

THE ALL STATE

CLARKSVILLE, TN 37044

AUSTIN PEAY STATE UNIVERSITY

Volume LXIII Number 13

November 11, 1992

MOUTHFUL OF CHILI--Dan Russell helps himself to a heaping bowl of chili during a chili cook-off sponsored by Campus Ministries. (photo by Donna Lovett)

Clinton hailed president

Arkansas governor beats Bush, Perot by wide electoral college margin

BY JEFF WISDOM
news editor

Unless you have been living under a rock during the past couple of days, you already know that Americans have elected a new president.

Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton, the Democratic party nominee, defeated Republican President George Bush, and independent candidate Ross Perot, during the election last Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Clinton amassed a total of 370 electoral votes, winning 32 states on his way to an impressive victory. Bush took the popular vote in 18 states for a total of 168 electoral votes. Perot received no electoral votes.

In terms of the national popular vote, the three major presidential contenders finished this way: Clinton, 43 percent (43,713,885); Bush 38 percent (38,150,871); Perot 19 percent (19,228,530).

In the state of Tennessee, Clinton won with 47 percent of the vote (933,620) to 43 percent (840,899) for Bush and 10 percent for Perot (199,787).

The South, which has traditionally been a Republican stronghold in presidential elections, was evenly split between Bush and Clinton.

Clinton took the states of Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas and Louisiana. Bush was victorious in the states of Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia.

Bush humbly acknowledged his defeat during his address to his supporters in Houston. Bush encouraged the entire nation to put the election in the past and get behind President-elect Clinton.

Clinton spoke to a crowd of approximately 30 thousand supporters during his presidential acceptance address in downtown Little Rock. The Arkansas governor praised Bush's

continued on page 4

Racism affects more than just black minorities on campus

By JEFF GRIMES
staff writer

This is the second part in a two-part series on race relations.

Austin Peay has found itself among the small family of colleges and universities across the country that are relatively free from hate crimes.

Most students say there are few or no problems on campus dealing with racial issues.

Many students and faculty, however, think that there are problems on campus that go unnoticed or that are ignored.

One problem voiced by faculty and students is that race relations on campus are perceived as only a white-black issue.

"I see everything being painted black and white," Dr. Ramon Magrans said. "Everyone is falling over backwards to solve those problems and ignoring all the others."

Magrans said while the problems between blacks and whites are discussed fewer problems for them, but that does not make them any less important.

By far, the biggest complaints by students are the things that students cannot label as racist:

A black student walks into a classroom, and white students stop talking.

An Asian student sits at a table, and black students get up and leave.

Maybe the conversation was over or the students had to go to class. While most students say they don't want to take it personally, they can't help but wonder if it was because of their color. Kwame Cash told a story of sitting down at a table with white students and having them get up and leave.

"They were only half finished with their sandwiches and they threw them away," Cash said. "It's not overt, but you wonder."

According to the Austin Peay State University Policies and Procedures Manual regarding racial, sexual or other forms of harassment, racial harassment is defined as, "Any person's conduct which is unreasonably interferes with an employee's or student's status or performance by creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment."

continued on page 4

Racism... what an ugly word and worked out, problems facing Hispanics and Asians are ignored.

Other students, including Kazuya Invi, a senior, agreed that problems facing non-black minorities do not receive much attention.

Invi said because there are less non-black minorities on campus, there are

OPINION

GM needs new leadership--pg. 6

SPORTS

OVC plans for reunion--pg. 7

FEATURES

AP woman describes date rape ordeal--pg. 9

News

U.S. looks to tear down shameful wall of exclusion

By DARCY HARTZ
assistant news editor

This is the first in a series on students with disabilities.

Our nation was founded on the ideal that "all men are created equal." Sometimes personal differences make it difficult for all people to be treated equally, but over the years our government has passed legislation to help do away with such discrimination.

Only recently have the 43 million Americans with disabilities been guaranteed these rights by law. The Americans with Disabilities Act was signed by President George Bush in 1990, providing protection for anyone "who has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities."

Under the law, employers may not discriminate against a person with a disability if they are qualified for the job. Furthermore, the act requires new public buildings, commercial facilities and transportation to be accessible to the disabled and existing facilities must remove any barriers.

"Today, America welcomes into the mainstream of life all people with disabilities. Let the shameful wall of exclusion finally come tumbling down," Bush said upon signing the act.

Although there is still a long way to go, Austin Peay is playing a role in tearing down this wall. Through Student Support Services, 70 students with disabilities are receiving assistance so that they may better function on campus and in society.

According to Bulah Oldham, coordinator of Disabilities Issues, Student Support Services offers a number of programs which can help student on an individual basis. Note-takers, counselors, assistive devices, tutors and other services are offered.

The program is also a means of personal support for students and helps motivate them to be successful. Oldham said that the best way to help these students is to let them make decisions themselves and learn from their mistakes.

"As technology continues to lend itself to making the work placemore accessible, we as a university have to provide students with that information so they can be a vital part of society," Oldham said.

National alumni association organizes Phone-A-Thon to raise money for scholarships

According to Austin Peay National Alumni Association, the phone lines will be hot during the next five weeks due to the annual Phone-A-Thon.

students currently enrolled on campus. Twenty-five students were chosen for the Phone-A-Thon from the approximately 100 students that were interviewed.

Phone-A-Thon is being held during the weeks Oct. 19 through Nov. 19. Phone-A-Thon is a process of soliciting to raise money for the unrestricted funds for the university.

The money donated helps to supplement the funds that are given to the university by the government, which are used in the non-restricted account.

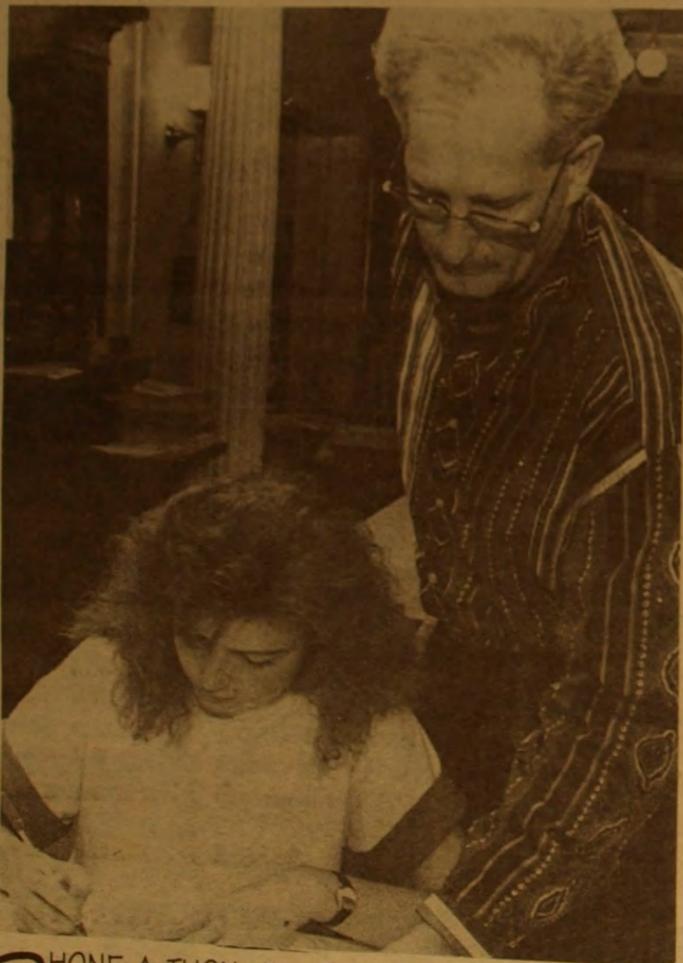

All money raised during Phone-A-Thon may go to any aspect of the university by the donor's request. Funds may be used for scholarships such as the President's Emerging Leaders or even to certain departments as the university library.

The workers of Phone-A-Thon will be calling APSU Alumni nationwide to see if they would like to make a donation.

If the alumni wishes to make a donation, a pledge card and a stamped envelope are immediately sent to the donor for their convenience. This year the Phone-A-Thon donation goal is $100,000.

The workers for the Phone-A-Thon are

PHONE-A-THON--Kim Guyton, a junior, works with Doug Barber for the annual Phone-a-thon at the Emerald Hill Alumni Center. (courtesy photo)

These students will be given an hourly salary from the university; in addition, the National Alumni Association will give bonuses if the workers goal is achieved at the end of the night.

The following students were selected: Lisa McCrady, Andrea Moore, Tammy Whitworth, Lorraine Coleburn, Teri Crippen, Nicole Jackson, Tabitha Vires, Alisa Tolbert, Laura Boroff, Kim Guyton, Jerry Smith, Lynnette Wilson, Brenda Thompson, Jason Turner, Angelicia Strouse, Tawanda Joiner, Curtis

Powell, Dwayne Roberts, Jacqueline Tyl and John Pico.

Michael Pittman, a intern at the Alumni Association said, "Phone-A-Thon is good for students because it allows us to raise money to aid students at the university. Communication with alumni is important so that the alumni may continue their everlasting relationship with the university."

For more information about Phone-A-Thon or to make a donation, contact the Alumni Association at 648-7979.

SGA Update

By VINCENT HARDEN
SGA Correspondent

• Three senate seats are open in the College of Education. Students vying for these seats must be from this college. Applications are available in the SGA office.

• Ohio Valley Conference representatives are working to get student bodies to support basketball season. Assistant Commissioners of OVC, Ron English and Lance Alridge, attended SGA as guest speakers to provide information and obtain feedback on ways to "Improve the OVC Experience."

•The Student Organization Board will have its second official meeting Monday, Nov. 23. If organizations are without a representative on the board, there is still time to get involved. A calendar of events is being developed as an informative way to let students know of other organizations big events for the spring semester.

• Best of luck to those students who will be representing APSU at the Tennessee Intercollegiate State Legislature (TISL) in Nashville. These students will be leaving on Thursday for this four-day event.

• Bills brought before the SGA this week

SA 010/92-93	Society of Physics Students	$546.40	passed
SA 011/92-93	Omega Psi Phi, Inc.	$212.50	passed
SA 013/92-93	Alpha Kappa Psi	$619.26	passed

Crime Scene

By ANITA LYNN
staff writer

These are the incidents that have been reported since Oct. 31.

•On Oct. 31—A car parked in the Kimbrough parking lot was burglarized. Estimated value $112.

•On Nov. 5— George R. Welch was arrested for DUI, implied consent and possession of prohibited weapons after running a stop sign at the intersection of Drane and Marion Streets. Whiskey and a SAP/Slap Jack were confiscated from Welch's car.

Campus Briefs

New student service organization officially chartered on campus

On Monday, Oct. 19, the Rotaract Club of Austin Peay was officially chartered. Invited guests included the district governor and district governor elect of Rotary. Other guests were from the Clarksville Sunrise Rotary (the sponsoring club) and select guests from the noon day Rotary. The guest speakers was Barry Rollins. The members of Rotaract would like to thank all the guests who attended.

Phi Kappa Phi Society offers senior fellowship opportunities

The Austin Peay State University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society is accepting applications from outstanding senior students from competitive fellowships worth up to $7,000 for first-year graduate or professional study. Fifty of these prestigious fellowships will be awarded nationwide. Thirty additional honorable mention awards of $500 will be made.

The criteria used in the selection process include scholastic achievement, high standardized test scores, honors and enrichment programs, leadership and participation in university and community activities, expression of study plans and career goals, plus evaluations by faculty. Graduating seniors with superior academic and leadership records should contact the Phi Kappa Phi representative Thomas H. Winn at Clement 249 or call 648-7945 for additional information.

Fifteen fellowships available for Alpha Lambda Delta members

The National Council of Alpha Lambda Delta announces that 15 fellowships for graduate or professional study in the amount of $3,000 each will be awarded for use during the 1993-94 academic year. Any member of Alpha Lambda Delta who is graduating with a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher is eligible to apply. Graduating seniors may apply if they have achieved this average at the end of the fall semester 1992. Applicants will be judged on academic record, recommendations submitted and the soundness of the proposed project and purpose.

Applications forms are currently available in the Student Affairs Office, Room 203, Ellington. The deadline for submitting all application materials, including official transcripts, to the executive director of National Alpha Lambda Delta is Dec. 31.

Non-traditional student group sets bake sale, membership drive

The Non-Traditional Student Organization will have a bakesale and membership drive Nov. 11-13 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Clement lobby. All non-traditional and traditional students are welcomed to come by the table to join NTSO. Information will be available about the organization.

NTSO will have their officer installation on Nov. 14 at 4 p.m. in the Harvill Cafeteria's Executive Dining Room. All members are encouraged to attend. Dinner attire is mandatory. Anyone interested in the organization is welcomed to attend. The following Wednesdays, the meetings will be at 3 p.m. in Kimbrough 119.

Newman Club to sponsor 'Chicago Hot Dog Night'

The Newman Club will be offering a "Chicago Hot Dog Night" on Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 5 p.m. at the Newman

House. The movie "Wayne's World" will be shown after the food has been served. All are encouraged to attend weeknight Mass which follows at 7 p.m.

Prominent journalist to speak on media, political issues

As well known for her toughness in presidential press conferences as for her national journalism awards, Helen Thomas of United Press International will be presenting a lecture and question-answer session at Austin Peay State University on Nov. 16, at 7 p.m. in the Clement Auditorium. Thomas, noted as one of the five best women journalists in America and the leading political analyst for print journalism, is presented by the Visiting Speaker and Artist Committee at APSU.

Thomas is a graduate of Wayne State University in Michigan and in 1941 joined UPI and the Washington Press Corp where she wrote radio news for 12 years. Eventually she covered the news of the federal government, including Justice, the FBI, HEW and Capitol Hill.

Thomas, in November of 1960, began covering then President-elect John F. Kennedy. It was during this first White House assignment that she began closing the presidential press conferences with "Thank you, Mr. President," a custom that continues to this day.

Among her many national awards, she was the first woman officer of the National Press Club after it opened its doors to women members following a 90-year span of all-male membership. She became the first woman officer of the White House Correspondents Association and its first woman president. In addition, she was listed in the 1976 World Almanac as one of the world's 25 most influential women.

Thomas plans to speak on media, political issues and her personal impressions of working with the presidents since Kennedy. The lecture is free of charge and open to the general public.

Baptist Student Union invites students to creative worship

Everyone is invited to the Baptist Student Union on Thursday, Nov. 12, at 7 p.m. for "Come to Life." This is a time of creative worship.

AP Day schedule announced; tours, interest sessions offered

Sponsored by Austin Peay State University's Office of Admissions, AP Day has become a tradition with multiple benefits—to prospective students, their parents or spouses and to the university.

AP Day is slated for Saturday, Nov. 21. All area high school juniors and seniors, their parents and/or spouses, as well as interested non-traditional students, are invited to participate in AP Day. RSVPs are not required. Free T-shirts will be given to all student participants.

Check-in is at 8 a.m. in the lobby of the Joe Morgan University Center. At 8:30 a.m. in Clement Auditorium, APSU President Oscar Page, other administrators and students will make welcoming remarks and give instructions for the day's activities.

APSU's acclaimed show choir, the APSUute Singers, will perform at 9 a.m. in Clement Auditorium, followed at 9:45 a.m. by individual interest sessions on financial aid, scholarships and academic information. Campus tours will be offered.

From 12-1:30 p.m., guests will have lunch on their own. The Gov's Grille, University Center, will be open from 7:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. APSU's Book and Supply Store, also located in the University Center, will be open from 9:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m., offering a 10 percent discount on all insignia items.

At 1:30 p.m. guests may attend the football game between the APSU Governors and the UT-Martin Pacers—compliments of APSU. Tickets for the game will be distributed during check-in. For more information, telephone 648-7661 or toll free 1-800-648-APSU.

Seminar scheduled to assist in genealogical research

Austin Peay State University's Office of Continuing Education has scheduled a genealogical seminar on migratory patterns of early settlers for Thursday, Dec. 3.

"Pioneer Passages to the West" will aid researchers whose progress has stagnated. When an ancestor has been tracked to his or her entry into a country, the genealogical research may come to a halt. This is often due to a lack of information on prior residences. A knowledge of migratory patterns may be essential to continuing the genealogical search.

According to Certified Genealogist Irene Griffey, Southern colonial America was settled primarily by the English, Germans and Scots-Irish. The seminar will focus on the westward push of these people as they settled the frontiers. New avenues for ancestor searching also will be discussed.

The seminar will be conducted by Griffey from 6-9 p.m. in Kimbrough 215. Fee for the seminar is $15. Preregistration is required, as space is limited.

For more information or to register, telephone the Office of Continuing Education at 648-7816.

Kappa Sigma Fraternity sponsors 'Over the Hump' party Nov. 11

The men of Kappa Sigma Fraternity will host their "Over the Hump '92" party Wednesday, Nov. 11, at The Night Deposit located near Meacham Apartments. Doors will open at 9 p.m. with live music by "Slaves and Angels." Admission is $5 for non-students, $4 for men and $3 for women.

Zelner's Putt & Play

BUY ONE. GET ONE GAME FREE

ID Required Expires 12/10/92

ONLY ONE BLOCK FROM CAMPUS

304 College Street 552-4653

COUPON

Fabulous Fred

THE FAMILY HAIR CENTER

GOOD AT ALL 20 LOCATIONS

NO APPOINTMENTS EVER!

Adult	PERM
Wet Cut	Special price $29.50
$7.50	Mon - Fri only
Child	Perm services include:
Wet Cut	Shampoo, Cut and Blowdry style
$4.50

ASK US HOW EASY IT IS TO SAY FAREWELL TO FLAT HAIR

CLARKSVILLE
Nashville Hwy. & 41-A By-Pass by K-Mart
551-8829

48

Election

continued from page 1

leadership in foreign affairs and his years of service to the United States. Then, Clinton continued to stress the message of change that got him elected.

Vice president-elect Al Gore Jr., followed Clinton's address with his vision for a better environment and a better future for the young people of America. The Tennessee senator thanked the people of the United States, especially the citizens of his home state for giving him the opportunity to serve in the nation's second-highest office.

The biggest "surprise" of the 1992 presidential campaign was the strong showing of independent candidate Ross Perot. The billionaire businessman captured almost 20 percent of the popular vote nationwide. No third-party candidate has received that level of support since Teddy Roosevelt and the Bull Moose Party in the late 1890s.

Perot was also gracious in defeat. Perot told a gathering of his supporters at his Dallas, Texas, headquarters Tuesday evening that, "the American people have spoken and they have chosen Bill Clinton."

Perot hinted to his supporters that, although he lost the election, he is still not out of the political arena.

Perot pledged to continue his financial support for them. He also failed to rule out a possible run for the White House again in 1996.

The 1992 election results will not become official until members of the electoral college meet to cast their ballots in Washington, D. C. on Dec. 14.

Racism

continued from page 1

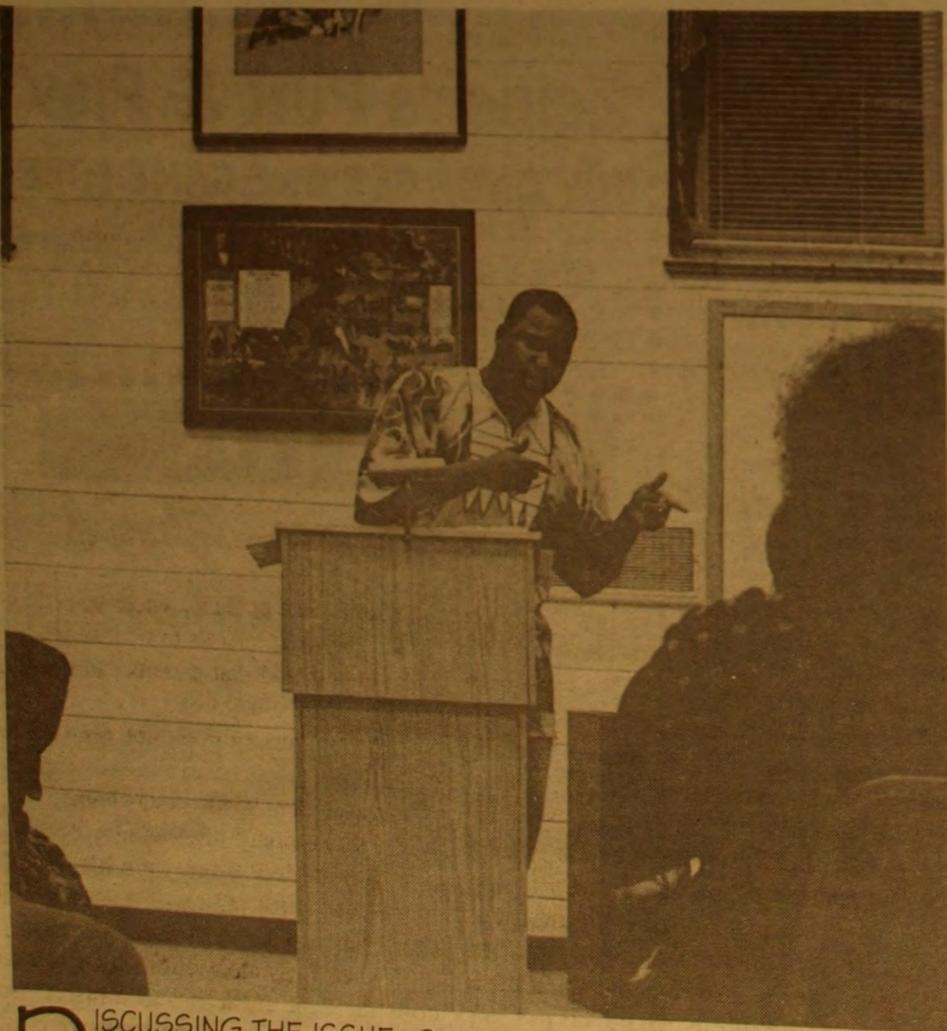

"Harassment on the basis of race, color or national origin includes offensive or demeaning treatment of an individual, where such treatment is based typically on prejudiced stereotypes of a group to which that individual may belong.

"It includes, but it not limited to, objectionable epithets, threatened or actual physical harm or abuse, or other intimidating or insulting conduct directed against the individual because of his/her race, color or national origin."

If any students or employees of the university feel they are a victim of harassment, they should immediately contact the Affirmative Action director in the Browning Building, Room 133, 648-7178, to file a complaint.

The problems of racism and bigotry will always be around us. Racial harassment can be fought on our campus as long as the members of the university are willing to expose it as it happens.

If no one speaks out against racism, no one will be heard.

DISCUSSING THE ISSUE--Student Kwame Cash speaks out about "Being Black at a Predominately White University," a discussion at the African American Cultural Center. (photo by Donna Lovett)

If you are interested in utilizing the new student book-buy-back plan, please fill out the form below and return to The All State, P.O. Box 8334. This is a free service. The deadline is Nov. 20.

A special section of the paper will list books to be sold by departments in the Nov. 25 issue. This service is for your benefit, so tell every one you know to take advantage of this opportunity.

Without student support, this alternative plan will not be successful. The first attempt is crucial, so please participate.

Please write legibly.

Book-Buy-Back Plan

Name _____ P.O. Box _____

Phone (optional) _____

Books to sell

Title _____ Ed. _____

Price _____

(If more blanks are needed, you may attach an additional sheet.)

WOW!! IT'S ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK! LOOK AT ALL THE ACTIVITIES!

November 11, Wednesday: 6p.m., UC Lobby
Organizations Alcohol Bowl

November 12, Thursday: 6p.m.,
UC Lobby
Alcohol Bowl Playoff
Winning Residence Hall vs.
Winning Organization

November 13, Friday:
9a.m. till 1p.m.
Information Booth, UC Lobby

Brought to you by your Peer Educators
For more information call
648-6242

Opinion

Editorial

Clinton & Gore deserve America's cooperation

It's finally over—Campaign 1992 is now just another in a long line for the history books to record.

What will be remembered from this campaign? The bitterness and vicious rumors? Or will it be the fact that there were over 1 million more voters exercising their right to choose than in the 1988 presidential election?

Maybe Ross Perot will be most remembered for transforming a dark-horse campaign to a folksy-horse one that captured double-digit percentages of the vote.

Whatever stands out for the history books to repeat for posterity, now is the time to put the United States first, over political prejudices and personal biases.

No matter if your vote was for the three main candidates or one of the 12 others on the Tennessee ballot, it was all toward the same purpose as everyone else.

Your ballot was your voice and was joined by others all over the country. That was your time to express which way you personally believe the country should be headed. The majority of the voices hailed Bill Clinton as president-elect, with running-mate Al Gore. The fact that these men ran on a Democratic ticket is irrelevant—they will be the next leaders of our country.

This is a time to make a fresh start. If we work together—not as Republicans, Democrats, Perotians and independents, but as friends and citizens—perhaps we can make a difference. President Bush gave an eloquent concession speech last Tuesday in which he gave his support to Bill Clinton.

Whether it was done out of true motives or to appear gracious, the truth was there. It is time to turn our eyes to the future and to the White House.

President-elect Bill Clinton and Vice President-elect Al Gore will be leading our country for the next four years.

They deserve a chance to implement their ideas into our system. Time should be the test of their worth, not if they can stand up to the negative pressure. They are men, not gods. We don't have to worship them, but we can respect them for their accomplishments.

On-campus housing employed as APSU's student babysitter

Imagine this: You live in a building where you pay half the rent on a one-room flat that has a bathroom to be shared with the tenants in another room.

You must register all visitors by leaving both your and their identification,

By KIEZHA SMITH
opinion editor

and they may only stay until midnight.

No matter what age you are, alcohol is not allowed, and the presence of even a wine bottle used as a bud vase can get you in trouble.

There are bi-weekly inspections to satisfy the management that you are abiding by the rules specified in your lease. If you aren't in your room by midnight, the doors lock and you must punch in a code that changes each month. If you forget the code...too bad.

Remind you any of Orwell's "1984"? Big Brother is watching, and his name is on-campus housing.

When I came to Austin Peay, I thought that as a college student I was capable of making decisions for myself, decisions like when my friends should have to leave and when I take my trash out. Apparently that's not the case.

At the traditional on-campus dorms at Austin Peay, all visitors of the opposite sex must be out of the dorm by midnight, and can't come in until noon.

At resident dorms like Harvill, Miller and Sevier, these rules are enforced by an attendant that takes the identification of the resident and their visitor and records the arrival and parting times.

Not to disturb anybody's dreamworld, but people do have sex before midnight, and this rule isn't saving anyone's virtue.

No resident may have more than two visitors of the opposite sex in their room at the same time. I'm not sure of the motive behind that...Do women turn ugly in packs?

Have studies been done that indicate that men are likely to be a problem when there's more than two? Why wasn't I informed?

It's not even cheaper to live on campus. If you have roommates, an apartment in town is cheaper and much easier on the nerves, since you make the decisions.

Not only that, but with the exclusion of Meacham Apartments, you need a meal plan to live on campus. A meal plan will set you back several hundred dollars and can only be used at times dictated by Morrison's.

Room inspections become an invasion of privacy. The resident assistants have keys to the room and can come in to inspect when you are not present, something I don't like at all.

What if I'm trying to catch a little sleep before my next class? The RAs are only doing their job but it seems a little extreme, especially when they're looking at trash cans and incense burners.

Here's logic for you—you can smoke in your room, but you can't have candles, incense or hot plates. Not even a toaster. No refrigerators over 4 cubic feet are allowed. They're also paranoid about trash cans, wanting them to be empty on inspection day. I'm sorry, but my life does not revolve around my trash can. As long as it doesn't creep up the wall, I'm fine with it.

Then there's a little something called the non-liquid violation. If you think this means drugs, you're wrong.

This rule states that no resident will have any kind of alcohol bottle present in the room. It's not like you can get a beer bottle refilled—there's not much to worry about once it's empty.

This rule also applies to me using a Corona beer bottle for a bud vase even though I've had it since I went to Mexico six years ago.

I think that logically it is time for revision to our campus living situation. Residents need to be able to pick the kind of living they would like to have.

Other Tennessee universities have such programs, like at UTK, where you can pick from unlimited visitors to no visitors.

I understand that parents can get antsy, sending their child away for the first time, but the university does not need to be a babysitter. If a student needs a babysitter, then the student needs to stay home.

The university loses money each year because students, fed up with the silly games one must play with housing, leave the dorms and move into apartments.

If there was more effort made to make housing look attractive to transfers and upperclassmen, then perhaps we could begin to have some kind of university life on campus instead of the suitcase college Austin Peay has become.

Big Brother is watching, and his name is on-campus housing.

Campus Comments

Do you think Bill Clinton was a good choice for president?

"First off, in my opinion, it does not matter now. We need to support the president whether we supported Clinton, Bush or Perot. We all need to work together for a good four years."--Jude Crowell, sophomore

"I believe a change is what we need. I don't think Bush was in touch with our needs as far as money for college; he was looking out for the upper class instead of the middle class."--Leon Hite III, junior

"I voted for him because from the very beginning, he had a plan. It may not be a working plan, but at least it was a plan we could vote for."--Edweenia Vilorio, senior

General Motors' maybe-collapse result of 'top brass' ignorance

By MISSY CARROLL
editor-in-chief

the greatest employment opportunity that I could imagine.

The fall of a great American company may be upon us. Since 1920, General Motors has supplied the average man an opportunity to drive a nice, adequate car such as a Pontiac and has met the stiff requirements of the upper class with Cadillacs.

I worked in the human resource department of Saturn. Being the youngest employee on the payroll at the plant, I knew that I was experiencing what a lot of teenagers had no idea about.

Now, with foreign competition surpassing American quality and creativity, GM is in need of a strong leader to put it back on its feet.

The epitomy of the American industry was right before my eyes. Saturn was and is "a different kind of company." I saw the first Saturn cars being built. I witnessed the first completed Saturn roll off the assembly line.

The board of directors recently forced chairman Robert Stempel to resign. He tentatively will be succeeded by John F. Smith of Proctor & Gramble.

I remember the day when General Motors picked Spring Hill as the location for the, hopefully, revolutionary new Saturn plant.

Unfortunately, Smith will be expected to be a miracle worker and turn GM's troubles around.

I saw a strong union, the UAW, in work. I actually knew some of those people in Saturn's commercials. I was proud to be a part of it all.

This may be tough for a man who has not been in the car business. Smith led Proctor & Gramble with great advertising campaigns.

The employees are mostly men and women who have devoted their lives to General Motors. People were transferred in from all over the country to be a part of the Saturn project.

Advertising may sell a few more cars, but it doesn't win over consumer confidence. A good product does.

The majority of these workers had seen their hometown Chevrolet, Buick, Cadillac or Pontiac plant shut down.

An assembly line worker may not have business sense, but even he or she knows that GM is spending too much time and money researching and developing vehicles like the Caprices.

They also left behind friends and co-workers who would join the other 200,000 GM employees who were now unemployed.

In my hometown, the only Caprices on the road are the ones Saturn, a subsidiary of General Motors, gave to my local police department to brown-nose our community.

As many as 500 non-GM resumes flowed through our HR office every month. How could we hire these people when 200,000 of GM's own family were out of work?

I have personal experience with GM, and nothing would please me more than to see GM slap Japan companies such as Honda and Toyota in the face with its ability to withstand its tough times.

These laid-off people know how to build cars, not the top brass sitting in the board room.

During my senior year of high school and the following two summers, I had

Let one of these workers have some input as to what changes need to be made and not some "toothpaste and soap" man.

Letter to the Editor

Students urged not to condone racial hatred

Dear Editor:

In the Nov. 4th issue, the article written to assuage many well-founded fears regarding racism and its supposed non-existence at APSU demonstrates the naivete with which many APSU students, including staff writer Jeff Grimes, face in an increasingly dangerous problem so common among today's young people.

To deny the existence of racism at APSU is simply to invite its continuing growth. The beliefs of Grimes and Brian Hogg that APSU has escaped the "growing trend" because "there is a higher maturity level" are uninformed, harmful and complete hooley.

Instead of burying our collective head in the sands of blindness, we must put forth efforts to find truth in pure values. We should understand that it is impossible for a group of people to exist without racism and prejudice and that inherent in human nature is the desire and the need of ego to be just a little better than others.

How simple a solution is seemingly found when we can turn to physical differences among ourselves at the basis for prejudice.

D.T. Curtis' painfully honest letter in the same edition emphasized that APSU is experiencing "militancy and separatism." As students who visit the African American Cultural Center can attest, they are encouraged to only take classes taught by professors of their own race.

It is crucial that we understand our responsibility to think for ourselves and to do everything within our power to not propagate the ignorance and hatred that have been passed down from generation to generation.

We must not use the past, the most painful of which we have not personally experienced, as an excuse to not think and not act with pure motives and values. The unrequited sins of past generations must serve only to further our understanding of each other.

Joy Davis

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Missy Carroll

NEWS EDITOR
Jeff Wisdom
ASST. NEWS
Darcy Hartz

OPINION EDITOR
Kiezha Smith

SPORTS EDITOR
Lucy Ann Gossett
ASST. SPORTS
Byron Shive

FEATURES EDITOR
Priscilla Danois
ASST. FEATURES
Christi Akins

COPY EDITOR
Mary Mark Giles

THE ALL STATE

THE ALL STATE IS THE OFFICIAL STUDENT NEWSPAPER OF AUSTIN PEAY STATE UNIVERSITY. IT IS PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY OF THE ACADEMIC YEAR, EXCEPT DURING FINAL EXAMS AND HOLIDAYS: U.S. POSTAGE PAID AT CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE. SEND ADDRESS CHANGES TO THE ALL STATE, BOX 8334, APSU, CLARKSVILLE, TN, 37044.

ALL EDITORIALS ARE THE OFFICIAL OPINION OF THE ALL STATE WITH THE EXCEPTION OF LETTERS TO THE EDITOR AND COLUMNS. LETTERS MUST BE SENT TO THE ALL STATE, BOX 8334, APSU, CLARKSVILLE, TN 37044 OR BROUGHT TO 610 DRANE STREET BY 5 P.M. FRIDAY BEFORE THE WEDNESDAY PRINTING. LETTERS SHOULD BE LESS THAN 300 WORDS AND HAVE THE FULL NAME, ADDRESS AND PHONE NUMBER OF THE AUTHOR. NAMES WILL NOT BE WITHHELD. LETTERS ARE SUBJECT TO EDITING FOR BREVITY OR CLARITY. WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO REJECT LETTERS FOUND TO BE OFFENSIVE, ABUSIVE OR LIBELOUS. THE ALL STATE IS PRINTED BY THE LEAF CHRONICLE, CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE.

PHOTOGRAPHY
Donna Lovett

CARTOONIST
Darryl Hamilton

AD MANAGERS
Lisa Griffin
Michele Cobb

CLASSIFIEDS
Jennifer Davidson

TYPESETTERS
Donna Stricklin
Renee Honig
Rhonda Howse

BUSINESS MANAGER
David Elliott
ASST. BUS. MANAGER
Cindy Wells

ADVISER
Merci Chartrand

Sports

OVC planning for 'Reunion at Rupp'

from staff reports

In an effort to boost student awareness and involvement in the 1993 Ohio Valley Conference Men's Basketball Tournament, the OVC is designing a plan which will offer incentives for students to attend the March 4-6 event in Lexington, Ky.

A key component of the plan is a discounted ticket, which will allow students to witness all five games of the tournament for a total cost of only $18, that's half the cost of the regular lowest-priced ticket book and a 43 percent savings over last year's student ticket price.

The $18 student ticket book must be purchased in advance of the tournament and will be made available on campus through student government associations at the six OVC schools which will participate in the '93 event.

"We're trying to build on the success of the 1992 tournament, which was held last year at a neutral site for the first time ever," OVC Commissioner Dan Beebe said. "We'd like to make it as inexpensive as possible for students to travel to Lexington to continue to support the teams they've been following all year."

OVC officials are in the process of presenting their plans to student government associations on member campuses. On Oct. 29, OVC Assistant Commissioner Ron English and Administrative Assistant Lance Akridge made a presentation to the Austin Peay SGA.

"We discussed ticket prices and put some other thoughts on the table," English explained, "but by far, the most beneficial part of the session was the feedback in terms of additional ideas we received from the student group."

In addition to the low ticket prices, OVC officials are looking into the possibility of providing a tournament headquarters hotel, which will house students from all six participating teams--at a discount rate, and arranging for some type of social function at the hotel.

Discount coupons and free merchandise are also possibilities for students who purchase the special discount ticket. The OVC has presentations scheduled at other league schools in the near future.

Held in Lexington for the second consecutive year, the theme for the tournament is "Reunion in Rupp." This title portrays the event as a gathering place for alumni and friends. The reunion will welcome six quality teams and feature five exciting basketball games. The six teams which will participate in the tournament are Austin Peay, Eastern Kentucky, Morehead State, defending champion Murray State, Tennessee State and Tennessee Tech. Southeast Missouri State and Tennessee-Martin are new Division I members and are prohibited by NCAA guidelines from earning the OVC's automatic bid to the NCAA tournament, which is awarded to the OVC tournament winner. Middle Tennessee State is ineligible due to NCAA sanctions.

SPECIAL-G SHOOTING HOT-- Greg Franklin aims for two last season. (photo by Donna Lovett)

IM volleyball to end

By BYRON SHIVE
assistant sports editor

With the playoffs beginning next week, the intramural volleyball season enters its final night of action tonight, with playoff slots wide open.

League A will send three teams to the playoffs. The Pikes, the Sigma Chi Wonderbreads and the Kappa Sigma Gators will advance, regardless of tonight's Wonderbread/Gator final.

In League B, Sigma Chi Black finished up at 4-0, with Pike Gold following at 3-1. Both are playoff bound, with the Sigma Chi Lima Beans looking for a wildcard.

In League C, Sudden Impact II rolled through the season unbeaten, but second place is up for grabs between a number of teams.

In women's action, Chi Omega has stormed through the season unbeaten, with the Raging Rebels II locked in second place.

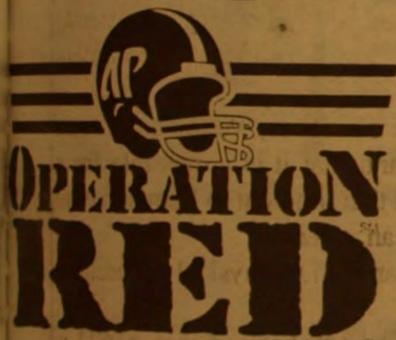

In the other division, tonight's showdown between the Psi Girls and the Raging Rebels I will clear up the playoff picture. ROTC will be waiting in the wings to see if they advance.

Sports briefs

Volleyball championships to be held in Dunn Center

The 1992 Ohio Valley Conference volleyball championships will be held at the Dunn Center on the weekend of Nov. 20-22. All tickets will be available in the athletic department. Students will be charged $1 a day; adults will need to pay $3 per day or purchase a three-day pass for $5. Students may also purchase the passes.

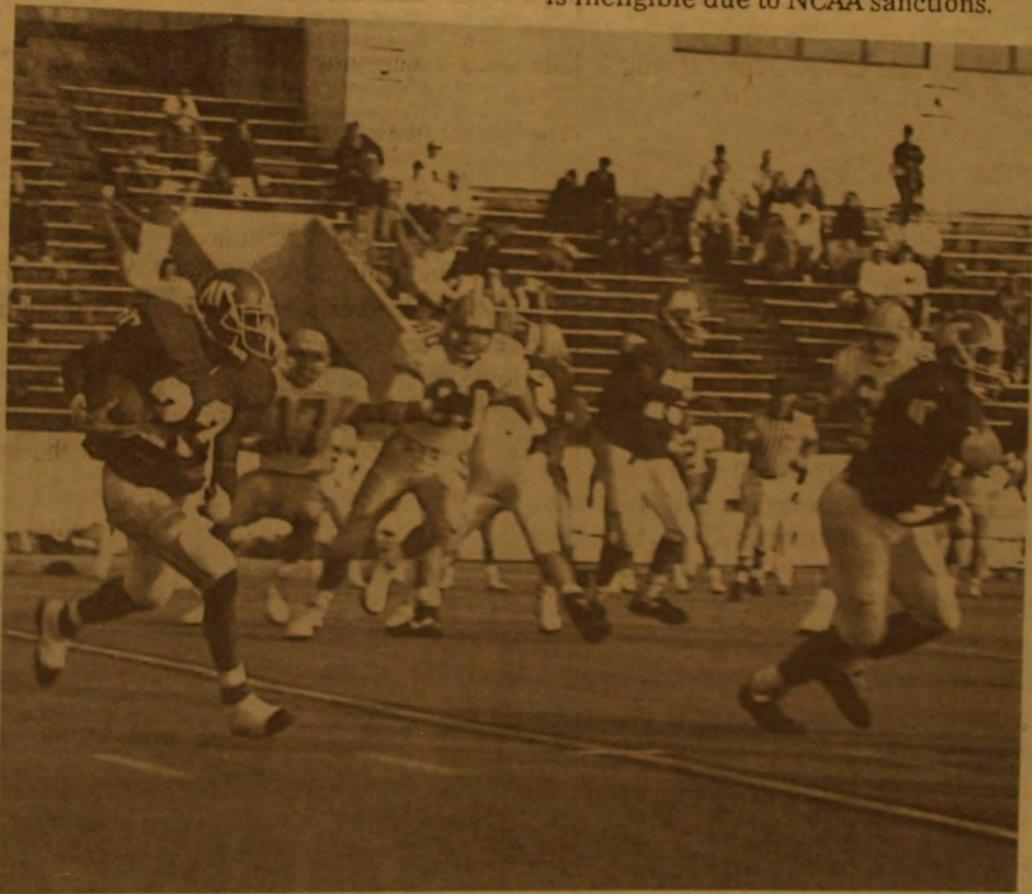

Govs update

VS

Game 10
Date: November 14
Time: 1:30 p.m. (CST)
Game Site: Municipal Stadium
Location: Clarksville, TN

SAMY SWEEPS RIGHT--Samy Hillman sweeps wide and around the right corner of the Eagles Defense for a positive gain. The Govs will host EKV on Saturday. (photo by Donna Lovett)

Govs' basketball time in Tennessee, but where was our 'Midnight Madness'?

By LUCY ANN GOSSETT
sports editor

collegiate basketball officially began, and they showed a segment known as "Midnight Madness." Apparently what these schools did was hold a demonstration of warm-ups and slam dunk contests at midnight on Oct. 31. It seemed to draw a good number of people and allowed the athletes to just have fun.

As I watched this segment, I thought that would be something neat for Austin Peay to do. People are always looking for a reason to go out, and this could also be a great introductory opportunity for the fans to meet the players. If Austin Peay held something of this nature then maybe more people would have come to the intrasquad scrimmages.

Students would have had the chance to meet the men and women who are going to bring this university pride once again in its athletic program. A madness here would have also been a good idea for the volleyball team as they prepare for the Ohio Valley Conference championships. They could have put on an exhibition and perhaps gotten the attention of a few more fans.

A madness does not have to take a long time. Most only last for up to 30 minutes. I think this is an issue the athletic department should take up in the future.

This past weekend, the Governors and Lady Governors held an intrasquad scrimmage with the white teams for both winning. It was the first time since practice began that the public was given the opportunity to see for themselves exactly what the teams were made of. I was watching ESPN on Nov. 1 when

Boykin and Sykes prepare for basketball seasons

By BYRON SHIVE
assistant sports editor

With practice having officially started Sunday, Terry Boykin looks forward to his final season of eligibility.

A solid contributor throughout his career, the 6-0 guard is currently recovering from an ankle injury which cut his season short a year ago. Boykin practiced with the team Sunday afternoon for about an hour and experienced a little soreness, but he remains optimistic.

"I'm trying to work hard to get back where I was," the talented senior said. "If I work hard, then I know I can recover."

Being one of five seniors on the squad, the solid ballhandler and excellent passer feels leadership is a must for the younger players.

"We have a lot of young guys and a lot of new guys," Boykin said. "It's going to be important for the seniors to be leaders so that we can get through the tough preseason and get them mentally prepared for the OVC. We don't want to let them give up."

Boykin, considered an intelligent player with good instincts, was a late signee out of Catholic Central High School in Detroit back in 1989. As a prepster, Boykin was named to the honorable mention McDonald's All-American team, while averaging 17 points, 8.1 assists and 3 rebounds per game. The point guard also was named All-Area, first team All-Catholic, second team All-Metro and All-City.

The soft-spoken Boykin attributes his success to his family, in particular his father and his grandfather.

"My whole family has been an inspiration," Boykin said, "but my father and my grandfather have been my main inspiration. They were both involved in athletics, so they pushed me to work hard."

An accounting major, Boykin looks to utilize his degree in a post-graduation career.

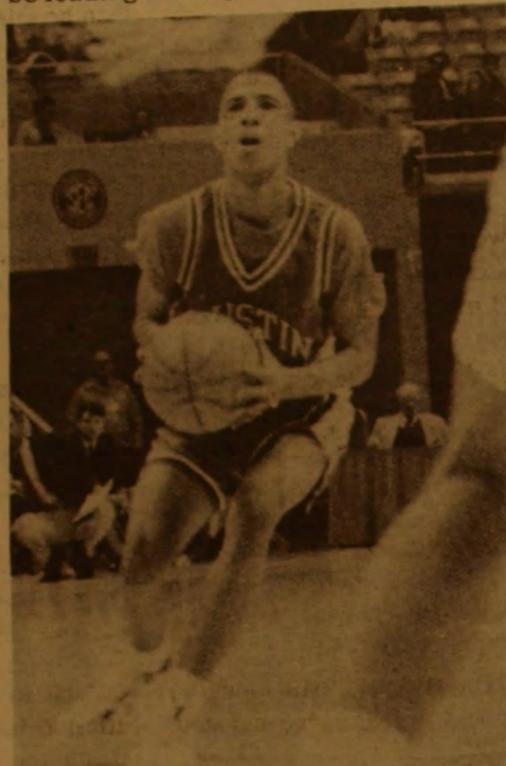

"I'm looking forward to getting my degree," the strong leader said. "I'm an accounting major, so I would like to possibly become a CPA and raise a good family."

In his last year in a Governor uniform, Boykin feels the team has a nucleus that can send him and his classmates out a winner.

"We're playing hard as a team right now," Boykin said. "If we stick together, then we can turn things around this year."

Whatever happens, look for No. 4 to be leading the way.

Returning for her second season, former walk-on Katina Sykes looks for playing time at the guard slot.

Sykes, who can play either guard spot, saw limited action for the Lady Govs last year, but has vastly improved since.

"I've worked hard over the summer," said the 5-7 sophomore. "I want to play a bigger role, both on and off the court. Hopefully, my work will pay off."

A local product from Montgomery Central High School, the solid ball handler ended a distinguished career by being named honorable mention All-State, while also being named All-County. Sykes also posted averages of 18 points, 10 rebounds and 4 assists per game, while leading the area in rebounding.

Sykes, who has impressed her coaches with her work ethic and desire, feels the woes of the Lady Govs on the hardwood may be over.

"We have a lot better team this year," the sharpshooter said. "We have a better attitude and we're a lot closer than we were last year."

Though anticipating a successful season, Sykes is reluctant to make any promises.

"We've turned things around totally from last season," she said. "We'll be a lot better. I think we'll have a winning season, but no guarantees," she added with a chuckle.

The potential point guard, who will turn 20 when Louisville visits the Dunn Center for the season opener on Dec. 1, looks to her parents for inspiration.

"My parents have been there for me through everything," Sykes said, "whether it be sitting the bench or playing."

With three years of eligibility left, Sykes has a bright future ahead of her in a Lady Govs' uniform.

AUSTIN PEAY STATE UNIVERSITY 1992-93 Lady Gov's Basketball Schedule

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Dec. 1	LOUISVILLE	Clarksville, TN	7:00 p.m.
4-5	Indiana Full-O-Pop Classic	Bloomington, IN
4	Indiana vs. Austin Peay		6:00 p.m.
	Ohio vs. Colorado State		8:00 p.m.
5	Consolation Championship		6:00 p.m.
			8:00 p.m.
12	BETHEL	Clarksville, TN	7:00 p.m.
15	Alabama	Tuscaloosa, AL	7:00 p.m.
19	Wright State	Dayton, OH	6:30 p.m.
29	Akron	Akron, OH	7:00 p.m.
31	Cleveland State	Cleveland, OH	1:00 p.m.
Jan. 8	TENNESSEE-CHATTANOOGA	Clarksville, TN	6:00 p.m.
9	*MURRAY STATE	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
11	*SOUTHEAST MISSOURI	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
14	*TENNESSEE TECH	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
16	*Eastern Kentucky	Richmond, KY	2:00 p.m.
18	*Morehead State	Morehead, KY	4:15 p.m.
23	*TENNESSEE-MARTIN	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
27	*Middle Tennessee	Murfreesboro, TN	5:30 p.m.
30	*Tennessee State	Nashville, TN	5:15 p.m.
Feb. 2	Chicago State	Chicago, IL	3:00 p.m.
6	*EASTERN KENTUCKY	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
8	*MOREHEAD STATE	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
11	*Tennessee Tech	Cookeville, TN	5:30 p.m.
13	*Tennessee-Martin	Martin, TN	5:15 p.m.
20	*Murray State	Murray, KY	1:30 p.m.
22	*Southeast Missouri	Cape Girardeau, MO	5:15 p.m.
25	*MIDDLE TENNESSEE	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
27	*TENNESSEE STATE	Clarksville, TN	5:15 p.m.
Mar. 8-9	OVC Tournament	TBA

*OVC game Home games in RED CAPS All times central

AUSTIN PEAY STATE UNIVERSITY 1992-93 Men's Basketball Schedule

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Nov. 17	CAEN CALVADOS EXHIBITION	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
28	REEBOK ALL-STARS EXHIBITION	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
Dec. 1	Mississippi State	Starkville, MS	7:00 p.m.
5	CHRISTIAN BROTHERS	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
11-12	Indiana Classic	Bloomington, IN
11	Indiana vs. Austin Peay		6:00 p.m.
	Western Michigan vs. Pacific		8:00 p.m.
12	Consolation Championship		5:45 p.m.
			8:00 p.m.
18-19	ACME BOOT SHOWDOWN	Clarksville, TN
18	Vanderbilt vs. North Carolina A&T		6:00 p.m.
	APSU vs. Arkansas State		8:00 p.m.
19	North Carolina A&T vs. Arkansas State		6:00 p.m.
	APSU vs. Vanderbilt		8:00 p.m.
28-29	Sun Carnival Tournament	El Paso, TX
28	Austin Peay vs. Texas-El Paso		8:00 p.m.
	Purdue vs. Florida		10:00 p.m.
29	Consolation Championship		8:00 p.m.
			10:00 p.m.
Jan. 2	EVANSVILLE	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
9	*MURRAY STATE	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
11	*SOUTHEAST MISSOURI	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
14	*TENNESSEE TECH	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
16	*Eastern Kentucky	Richmond, KY	7:30 p.m.
18	*Morehead State	Morehead, KY	3:15 p.m.
23	*TENNESSEE-MARTIN	Clarksville, TN	6:30 p.m.
27	*Middle Tennessee	Murfreesboro, TN	7:30 p.m.
30	*Tennessee State	Nashville, TN	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 3	Cincinnati	Cincinnati, OH	7:30 p.m.
6	*EASTERN KENTUCKY	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
8	*MOREHEAD STATE	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
11	*Tennessee Tech	Cookeville, TN	8:00 p.m.
13	*Tennessee-Martin	Martin, TN	7:30 p.m.
20	*Murray State	Murray, KY	7:30 p.m.
22	*Southeast Missouri	Cape Girardeau, MO	4:00 p.m.
25	*MIDDLE TENNESSEE	Clarksville, TN	8:00 p.m.
27	*TENNESSEE STATE	Clarksville, TN	7:30 p.m.
Mar. 4-6	OVC Tournament	Lexington, KY	2:30 p.m.
			TBA

*OVC game All times central Home games in RED CAPS For ticket information, call (615) 646-7761

DON'T MISS...

MEN'S BASKETBALL SEASON OPENER

APSU vs. CAEN CALVADOS

NOV. 17 at 7:30

AP Great Balls OF FIRE!

GOVERNORS BASKETBALL 1992-93

GO GOV'S !!!

Free with APSU I.D.

Features

APSU woman shares her ordeal with date rape

By PRISCILLA DANOIS
features editor

This is the second and final story in our series on date rape.

Date rape—it happens. Maybe it has happened to you, or your best friend or someone else you know. Or maybe you are a person who has committed date rape.

Whether you are a victim, an offender or neither, you need to be aware of the danger of being involved in date rape.

According to Barbara Williams, a psychologist, education about date rape is the most important asset people can have. "Before, most people did not know what date rape was; but now people have been educated, and women have spoken up, so people are aware of this problem now," she said.

Being in college is a time when you meet new friends, and it is in college that people need to be extra careful, delegating trust very carefully because this could happen to anyone.

One woman here at APSU tells of her ordeal with date rape. Names have been changed to protect her privacy.

"I'll say my name is Jenny. I can't say my real name because I'm very popular, and I really don't want anyone to know. Even though I now know that it wasn't my fault, I still feel very embarrassed about what happened to me.

"I'm now a senior, but this happened during my sophomore year. I used to live in the dorms, but my parents finally gave in and let me get an apartment with a fellow APSU student. That night, (the day I moved in), we decided to hang out and celebrate. We went to a few places and went to eat. At the place where we were eating, I saw Jim. I had seen him before and thought he was really cute! I'd had a class with him before.

"We talked for awhile and then my roommate suggested that he come back with us to see our new apartment. I didn't see that it would hurt since she would be there with me; besides, Jim was a nice guy with a great personality—so I thought!

"We went to the apartment and watched a television show. My roommate said she was tired and went to her room. Jim and I talked for more than three hours. I thought I really liked him. He seemed so warm and caring.

"I went to check on my roommate; she was sleeping and snoring hard. When I went back to the living room, Jim was gone. I looked behind the couch to see if he was hiding. Then something told me to look in my bedroom, and there he was, sitting on my bed.

"I asked him what he was doing but he just pulled me down and started to kiss me. His lips were warm and tender, so I responded, but after awhile, his touch and mouth became harder and rougher. I said, 'Jim, slow down,' but he covered my mouth with kisses.

"Again, I tried to get back up, but he shoved me back down—hard. That's when I knew I was in trouble. I struggled, but he pinned my arms and legs.

"I threatened him, saying, 'I am going to scream if you don't get off me within two seconds Jim,'—I still thought I had a chance. I thought he would be reasonable and stop.

"That's where I was wrong, for he said, 'I know you won't scream because if you do, I'll really hurt you Jenny, and I don't want to because you're such a pretty girl. And after I hurt you, I'll go into the next room and deal with your little roommate.' Tears ran fast down my cheeks because I could tell by the look in his eyes that he was serious. He ripped my clothes open as I pleaded and begged, but he covered my mouth and kept going. And then he said, 'Just relax and enjoy this, I know you want me too.'

"And then I was raped. Afterward, he went into the kitchen leaving me on the bed shivering, shaking and full of disgust. I managed to pull myself up to see if he had left. I found him sitting on the couch drinking a Coke and flipping channels on my television set. I still felt afraid, so I asked him nicely, 'Jim, could you please leave? I'm tired and I'd like to sleep now.'

"Okay,' he said. 'But did you enjoy it as much as I did?'

"I almost fainted. I couldn't believe that he had the audacity to ask me that. 'How could I enjoy being raped?' I asked. Then he told me that he never raped me but that we had wanted each other and that was why I asked him over. After he left, I believed it was my fault for a very long time, just because of that last sentence he spoke before leaving.

"I cried for more than two weeks until I finally had to get help through a counselor. Through my sessions, I was able to see that it wasn't my fault, but I found out a little too late. This is in my opinion one of the most terrible things that can happen to a woman. Whatever you do, be smart—don't let this happen to you!"

Special week promotes diversity

By CHRISTI AKINS
assistant features editor

We have many organizations on campus that promote student involvement. This about opportunities by working together," said Michael Pence, coordinator. Pence also stated that he and his co-coordinator, Rob Evans, hope to make Diversity Week an annual event. The event is scheduled for Nov. 30 - Dec. 3. Monday, Nov. 30, a mixer at Mr. Gatti's is planned for Monday Night Football. Tuesday, Nov. 31, a diversity seminar is scheduled for 7:30 in the Clement Auditorium with Tina Delaine as speaker. On Wednesday, Dec. 1, a night of bowling is scheduled at Eastgate Lanes, starting at 10 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, an etiquette seminar will be held at 7:30 in the Clement Auditorium, with Eunice Washington. Friday, Dec. 3, will mark the end of the week, with closing ceremonies about 9 p.m. during the party at the Pike House.

This type of awareness was also recognized as a need by other organizations. Delta Sigma Theta and Chi Omega women's sororities had a potluck dinner on Nov. 3 to promote relations. The event was attended by several sister sororities.

CELEBRATING THEIR DIVERSITY--Members of Chi Omega and Delta Sigma Theta co-sponsored the first annual Diversity Dinner last Tuesday. (photo by Donna Lovett) involvement may concern a career choice or maybe an extracurricular activity or even a support group for special circumstances. But do we promote relations between these organizations enough?

The Inter-fraternity Council says no, we don't emphasize cooperation enough. To counteract this problem, the council has planned a Diversity Week. "We want to promote awareness for black and white males

The Roxy Community Theatre will present its final production of "Assassins" this weekend. "Assassins" is a musical which explores the minds of political assassins, including John Wilkes Booth, Charles Guiteau, Leon Czolgosz, Giuseppe Zangara, Lee Harvey Oswald, Samuel Byck, Lynette Fromme, Sara Jane Moore and John Hinckley. Several members of the Austin Peay community are cast in the play or are playing in the orchestra. Remaining performances are Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 for general admission and $8 for students and seniors. The Roxy is offering a "student rush" for each performance: At 7:55 any additional seats will be sold for $3 to any patron with a student ID. "Assassins" will be performed without an intermission and is recommended for mature audiences only. For more information or to make reservations, call the Roxy Theatre at 645-7699.

Art Scene

• Austin Peay State University's Chamber Singers and University Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. George L. Mabry, will present a concert of choral music at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 20, in the concert theater of the Music/Mass Communication Building.

Presented by the APSU department of music and Center for the Creative Arts, the concert is free and open to the public.

Richard Cox, conductor of choirs at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, will be guest conductor for the performance.

The program features a variety of styles and will include sacred music by Hassler, Victoria, Kverno and Taverner. Cox will conduct "Ecco Mormorar L'onde" by Monteverdi, "Ave Maris Stella" by Kverno and "I Gondolieri" by Rossini. Mabry will conduct pieces by Bach, Rutter and Copland.

Student and faculty soloists will include Kim Williams and Holly Reddick, soprano; Jonathan Riggs, baritone; Lelia Swadley and Solie Fott, violin; Audrea Ford, string bass; Mike Swope, percussion; Nicky Cole and Libby Vanatta, piano.

For more information, call the APSU department of music at 648-7818.

•Tickets are now on sale for A Medieval Fair which will be held Nov. 18-22 in Trahern Theatre. Step back in time and enjoy the pageantry, drama, music and spectacle of medieval festivities. Activities include the performance of "The Second Shepherds' Play," a Middle English reading, music by the Cumberland Collegium and the APSU Madrigal Singers, along with food booths and other exhibitions of medieval crafts by the Society for Creative Anachronisms and Food Sampling.

General admission $5, students $3. Please note that anyone interested in sampling the medieval food must pay an additional $2 above the ticket price by Nov. 13. The theater box office is open from 2-5:30 p.m. weekdays. For informatin, telephone 648-7379.

•There will be a Wind & Percussion Exchange Nov.

11 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. in the Music/Mass Communication Building. Daylong activities include master classes from 9-11 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. conducted by visiting guest artists/clinicians the Saturday Brass Quintet, Linda Chesis, flute; Fred Ormand, clarinet; Bob Becker, percussion; and John Vana, saxophone. A guest artist recital will be held at 4 p.m. in the concert theater followed by a public reception in the lobby. All activities are free and open to the public.

•Tickets for the Madrigal Feaste are on sale at the music ticket office for the 19th annual Madrigal Feaste which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 4 and 5 in the University Center Ballroom.

Cost is $16.50 per person and all seats are reserved. Advance reservations required. Ticket office hours are 11:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. weekdays through Wednesday, Nov. 25. That is the close of tickets sales and all tickets must be picked up and paid for by 3:30 p.m. Nov. 25. For reservations and/or information, call 648-7001.

•There will be a guest artist slide/lecture presentation Nov. 11 at 7 p.m. in Trahern 401. Internationally acclaimed artist Christopher James will give a slide/lecture presentation on photography and painting. James is associate professor and chair of the department of photography, film, performance and video at The Art Institute of Boston. The event is free and open to the public.

•Becky Whitaker Senior Recital (voice) will be held Nov. 12 at 8 p.m. in the concert theater of the Music/Mass Communication Building. The recital is free and open to the public.

•The University Orchestra will perform in concert on Nov. 15 at 4 p.m in the concert theatre in the Music/Mass Communication Building. A concert of string music will be performed by the University Orchestra with Lisa Read, flute. The performance is free and open to the public.

•There will be a art exhibit in the Trahern Gallery titled "New Deal Studies—Clay Sculpture," a group exhibit of large-scale clay works by regional artists, on Nov. 16-Dec. 10.

There will be an opening reception Monday, Nov. 16, from 7:30 p.m.-9 p.m. Gallery hours are 9 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Saturday and 1-4 p.m. Sunday. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

Classifieds . . . Classifieds . . . Classifieds . . . Classifieds . . .

Help Wanted: Earn up to $6 hr for full or part-time. No selling. Campus employment. Send $2 for information and application to Personnel Dept. P.O. Box 671 Oak Grove, KY 42263.

SPRING BREAK! Campus sales reps, individuals or organizations. High commission, free trip, easy work. Call College Travel 1-800-998-TRIP.

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL $1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK!
PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS!
 No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

SPRING BREAKERS! Promote our Florida Spring Break packages. Earn MONEY and FREE trips. Campus Marketing 1-800-423-5264.

Housing needs a student to work 10-15 hours per week. Must be able to work without supervision and perform light to medium physical work. Other duties include facility management. Contact SFAO.

Students and campus organizations.

CLASSIFIED ADS $2.00

For first 15 words and 10¢ each additional word.

WORDPERFECT 5.1 FOR DOS OR WINDOWS

ACADEMIC DISCOUNT

$135

LOTUS 1-2-3

$99

With Student ID

Southlands Austin Peay Representative On Campus

Larry McNeese

Pager 645-0584

Available for students, professors and staff of APSU.

Computer Systems Sales/Service Upgrades

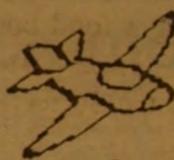

551-8001

SouthLand COMPUTER CORPORATION

601 Kraft ST., Suite 108, Clarksville, Tennessee 37040

DOVER SPORT PARACHUTE CLUB

If you want to experience new heights and lots of fun.

Call at

615-232-5843

ask for Cecil Outlaw

Jumpmaster/ Instructor

ADVENTURES IN PHOTOGRAPHY
BARNIA SCRUGGS

Artist / Photographer

Safari Studios Is Now In Clarksville! Located in the Alamo Plaza, Suite #5 Creative Model and Senior Portraits Special Introductory Package

1-8x10, 2-5x7, 8 Wallers
$65.00 + Tax

• Instant Video Proofs • Larger Portrait Packages Available
 • Choose From 10 Poses • Wardrobe & Props Available Or Bring Your Own.

Compare Our Extra Low Sitting Fee Of $25.00 To Our Competition In Nashville, Clarksville, Anywhere!
CALL TODAY FOR AN APPOINTMENT (615) 551-4620

Medieval Fair celebrates past culture

By MARSHA TOLBERT
guest writer

Travel back to medieval times with the Center for the Creative Arts, the AP Playhouse and the departments of history and philosophy and languages and literature and experience the food, language and culture of the Middle Ages during A Medieval Fair, Nov. 18 through the 22.

The unique aspects of A Medieval Fair are the involvement of so many different departments and the variety of events to be enjoyed.

Beginning at 8 p.m., a number of fascinating activities will be take place, including a food booth serving samples of medieval delicacies, a pottery demonstration and games performed by the Society for Creative Anachronisms.

At 8:20 p.m., the audience will be invited into the theater by the herald. To set the tone for the rest of the evening, the Cumberland Collegium will play music and instruments unique to the period. They will be joined by the Chamber Singers. Next, a section of "The Second Shepherds' Play" will be read in its original Middle English.

STEALING A SHEEP--Michael Ables steals a sheep during "The Second Sheperds' Play sponsored by the AP Playhouse. Darrell Sparkman plays the part of the sheep. (photo by Donna Lovett)

Following the reading, "The Second Shepherds' Play" will be performed. "The Second Shepherds' Play" is a hilariously, ironic telling of the birth of Christ. It features Mak, the ne'er-do-well with too many hungry mouths to feed and his efforts to steal a sheep.

A Medieval Fair has something for everyone: food, games, music, crafts, and of course, theater. Don't miss this unique opportunity to experience history outside of a textbook.

A Medieval Fair will take place Nov. 18 through Nov. 21 at 8 p.m., with a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m. Nov. 22.

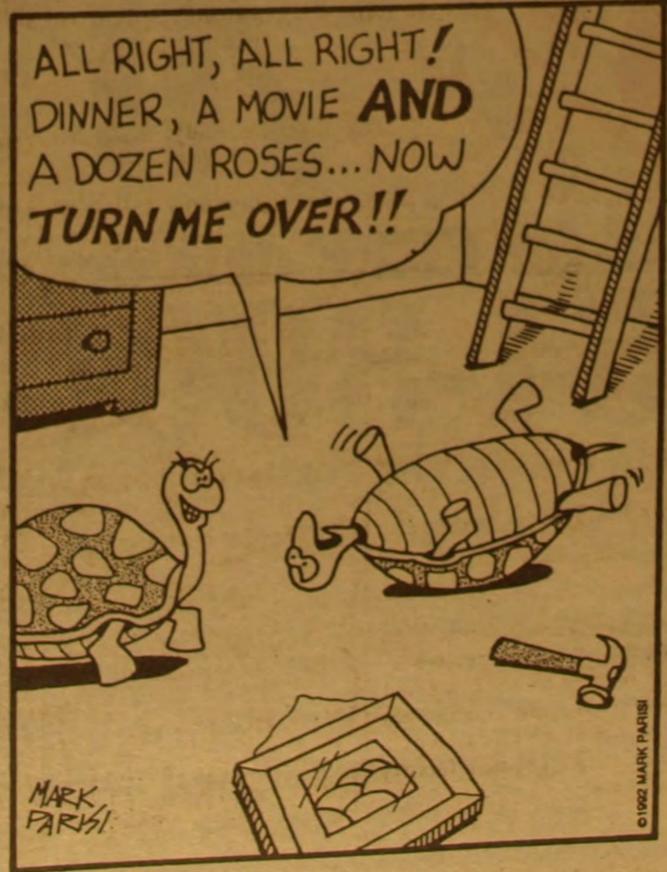

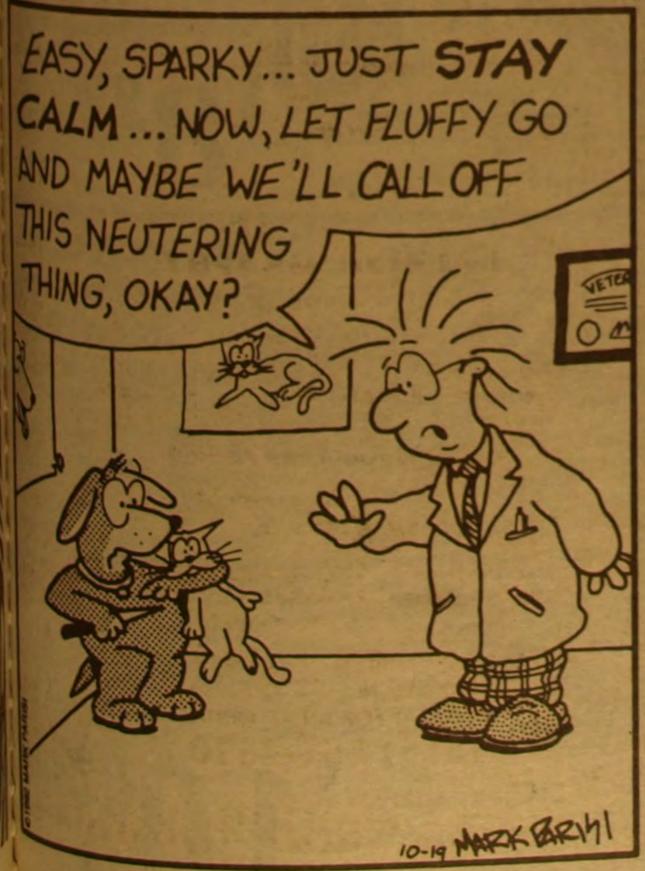

The box office opens Nov. 9, and will take reservations for tickets Monday through Friday from 2-5:30 p.m. at 648-7379.

Tickets to the show must be picked up at least 24 hours in advance. Ticket prices are $3 for students and $5 for general admission.

In addition to the ticket price, anyone who wishes to partake of the food booth must pay and an additional $2 by Nov. 13.

off the mark

by Mark Parisi

Pregnant and don't know where to turn?

TRY CLARKSVILLE CRISIS PREGNANCY SUPPORT CENTER

The center offers:

- *Free pregnancy test
- *Confidential counseling
- *Post-abortion counseling
- *Referral service

Tuesday thru Thursday 9:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.
Saturday 9:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
Thursday evenings by appointment 5 - 7:30 p.m.

1483 Golf Club Lane
645-CARE

CASH PAID

MAKE $15 ON YOUR NEXT 30-MINUTE BREAK BLOOD DONATIONS ARE QUICK AND EASY STUDENTS $1 BONUS WITH THIS AD *RETURN DONORS $12**

INTERSTATE BLOOD BANK

NEXT TO PEKING DUCK
551-4931

FRIDAY'S HAPPIEST HOUR

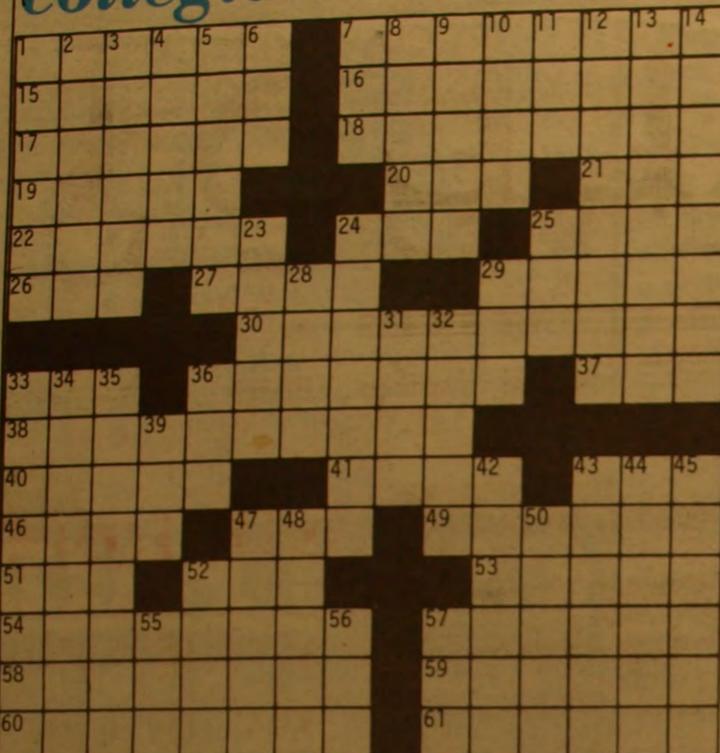

CAROLINA'S COMEDY HOUR

FRIDAY NIGHT AT 00:00

A&E Cencom Cable Television Channel 34 at 9 p.m.

MAKING TV SPECIAL

collegiate crossword

© Edward Julius Collegiate CW8706

ACROSS

- 1 Penman
- 7 Responded
- 15 Ingenious
- 16 Fetch
- 17 Rodeo activity
- 18 Pertaining to debating
- 19 Played a part
- 20 Part of NCO
- 21 N.W. state (abbr.)
- 22 Aspects
- 24 Cleopatra's killer
- 25 Middle East gulf
- 26 Record of brain activity

- 27 Lively dance
- 29 Tired
- 30 Elasticity
- 33 Depot (abbr.)
- 36 Writer Bernard —
- 37 Mr. Koppel
- 38 Hypothetical substance
- 40 Irritates
- 41 Move slowly
- 43 Playing marble
- 46 "— la Douce"
- 47 Extinct New Zealand bird
- 49 Capital of Montana
- 51 Signifying maiden name

DOWN

- 1 Skin injury
- 2 Hackneyed expression
- 3 Indication of a sale item (2 wds.)

- 4 Harvard vines
- 5 Fender — (accident)
- 6 Energy unit
- 7 Dog sound, in comics
- 8 Sign gases
- 9 Barber shop item
- 10 Songbird
- 11 German number
- 12 Hospital physician
- 13 Trial material
- 14 Poured, as wine
- 23 Inn for travelers
- 24 Former French province
- 25 Imitate
- 28 Lamprey and electric
- 29 Mr. Caesar
- 31 Old song, "— a Seesaw"
- 32 Box —
- 33 Rain lightly
- 34 "Walden" author, and family
- 35 Foods
- 36 Certain sports cars
- 39 Ending for pay
- 42 Garment worker
- 43 System of weights and measures
- 44 Instruction from Jack LaLanne
- 45 Sun bather
- 47 Mme. Curie
- 48 Aroma, British style
- 50 Game of chance
- 52 Indian servant
- 55 Suffix: geographical area
- 56 Hindu sacred words
- 57 South American country (abbr.)

Answers will be given in the next issue.

SOUND SHOP

Cassettes, Compact Discs & Accessories
Governor's Square Mall 645-4418
Cunningham Place 648-8888

Pennyrite Mall 885-6605

Red Hot Hits

On Sale Now

Ask About Our One Year Tape Guarantee!!

OPEN FOR LUNCH

PIZZA PAPA JOHN'S®

AP

We Deliver Perfection™

Call for FREE delivery
551-3000

Serving Austin Peay & the Madison St. Area
1475 Madison Street

HOURS: Sun. thru Thurs. 11AM - Midnight
Fri. & Sat. 11AM - 1AM

1205 Ft. Campbell Blvd.
Serving New Providence

16580 Ft. Campbell Blvd.
Serving Ft. Campbell

ONE LARGE Cheese Pizza

Additional Topping .95 ea

CARRY OUT ONLY

$ 3⁹⁹

Expires 11/18/92
not valid with any other offer

ONE LARGE Two Topping Two Free Cokes

Additional Topping .95 ea

$ 8⁹⁹

Expires 11/18/92
not valid with any other offer

SIX PACK COKE

Purchase with Papa John's pizza

Additional Topping .95 ea

$ 1³⁹

Expires 11/18/92
With This Coupon Only

ONE EXTRA LARGE Three Topping With Cheese Sticks

Additional Topping .95 ea

$ 10⁹⁷

Expires 11/18/92
not valid with any other offer