congrats to Frank Miller and other new officers. Gee! that Haynes must be first lady. Say! are you looking at either of those handsome Moss brothers? Good luck if you are.

It seems that Lonnie Morris has a flame but I can't tell his name. And speaking of boyfriends, who is Josephine Duke's boyfriend from Coopers town?

Have you ridden in Wootton's car—it's really a Cadillac.

It seems that some of our students frequently go back to their Alma Mater, C. H. S. Must be the people there now.

Several are planning to go to the altar soon—these include Burke; Joe and Eleanor; Buddy Hicks and his lass of Hopkew. We wish them much success.

Say, who is Herman Robbins interested in?

Have you seen Jean Swift and John Griffey together. I have.

Yes, as we can see, spring here to a young man's fancy turns to his girl in many instances.

Lucile McDevitt has been seen with David lately. But still William Smith seems to be the dream man of many girls.

The time has come when we must say adios and we hope to meet you again soon but now the end of the perfect day of friendship has come.

should mention the show director, Delmas Robertson and Red Garner, the Arena director. Fun for the kids will be furnished by those lovable clowns, the Walling Brothers and their bucking T-Ford, the Walling Brothers also sell peanuts and popcorn between acts. Peggy Fleming, the triple threat gal, is billed as the world's greatest aerialist, she is also ticket receiver on the main gate and, too, she will assist with the sale of the concert tickets. Jean Swift is along with the show as the press agent for the ALL STATE. Red Garner, the Arena Director is also a ticket seller and is the best short changer in the business. Virginia Jones is the sweetheart of the exhibition, the trick and fancy horse-manship, she has performed in rodeos from Clarksville to Lone Oak. Another featured performer is Mildred Cuiwell, who gives an exhibition of Roman Standing riding on a sixteen horse hitch, it is also interesting to note that Mildred and Virginia separate the shows only pink lemonade stand. Jim DePriest, the Mexican Tornado, does his act which is a very outstanding one, with Bull Whips, in which he uses 52 foot whips to open coke bottles. Jim is also the only lion tamer but does not pull this detail because Balfour the Lion is dead. Dr. Jim Padfield has also turned to life's brighter side and has concentrated to go with the show as the "Yodeling Cowboy" on his white steed. Ponto, Music for the show is to be furnished by Sara Linehan's Silly Sympathizers. And last but not least, is Prudie, who does an eye opening fan dance using electric fans to add a shock to the dance. . . Well, so much for the circus, but by the way, Mr. Woodward was seen with his family at the King Brothers Circus back in April. . . Bunkhouse, you had better get on your horse because you might wake up and find Jim Young has stolen your girl. . . Pawnee Bill has crawled back to his tepee in Calvin Hall. . . Edison

Burke has set up a Barber Shop in Robb Hall, his price is hair cuts, forty cents, but Russell Walling, the Calvin Hall barber, who is not to be outdone, said, and we quote, "I will cut hair free just to keep my Customers." It seems that a barber war is on. . . Troy Boyd seems to have the shine business all wrapped up in as much as Burke has given him a 20 year lease on the trade in his barber shop. . . Being that this will probably be the last of this till come next corn gathering time, I wish to thank each of the dear readers of the Knights in Calvin Hall and will pass on a few words and hints to keep in mind to lead a healthy life during the Summer months. . . Be aware of the girl who runs her fingers through your hair, she's probably after your scalp. . . The moment a girl has a boy going in circles he's cornered. . . And too, some girls are like professional judges, they lead men on. . . To the aged and gray a pedicure is a case of the survival of the fittest and don't forget hillbillies are people who live in such shacks that when it rains they have to go out and get in the sedan. . .
